(A) DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS.

BLOOMINGTON DISTRICT.

C. M. Duncan, Superintendent.

Bishop Thomas Nicholson and Brethren:

Lowell says: "There are two kinds of people, those who do things and those who have a good excuse for not doing things."

We men of the Bloomington District would like to classify in both. There have been some things accomplished this year that are worthy of mention and then there are some things that ought to have been done that we could not do.

We found on our appointment to the Bloomington District that Dr. B. F. Shipp had sailed so smoothly among those gracious people that it was very hard to find a ripple anywhere. His life and faithful service have gone down deep into the soul of the Bloomington District. Every charge was supplied with a man of the first water and all sailed right on through the year with more or less a degree of success. Only one student point was vacated during the year and that was supplied immediately by our good and faithful J. W. Miller, of Bloomington.

How I wish it were possible to mention the names of every pastor and tell you of the splendid service he and his family have rendered during the year. I further wish it were within my power to hold up before you each official board and let you see the spirit of that splendid people, who are willing, in almost every instance, to maintain their church at the same high standard of last year.

Organization.

Very early in the year eight men of the district were called together at Bloomington for the purpose of formulating a progressive program that would challenge the best in any pastor or layman. In this program we stressed Unit Organization, Evangelism, Stewardship and Family Religion.

The necessity of the Unit System is now very apparent to all ministers. The church that learns how to function quickly and can bring its accumulated forces to bear upon the individual problem, is considered in these days effective.

Evangelism.

Evangelism has a large place in the program of the Bloomington District. The goal of ten per cent increase in membership is accepted by every charge. In several instances the pastor has led his people even far beyond this goal. The individual charge was urged to set aside one month for intensive Evangelism, and great emphasis was placed upon the special days and periods of the year as suitable occasion for winning souls.

The appointment of Rev. P. Raymond Powers as District Evangelist is one of the best and most hopeful movements in the Bloomington District. Through his leadership and consecrated spirit the smaller church has seen a new vision of its possibilities and is responding in a most glorious way. The new district tent is being utilized so as to bring forth marvelous results for the Kingdom. Ebenezer, a point on an inland circuit, was ready to disband, with no hope for the future; but today they are here and mightily alive, asking for one of our very best rural young ministers, with a cash salary of nothing less than $2000.00 and parsonage.

Many charges throughout the District have enjoyed gracious revivals. It is impossible to mention all in this brief space, but some of the outstanding results came from the following: Arrowsmith, Clinton, Delevan, Downs, Gibson City, Lincoln, Mason City, Park M. E., Saybrook and Weedman.

Stewardship.

Stewardship gives every capable and energetic man the great opportunity of holding his wealth and life, not for selfish purposes, but for the betterment of humanity.

Horace Bushnell said: "One more revival, only one more, is needed—the revival of Christian stewardship; the consecration of the money power of the church to God; and when that revival comes, the kingdom of God will come in a day; you can no more prevent it than you can hold back the tides of the ocean."

Believing this as we do, there is the necessity on the part of the individual church of promoting the ideal of stewardship. There are four thoughts that have received special emphasis during the year. The Stewardship of Time, where each person joining the church is urged to pledge some of his time to building up the kingdom of God; the Stewardship of Prayer, for there can not be a vital religious life without setting aside some time each day for consistent prayer. the Stewardship of Life Service, where each individual of the church consecrates his or her life to the Foreign Field, Home Field or the Local Church; and the Stewardship of Money, where all are made to feel that a man is vitally related to his money. We believe it our duty to instruct the church in the fundamentals of Christian Stewardship. To be the best Christian a man must systematically use his time and money for building the Kingdom of God—"Behold, the tenth of all I give unto thee."

Home Religion.

Some time ago an educator from New York said: "They tell me the public school and the church have failed. The church has not failed, the school has not failed, but the home has failed."

If this is true, and we believe it is, we can see the great need of emphasizing home religion.

Someone has said: "The fatherhood gospel produces peace between God and man and the brotherhood gospel produces peace between man and man. Worshiping God is the first step in the Christian life; serving man is the second step. It takes the two steps to make a Christian."

The bringing up of the child is primarily in the parents' hands. Religious freedom depends upon religious instruction given to the child.

Ruskin says: "Education is leading human souls to what is best and making what is best out of them." Believing this to be true, we have urged Bible reading in the home, with the entire membership uniting in family worship. Further we have urged the old custom of entire families attending worship; the presentation of children for Christian baptism and the use of a special family day at which time the entire family is urged to sit together in the family pew in worship to Almighty God. Our motto for the District is:

Not a Family Without Christian Devotion.

Not a Child Without Christian Training.

Twice this year death has entered our parsonage homes. Early in the month of May Mrs. J. F. Wohlfarth, that wonderful homemaker and great companion of Dr. J. F. Wohlfarth, answered the call of her Master and Lord.

During the last days of August, Rose Marie Reynolds, the little twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reynolds, was suddenly taken from our midst. It is a great comfort for us to know that God has made ample provision for the care of our loved ones.

Some of the activities in the District during the year are worthy of mention. The District meeting early in the fall was of great interest, in that the program formulated for the District during the year was enthusiastically adopted by all of the men. The Centenary Program, as outlined by the Area Office, was carefully considered, and the educational features have been carried out very successfully through the use of the stereopticon slides and lectures. I am sure every one is very fully aware by this time that we have had financial reverses in the farming districts of the Illinois Conference. No people are more conscious of this fact than the Bloomington District. We have done the educating, we have been faithful in presenting the great needs at this crucial time, we have carried the message personally to our people. We will not be able to report as large a sum this year as last, but I want to assure this Conference that we can report as faithful service as any body of men are capable of rendering.

One of the great successes, from a District standpoint, was the group meetings held during the month of May. The eight group leaders planned definitely that all of the congregations within the group should meet at one place and make a study of the stewardship program. At the close of each session they used the motion picture, "The Stream of Life," followed by an earnest appeal for life service, resulting in 176 young people consecrating themselves to Foreign Missions, Home Missions and local church activities.

The Epworth League Convention was held in June at Weedman. A large attendance of young people made this a most successful convention. It was planned definitely that at the fall ministerial meeting there will also be an institute for the Young People taking up their program for the coming year. Mrs. Maude S. Jackson is the efficient Epworth League president and assures us that the young people will do their whole part in making this program a success.

The W. F. M. Society and the W. H. M. Society have made marked progress in creating interest in kingdom business. While last year was one of the very best in a financial way and all of the auxiliaries are greatly commended for same, yet in several instances it is a pleasure to report that they have gone beyond their record of last year. Great praise is to be given to the efficient leadership of these organizations.

The Illinois Wesleyan.

Probably no achievement in the Illinois Conference has been accomplished with greater sacrifice and more noble service than that of the Greater Wesleyan Movement. The seemingly impossible has been accomplished and the thing for which we have all prayed has become a reality. In looking back over this achievement we are made to rejoice and thank God that it was our privilege to live at a time like this. The $660,000 movement, as outlined by the Chamber of Commerce and Dr. J. W. Hancher, seemed to be an almost impossible task. However, it was our privilege to see this movement grow from one of agnosticism and pessimism to Christian faith and blest reality. It is very difficult to describe the spirit in which the Chamber of Commerce and the Hancher organization undertook this mighty task. That spirit, "we will win," which seemed to be generating continuously from the great heart of Dr. Hancher, E. Mark Evans and Dr. Kemp, took fire in the latter days and spread to all of our hearts; and when great gifts were announced, Christian enthusiasm and prayers of consecration ascended. This achievement could never have been accomplished without the splendid assistance of the business men of Bloomington—Catholic, Protestant and Jew and the co-operation of the pastors of the Central and Illinois Conference. Christian education has won a new victory in the hearts of our people. They realize, as never before, that we must aim at the building of true and noble manhood and womanhood. It is not enough to enable a man to earn a living, but to live a life; not enough to aid him to acquire a fortune, but to safeguard a soul; not enough to fit him to shine in a drawing-room, but by God's grace to enter the Celestial City. In a word, it must be not only for the life that now is, but for that which is to come. This, if I understand the spirit of the Greater Illinois Wesleyan is its purpose and mission in the world.

We thank God for the task of this day—and we look forward to the tasks of tomorrow in the spirit of Captain Gordon Barber, who wrote a letter home just the night before he made the supreme sacrifice for the world's redemption from the worst tyranny that has ever been known. He said to his parents in that letter: "If I fall, it is God's will and it is best for me; don't think of me as dead, but rather as living the great and glorious life in that happy land where those are who have fought a good fight and fallen in the faith. Think of me as supremely happy in arms whose protection is sure and whose care is infinite."

And his grand old mother, in telling of her laddie's death, said: "Our dear, brave laddie was at his post when God called him, and we are left at ours."

Bishop and brethren today—we, too, are at ours!

CHAMPAIGN-DANVILLE DISTRICT.

A. K. Byrns, Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

If the phrase "Baby District Superintendent" was ever applicable, it would seem to be so in my case at the present time; yet from the attitude these men who are seasoned in the office take toward one, it would seem they expect him, irrespective of his infancy, to have a full set of teeth and know all the ways of "the fully initiated." I solicit our good Bishop's protection.

I was born into this office April 1 and am claiming all the rights and privileges which that date suggests.

I need scarcely say I found this best district in the Illinois Conference, namely, Champaign-Danville District, in excellent condition, having had five and one-half years of Dr. Joseph C. Nate's leadership. I have been impressed with the permanent quality of the work which has been done through these years. During the critical times through which we are now passing it would seem Lincoln's caution against "swapping horses while crossing a stream" was most apropos. Yet Dr. Nate had so carefully prepared for this transfer and has so faithfully and generously advised and assisted me in the work, that we trust we are passing into this trying period with as little loss as could be expected.

The report I wish to make will of necessity be only fractional, dealing mostly with the last half of the year. I trust, however, that Dr. Nate will supplement it with his own account, especially of the culmination of several fine achievements in church and parsonage building, to which I may refer only briefly. A partnership District superintendency is not without its advantage, since it enables each to attribute all the mistakes and failures to the other. However, in this case, I am quite willing, in addition to thanking Dr. Nate most sincerely, to say that whatever credit is due the District superintendent of the Champaign-Danville District this year belongs principally to him.

Changes.

Rankin Church, having associated with it as a part of the charge, Pleasant Grove Church, in the open country, was desirous of becoming a station. After casting about we were able to secure the services of a college student, Lloyd Strouse, to supply Pleasant Grove for the summer. That this arrangement has been satisfactory is evidenced by the fact that the Rankin officials have expressed their joy in having their pastor's full time service, while at Pleasant Grove, under the leadership of Lloyd Strouse, enthusiastically assisted for ten days by Rev. O. B. Hess, of Paxton, a revival has been conducted which resulted in thirty-nine accessions to the church and a real community awakening. Pleasant Grove will become a very substantial part of the Ludlow charge for the next year.

District Rallies.

In counsel with the District organization plans were made for two rallies to be held, one at Champaign and the other at Danville, bringing the pastors and representative laymen to the place most convenient to them. The dates were May 16 at Champaign and May 17 at Danville. A one day's program was planned which consisted principally in discussions of the activities which seemed best suited to the spring and summer months, such as the Daily Religious Vacation Bible School; the Epworth League Convention at Ogden; the Epworth League Institute at Shelbyville, the Religious Training School at Evanston; Summer Evangelism; Life Service Decisions and Centenary collections.

In addition to the papers and addresses given by the men of our own District and their work afterward in bringing the substance of the program to every church, Rev. W. B. Hindman of Bloomington and Doctors W. J. Davidson and E. D. Kohlstedt of Chicago, gave valuable service. Partly, at least, as a result of the District rallies, the following report may be made: Nine charges on the District held Daily Religious Vacation Bible Schools during the summer months. They are Central Park, Danville; St. James, Danville; Dewey, Homer, Ludlow, McKendree and Fairview, Potomac, Shiloh and St. Joseph. The total enrollment in these nine schools was 581. The total number of weeks held, forty-four, which is an average of five weeks for each school. The total number of classes, forty, which is an average of 4.4 per cent per school. The total average attendance was 363, which is an average of better than forty to the school. The effect of these schools on the church and community has, in most every case, been gratifying far beyond the expectation even of those most interested in their promotion.

The pastors who, in most instances were the organizers and directors of these schools, report the impressions made on the church and community in phrases like the following: "Splendid." "Great interest." "Very good." "All feel it was worth while." "People want it again." "Good." "No trouble to get it again." I believe we are safe in saying that the Daily Religious Vacation Bible School is no longer an experiment, but is destined to fill a most important need in the educational program of our churches. It is evident, when we take into account the opportunity which is offered in such a school, for a well planned, systematic and thorough course of instruction covering a period of five weeks, that the average child will get more than will probably be possible in years of more or less fragmentary work in our Sunday Schools.

There were almost 200 delegates who attended the District Epworth League Convention at Ogden, June 13-14, and these were days of inspiration and uplift. The District was represented by seventeen at the ten-day League Institute at Shelbyville and by ten at the Religious Training School under the direction of the Sunday School Board at Evanston. Twenty-eight of our young people are reported as having registered for Life Service.

Revivals and Church Membership.

Seventy-seven weeks of revival services were held, 789 conversions reported; 745 were received into the church from preparatory membership; 490 by certificate and 117 from other denominations, which, after deducting the total losses by death and otherwise, leaves a net gain in membership in the District of 1,074, or a little better than 7.2 per cent on the membership reported last fall.

Material Improvements.

In nineteen of the thirty-nine charges of the District material improvements have been made on church or parsonage properties, the total cost being, on churches, $51,416.20, and on parsonages, $15,063.08, while $23,705.40 has been paid on old indebtedness, making a grand total in these three items of $90,184.70. These improvements include two new churches, one at Ogden, where $30,000 was spent in adding to and rebuilding the church, fitting it in every way to serve the Sunday School and social needs of the community, and the other at Bismarck, costing $20,000, providing a most attractive and modern plant in which to work, and the good people there have caught a vision for Methodism which is indeed good to witness. These two churches referred to were dedicated on the same day, Sunday, January 9, 1921, Bishop Nicholson assisting at Ogden, and Bishop Qualey at Bismarck, with Dr. Natesharing the day with both places.

A new furnace was placed in the church at Sidney, which, with cleaning and repairing the building, cost $800. In Hoopeston church $5,000 has been expended on re-frescoing all the walls, laying hardwood floors and installing new light fixtures. Philo has spent $1,500 on improving the church. At Potomac new concrete walks and driveway, new furnace for the church and an artesian well for the parsonage, represent an expense of $1,140. The Shiloh church has been re-decorated.

The two most outstanding examples of improvement in parsonages are to be found at Shiloh and Rankin. At the former place a fine brick building has been erected at a cost of $8,000, which, taken with the church built only a few years ago, completes one of the most nearly ideal plants for work in the open country to be found anywhere. At the latter place, Rankin, the parsonage has been rebuilt at a cost of $5,500. It is thoroughly equipped and modern in every respect.

Plans have been selected for a new parsonage at Catlin, and the building committee has been authorized by the Quarterly Conference to let the contract. Since coming to Conference, the word comes that the committee has bought a beautiful brick building for $6,000 which would cost at least $10,000 to build. The St. Joseph parsonage has had a new furnace, been decorated and new light fixtures installed. The woodwork of the parsonage of First Church, Champaign, has just received a new coat of paint. The parsonage at Sidney has been papered and painted and a new furnace installed, etc., etc.

Organizations.

The various organizations of the church, such as the Sunday School, Epworth League, Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, Woman's Home Missionary Society, Ladies' Aid, etc., have, in most cases, reported progress in spite of the depressing conditions which prevail. This is especially true in respect to the Sunday School. First Church Champaign Sunday School has had an average attendance for the year of 754, which is 149 above last year's. In First Church, Urbana, efficiently supplied for the past ten months, though for ten months without a pastor, having, however, been fortunate in the services of Dr. A. C. Piersel, who had, at a former time been their pastor, and so understood the field. The Sunday School has had an average attendance of 409, which is an increase of 89 over last year. I mention these two schools, not because they are large, or because they are exceptional, but because the exact figures are available as I make this report. I am confident an equally good percentage of increase could be reported from other charges and that for the district the total gain gives every reason for rejoicing. While speaking of Sunday School activities I wish to mention the school at Central Park Church, Danville, which has a membership of only 121, but is complete with every requirement of the Sunday School Board so far as organization is concerned, and has the star Cradle Roll of the District, there being sixty-seven babies now on the roll.

Community Programs.

In the larger number of the rural and village charges of the District the pastors have applied the most up-to-date methods which the equipment at their disposal would allow. They have made complete surveys of their fields and have organized for the cultivation of the same with well rounded social, intellectual, industrial and religious programs. They have correlated these activities in such a way as to make them serve the best interest of the whole community. It would, if time and space permitted, be most interesting and we believe, profitable, to present in this report a review of the work done in such churches as Shiloh, McKendree, Fairview, Philo, St. Joseph, Ogden and others, where the problem of providing for the needs of the open country and the village are being met in a gratifying way.

Centenary.

It is impossible at this moment, and with the uncertainty of the times, to state accurately what the Centenary collections for the year will be. The latest word I have been able to get from the pastors is, under the existing circumstances, quite encouraging. A few have said: "My charge will present a 100 per cent report at Conference time." Most of them have not been able to make such an assertion. As a District I am anticipating at least a 75 per cent cash payment on this year's pledges.

Cunningham Home.

Cunningham Home, located at the edge of Urbana, under the direction and care of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Illinois Annual Conference, has had an excellent year. The new hospital building, named "Illinois Conference Hall," costing $20,000, has been completed, and is now being used. The second floor is occupied by eight high school girls, similar to the cottage plan. In accordance with the will of Judge Cunningham, at the death of his widow, which occurred a few month ago, the grounds have been increased by twenty acres, making now a property value of not less than $500,000. The increased capacity of the home by the addition of the hospital building was immediately filled, but the number taken in only touched the number waiting admission, as 800 were rejected in a year's time, or added to the waiting list. Of the 107 children cared for the past year not one has been seriously ill. The doctor's bill averages less than $5.00 per month. We have noted with pleasure the increasing interest of the children in their school work under the capable teachers who are serving in this capacity. The Sunday School work and the committing of Bible verses to memory is splendid. We wish the pastors and laymen of our Conference might get a vision of the work for children which this institution is doing. Thirty-seven of these boys and girls have become members of the church, and some of them show real marks of leadership. Under the consecrated direction of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hestwood, the fine possibilities of this institution for the future are such as to challenge the most conservative. At this very moment the expenditure of from $600 to $800 would fit up the basement of one building for the manual training work, thus releasing the room in the main building now used for that purpose, in which beds might be put for at least twenty-four more children. There is no question but that the Cunningham Home should have a growing place in the interest and generosity of Methodism throughout our Conference.

The Wesley Foundation.

All the Conference will rejoice in the steady progress of the Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois which the Methodists of Illinois have established and are supporting as the contribution of the church to our great student constituency there.

One in every four of the students at the University of Illinois last year expressed a Methodist preference—2,026 altogether. Over 200 of these were from the Southern Illinois Conference. Over 300 from the Central Illinois Conference. About 500 from the Rock River Conference. Over 700 from our own Conference. The balance of the 2,026 came from other states in the union and from foreign lands.

In addition to 2,026 Methodists during the regular school year, there were 487 Methodists in the summer session. Nine hundred and eighty-two were affiliated members of Trinity. An additional 203 were in the Epworth League or Sunday School, making a total of 1,185 actually identified with Trinity Church. One hundred and ninety-eight were in the two downtown churches or went home over Sunday. Making a total of 1,383 of our Methodist students at the University who were definitely reached during the year.

Fifty-three pledged themselves to some definite form of Christian service. Three have taken out local preacher's license. There have been 255 foreign students at the University, representing thirty-five countries other than our own. A large number of these students are identified with the Foundation and Trinity Church in one way or another.

The big event of the year was the dedication of the new Social Center Building, costing approximately $300,000, which drew men from all over the country and was reported at length in all of the church papers. Four Bishops—Nicholson, McDowell, McConnell and Henderson, spoke. Many other leading men in the church took part in the exercises, and the President of the University, Dr. David Kinley, made an address, which has attracted wide attention.

In the three and one-half months between the dedication and commencement, 359 meetings were held in the new building, with a total attendance of 31,358, which shows what a place it has at once taken in the University life.

Among the many features or service to which this building has been put, office room has been made for the District Superintendent, to his gratification, and, we trust, to the interests of both the District and the Foundation. It furnishes a convenient and attractive place for holding councils and meeting committees, as well as giving the superintendent an opportunity to come in touch with the great ebb and flow of student life represented in this institution.

We must have a new Trinity Church, the present building being entirely inadequate. Students are turned away from its doors many Sundays. This is nothing short of tragic. The Methodists of the state, we are sure, will want to see that the new church is provided in the very near future, together with an adequate endowment of the Wesley Foundation work, so that we may properly maintain it. This is one of Methodism's greatest opportunities.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, although my time on the District so far has been brief, I wish to express my appreciation and thanks for the kindness shown me in official relation and in the homes by the pastors and their families. I have held the Third and Fourth Quarterly Conference in every charge and have sought to make them, not occasions of distributing flowers, but of actual and serious inquiry, that we might know the weak places and together, as a Quarterly Conference, strengthen them. To me the one heading on the Quarterly Conference form sheet which has thrill in it is No. 7, which reads: "A Discussion of the Forward Program of the Charge." And while I would not go quite as far as Longfellow when he said: "Let the dead past bury its dead," I do feel that what is to be done is of so much greater moment than what has been that it should hold the significant place in our Quarterly Conference sessions. I believe the Champaign-Danville District stands to a man with head and shoulders set and muscles tense, ready to respond to the "Forward, March," of the Man of Gallilee, with the conscious attitude expressed so well by John Oxenham, when he said:

"Foes in plenty we shall meet;
Hearts courageous spurn defeat;
So we press with eager feet,
Up and on.

"Ever forward in the fight,
Ever upward to the light,
Ever true to God and right,
Up and on."

DECATUR DISTRICT.

T. N. Ewing, Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

In making my first report as a District Superintendent I desire to acknowledge my obligations to my predecessor, M. N. English, for the foundations laid throughout the District and to the pastors whose fidelity and patient labor have gone a long way to atone for the ignorance, inexperience and incompetence of the present District Superintendent. The year has brought many pleasant experiences for which I thank God and take courage.

Brother Pigott, appointed to the Windsor Circuit, was unable to take up the work there and my first duty was to find a pastor for the five country churches involved. I was very fortunate and happy to find the young and promising Harry A. Cochran to supply the work, and he has done it so effectively that his appointment as pastor for this year is urged, with salary increased and promise of good success. Brother A. M. Sinclair finding it impractical to serve the three country churches on the Shelbyville Circuit, I secured for them a pastor in Paul Curry of Strasburg, who did fine work and is planning now to complete the requirements for admission to the Conference. In the middle of the year Brother C. W. Gant, pastor at Windsor, accepted a position with the Anti-Saloon League. Brother M. D. Tremaine of Findlay was transferred to Windsor and O. L. Bachstabler, a local preacher and Superintendent of the High School in Monticello, was appointed to supply Findlay during the summer. Excepting these changes, pastors continued in the work as appointed.

The fall meeting of preachers and laymen was well attended and a fine spirit prevailed. During the year special emphasis has been placed upon evangelistic work and good results have been obtained. In Sullivan the Conference year began in a blaze of evangelistic endeavor under the leadership of the new pastor, Brother Campbell, and Evangelist Mitchell and a fine spirit and interest has been maintained throughout the year. In the Macedonia church on the Atwood work the pastor, Brother Wilkerson, was assisted by Brother Crews of Arthur. Over Forty conversions were reported. In Cowden a year's careful planning and unremitting toil on the part of Pastor Baldwin and his people came to fruition in a revival meeting in which, with assistance of a neighboring pastor, Brother Horseley of Herrick, over 160 were converted and the membership of the church increased over 60 per cent. In Garret a union meeting in which Pastor Berry and a pastor of the Christian church worked together resulted in the conversion of a large number of the business men of the community, eighteen of whom united with the church. In Mason Brother Clapper led the whole church forward in a thoroughgoing endeavor distinguished by a large ingathering and permanent upbuilding. In Shelbyville the pastor, Brother Young, was assisted by Evangelist Beadles and the entire community received a new impulse of spiritual power. Other evangelistic campaigns not so conspicuous, but in some respects just as permanently effective, were conducted, and the faithful work of the pastors was much in evidence. All the Decatur churches and most of the churches of the District observed Passion Week with special meetings, and Grace church, Decatur, was fortunate enough to secure the services of Bishop Quayle on that occasion, and all the Decatur churches report a substantial ingathering. Reports for the entire year of evangelistic work were not all in, but at the close of the Lenten period over eleven hundred conversions were reported.

The year has not been without building and improvement. The church in Cerro Gordo was thoroughly overhauled and decorated at a cost of $4,000. Grace Church, Decatur, has purchased a property adjoining the present church building at a cost of $12,000, which when remodeled and improved will furnish a long-needed room for the overflow of the rapidly growing Sunday School. The Lovington church, the corner stone of which was laid May 22nd, is nearing completion and when completed, with a very much enlarged and improved parsonage, will constitute one of the best properties in the Conference. The new St. Paul's church is also coming on apace; corner stone was laid August 21. St. Paul's is our chief Centenary enterprise in the District and Conference. It is well worthy our interest and pride. By it the whole east side of Decatur will be served in such a large and comprehensive way that the Kingdom there is very sure to be permanently established.

The health of pastors and people has been very generally good. Only once during the year has death invaded our ranks. It was in the pre-Easter time, when all thoughts were being turned toward the anniversary of our Lord's resurrection, that Sister McIntosh, the beloved wife of our pastor at Warrensburg, after weeks of suffering, passed into the great beyond. She was a devoted wife and mother and pastor's helper through the years.

The year has come to a close in the midst of a general financial depression, caused principally, it seems, by a radical reduction in the sale price of farm products. In spite of the earnest urging of the District Superintendent, many of our smaller charges, already paying salaries hardly sufficient for a pastor and family, are insisting on salary reductions. In some places this threatens to disrupt and disorganize our work. It seems inevitable that some churches will be closed on account of lack of financial support. A good many of our pastors will be forced to live on a salary smaller than the one which is now too small. It is, however, a time for great optimism and faith. General belief is that the financial tide will turn before long and in the new and better day we are hoping not only to regain what is lost, but go forward to larger things.

Centenary subscriptions very generally came due in August or September, and the close proximity to the session of our Annual Conference has made it a difficult matter to make even an approximation to 100 per cent collections. At the same time it appears that the churches generally are doing better this year than last. We are hoping next year will be better still.

In closing, permit this one word of personal acknowledgement: The year has been a strange one, full of entirely new and sometimes perplexing situations. It has been a year also of strenuous endeavor, attended by results that are meagre enough, at least so far as the effectiveness of the Superintendent is concerned. But pastors and people for the most part have been thoughtful and indulgent. And in the thought of their fidelity and co-operative good-will we have great reason to render thanksgiving.

JACKSONVILLE DISTRICT.

E. L. Fletcher, Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

One hundred years ago this summer a Methodist local preacher came to this place and preached the first Methodist sermon in Jacksonville. The site of this first Methodist service was no near that if time could be rolled back we would today be within the sound of his voice. This local preacher was Joseph Basey. We were then in the Missouri Conference, and at its session in 1821 John Glanville was sent to the Sangamon Circuit, which included Jacksonville. He organized the first class, probably in the same place where the first sermon was preached, the home of John Jordan, just back of Passavant hospital. For several years this continued as a preaching place. Later the log school house was used by both the Presbyterians and Methodists. When the Illinois Conference was organized in 1824 Jacksonville became a part of the Mississippi Circuit. In 1827 the name was changed to Apple Creek Circuit. In 1830 the Jacksonville Circuit was formed and the first Methodist Church was erected. It was of brick and stood about a block north of the place where we now meet. In 1833 Jacksonville became a station, the first in the state of Illinois, and the pastor assigned was T. J. Starr. Three years later a new church was built a block west of the present location. It was to this church that the committee appointed at the Conference held in Paris, Ill., seventy-five years ago, came and organized the Illinois Woman's College and here the first classes of the college met. The most extensive Methodist revival ever held in the city was conducted in this church in 1847-1848 during the pastorate of Rev. J. B. Corrington, there being over 600 conversions. The present church in which we meet was built in 1867-1868, the work having begun under the pastorate of the father of W. S. Phillips. This church has seen many mighty revivals, perhaps the most noted during the pastorate of W. A. Smith. The Annual Conference has met in this church oftener than any other church in the Illinois Conference, having been entertained here on the following dates: 1832, 1837, 1841, 1847, 1851, 1871, 1878, 1879 and 1890, making with the present session the tenth time. But all Jacksonville has united in extending to the Illinois Conference a most hearty welcome and we cannot say any one but all the churches and all the people welcome the Methodist preacher and the Methodist layman when they come to this Methodist center for prayer and conference. This is truly a Methodist city, for 12½ per cent of the city has its names upon the Methodist Church records, and if the constituency roll is counted, at least 20 per cent of the people are Methodist. On the 4th day of last August we held a great Methodist celebration in commemoration of the Centennial of Methodism in Morgan County, and over a thousand adults from Jacksonville and the county marched in the parade from Grace Church to Passavant hospital, where the granite boulder marking the site of the first service was unveiled, the remainder of the day being spent at Nichol's park, where a splendid address was given by Dr. Zaring, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate.

At the close of Conference a year ago the Jacksonville District comprised 47 appointments, but as several charges were united on account of the shortage of ministers, there were really 50 Quarterly Conferences which the District Superintendent had to meet. C. F. Hagner did not go to Chesterfield as appointed and J. C. Ewing was transferred to this work, where he has had a most successful year. Easton was left to be supplied and at the beginning of the second quarter A. J. Henderson, from northwestern Canada, was secured, and we feel this was a very fortunate and satisfactory arrangement. In the midst of the year the dark shadow fell over the Auburn charge, because the beloved pastor, W. M. Carter, was taken and not only the parsonage home but the church was left desolate. Brother Carter was one of the most beloved of pastors and his record in the Illinois Conference will stand as a monument more enduring than granite. A. L. Wood was secured at once and has cared for the church in a most creditable manner until Conference.

This has been a year of more material improvements than for several past years. Immediately after Conference last fall the District Superintendent was called upon to dedicate and raise the money for the new church at Richwoods. This church was destroyed by fire during last year, but the good people rallied and with a little Centenary help built a fine modern rural church. The day of dedication was one of joy and victory and now the church stands free of debt and ready for a program of community service. Repairs and improvements have been made in nearly every charge, but the most noted are as follows: Waverly, the debt of $2,300 paid and $700 improvements made; Nilwood, a new basement, which will be a great help to the growing church at that place; Asbury, on the Brooklyn-Jacksonville charge, a new basement; Girard, a general repairing and painting of parsonage; Roodhouse, church redecorated and general repairs; Fairview, on the Chandlerville charge, church decorated and greatly improved; Salem, on the Curran charge, a new basement and much improvement of the parsonage property; Auburn, church repainted and decorated, parsonage in fine repair; Bluff Springs, new parsonage completed and all the churches repaired and painted; Oakford, church redecorated and painted; Ashland, church decorated and parsonage greatly improved; Centenary, Jacksonville, decorated, new floors and many other improvements. The total amount for improvements on the District will be $15,621. All through the year we have given special attention to the Centenary and have been very ably assisted by the Area office. Group meetings have been held and nearly every church on the District has been visited by special representatives and the great claims of the World Program presented.

Any report of the Jacksonville District would be sadly incomplete without a report of the Illinois Woman's College, which is located within our borders and sheds inspiration and blessing not only over this District but all of Methodism. The week of prayer was devoted to evangelistic effort, and Dr. Keck of Champaign stirred all hearts with his masterful address. It is a great pleasure to note the spiritual atmosphere of this institution. For some time Dr. Harker has conceived the plan of having a director of religious life and activities who should be charged with the responsibility of caring for the development of the religious life of both students and faculty, organizing it wisely, training it into right channels and connecting it with the various activities of the church both in the local work and in their more extended and world programs. He also planned that this director should be free to attend Sunday School Institutes, Young People's Conventions, and in general to connect the college with the church, as well as to foster the individual religious life and possible service of every student.

In the fall of 1920 Rev. W. J. Weber of the Oregon Conference was secured to fill this position. During the year a student survey was made, the religious attitudes of the students ascertained and in many instances personal conferences held. A student volunteer movement was organized and special interest was manifested in life service. Nearly half of the students took Bible and Religious Education, giving the director opportunity for much personal contact. Effort has been made, with no small success, to inspire them for such work in their homes and for the future. Professor Weber has visited the various conferences, conventions and institutes and has occupied the pulpits of a number of the pastors of the Conference. At the Epworth League Institute held in Shelbyville he was one of the faculty. He is ready to serve any of the pastors this coming year and attend any of the religious activities of the Conference at all times.

All through our ministry we have felt that the chief business of any Christian minister was to win men to God, and when this passion dies the glory of the ministry has departed. All the year the revival fires have been kept burning. At Easter time a severe storm prevented many of the pastors from gathering in the harvest expected, but, undaunted, they continued and followed up the campaign during the succeeding days. Our Gospel Tent has been in use all summer, under the management of Mr. D. C. Linton, and the results have been most gratifying. Meetings have been held at Alexander, South Jacksonville, Garner Chapel, Kilbourne, Arenzville, Durbin, Providence and Concord. The conversions reported in these meetings total 467, and if the meeting held in Centenary Church should be added we have 602 conversions in the meetings where Mr. Linton has either assisted or conducted the meeting. In the reports sent me by the pastors we have a record of 1035 conversions and 978 accessions to the church this year.

Our ministers have all been active and faithful. Every one seemed to feel the responsibility of the task and have caught the vision of possibility. They report 20,361 pastoral visits, 3,441 sermons, and if the miles of travel they have gone in doing this work had been in a continuous line it would have taken them more than three times around the world.

As we have seen the vineyard in its highways and byways, viewed it from its valleys and looked upon it from its heights, we are impressed with some of the many needs of the Jacksonville District. A great need of the District today is in some way to improve the morale of both laymen and pastors. It is so easy to become discouraged during these trying days and not keep pressing earnestly forward. If only the hands of both pastors and laymen might be strengthened. The best means I know of is first an intelligent and careful reading of our church literature, so that we all might know how the battle goes all along the line. We are glad to note a large number of readers of our church papers, but until there is an Advocate in every Methodist home we shall not be satisfied. And here in the home is the seat of our power or the secret of our weakness. If we are to accomplish that for which Methodism was raised up it must begin in the home and about the family altar. This is our greatest concern in the District, that we might deepen and broaden the spiritual home life of our people. It is very evident that Jesus meant his followers to be giants if we consider the task he gave them to carry forward. Paul refers to a Christian as one with a weapon in both hands. This is no place for weaklings, and this is no time for indolence or indifference.

We submit this report not as complete, but as a brief review of some of the work accomplished. May He who fully understands and justly weighs the acts and intents of men be merciful with our mistakes and richly bless the least loving service of every preacher and layman in the year that has passed, and then set our faces towards the sunrise of another day of opportunity and service.

MATTOON DISTRICT REPORT.

W. D. Fairchild, Superintendent.

The Mattoon District has experienced a year of hard work and a reasonable degree of success. At the close of the last session of conference four charges were left to be supplied. Within a few days H. G. Markley was appointed to the Toledo charge, W. L. Shell to Brocton, M. F. Ault to Grandview and H. F. Cusic to Indianola. All charges were served throughout the year except Toledo and Ridge Farm. Toledo was opened June first by the resignation of H. G. Markley, who was supplying, and Ridge Farm charge became vacant in early July by reason of the death of the pastor, H. W. Miller. Aside from these two charges the work in the District has gone forward without interruption.

Evangelism.

The Methodist Episcopal Church stands for an aggressive-progressive campaign for the consummation of kingdom purposes. Whatever else may be incorporated in our program, evangelism holds the chief place. True to this interpretation of the church's greatest work, pastors and churches have labored hard to turn men and women to Christ. The evangelistic spirit has been pronounced through most of the year. The campaign has been characterized by zeal, interest and determination. Special services have been held in almost every church in the District, and in almost every instance with tangible results. For the most part pastors were their own evangelists, employing occasionally evangelistic singers or the help of neighboring pastors, and on the whole the character of the work and the results achieved have been more satisfactory than when professional evangelists were employed. Nearly 1700 conversions are reported for the year.

Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues.

The year has shown real progress in Sunday School and League work. Almost without exception the Sunday Schools have grown in numbers and interest. Some schools have doubled their enrollment, while many have added twenty-five to fifty per cent. The standard of efficiency in teaching and supervision has been raised, much new equipment has been added and better organization effected. Special mention might be made of the work done in Casey, Charleston, Marshall, Chrisman, Newman, Villa Grove, Tuscola, Mattoon and Paris. More than 800 Sunday School attendants have been numbered in the list of conversions.

We are all familiar with the experience of the Epworth League during the past few years. It has in no way been reassuring. But during the past year we have witnessed a revival of interest. Some of the old chapters have been reorganized, several new chapters organized and the work given a new aspect. The District convention at Newman was decidedly the best in point of attendance and interest we have had in several years. There was also a large registration of delegates at the Conference Institute held at Shelbyville in July. Much credit for the increased interest is due the District President, Rev. H. G. Beck.

It is to be regretted that we cannot record the same kind of progress in the work of the Junior League. With all the effort made, we seem powerless to create any enthusiasm. There are untold possibilities for the benefit of the young in this organization, but they cannot be realized because of the lack of consecrated leaders in the local churches. By our neglect we are wasting opportunity and dissipating religious tendencies at the most critical moment in the life of the children. We covet the time and talent of consecrated and efficient superintendents and teachers in shaping the lives of the young for definite Christian service.

Material Improvement.

The year has not been favorable for the launching of new buildings or undertaking any extensive improvements in general, although we are much in need of these in several places. We are still waiting for cheaper materials and labor and for more hopeful financial conditions. However, some work is being done. At Martinsville the church is adding some $5000 worth of improvements in the way of basement, new furnace, added Sunday School rooms and redecoration of the interior. At Farmington on the Lerna work, a new church is being erected and will be completed in the late fall. It is to be a brick veneer, with full basement, and will be such a church as will answer satisfactorily the needs of the community. Repairs in amounts ranging from a few dollars to a few hundred have been made on about one-third of the churches and parsonages. Church indebtedness has been reduced until the total indebtedness in the District is less than $6000, and provision has been made to care for part of that the coming year.

The Centenary.

The third year of the Centenary gives us still better opportunity to estimate the real worth of the movement and to get the reaction of the churches, under conditions much different from those prevailing when the pledges were given. As we might expect, there is criticism and opposition in some degree, arising chiefly from lack of information concerning the real purpose of the movement and from the circulation of false statements regarding the expenditure of the funds. But I am glad to say that the amount of real opposition is negligible. On the whole the church is loyally supporting the Centenary. Most of our pledges in the Mattoon District fall due September 1, and the early meeting of conference this year made it impossible to collect subscriptions in time to make such report as would enable me to gather full data on payments. However, I feel certain from reports thus far made that our record will be practically as good as last year. If it comes reasonably near last year's report, we shall be satisfied, conditions considered. In no place do we expect anything but the fullest co-operation. Almost all our people regard these obligations as sacred, and we believe that finally we shall suffer very little loss. The situation has not justified any intensive canvassing for new subscriptions in general, but some new pledges have been made. At Mattoon about $3500 in new subscriptions have been received this year.

Three years ago we took the pledges we are now busy collecting, but there is another phase of this matter that unless properly handled is sure to work great embarrassment. I refer to the proper expenditure of these funds. There is a certain flexibility in the use of Centenary money which is a wise provision, but which is also a source of great danger. We must be able to justify our appropriations, otherwise we damage the whole cause.

That some mistakes have been made and that others may be made, we must be ready to admit, but these have been and will likely be of a minor nature. It would be unthinkable that a movement such as this, involving such huge sums of money, carried forward as this work must be, could be brought to completion without a single error. Who of us can manage our own affairs, simple as they may be, without seeing the possibility of improvement? Conditions change and time itself makes necessary alterations. It is so with every great enterprise. But it can also be said with certain confidence that the Centenary movement has justified the most sanguine expectations of our church leaders and is regarded by far-seeing churchmen in all branches of the Protestant church as the greatest Christian movement of modern times. Our attitude will make or mar the success of this great undertaking and directly or indirectly affect all future efforts of like nature. We must stand for and stand by this great Christian movement designed to further the work of the Kingdom.

Memorial Methodist Hospital.

Another very successful year is set down to the credit of the Memorial Methodist Hospital in Mattoon. About 900 patients have received treatment in the hospital the past year. The hospital is fully equipped, well managed and is always full. It has a high-grade reputation in the local community and has a very excellent staff of physicians and surgeons. The board is still looking forward to the building or purchase of a nurse's home, very much needed.

Church Papers.

Emphasis has been laid on the necessity of the church paper in the home. Many officials are this year subscribers who have never taken a church paper previously, and we have reason to think that the papers are being read. Over 200 new subscriptions are reported this year.

Health.

It is cause for remark that no wide-spread sickness has been among our people this year. Frequently epidemics come and linger, greatly embarrassing our work. Pastors and people have not, for the most part, been hindered by ill health. This in part accounts for the success of our evangelistic campaigns. The number of deaths among our people has been unusually small. Death has visited but one parsonage home. In May, Rev. H. W. Miller, of Ridge Farm, became suddenly ill and was forced to give up his work temporarily. His church gave him an extended leave of absence and he went to Indiana to be with his daughter and regain his health. But his strength did not return, and in early July he died in the hospital at Fort Wayne and was buried at Van Buren. Brother Miller was a consecrated and conscientious worker, who gave himself diligently to his task. He was genial and spiritual and preached Christ in a sane and wholesome way. His messages had the evangelistic ring and he had the joy of seeing many saved through the years of his ministry.

Ministerial Support.

There was a considerable salary increase taking effect at the beginning of the year now closing. These increases brought the district up fully alongside the best salaried districts in the conference. The added amount for conference claimants was cheerfully accepted and paid. We have sought to have all claims for ministerial support paid in full. The financial depression has worked against us seriously, and in some instances jeopardized the situation. In the last week of the year I visited about twenty charges, arranging final settlements and determining salaries for the coming year. These were mostly circuits where salaries were already too low, and in a very few there was a slight inclination to take advantage of the old and dishonorable custom of repudiation so long prevalent in our church. But I am glad to say that indications are that every charge will settle all claims in full for the fifth consecutive year.

We regret to say that a few charges have thought it necessary to reduce salaries the coming year. There does not seem to be a good reason for this course. The action is due to a state of mind rather than to necessity. These reductions have resulted in charges, for the most part, that lack business sense and system. We are striving to sharpen the sense of responsibility for obligations incurred, install better business methods and secure prompt settlement of all claims. Reports issued during the year showed at the end of the first quarter 93 per cent of all ministerial support paid, four claims at the end of six months, 94 per cent, and at the end of three quarters, 93 per cent. This is not as good as it ought to have been, although it is the best record yet made in the history of the Illinois Conference of nearly one hundred years. We must not only have adequate support for our ministers, but we must have full and prompt payment of all claims, including all items of ministerial support.

Missionary Societies.

Both the W. F. M. S. and the W. H. M. S. have enjoyed prosperous years. Each society has exceeded last year's activities in every way. Large numbers of children and young people have been enrolled. A few new auxiliaries have been organized and the financial report will be much better than last year.

New Responsibilities.

Methodism in the Mattoon District not only faces the problem of proper care of fields already surveyed and accepted, but she faces new and added responsibilities. It is a source of regret that several denominations having the congregational plan of government are falling into decay. The abandoned church is a common sight. More than fifty churches in the country districts are either abandoned or have only an occasional service. To me it seems that we have the only system of government and service that will redeem these abandoned places. We may not be looking for new responsibilities, but they are thrust upon us. It will require time and patience to work out the problem, and we must have fully equipped men to cultivate the delicate fields when the time seems right. We have begun a careful survey of the entire District and within the coming year will be able to present it in graphic form, and then plans can be undertaken to care for the falling fields.

Many details might have been woven into this general report, and special mention made of men and their work, but it does not seem wise to institute anything that might be construed as a comparison. Most of the men have labored hard and have achieved. I have greatly enjoyed their fellowship and the privilege of sharing with them in their labors. We humbly submit the results of our labors together as they are, and only wish they might have been more abundant and fruitful.

QUINCY DISTRICT.

E. S. Combs, Superintendent.

Beloved Bishop Nicholson and Fellow Workers of the Illinois Conference:

In making a report of a great district like the Quincy District it will be impossible to record all the acts and doings of the workmen. There are many noble deeds and acts that cannot be tabulated on paper.

One year ago Bishop Nicholson appointed the reader of this report to the Quincy District.

If there is any truth in the theory that a minister should not be appointed to a charge where he is too well known, it was doubly true in the case of the present Superintendent of the Quincy District, as I had only been in the district to attend annual conferences at Quincy. This may account for my acceptance, and the refusal of others to accept the appointment. I know more about the district today than I did one year ago. I love it none the less, but more. Its calls, opportunities and needs have entered into my heart and life as no other church work in all my ministry. Today I stand as its sponsor and challenge the Illinois Conference to find a more worthy field, a finer folk, a more sincere and devoted class of preachers and laymen, a more worthy school with more competent and self-sacrificing teachers.

We are proud of the fact that the Illinois Conference has a Quincy District, not for a dumping ground for wet logs or a foraging ground for other superintendents who do not produce preachers enough for their own districts, but it stands as a mighty bulwark on the west of the Illinois Conference to strengthen, to pray, to work, to consecrate Christian men and women with iron in their blood for the most noble purpose known to the world—the lifting of the unsaved world to God. Many references have been made to the Quincy District from time to time, and it reminds me of Burn's oft-used quotation, "A man's a man for a' that." That section of country between and on the borders of the two great rivers that flow on and on, with its farms, cities, churches, schools, prairies, hills and valleys is a district of the Illinois Conference "for a' that" throbbing with vital Christian life. Other districts may have their Illinois Wesleyans, Woman's Colleges, Wesley foundations and Hospitals, but Quincy has that outstanding institution of Methodism, the Chaddock Boys' School. It stands alone in its uniqueness. But we do not intend that it shall stand alone spiritually, intellectually or financially. If we have great rivers flowing on and on, they are indicative that we have a people whose blood flows through hearts that are throbbing with the compassion of our Master for humanity. If we have hills lifting their peaks heavenward, they remind us that our people are a praying people, ever lifting their voices to God for help and power divine.

We found the district as our beloved Duncan had left it—splendidly organized—for which I was and am more than grateful.

There are forty-four pastoral charges in the district and ninety-six churches. Eight of the charges were left to be supplied; one church refused to accept its pastor and one pastor refused to go to his work, leaving a total of ten vacancies. No small task for a man to face whose heart and soul had been in the pastorate. But with the help of the Bishop and our generous superintendents all these points have been supplied for most of the time, and we have kept the work moving, we trust, in the right direction, on to the battle front and upward to the cross of our Master.

All the pastors and churches have toiled faithfully for the success of the work, and none more than Dr. F. A. McCarty and our splendid Vermont Street church in Quincy, of which he is pastor. Both pastor and people have been untiring in their zeal for the success of the Kingdom throughout the district. This church and its pastor have been a central power from which radiate a district power and influence that has been greatly appreciated by all. In this church we found that splendid layman, D. L. Musselman, who has given more than liberally of his busy life to the work of the district, in the way of issuing a monthly bulletin and helping to secure supplies for vacant pulpits. No church or superintendent ever had a more faithful or capable assistant than this brother.

The two captains of the district have done most heroic work, Brother Losh, who had charge of the north section, and Brother Stretton, who had charge of the south section.

In passing we pause to thank God for goodness to our parsonage homes. Death has visited only one parsonage during the year. The beautiful granddaughter of Brother W. T. More of Hulls fell asleep and passed on to the perfect life.

The year passing has been conducive to great financial drives. We have met the financial reaction and it has met us, but we are still pressing on. Last year the district advanced the pastors' salaries over $6,000, a fine record. The problem of pastors' salaries is still with us and will be as long as the church refuses to bring all the tithes into the storehouse.

Our goal has been 100 per cent paid for ministerial support. We have done our best. Some churches have not done their best. We will sustain some loss in pastors' salaries this coming year, but we will make more gain than loss. There will be about $4,000 added to pastors' salaries in the district this year, for which we are grateful. Fifteen charges are pulling upward, six are pulling downward, nineteen are stationary. Many laymen say: "Give us good preachers and we will take care of the salaries." After all, the preacher is the key man as to the financial condition on each charge.

Building and improvements have kept pace with other lines of church work during the church year. Rushville installed a fine, new pipe organ, and paid on their church indebtedness over $7,000; Augusta, a new $5,000 parsonage. Rushville Circuit has built a new parsonage and improved some of the churches on the circuit; Bowen, a new $6,000 parsonage, a total of over $26,000 spent on improvements. Pittsfield is remodeling the old church and building an addition to the same for Sunday School and Social Life. When completed it will cost about $40,000. Grace church, Quincy, has broken ground for a new $40,000 church that will be completed before another Conference convenes. Boardstown has plans for the remodeling of the old church and the building of modern Sunday School and social rooms for the congregation, which has outgrown its quarters. This will cost upwards of $50,000. The proposed improvements will exceed $130,000 this coming year.

We have stressed from the first to the last the importance of the Sunday School and young people's work. The hope of the future church is found in this department, and the pastor who increases and strengthens this department will be assured of a strong church in the future. Religious education cannot be emphasized too strongly. One child saved by the educational process is worth more than those who have been poisoned by sin. The Sunday Schools of the district have made splendid progress. The pre-Easter Evangelistic drive resulted in a large number deciding for Christ, especially where the pastor had a mind to work.

The Epworth Leagues of the district have taken on new life and new Leagues have been organized and old Leagues reorganized. In June we held a splendid district convention at Quincy with a large enrollment of the young people of the district. We also sent the largest delegation to the Shelbyville Institute since its existence. God help us to stand by the young people. It is high time that the Church of Jesus Christ was capitalizing this mighty asset for the Kingdom of God.

The Woman's Foreign and Home Missionary Societies have done heroic work on the Quincy District this year. The Foreign Society has made a fine gain in membership and a 25 per cent gain in finance ($2,320), giving over $1,700 to the Chinese relief work. The Home Society has made a gain of 10 per cent in membership and the Young People's and Children's Societies have gained 100 per cent. They have also made a financial gain of 10 per cent. This is all very commendable.

The Chaddock Boys' School still occupies a unique place, not only in the Illinois Conference, but in Methodism. Its fine corps of teachers and officers are doing a most effective work among the fine class of most deserving boys—a work such as there is far too little done in this day for the building of manhood. Dear Brethren, let us stand by this school and not aloof from it. Open our church doors to its solicitors and not close them as many do. We have discussed this school pro and con, but now we have come to the place where we must absolutely redeem our promises.

The Centenary is still operating on the Quincy District. While collections have not been easy, but where pastors and laymen have been faithful, we have had results. We have done our best in the face of unfavorable conditions and often strong opposition. Our payments to date equal 70 per cent of our apportionment. We are not first, we are not last, we not only want to do our work, but will do our part. Before there can be a great giving on the part of our Methodist people, there must be a great receiving. A receiving of the words of Jesus and the Holy Spirit. Many are like the people in Paul's day—they do not know that there is a Holy Spirit. Before our people can be a great paying church they will have to become a great praying church. The only final solution of the Centenary is the salvation of men in and out of the church—a spiritual uplift.

Revival fires have been burning on most every charge in the district this year, and where they did not burn it was no fault of the consecrated pastor. To date there has been over 1,560 conversions and decisions, and over 1,400 additions to the church, which exceeds the 10 per cent goal of increase. Outstanding revivals were held at Beardstown, Bowen, Littleton, Hulls, Pittsfield, Mt. Sterling, Grace, Quincy, and Vermont Street, Quincy.

There is ever an increasing demand on the part of the church for a revival of power that shall move every community to a keen sense of Christian duty, and rightly so, but there can be no regeneration of the unsaved until there is a consecration of the church itself, and that consecration must first take place in the life of the ministry. "Like prophet, like people." God spare the day when the Methodist ministry shall cease to be wholly consecrated to Christ and its calling.

Brethren, let us begin here, today, in the opening hours of this conference, to reconsecrate ourselves to God and our task so that our Saviour can come in such mighty power that the world shall be saved to God, and that all evils such as Bolshevism and her kinfolks shall forever be overthrown and the Christian home forever established upon the earth. When this comes we shall not have to worry about our homes, schools, colleges and endowments and Centenary. Such a revival is as feasible today as in the days of Paul and John Wesley. Let us here highly resolve, as we stand on the field where Jacksonville Methodism started one hundred years ago, that we will wholly concentrate ourselves as ministers and laymen to the greatest task of the day—the task of reviving the church and its duty, reaching the unsaved of the world and saving the Christian home from annihilation.

Here is the only salvation of the world. Here we find the secret of the final success of the Centenary.

If the Centenary fails, it fails from the want of a spiritual atmosphere in which to live. If we have wandered away let us start back home to God today. God spare the day when any of us shall say, as did Samuel of old, "The Lord is departed from me." If we keep him, we must permit him to keep us.

"God is our refuge and strength, an ever present help in trouble." Let us be true to him.

SPRINGFIELD DISTRICT.

Eugene M. Antrim, Superintendent.

District Superintendents have been called a good many names, but it remained for a layman, the other day, to pass out just the right term—shock absorbers. He declared that they were the cushion buffers between the rough roads and the people riding in the car and were designed to mollify the jolts that would otherwise be felt when passing over a rocky highway. And so the church has shock absorbers in its District Superintendents, and the rougher the going the more shocks they have to absorb. In frankness let me say that this has been a year when the shock absorbers have had to do full duty. But we have nevertheless come to the end of one year's journey and still find the old machine in pretty good running order, carrying a large number of passengers and lifting a bigger load than ever.

It is our business to give a brief account of the journey on the Springfield District.

Spiritual Activities.

Our pastors and churches have all been deeply concerned about the winning of men to Christ and the Church. This is our chief business and we have tried to keep it in proper relation to all other obligations in our field labors. The campaign for souls came to a culmination at Easter when 875 conversions were reported, which number has since been increased to over a thousand. In addition, 673 new members have been received by letter. Losses through correction of rolls have been heavy this year, in one instance the records showing a hundred less than reported at the last Conference. Special instances of evangelistic success stand out in our minds. Brother Munch held meetings at both Prairie Lea and Sharpsburg, securing 45 conversions, and during the year scoring a net gain of 43 per cent on his charge. A triumvirate, consisting of Adams, Jones and Monson, conducted meetings at Stonington, Pawnee and Mechanicsburg with marked success. Their work illustrates the possibilities of pastoral teamwork in evangelism. Brother Havighurst was assisted at First Church, Springfield, by Hanley and Fisher. The campaign for souls resulted in a large number of conversions which, added to the list of new members secured during the year by the pastor himself, has given the First Church a net gain of 176 members above all losses by death and transfer. The Mitchell party assisted Brother Willson at Hillsboro. The attendance soon outgrew the church building and the services became almost a community enterprise. Over 300 converts were reported and our church scored a net gain of over 100. Incidentally church attendance has increased 100 per cent and attendance at prayer meetings 250 per cent. A fine training class for young converts has been carefully shepherded by the pastor, meeting each week in the auditorium of the church. Brother Martin, at Owaneco, has used the every Sunday evangelistic method to advantage and 43 converts have been made in the regular services of the church. Springfield churches have all made marked advances. Brother Lockridge, assisted by many willing volunteers, has held special meetings at the Eighteenth Street Church and at two other points in a tent for a period of twelve weeks. Eighty-six converts were made and a wonderful hold on the people of the southeastern section of the city has been established. A new church is to be erected somewhere in this section as soon as the site can be definitely selected and secured. Kumler, Douglas Avenue and Laurel, under the leadership of that unique triumvirate of Pastors Dowson, Boyd and Sandmeyer, have each made substantial gains.

It is inspiring to note how several pastors of the District have used special features to contribute to the general success of their labors. The Church Nights conducted on Wednesday evenings at Kumler and Douglas Avenue Churches, resulted in great increases in interest and attendance at the mid-week services. A luncheon, followed by study classes, prayer meetings and informal socials, brought out over 100 in attendance through the winter. Brother Butler, at Buffalo, has maintained a Church Day once a month, with marked increase of numbers. Brother Park, at Elkhart, has used effectively a mimeographed bulletin as well as several largely attended community banquets. Brother Munch has organized an orchestra of some 35 pieces from the young people of a strictly rural community and thereby gripped them to the church. Brother Lotz employed weekly bulletins, mimeograph, glee club, boy scouts, moving pictures and other features. Brother Wright has taken personal charge of a Junior League at Niantic, enrolling upwards of 50 children and doing a fine piece of work. Brothers Peck and Monson use the stereopticon wisely and well at Pana and Stonington.

Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues.

Nearly all the Sunday Schools of the District have made decided advances this year in point of interest, efficiency and numbers. Scarcely any report a decrease, while most of them can record increases in average attendance amounting to from 6 to 100 per cent. Taylorville, Irving, Mechanicsburg, Mt. Pulaski, Shiloh, First and Laurel, Springfield; Nokomis, Owaneco, Roby, Dawson, Witt, Hillsboro, Kenney, Sharpsburg, Elkhart and Kincaid all report an increase of 25 per cent or more, while Irving and Shiloh report 50 per cent increase, and Taylorville has more than doubled its average attendance since getting into its magnificent new building. This revival of interest in the Sunday School is one of the most gratifying aspects of our current religious life and spells a bright hope for the future of the church. The Epworth Leagues are generally reporting sustained or increased attendance and interest. Some of them are a joy and pride to the pastor's heart. Kumlér League has, for several years, won the cup in the efficiency contests put on by the District Cabinet. The Leagues at Pana, Morrisonville, Pawnee, Stonington, Divernon, Hillsboro and Springfield are giving the Kumlér League a spirited race for the cup. New Leagues have been organized at Irving, Eighteenth Street, Prairie Lea, Mt. Pulaski, Dawson and Elkhart. Any method that proves effective ought to be used to save our young people in a day when the deadly influences of a worldly world are fighting desperately for their souls.

Ministerial Salaries.

Concerning the meagerness of pastoral salaries much has been said in the last few years, and rightly so. But we are gratified to report an advance on the District this last year of $6,764, or 10½ per cent. In the last four years our salaries have increased on the Springfield District from a total of $44,530 to a total of $72,205, or 62 per cent. This means that the churches of the District have increased their ministerial support in that time for all four claims more than $34,000, which is the record for the Conference. We hope to hold this standard with but little if any average reduction for the new year. In spite of all this the shortage of ministerial recruits actually on the field ready for service, is still acute. And it is well that the ten-year program committee is giving this question serious attention.

The Centenary.

What about the Centenary? This has not been an easy year financially, as most of us can painfully testify. The corn belt has been especially hard hit by reason of the slump in prices for its products. Wheat is sold for less than half what it brought a year ago and corn is bringing less than a fourth the price, with a still lower figure a possibility for the new crop. Nevertheless our District will report increased Centenary offerings this year as compared with last. Not a few churches will show a slight decrease, but every church in the City of Springfield will make an increase. The heroism and loyalty of some of our laymen is beyond all praise. Some of them have actually borrowed money at interest in order to meet their Centenary pledges this year.

Other Financial Matters.

In other financial matters the District will make a remarkable showing. Over $80,000 in cash has been paid in this year on church and parsonage improvements, nearly double the amount reported last year. The W. F. M. S. and W. H. M. S. will this year pass their banner record by several thousand dollars. While the Ladies' Aid Societies report raising money to the amount of a 25 per cent increase. Shall it be not said that hard times and adversity always produce in some people greater devotion and consecration? During "the soft times passing" we were in danger of "having our religion fattened out of us," and the danger is not entirely over yet.

New Churches and Parsonages.

The District has bought or built three new parsonages this year, those at Riverton, Owaneco and Divernon. Four new churches have been dedicated, foundations are being laid for a fifth and ground will soon be broken for a sixth. In addition First Church has raised over $80,000 to remodel its plant at a cost of $85,000. To raise so large a sum in these times was a great undertaking, but the task is nearly completed, only $5,000 remains unpledged and $10,000 is already in hand in cash. When remodeled the First Church will be virtually a new building, with basement for Sunday School and social purposes, remodeled Sunday School annex and gymnasium, while even the auditorium itself will undergo extensive alterations.

The outstanding achievement in this line is the new church plant at Taylorville. It is a wonderful building, fitted in every way for community needs and for a seven-day a week program. A beautiful auditorium, tastefully decorated, adjoined by Sunday School rooms, gymnasium, dining hall, ladies' parlors and pastor's study, make up the most conspicuous features of the equipment. Its final cost was $130,000, and every bit of it has been pledged without a single dollar from the Centenary in process or prospect. Who can forget the day of dedication? Bishop Nicholson preached two inspiring sermons; Dr. W. J. Davidson handled the finances, while people, pastor and superintendent all co-operated as one man in the effort. $90,000 had previously been pledged on three separate papers by the self-sacrificing people, and all looked serious when they faced the prospect of raising $40,000 additional that day. But it was done, and when the day was over the deficit had been oversubscribed and the church dedicated amidst great rejoicing. Rev. G. W. Flagg, the pastor, and his people, have done the biggest thing of their lives in projecting and completing the enterprise and deserve unbounded praise.

The remodeled community church at Buckeye on the Millersville charge, valued at $7,000, designed to make the church a real power in solving the rural problem for a decade to come, was also dedicated in June, all the money necessary to provide for the deficit being raised on that day. This project was started under the pastorate of C. C. Pearce and completed under that of Homer Delap, the present pastor.

The remodeled church at Divernon, a real missionary territory, costing nearly $3,000, was likewise dedicated in May and all the money necessary to the balance of the cost was raised that day. This was the more heroic achievement when it is remembered that they, in conjunction with the Glen-arm Church, have built this year a parsonage valued at $9,000.

But a true romance in a church dedication occurred when, on July 31, the Superintendent was permitted to consecrate the new church at Tovey. This is the building "those women" made possible. It stands on the site of a former saloon, whose bricks have been "converted" and built into a church. The women purchased site and old bricks, scraped them with their own hands—45,000 of them—hailed sand, mixed mortar and raised money to complete the work. On dedication day the last $1,600 necessary to pay all costs remaining was raised at one service. But when you talk about "the pretty ways of Providence," remember the new story we have now to relate about another enterprise. This time the setting is in the Capitol City itself.

The new Wesley Church and Parsonage, as well as the new Eighteenth Street Church and Parsonage are the points of interest. When we started the new Wesley Church we had not thought that Providence was going to place in our hands a surprising gift. Just at that time the City of Springfield began its long delayed program of repaving the streets. Rev. J. Philip Armand, our Superintendent of City Missions, immediately got busy to secure the gift of the old brick from the adjoining property owners and has already secured, for the cost of hauling, and taken to the sites of the new church and parsonage buildings, over 127,000 of them. They are selected brick, largely from the under course, and are as good as new. Only enough brick needs to be purchased to surface the buildings to complete the job. Thus we shall construct two churches and two parsonages out of the old pavements of Springfield. Any one who has ever ridden in a car over the afore-said old pavements and knows that they are now to be converted into church buildings will believe the Scripture, which runs, "he maketh even the wrath of man to praise Him." The lumber from the abandoned Mt. Zion church in Clear Lake Township will also go into the new Wesley Church in Springfield.

Work Among the New Americans.

One of the most fascinating and important pieces of service being rendered on the District is that which is being done under Centenary auspices and aid at Springfield and at three other points, Kincaid, Nokomis and Hillsboro, where there are large groups of new Americans. J. Philip Armand has six mission schools under his charge in unchurched sections of the Capital City, with an enrollment of over 250 children, foreigners and others. Wesley Church is part of this new enterprise and will, on dedication day, have at least 100 new members enrolled. At Kincaid Miss Roberts has been doing a unique work, which includes weekly religious instruction, clubs for boys and girls, manual training, sewing and cooking classes, community sings, pageants and a Daily Vacation Bible School.

At Coalton, near Nokomis, Miss Calvert has been conducting a Sunday School in a community where there is but one American family in a population of 1,500. The sessions have been held in two abandoned saloons and now in the empty jail, for lack of other quarters. The wonder is that the work has thriven at all, but it has, in spite of all its handicaps. It deserves every possible aid and encouragement. We hope the Centenary will be able to give some aid to this pioneer work among our new Americans.

At Taylor Springs, near Hillsboro, Miss Ina Ingersoll is making a successful approach to a large number of foreigners, including some Mexicans, by means of classes in English, sewing and other means. More than fifty men have been enrolled in the night school, meeting in the school building three times a week, while a large number of women and children have been interested through sewing classes and other means. Encouragement is being given to the work by the local mine and government officials as well as the people of the church. Pastors Hartman, Tharp and Willson are lending all possible aid to these pioneer enterprises.

The Conference Woman's Home Missionary Society is demonstrating its faith in this kind of ministry by putting a Deaconess worker in the Taylorville field to work among the new Americans and others in that important center.

Conclusion.

Time fails me to recount much that deserves to have historical record in these reports. The work of each man and charge ought to have the space that is allowed for all. Only an impressionist picture can be made, with emphasis on general outlines rather than details. But the picture is imperishable and is chronicled on High. As loyal a body of ministers as ever served a District, and a body of laymen whose labor and sacrifices have made the whole story possible, deserve all the praise. It has not been an easy year, but we shout to one another while we toil at the oars.

"We are not here to play, to dream, to drift,
We have hard work to do and loads to lift.
Shun not the struggle, 'tis God's gift,
Be strong."

(B) STANDING COMMITTEES AND BOARDS.

BENEVOLENCES.

We wish to express a deep sense of our gratitude for the timeliness of the Centenary. It was the success of this movement that enabled our church to hold firm the far-flung battle line of missionary and benevolent work all over the world in the face of advancing prices and increasing needs. Through the response of our people some long delayed and sorely needed advances were made possible.

In view of the tremendous needs of a lost and bleeding world for food and clothing, for healing, education and evangelization, and in view of the opportunity of our church to supply all these needs through Christ Jesus our Lord, and through its leadership of the world, we trust every pledge for money or service will be paid in full.

We call attention to the necessity of a program of continuous education and publicity to keep the church informed concerning the great accomplishments of our benevolent boards and of the opportunities that are now challenging their attention.

We rejoice over the steady progress in the support of Conference Claimants by which, through the activity of the Annual Conferences, under the leadership of the Board of Conference Claimants, the distribution for the benefit of Conference Claimants has increased from $600,000 in 1908 to $1,600,000 for the current year.

We are especially gratified that after this year the work of this board may be made possible without any drain upon the funds of the Annual Conference. We earnestly request the Council of Boards of Benevolences to make adequate provisions for the work of the Board of Conference Claimants in accordance with the legislation enacted by the late General Conference.

We recognize the fundamental importance of the practice of Stewardship, not only for the financial success of the Kingdom, but also for the spiritual life and power of the members of our church. We therefore recommend the strong presentation of God's comprehensive and supreme claim upon the life of every man, and upon all his powers and possessions. We recommend that our people be urged to the definite acknowledgement of this claim by the definite setting apart of the tithe of their income for the service of God.

We recommend that in every church, as far as possible, the tithers organize for the purpose of promoting and extending the spirit of Stewardship and the practice of tithers, and that wherever practicable the tither's organization adopt a carefully worked out plan for bringing all the tithes into the storehouse and for securing their careful and effective distribution.

CHADDOCK BOYS' SCHOOL.

"A nation's greatness is reflected not in the rich mines of its mountains, nor in the fertile fields of its valleys, nor in its manifold industries, but through the men who operate them." Never were good men at such a premium as today.

Those most deeply interested in the work of Chaddock Boys' School feel that its great opportunity lies in the possibility of implanting in the heart of its boys the seeds of Christian manhood and cultivating those seeds through the early years of their lives; in fulfilling the promise of the Father to these lads when He said: "I will be a Father to the Fatherless."

In performing this work this year* the Trustees of Chaddock wish to record their grateful appreciation of the co-operation of the Conference in creating the sustentation fund. We have given vouchers for more than $10 000 received from the churches which have been open to us. Without this assistance we could not have carried forward the work.

It is an oft repeated story that we turned away, without consideration, more than three hundred of these boys the past year. However, we are glad we could receive more than three-score of them and give them the training and care Chaddock can offer through its fine corps of teachers and its wholesome surroundings.

The fact that the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent, the Principal and one of our finest teachers are deaconesses, receiving an allowance of $25.00 a month, helps greatly to make it possible to report no deficit in our current expense fund.

Miss Williamson, our Principal, who has been connected with the school seven years, returns after two years leave of absence which she spent completing her work at the Northwestern University, where she received her degree and was also elected to Phi Beta Kappa honors.

Glen C. Smith, a graduate of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, will teach agriculture and history and direct the work of commercial gardening, which we have already begun.

Merritt Meaker, a graduate of the Illinois Wesleyan, has charge of the playground activities and teaches seventh grade.

We enter upon the new year with the finest faculty we have yet had, with eight members who have been with us from three to ten years, and with a group of choice boys.

The financial problem looks difficult, but as before we must find a way. The treasurer's report shows a balance in the current expense on the right side for the past year. With the prayerful consideration and earnest co-operation of the friends of boys in this Conference, we shall hope to make even a better showing the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

EVA C. FIELDS, Superintendent.

CHURCH LITERATURE.

Since we are living at a time of great church programs, and since our church papers are the best means of publicity for these mighty enterprises, we feel that the need of the Northwestern Christian Advocate in every one of Methodist homes is imperative. We therefore urge our pastors to a most diligent effort to reach this goal. Recognizing the increasing value and effectiveness of the Epworth Herald, we plead for a wider circulation of this paper among our young people.

We are justly proud of our splendid Sunday School publications and we commend the largest possible use of this literature in every department of Sunday School work. Convinced that no better current literature can be procured anywhere than that found in the Methodist Review, we would advise that not only the undergraduates, but also all the effective preachers of our Conference should be advised to read this splendid magazine.

It is more and more apparent that one of the most indispensable institutions of the church is the Methodist Book Concern. We commend the faithfulness and diligence of the agents of the Methodist Book Concern who stand ever in readiness to meet the needs of pastor and people by bringing to them the very best of the world's literature. We advise our people to avail themselves of the many privileges our book concern presents.

S. C. PIERCE, Chairman.

2—That the Commission shall provide for all necessary expenses incident to the most efficient prosecution of its work.

3—It is the judgment of the Commission that until the campaign is completed and the pledges collected, that the work will require the full time of an executive officer. We therefore recommend that Henry C. Gibbs be appointed as the Field Secretary, who shall work under the direction of the Commission and be ex-officio member of the Commission.

4—The Commission shall so relate itself to the Ten-Year Program as to act in harmony therewith, and Veterans' Day shall be observed in each pastoral charge, at which time the interests of Conference Claimants shall be presented and special emphasis given the campaign for the raising of an additional $500,000.

DOMESTIC MISSIONS.

Resolved, that we commend the work of the Domestic Missionary Society and call the attention of the pastors to the fact that this fund is included in the Centenary, and that they are required to write into the statistics the full apportionment.

Much confusion has been caused by the failure on the part of a number of the brethren to do this.

Be it further resolved that we express our appreciation of the faithfulness and accuracy of the treasurer of this Society, Brother Lee Matheny, of Springfield.

Respectfully,

JAS. C. BELL, Chairman.

C. H. DAVIS, Secretary.

EDUCATIONAL REPORT.

The Committee on Education presents the following report:

Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois.

We rejoice in the completion and dedication, February 11-15, of the Social Center Building. This is the first unit of that group of buildings that before many years will speak in eloquent terms of Methodism determination to care for her children who gather at this great institution of learning. The new plant now houses the following student activities: Epworth League. Student Council, classes in Religious Education, Student Department of the Sunday School, socials and the offices of the staff. Since the dedication 3462, from thirty-eight states and eight foreign countries, have signed the visitor's register.

From dedication to the close of the school year 359 meetings were held in the building, with an aggregate attendance of 31,358. The Foundation is actually doing business, as the 982 student members of Trinity Church indicate, with an average of 334 at the Sunday evening Epworth League devotional meetings and with 52 who have signed for some kind of special Christian life service. Scores, turned away repeatedly from the regular Sunday services, are a living announcement of the imperative need of the new church, which must be built at the earliest possible moment. Of course to "carry on" at the Wesley Foundation, equipment and endowment must soon be supplied. We have put our hands to the plow and will not look back.

Illinois Woman's College.

No one can visit this great institution without coming close to Dr. Harker, whose life and inspiration have made the school what it is. One must be impressed with the high scholastic standing of the school, the emphasis placed upon training for life service, the homelike and religious atmosphere that is everywhere in evidence; but above all by the farsightedness of that tireless leader, as he unfolds visions and dreams of the bigger and better institution of the days to come; which, without doubt if realized to any considerable degree, will make this one of the outstanding schools of America. Marvelous as has been the achievement of the last few years and magnificent as is much of the present physical equipment, everywhere is apparent the urgent need of more adequate facilities. Our delight in the successful issue of every campaign, and especially that for a quarter of a million dollars concluded last June, should be excelled only by our eagerness to help forward any necessary movements in the future until this worthy institution is placed upon a proper material basis.

Illinois Wesleyan University.

The usual commendatory statements that can be made of any good year in the activities of a worthy institution of recognized standing, could appropriately be inserted here; but we will pass that feature to stress a few outstanding points which can be counted no less prophetic of the better days to come. The coming year bids fair to be the banner year in attendance. The fact that one student in every twelve is a candidate for the foreign field and that one in seven has signed for distinctively Christian life service is an extraordinary indication of the religious tone of the school and a harbinger of good things to come. Whatever may have been the misgivings of any, all criticism must now be silenced by the simple utterance, "Bloomington and McLean County did it" The campaign to raise $660,000 resulted in a total of almost $700,000 on June 30, and ended with such rousing enthusiasm as to mark the dawn of the long-expected new day for the Wesleyan. The letting of the contract, August 25, by the Board of Trustees, for the building of a modern gymnasium, adds more luster to this dawning day. With the completion of this magnificent new building, by June 1, 1922, at the latest, and with the Buck library, in all probability, started before that time, the building campaign which is to adorn the greatly enlarged campus of the new Wesleyan will be well under way. Who will not be ready to add his bit and do his best for the future of this institution?

Theological Schools.

The need of an educated ministry grows more imperative with the passing years. More and more the church must find its leaders in the men trained in solid theological discipline. We urge our young ministers to avail themselves of the opportunities offered by our theological institutions.

The Board of Education.

We record our appreciation of the interest of the Board of Education in the educational interests of the Conference. We note with appreciation the generous appropriation the Board of Education has made for the more thorough instruction of our young men in the Conference course of study. We especially appreciate the visit of Bishop W. F. Anderson and his inspiring address at the Educational Anniversary. We pledge our hearty co-operation to the Board of Education in its plans for the promotion of the Children's Day Fund, the Educational Collection and the enlistment of our young people for life service.

EVANGELISM.

We are all agreed that the revival meeting has played a very large and important part in the upbuilding of the church. If we were to withdraw from the membership of the churches all those persons who have been won to the Christian life through the revival efforts, the remnant that remained would be small. The revival needs no defense. It both adds to the membership of the church and deepens the spiritual life of the churches. However, the revival method is about the only method that has been pressed systematically and zealously.

Christ's Personal Method.

The outstanding method of Christ was the personal approach. He singled out James and John, Philip, Nicodemus, Mary Zaccheus and many others. Jesus taught his disciples to do the same kind of work. In the mind of Christ this type of work was not to be confined to the pastors and evangelists, but was to be undertaken by all who became his disciples. We must enter into serious training of the laymen in the business of soul-winning.

The "Win One—Stand By" Program.

Because of the potency of this method of Christ and because this plan is the one adopted by the leaders of our church, we present for the program of all our churches the "Win One—Stand By" program. We believe the plan will accomplish the following:

1. It will assure not only the winning but also the Christian development of all persons won.
2. It will secure the development of the membership of the church.
3. It will affect the minister in his preaching.
4. It will reach men never won by revival methods.

Methods.

1. The Sunday school, by teachers and classes, should be organized and urged to win the children.
2. The Epworth League and Young People's organizations should work, using the Epworth League Evangelization program, to win the young people.
3. The Official Board should canvass personally and intensively to win the adults.
4. Constituency lists should be assembled in each group and copies given to the pastor.
5. The "Win One—Stand By" special program should culminate in an Easter ingathering and should head up in the Easter services.

Family Worship.

The revival of family worship in the home is essential to the spiritual life of the children and should be encouraged by every pastor.

Special Revival Meetings.

We believe a revival meeting should be held in every church in the Conference some time during the year.

E. K. TOWLE, Chairman.

ERNEST J. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

HOSPITALS AND PHILANTHROPIES.

Forasmuch as Chaddock Boys' School at Quincy, Cunningham Childrens' Home at Urbana, the Baby Fold at Normal, Mattoon Memorial Hospital at Mattoon and Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago, and other such institutions, are glad to avail themselves of the voluntary contributions from the churches, of cash and supplies; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Conference that these contributions of cash and supplies shall be liberal, inasmuch as it is for the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ among men. And furthermore, be it

Resolved, That the churches open their doors gladly to their representatives and hearken to their appeal.

T. B. WRIGHT, Chairman.

D. H. HARTLEY, Secretary.

STATE OF COUNTRY.

1. We thank Almighty God that we have lived to see the day of victory, when the liquor traffic stands convicted by every tribunal and is now an outlaw in the land. Nevertheless, "eternal vigilance" is still the price of liberty. Many a battle has been lost after it was won. The weapons of our warfare must not, in the day of victory, be dropped from our hands. The liquor interests are alert and active. We therefore emphasize the imperative necessity for renewed activity and constant vigilance on the part of the friends of prohibition in state and nation in order to resist the efforts of the liquor interests to defeat prohibition either through the repeal of our prohibition laws or through the nullification by lax enforcement.

2. We recognize the power and influence of the motion picture upon the life and thought of the people and we earnestly protest against its use for poisoning the public mind by a fascinating display of crime and licentiousness.

3. We deplore the effort of certain lawless and unchristian elements of our population to break down the sanctity of the Christian Sabbath by unnecessary work or business. We will resist with all the power at our command the forces that would destroy a fundamental part of our birthright by turning our American Christian Sabbath into a day of business, dissipation, and commercialized recreation. We urge hearty support of legislation that would check the fearful scourge of prize fighting and gambling which to an increasing degree is afflicting the country.

4. We believe that the present unrest is largely due to the disorganization of the American home. Modern living conditions incline to disrupt the home unit. The stability of the home must precede any stability that will come to the nation. The home is the strongest bulwark of the nation. We therefore urge that every Christian home erect a family altar and assume the first responsibility for the training of the rising generation.

5. We believe that the present spirit of depression in our nation commands serious consideration by the church. Problems of unemployment and of finance are acute. There has developed a dangerous spirit of suspicion between the different elements of our nation. Leading writers and thinkers in the commercial and business world have declared the need in our nation of a revival of the religious life of the people. As an Illinois Conference we recognize our task. We accept that challenge. We believe the spirit of Jesus Christ in the lives of the people is the solution. Therefore we go forth to the coming year with a firm faith in the guidance and wisdom of Almighty God. We believe it is an opportunity to build firmly the foundations for future advancement. We face the problems of the day with an optimistic outlook. We take a firm grip upon our problems, and face our duties and privileges with a realization that the Church of our Lord Jesus Christ must be the torch bearer of the World.

6. We view with concern the powers that would thwart our program of education in Italy. We pledge our support to the educational program of our Church at Rome.

7. We believe that War is a curse upon the life of humanity. As long as the spirit of hate has the opportunity to express itself in the use of arms we face world wars. Therefore, we look with joy upon the move taken by the President of our Country to bring together the great nations of the world upon the question of disarmament. As an Illinois Conference we pledge ourselves in favor of the Disarmament Congress in Washington, D. C., on Nov. 11th, and urge that the spirit of brotherhood and of Jesus Christ be the spirit of our National Representation in that Conference.

In pursuance of our desire to meet the needs of the present crisis, be it resolved, that at each Public Service, Prayer be offered to Almighty God asking that His divine wisdom and guidance be imparted to the men guiding the destinies of the world. Furthermore, be it resolved that our Conference set aside the day of Nov. 11, 1921, as a time when each Church shall call its people to Prayer and Fasting.

WILBERT DOWSON, Chairman.
T. B. LUGG, Secretary.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND EPWORTH LEAGUE

1. We greatly rejoice in the triumphant Advance along all lines of Sunday School work.

We declare our unqualified endorsement of the Comprehensive program of our Board of Sunday Schools and wish particularly to commend the new emphasis on Week-day Regilious Education and the returning summons to Daily worship in the home.

2. There has never been a greater need and field for the Epworth League than today. We simply must provide an opportunity, for self-discovery, to all our Methodist youth. As yet the Epworth League is alone in its particular field.

3. We recommend the continuance of the Conference organization of the Epworth League consisting of the President, Secretary and the several District presidents.

We nominate for President C. R. Booth—for Secretary Howard Leach.

4. We register our enviable pride in the success and noble service so far attained in our Conference Epworth League Institute. At Shelbyville, this year there were two hundred and three paid registrations, with scores of visitors. Fourteen young people made life service decisions for specific forms of Christian work while sixty-one others made a dedication of their life to serve Christ wherever He should call. We enthusiastically pledge our support for next year at Shelbyville, July 18, 26th.

5. We nominate the following as the Institute Commission for the year:

E. G. Sandmeyer, Pres.; C. R. Booth, Dean; E. V. Young, H. G. Beck, J. D. Butler, Howard Leach, D. V. Gowdy.

JOHN D. KRUEL, Chairman.
C. E. PETTIT, Secretary.

(C.) SPECIAL COMMITTEES AND RESOLUTIONS

CLASSIFICATION OF RETIRED MINISTERS

WHEREAS, The last General Conference clearly defined the conditions upon which members of the Conference may retire and at the same time enjoy the benefits of the Annuity Funds of the Church,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Committee on Conference Relations be instructed to keep an accurate record of the grounds upon which this relation is granted; that all claimants now upon the rolls of the Conference be required to give evidence of their rights to share in the Annuity Funds of the church by securing from the Committee on Conference Relations a certificate showing that their claims have been established.

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED That the treasurer of the Board of Stewards be instructed not to pay any claim until the certificate granted by the Committee on Conference Relations has been filed with the Secretary of the Board of Stewards.

The minutes of the Annual Conference indicate that the following Retired Ministers have rendered 40 years or more of service. J. E. Artz, J. B. Colwell, W. F. Gilmore, J. A. Kumler, C. P. Masden, C. F. McKown, J. R. Reasoner, W. N. Rutledge, E. M. Smith, W. A. Smith, H. C. Turner, L. F. Walden, W. H. Webster, Chas. Wehrman, S. H. Whitlock.

RESOLVED, That the Committee on Conference Relations be instructed to issue certificates to the foregoing.

The Records of the Secretary of the Board of Stewards show that the following named Retired Ministers were 65 years of age or more at the time of retirement: M. F. Ault, Abner Clark, J. L. B. Ellis, J. C. Enninger, Stephen Goldsmith, J. M. Goodspeed, C. P. Hard, Jasper Miller, A. D. Moon, W. H. Musgrove, M. B. McFadden, W. E. Rose,

RESOLVED, That the Committee on Conference Relations be instructed to issue certificates to the foregoing.

Years Disallowed.

(a) WHEREAS, It is our deliberate and candid judgment, that every year, for which annuity is paid by the Methodist Episcopal Church, should represent a year of actual full-time service for the Methodist Episcopal church, rather than representing a year of effective relation to the annual Conference.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the claims of all members for years of service rendered when little or no actual service was rendered be presented by the Board of Stewards to the Annual Conference with the recommendation that the claims for such years of service be disallowed on the grounds of justice to those who have done faithful work.

(b) RESOLVED, That the claims of all members of the Conference upon the Annuity Funds of the Church for service rendered outside of the regularly constituted organizations of the Methodist Episcopal Church, be presented to the Annual Conference by the Board of Stewards, with the recommendation that the claims for these years of service be disallowed for the Conference year 1921-22 on the grounds of expediency.

(c) Since the margin between the estimated income and the claims is so small,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Stewards be requested to recommend that all Annuity claims for service beyond 40 years be disallowed on the grounds of expediency.

Pastors Engaged in Secular Pursuits.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the District Superintendents be requested to report to the Committee on Conference Relations all members of the Conference who are engaged in business to such an extent that only a part of their time is devoted to the Church. This committee is hereby directed to recommend to this conference the relation which such members shall sustain to the Conference.

Men Seeking Appointment to Institutions not under the Direct Control of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

RESOLVED, That the case of all members of this Conference who are rendering service or seeking appointment to render service to organizations and institutions, not under the direction and control of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and to whose appointments paragraph 208, sections 1, 2 and 3 of the Discipline do not apply, shall be referred to the Committee on Conference Relations, in accord with Conference Rule 23, and this Committee is hereby directed, after giving due consideration to each case, to recommend to this Conference the relation that members now filling such positions without the Church, ought to continue to sustain to this Conference.

Special Resolutions.

For the sake of greater accuracy of the records, and for the protection of the Conference and our people, resolved:

1st. That all members of the Conference be required to file with the Secretary of the Conference who shall transmit the same to the Secretary of Board of Stewards, a complete pastoral record of all items which may affect the annuity rights of the present or future claimants. And that no claim shall be allowed until such record has been filed and approved by the Committee on Conference Relations.

2nd. All ministers who are received into the Conference, whether from probation or by transfer, or, in any other way, shall be required to file a similar record with the Secretary of the Conference for approval and printing. A similar record shall be filed covering the years of service of ministers' wives.

3rd. When a minister is transferred out of the Conference, the Secretary of the Conference shall forward to the Secretary of the Conference to which the Brother has been transferred his complete record, and also that of his wife.

4th. A claimant on the funds of the Annual Conference may draw his first quarterly benefits at the session of the Conference at which he or she may become a claimant. But such prospective claimant must first file a claim with the Secretary of the Board of Stewards not later than August 1st, preceding the Annual Conference session, by the action of which he expects to become a claimant.

5th. That with every member of the Illinois Conference it is a matter of good faith that he become an active member of, and pay his annual dues to the Preachers' Aid Society in the benefit of whose funds he is sure to share. That every candidate for admission into membership of the Illinois Conference before he is admitted into the Conference shall pledge himself to become a member of and pay his annual dues to The Preachers' Aid Society.

6th. That every member of the Conference appointed to service other than that of Pastor or District Superintendent, shall file with the Statistical Secretary of the Conference the name of the position held and the amount of salary or income received, and the Statistical Secretary is hereby instructed to include these reports in the statistics of the Conference.

7th. That the Board of Stewards be instructed to prepare suitable blanks upon which to report a correct pastoral record bearing upon Annuity claim and those dependent upon him.

Miscellaneous Recommendations.

That all who handle Conference Claimants' Funds should furnish bonds, in such amount as the Conference may decide.

That the Board of Stewards reduce the number of columns in their annual reports, and thus simplify them as much as possible.

That the Conference year for the Board of Stewards begin September 1st, and end August 31st, and that the accounts of the treasurer of the Board of Stewards be audited annually.

That the income on invested funds remain in the hands of the treasurer of The Preachers' Aid Society, until the treasurer of the Board of Stewards shall need the same in order to meet the claims due from quarter to quarter, and that upon the request of the treasurer of the Board of Stewards, the treasurer of The Preachers' Aid Society shall remit to the treasurer of the Board of Stewards in the amount apportioned for the coming year.

That for the conference year 1921-22 each pastoral charge be apportioned an amount equal to 10% of the pastor's cash claim for the Conference Claimants of the Illinois Annual Conference.

COMMISSION OF TWENTY-ONE.

Your committee appointed at the last session of Conference to consider with a like commission from the Central Illinois Conference the question of boundaries and related interests submits the following report:

After a full discussion and careful deliberation by each conference commission, first separately and afterward in joint session, of all the questions and interests involved it was agreed:

1. That it is the sense of this joint commission that the sentiment of both the Illinois and the Central Illinois Conferences is such as not to favor union at this time, but that there are certain related interests which might be worked out in a co-operative way to the mutual interest and profit of both conferences.

2. That it is the judgment of this joint commission that the proposed intensive campaign for the educational institutions of the conferences should be a united campaign, and that plans satisfactory to all institutions involved should be formulated.

3. That the work of the Post Graduate Association of the two conferences should be fully endorsed and the work of the association continued.

4. That this joint commission be continued for the consideration of any questions of mutual interest to the two conferences that might arise.

W. D. FAIRCHILD, Chairman.

CHARLES M. DUNCAN, Secretary.

COURTESIES.

Whereas the ninety-eighth session of the Illinois Conference and the one-hundredth anniversary of Methodism in the city of Jacksonville coincide and have permitted us of the Illinois Conference to enjoy Jacksonville's civic welcome and warm-hearted hospitality in home and in automobile, the commodious facilities of Centenary and of the co-operating Methodist churches aided by the genial fraternalism of the assisting denominations and of the Illinois Woman's College, the convenient resources of Odd Fellows' Hall supplemented by the adding machines and the unique messenger service of the Ayres' National Bank, the ample space and superior news service afforded by the JOURNAL and the COURIER, the stirring musical leadership of song directors Phillips and Betcher together with the special selections others have rendered, the inspirational addresses of Bishops Anderson McDowell and Thirkield, the prophetic appeal and efficient administration of our honored President Bishop Nicholson—therefore, we tender our grateful thanks to our Heavenly Father and our sincere appreciation to His good people in Jacksonville.

ARTHUR A. HEINLEIN, President.

W. E. KEENAN, Secretary.

PAYMENT OF DEBTS.

Whereas the general rules of the Church provide that any member desiring to remain in our fellowship shall not be guilty of "borrowing without a probability of paying; or taking up goods without a probability of paying for them" and

Whereas every minister on coming into our ministry is required to certify that he is not in debt so as to embarrass him in the work of the ministry; and

Whereas any failure on the part of our ministers to observe the above rules brings great embarrassment to the Church and detriment to the cause of Christ, be it

Resolved that it is the sense of the Illinois Conference that every minister should live within his means regardless of his salary, and that we call upon our District Superintendents to call upon the ministers within the bounds of their districts to observe these rules, and that infractions of them shall be dealt with according to the Discipline.

Signed,

LEWIS GRANT ADAMS,
Attorney for the Church.

PUBLICATION OF THE MINUTES.

Your committee reports that a contract has been let to the Illinois State Register Printing Company, to publish 5,000 copies of the Conference Minutes, of 224 pages each, at a cost of $1,192.50 including postage.

Your committee now recommends that each pastor, District Superintendent, and preacher in detached service, be required to pay into the Minute Fund, an amount equal to one-fifth of one percent of his cash salary, to defray the cost of this publication, and that this quota be paid before the close of the present Conference session. That the Minutes be distributed as nearly as possible, pro rata on the basis of the amount paid to this fund.

Your committee also recommends that the Secretary of the Conference be elected the Editor of the Minutes, and that he also furnish the publisher of the Minutes a mailing list and a quota of the Minutes to be sent to each preacher, and that the pastor of the Douglas Avenue M. E. Church of Springfield, Illinois, be elected Treasurer of the Minute Fund and appointed chairman of the Minute Committee. That he shall pay all bills when properly countersigned by the editor and shall be required to publish in the Minutes a full report of the cost of the publication, the amount of money received and the names of those who have failed to pay their quota to the Minute Fund.

SCHOOL FOR UNDER-GRADUATES.

Whereas it is highly desirable that a School be held for the benefit of the Under-graduates of the Conference, and

Whereas it is the recommendation of our Commission on the Conference Course of Study that such a School be held if possible.

Therefore be it resolved:

1. That the Illinois Conference authorize such a School and appoint a Committee of three to cooperate with a Similar Committee from the Central Illinois Conference to provide such School.

2. That the Central Illinois Conference be asked to unite with us in said enterprise.

3. That the location, time, expense, course of study, lectures, etc., be arranged for by said joint Committee.

4. That each under-graduate in the Conference Course be required to attend said Schools, unless excused by the Chairman of his Board of Examiners.

5. That no under-graduate be permitted to take any examination at the time of the School unless his written work on that subject shall have been sent in prior to the time of the School.

6. That each District of the two Conferences be requested to contribute a maximum sum of $50 to defray the expenses of said School, and that each District Superintendent be asked to present this matter through the Quarterly Conferences.

SALE OF CHURCHES.

On motion of the District Superintendents the Conference authorized the sale of the following churches and parsonage property and the proceeds applied in each case.

Bloomington District: The Boynton Church on the Hopedale charge was authorized sold and the proceeds applied on the charge for improvements.

Champaign-Danville District: The Bethel church on the Catlin charge was authorized sold last year and the District Superintendent reports that it has been sold.

The interest in one parsonage property on this District was sold for $2300 and the proceeds used to purchase a new parsonage property.

Quincy District: Chili church on the Bowen charge was sold and the proceeds are being used at the Bowen church.

The Seahorne church on the Payson charge was authorized sold, and the proceeds to be used on the Payson charge.

The Time church on the Milton charge was authorized sold and the proceeds to be used as authorized by the Conference of 1922.

Springfield District: The Center Grove church on the Nokomis charge was authorized sold and the proceeds to be used at Coalton on the Nokomis charge.

net sum of $392.40 and the same applied to the church and parsonage property on the same charge.

The Mt. Zion church in Clear Lake Township on the Springfield District was sold for the sum of $1.00 to the Trustees of the New Wesley Church, Springfield.

Mattoon District: The Blue Mound church on the Grandview charge was authorized sold and the proceeds used on the charge.

The District Superintendent reported the sale of the Plymouth church on the West Union charge and asked the privilege to use the proceeds on the charge. The request was granted.

TEN YEAR PROGRAM.

The committee was appointed as a result of a message brought to the Conference last year in a statesmanlike paper from the Cabinet. This paper we have endeavored to make a basis of our work during the year. In that paper we read: "It is the conviction of many that the time has come for the Illinois Conference to lay out a program which will be in keeping with the needs of the day, and the resources of men and money of a great Church. In this program each must recognize the needs of the other, and it must be large enough to measure against the great needs and looking fairly forward to a decade as a minimum."

At the first meeting of your committee last October it became evident that to build a program that looked to a decade for accomplishment; that would demand the attention of a membership that is nearing the one hundred thousand mark; that would command the mutual co-operation of every interest involved; would require that in the shaping of that program every interest should be gotten around the same table.

Your committee decided therefore that we should invite to the next meeting of the committee all who could have in any way a personal interest in the formation of such a program, which as we understood it would include the District Superintendents, the heads of the Boards of Conference Claimants, Preachers' Aid Society, Domestic Missions, Laymen's Association E. L. and S. S., Missionary Societies etc. We also had the privilege of having on the committee Rev. J. W. Van Cleve representing the Area Office, and W. J. Davidson representing the Life Service department of the Church. By your action you had also referred to this committee the planning for the observance of the Centennial of the Illinois Conference.

Making the paper of last year a basis for our work we arranged for six sub-committees as follows:

1. Organization of the Conference.
2. Centennial of the Illinois Conference.
3. Training and Leadership and Recruiting of the Ministry.
4. Surveys and Programs.
5. Conservation and Advance and Evangelism.
6. Institutions, Boards, and Societies.

The general committee was organized by electing Bishop Thos. Nicholson Chairman, I. B. Blackstock vice-chairman and Arthur S. Chapman, secretary. Two meetings of this general committee were held, the April meeting being attended by 27 members and the August meeting by 23.

Your committee is compelled to report that our work is not yet completed, but that we found it advisable to divide the work into units, the first to be built around the Centennial of the Conference, and we recommend the continuation of the committee that it may complete its work and report at another session of the Conference.

A.—Organization.

This committee which has for its purpose the redistricting of the Conference has not had time to study all matters involved and hence is not ready to report.

B.—Centennial of the Illinois Conference.

As we approach the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of this Conference our hearts thrill with pride at the achievements of our Church in this portion of the Mississippi Valley, and we can but admire those men who, in the spirit of devotion and heroism, laid the foundation for mighty accomplishment. We have all heard Bishop McDowell quote: "We are inferior to our fathers if we are not superior to them," but as we look back to these fathers of ours in the Gospel, who came to this state with the pioneers, shared with them their hardships and dangers and poverty and left a mighty achievement in the name of the Lord, we can but pray that a portion of their spirit may rest upon us that we may be worthy successors of them.

At the founding of this Conference in 1824 it consisted of the states of Illinois and Indiana and all the territory north and west. Within the bounds of that great territory we had thirty-two ministers and a membership of 3,732. From that territory there has been carved twenty-two Conferences that have 4,234 ministers and a membership of 917,201, while in the state of Illinois alone we have 1,257 ministers and a membership of 314,055. Surely the men who planned for such achievement were men of vision and zeal and self sacrifice. We have been thrilled by the stories of Cartwright and Jesse Walker, and Buck and Prentice and Akers and scores of others, who traveled the forests before the trails were blazed; who crossed the streams before the bridges were built; who mingled with rough and vulgar men; who partook of the coarse and scanty fare of those pioneers that they might tell of the Lamb of God that takes away men's sins; that they might preach great revivals of religions; that they might conduct camp meetings; that they might cry out against human slavery and intoxicating liquor; that they might lay the foundations for colleges; that they might help to build "in righteousness" the seven commonwealths that have been carved from that territory that composed the original Illinois Conference. I say that the stories of these men as they have been told us by men who knew them in the flesh have thrilled us, but surely we would be unjust to our children and our children's children if we did not in some way gather together these stories of heroism and self-sacrifice and devotion and transmit them in such a manner that they will instruct and inspire those who come after us as they have us.

We recommend, therefore, that a history of the first one hundred years of the Conference be written by some person or some group that is able to make the past live in the present, and that the subcommittee on the Centennial of the Illinois Conference be continued and enlarged, as occasion may require, for the writing and publishing and sale of such a history.

But a history of these hundred years should appeal to the imaginations of our membership and constituency and we recommend that the same committee arrange for a pageant that may be presented to our local churches and the Conference session of 1924.

Thirty-five years ago the Historical Society was organized and for more than twenty-five years made large contribution to keeping alive an interest within the Conference in matters historic. It also secured the nucleus of a working library and has in its possession valuable historic documents. Of late years the society has ceased to meet, most of its officers are dead, and as an organization it has ceased to function. We desire to recommend that the society be reorganized by electing E. G. Sandmeyer, president, the District Superintendents, vice presidents; C. F. Junival, recording secretary; Arthur S. Chapman, corresponding secretary; R. W. Ennis treasurer, and C. S. Boyd, librarian; and it is further recommended that the officers other than the vice presidents be a committee to recommend revisions in the constitutions and by-laws and to arrange for anniversaries in 1922 and 1923 and that the session of 1924 be given over largely to an observance of the Centennial of the Conference.

(C) Surveys and Programs.

Since the Centenary there has come upon the church as a whole a sense of obligation which is shared by the Illinois Conference, to thoroughly know our communities if we are to properly serve them. The last census has revealed some striking changes in population, the migration from the country to town and from the small town to the city being more rapid today than at any time in the history of our commonwealth. Before we can prescribe for this situation we must understand it. We must also know from what other sources our urban growth is being derived. Certain churches in the country and small town must be abandoned and sold, but statesmanship will inquire which must be abandoned and sold and which must be moved to other centers and which must be maintained at any cost.

The subcommittee on surveys has arranged with the Home Missions Board to assist in making a complete survey of the rural section of our Conference early in the Conference year, and it is to be hoped that when the work is completed we shall have such complete and accurate information that we shall be able to properly serve our communities. We recommend that the Cabinet appoint a committee of seven to have general supervision of this matter.

(D) Training and Leadership and Recruiting the Ministry.

The history of the world is the history of its leaders. No great movement, whether political, social or moral; no great institution, whether founded for financial gain, intellectual development, or spiritual profit; no great battle fought, no great cause supported, no great victory achieved, a record of which is made apart from the few men known as leaders. It is for this reason that Emerson says: "An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man; and all history resolves itself very easily into the biography of a few stout and earnest persons." The church, therefore, as an institution, must ever be on the alert to recruit its leadership. No comprehensive ten-year program would be complete without making plans to meet this need. The importance of this matter may be ascertained by a hasty survey of this Conference.

Last year we lost from the active ranks of the Conference by death, transferral and location thirty-six men. We received by admission on trial and transfer sixteen men, which gives us a shortage of twenty in one year. In addition, sixty-two charges were left to be supplied. So that to supply with effective ministers our own Conference we must have, during the ten-year period, at least twenty recruits a year. A similar shortage exists in regard to recruits for the Home and Foreign field.

How shall we do it?

(a) We recommend that every pastor and local church get this matter upon their hearts and endeavor to secure from the young people of the community, from the Epworth League, the Sunday School, definite life service decisions. That this may be more properly done we recommend the setting aside at least one Sunday in the year, preferably "presentation Sunday," which falls on the first Sunday in February, when the direct and definite decisions for special service shall be made, and when made, that the volunteers be directed to such places of training as will furnish them equipment that will enable them to take large place in the leadership of the church.

(b) We would call the attention of our colleges to the special opportunity that is theirs and urge them to hold at least one Life Work Conference in each institution each year under the supervision of the most proficient and consecrated leadership that can be found. The Women's Missionary Societies have a special opportunity to carry this matter to the homes of our church. The fact that at a recent Missionary Conference held in Evanston it was revealed that 30 per cent of our missionaries go to the field without their parents' consent reveals the necessity of work within our homes.

(c) One of the most hopeful agencies for this propaganda is the Epworth League Institute. Ninety of these were held during the past summer in various parts of the country. In this Conference we have a good beginning, the one held this year at Shelbyville having an enrollment of 203 with fourteen life decisions. An enthusiasm should be enkindled in all our churches that would get back of this institution every minister and laymen among us.

Conservation and Advance and Evangelism.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is a connectional body and as such we look to our leaders to chart the seas and discover harbors. We are spiritual descendants of Him who said: "The world is my parish"; while we are spiritually akin to him who said: "Anywhere, so it be forward." For a hundred years some of our people were always working diligently to keep our church headed toward progress in world evangelism. But at the end of that hundred years the church as a whole caught a new vision and we attempted to do what we had never done before, accomplishing more than some denominations have ever attempted, but failing to reach in per capita giving what some denominations have long maintained as their annual achievement.

Whatever the Centenary gave us of vision or method we desire to conserve, but as for advancement, we desire to make "the goal of yesterday the starting point for today." Surely our prayers will daily go to the Captain of our Salvation that we shall never fall from the plane we reached during this campaign. But we will fall unless we advance. The Board of Benevolence is maturing plans upon which we wait, pledging our leaders of the church that we are ready to undertake new tasks in the name of the Lord.

In our book of Discipline under Instructions for Ministers we read: "You have nothing to do but save souls." Such a statement, to the busy pastor of today, sounds as mockery unless we are able to give a new interpretation to our pastoral and church work, and a new interpretation also to the meaning of salvation. If we are to save souls we must ask the question, from what to what? The old reply would have been from hell to come to Heaven when we die. But in the light of our tasks in the church today which are given over to getting men to recognize and obey the will of God as an ethical power in all their affairs, individual, social, financial, political, national and international, we must say we are trying to save men from the sin of idleness and waste and selfishness, to a life of activity and service and self-sacrifice for the things for which Jesus Christ toiled and served and died.

This calls upon us to emphasize evangelism, not only as a name-getting program, but a heart-winning process; winning hearts to assist in carrying on the work of redemption, not only of a few individuals, but rather of a world society, from sin to righteous living, that God's will may be done on earth as it is in Heaven.

Our work is only just begun, therefore, when we enroll men's names among us, and must be continued until they are instructed in righteousness and are moved to seek intelligent expression through some of the numerous agencies of the church. We recommend, therefore, that at least four months on the stations, that period being from January 1 to Easter Sunday, be devoted to winning men to Jesus Christ and teaching them where and how they may best serve in His name. We deem it advisable to make the few weeks before Easter the climax of our soul-winning endeavor, and that special preparation be made on the part of the pastor, teachers and parents for decision day in the Sunday schools, and that after our children and youth have made their decision for the Master that they be given adequate training in the meaning and duties of church membership before being received into the church in full connection.

As a means of instruction and evangelism among our children and youth we desire to commend the Vacation Bible School, urging that in all the forms of instruction in the church that salvation carries with it demands for stewardship and life service.

The First Century of our Conference was begun by revival fires being built in every charge. We recommend that the closing year of the century be reserved for the purpose of rekindling these fires and that by prayer and instruction and self-sacrifice we may make the closing year of the century the greatest in soul saving achievement the Illinois Conference has ever known.

(F) Institutions, Boards and Societies.

Again quoting from the message of the Cabinet of last year: "There is no more vital question than the attitude we assume toward our Conference institutions. In these we are rich. But too many have regarded them as burdens to be borne rather than agencies through which we may serve the world in a way impossible to other Conferences."

And how we have served the world through these institutions. It was one of these institutions, the Illinois Wesleyan, that gave us that mighty man of God, Bishop Hartzel, who gave his life to carrying the Light to the Dark Continent, and there made the desert literally bloom and blossom as the rose. And from that same institution came Denning and Campbell and Edna Brewer and Nelle Beggs, all of whom take large places in missionary endeavor, while the home church has been the constant debtor on account of the ministers and teachers and business men that have been passing through these halls.

And the Woman's College has been serving the world, not only through the sweet Christian womanhood that has been coming back to our communities as teachers and home makers and community helpers, but in the lives of those, like Mary Melton, who gave her life to Christianize Japan and now lies buried in the land that she loved; and Kate Blackburn who for twenty-five years has labored in Bulgaria, and Mary Bradford and others who received here their equipment for Life Service.

Chaddock is no longer a college, but in the short time it served in that capacity it touched the lives of Davidson and Baker and Byrns and English and scores of others, and it remains among us today in a new capacity to render service for the church to the young life that gathers there.

Wesley Foundation is in a unique position to serve. If we expect much of the church of the future we must hold the student life of today. And this is the service being rendered by the Wesley Foundation. Have you thought what it means to have one thousand students listen every Sunday to a thoughtful Gospel message? And this is beside the service rendered through the new social service building, a portion of which has been set aside as an "International Room" for the exclusive use of the thirty-two nationalities gathered there. And these students are going back home in a new sense missionaries. It was after observing the work of one of these students back home that moved Bishop Bashford to say: "Some of these Chinese students, returning home thorough Christians to work among their fellows, are equivalent to one hundred foreign missionaries."

Hedding College history is not so well known to us, but suffice it to say that it was this institution that trained Frank Wilson of India, of whom Bishop Robinson is reported to have said: "He has baptized more people than any one man since the day of Pentecost."

The services of these institutions are not in the past, but are continuing to this hour. But we can not help but raise the query, What would they not have accomplished had they been adequately equipped and endowed that they might have rendered full service? At the close of this first century of Methodist achievement in Central Illinois we stand at the parting of the way. Either we will equip and endow these institutions that they may render the fullest Christian service of which they are capable, or we will leave them to enter the new century neglected, unattractive, apologetic, halting, while as a church we will farm out to our state endowed colleges the task of furnishing us our Christian leadership. Because we are Christians and Methodists we will face our tasks like men that expect to give an account.

The Centenary has not only given us vision but taught us method. Since that campaign was put on no minister or layman doubts the advisability of one great combined appeal rather than a number of lesser ones. Certain interests of the Conference, like Domestic Missions, naturally fall under the head of Benevolences, while others come under the head of Institutions. The colleges come under this head, as does Wesley Foundation and Chaddock. We have been taught, to the detriment of the church that the retired ministers' fund is a benevolence, but our inner manhood resents such an implication, for we recognize his service to the church makes his support nothing other than a debt or claim. During his forty years of service the church has resented his having any business other than the church. Surely, then, the business of the church is to care for him during his few remaining days after retirement. But how can the church do it? We do not believe the present system of levying a high per cent against the local church will prove satisfactory over a prolonged period. There appears but one clear way and that is the raising of endowment funds sufficient to provide this support. Endowments for Conference Claimants naturally will fall under the same class as seeking endowments for our colleges.

A word should be said regarding our relation to the Central Illinois Conference in this program. Regardless of what the Boundary Commission may report, this fact remains true: Both Conferences have a point ownership and control of the Illinois Wesleyan and the Wesley Foundation, while it is also true that each downstate Methodist Institute is mutually dependent upon the other, so it has seemed wise to recommend this movement as a two Conference movement.

The colleges with the Conference Claimants Commission stand ready to show to any man or any group of men, their needs. They have shown them to your committee. That they are stupendous we all must admit. But what can we gain by keeping the church in ignorance of them? Both the institutions and the church at large suffer the loss of influence by such procedure. As honest men we must declare these needs as we see them. We do not, at this time, attempt to go beyond the absolute immediate minimum necessities of these causes.

We recommend, therefore, that the Illinois Conference co-operate with the agencies of the Central Illinois Conference in a movement for the endowment and upbuilding of the educational interests of the Conference as hereinafter outlined, together with our Conference Claimants' Fund, under the following provisions:

(A) Goals.

1. The interests included in this plan are the Conference Claimants' Fund, the Chaddock Boys' School, together with the Educational Institutions of the Conferences involved under the auspices of the Board of Education. viz: Hedding College, Illinois Wesleyan University, Illinois Woman's College and the Wesley Foundation.

2. The askings sanctioned by the movement are as follows, it being provided that the amounts are to be gathered from the field as a whole and that no quotas are to be handed out to individual churches:

- (a) Chaddock Boys' School, 250,000.
- (b) Conference Claimants, $500,000.

(c) Wesley Foundation, $750,000.

(d) Hedding College, $1,000,000.

(e) Illinois Woman's College, $1,000,000, counting the $261,000 already subscribed.

(f) Illinois Wesleyan University, $1,750,000, counting the $692,000 subscribed in the Bloomington campaign.

(g) Maintenance, expense and miscellany, $250,000.

(B) Time and Methods.

1. It is recommended that the coming Conference year be devoted to organization, publicity and in interesting especially those friends able to make the larger contributions to these causes, and that the further development of the campaign be postponed to the period following the next session of the Conference, and concluding, if financial and general conditions permit, previous to the holidays.

2. We recommend the appointment of an organization committee from the Illinois Conference, consisting of F. A. McCarty, E. M. Antrim, J. C. Baker and W. D. Fairchild to co-operate with a similar committee from the Central Illinois Conference to develop such plans as may be found necessary, including a permanent organization with due representation of laymen.

3. The joint organization committee, or its successors, for the direction and development of the campaign shall be authorized to adopt such provisions and regulations for the work as may be mutually agreed upon among the interests concerned and in keeping with these resolutions, including the proper adjustment of the Conference Claimants' Endowment Funds as between the two Conferences and the matter of any proposals from the General Education or similar boards.

4. That we request the co-operation of the Board of Education through its Department of Finance, and to the movement we pledge our sympathetic co-operation and support.

In last year's message of the Cabinet we read the challenge: "Ours is the task of inspiring and leading the hundred thousand Methodists within the bounds of our Conference, in a holy adventure, the like of which we have never before undertaken. If our program is big enough and proper care is taken in the launching of it, ministers and laymen will respond. We must be men of high ideals, deep consecration, undaunted faith, men of Calvary vision and Gethsemane passion."

Men and brethren, we have, as a committee, accepted the challenge which a year ago you cheered, and lay before you the first unit of a program which should appeal to every minister and every layman that dares undertake great tasks in the name of the Lord.

By special solicitation of friends for current gifts, funds were secured to provide for these deficits, and also to make some greatly needed repairs and improvements, and the year closed without deficit of any kind.

It is the fixed policy of the Trustees to keep the College up to a high degree of efficiency. But it is also their policy not to permit the accumulation of current deficits. It will therefore be necessary for friends to contribute from ten to twenty thousand dollar a year until the college secures its additional million dollars of endowment.

Plan of Conference Examinations.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS

Chairman—C. D. Robertson.

Registrar—R. L. Steed.

Examiners—C. M. Barton, F. A. McCarty, A. C. Piersel, F. A. Havighurst, R. F. McDaniel, W. A. Smith, P. C. Somerville, E. L. Tobie, H. W. McPherson, C. F. Juvinall, G. V. Metzel, E. G. Sandmeyer, C. W. Hamand, A. L. Caseley, J. E. Evans, H. A. Keck, J. A. Biddle, H. S. Jackson, Chesteen Smith W. G. Pulliam.

RULES OF THE BOARD

1. The Conference Course of Study shall be assigned to the various examiners by the chairman. It shall be the duty of each examiner to assist as fully as possible, by correspondence or otherwise, the undergraduates in the studies of which he has charge.

2. The Board of Examiners shall arrange an annual program of examinations (to be published in the Conference Minutes), and make recommendations to the Annual Conference concerning the passing or conditioning of undergraduates subject to the requirements of the Discipline.

3. Examinations shall be held on the first Tuesday in June and the first Tuesday in August upon the studies named in the schedule for the first and second periods respectively. These examinations shall be held at one or more places in each district as may be determined by the Chairman. They shall be in charge of District Supervisors designated by the Chairman, and in case no member of the Board of Examiners is conveniently located, the chairman shall arrange with a member of conference as special supervisor for the purpose. Undergraduates may appear before any regularly appointed supervisor. Any deviation from the schedule for the two examination periods is in the nature of a special examination and can be allowed only for reasons which are deemed sufficient by the Chairman. No examinations shall be given the day before the conference session except to candidates for admission on trial and such others as may be permitted by the Chairman to take special examinations then. In such cases, Rule 4 shall govern the questions used.

4. The examiners, in accordance with the assignment of studies of the course, shall be required to send to the Registrar three different sets of questions, 30 days or more before the examinations take place in June. The Registrar shall be responsible for placing them in ample time in the hands of the district supervisors for all examinations, both regular and special. Set No. 1 shall be used in the first examination; set No. 2 for all who fail at the first trial; and set No. 3, doubly difficult, for all who postpone the examinations until the day before the conference session.

5. Before the examination in June the Registrar will supply the supervisors with questions on the entire course of study.

6. Any undergraduate failing to pass in any study, or to appear for examination, shall not have the privilege of being examined until the next regular time of examination. And in case of such failure to pass, the registrar of the board shall report the fact to the undergraduate and to the chairman of the board.

7. Examiners shall report grades on all papers to the registrar within two weeks after the examinations are held. All examination papers of the year shall be held by the examiners in charge of the studies, and shall be brought to the seat of the Annual Conference if subject to appeals by undergraduates upon the grades therein, which appeals shall be made in ample time before the conference to the chairman of the board. Such appeals shall be decided by the board at their annual conference meeting. Examiners will not return papers except upon request of undergraduates, accompanied by postage for prepayment.

8. Each student shall be placed on his honor not to receive or give any assistance in the examinations and shall certify on each paper that he has not done so by writing the following upon the last page after the examination is finished, and signing it:

"I hereby certify that I have not receive help from notes, books, memoranda or any other outside sources in writing this examination and that I have not extended help to anyone else in any examination."

9. The examination questions shall conform to the requirements of the Commission on Conference Courses of Study and the markings on both examinations and collateral reading shall be upon the scale and according to the method established by the Commission, and no mark below 70 per cent shall pass.

10. All credits from Literary and Theological Schools, to be allowed undergraduates for work done therein, shall be sent to the chairman of the board, who shall decide upon the credits under instructions from the annual conference, and shall give prompt notice of his decision to the undergraduate sending the credits. All grades from whatsoever source, other than those given by the conference examiners, shall be designated by the letter "P", as an indication of passing grade, which neither adds to nor detracts from the general average of the undergraduate.

11. An annual fee of $1.00 shall be required of each undergraduate, or examinee, including the applicants for admission on trial, to provide for the expense of correspondence, printing, postage and other necessary expenses of the board. This fee shall be paid to the registrar of the board within thirty days after the adjournment of the conference session, for which the registrar shall furnish receipt. District supervisors are instructed not to proceed with the examination of an undergraduate who does not produce this receipt as evidence that his fee is paid. The financial accounts of the Registrar shall be audited by the board at their annual conference meeting.

12. On the completion of the entire course of study by an undergraduate, or in case of his retirement or transfer from the conference before its completion, he shall be entitled to a certificate, covering all his work, signed by the chairman and registrar of the board.

13. It shall be the duty of the chairman to secure as full information as possible, in advance of the meeting of conference, concerning the history, character and general fitness of candidates for admission on trial and for admission into full connection; which information he shall lay before the board of examiners; and it shall be the duty of the board, having carefully considered all the information obtainable concerning the candidates, together with the result of their examinations, to report to the conference their judgment as to the advisability of receiving the several candidates. It shall also be the duty of the chairman to make similar investigations into the case of any applicant for admission from another communion, and the board to make a similar report as to the wisdom of receiving such applicant. District superintendents are requested to report to the chairman of the board of examiners, all candidates for admission on trial or from other churches, and candidates for admission into full membership, and for recognition of orders, at least thirty days before Conference, or as soon thereafter as possible, concerning the applicants, with references, that the chairman may have ample time to investigate.

14. It shall be the duty of district superintendents to report to the chairman of the board, as early as practicable, the names of all special candidates for orders, with their postoffice addresses, in their respective districts, and of those who will be candidates for admission on trial. These classes of candidates will be expected to take their examinations at the regular times; but special arrangements may be made in individual cases by the chairman, when there are good reasons for so doing. But the annual fee must be paid by these as well as by the members of the regular conference classes before they shall be entitled to examinations.

15. The annual meeting of the Board of Examiners shall be held at the seat of the annual conference at 4 P. M. on the day preceding the opening of the session, to consider matters involved in rule 14 to review and complete the work of the year, and to arrange for the work of the ensuing year. Examinations for those who are eligible shall be conducted on the same day, beginning at 8 A. M. and closing at 6 P. M.

16. "Honorable mention," with a public recognition of success, will be conferred at each annual conference upon the four men having the highest averages in the first, second, third and fourth year classes, respectively; but no one can be "Honor Man" who shall not have done at least 50 per cent of his work under this board, or whose standing in the course of study is irregular.

Examinations deferred to the day before Conference will be doubly rigid, and no examination will be given after 6 p. m. on day preceding Conference.

17. All examination papers shall be sent to the examiners by registered mail, and the receipt for the same shall be brought to the chairman at the seat of the Conference.

18. The Board will deduct 10 per cent or less on each paper in which the spelling, grammar, writing or general execution is slovenly, deductions being made on each of these points. On all written work not in before August 15th, a reduction of 5 per cent, and after September 1st, 10 per cent, will be made from the grades. All written work must be within the required limits, or deductions will be made.

Undergraduates will give especial attention to Paragraphs 683 to 629 inclusive of the Discipline of 1920.

In case of conflict between these rules and any ruling or regulation of the Commission on Courses of Study, the ruling of the Commission shall prevail.

Memoirs.

REV. W. M. CARTER.

Wesley Mullen Carter was born January 18, 1861, at Herfville, New Jersey, and passed from this life in the parsonage home at Auburn, Illinois, April 27, 1921.

Very early in life the Spirit whispered to the boy that God had laid his hand upon him for the ministry. When nineteen years of age he came to Illinois and began the preparation for his life work. He worked his way through school, attending the Illinois Wesleyan University, at Bloomington, and later the Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Illinois.

June 10, 1891, he was united in marriage with Emily Rigg, and in September of the same year he entered the Illinois Annual Conference, serving the following charges: Minier, Easton, New Holland, Green Valley, Arrowsmith, Pleasant Plains, Jacksonville Circuit, Fisher, Mt. Pulaski, Blue Mound, Rochester and Auburn.

Into the parsonage home six children came—Moss Pauline, Charles Clair, Constance Eleanor, Roy Lincoln, who still survive, and Emily Blossom and Wesley Leon, who are among the great company who welcomed Bro. Carter home.

The world has few such men as Wesley Carter, and the Methodist ministry can ill spare him in these troubled times. In the home and family his life was such that his very presence made for good and confidence. Through the thirty years of his ministry he was always mindful of Him whom he served, who "went about doing good." Adown the long path of Bro. Carter's itinerary there are scattered everywhere the fair blossoms of kindly deeds and Christian charity. Though the pathway is marked with crosses, every milestone of the years has a record of souls brought into the Kingdom.

Not only did Bro. Carter serve his Lord, but he was a true American citizen, and when the dark cloud of the late World War hung over the land he spent a year upon the farm, toiling that those who fought Liberty's battles might be fed.

As the years passed he seemed to develop constantly those fine Christian graces which are the adornments of a Christian life. His friends noted a constant growth and sweetness in his life, coupled with a most earnest and insistent desire to win souls, and continually to be about his Master's business.

In the midst of his labors, with his heart full of plans for service, he heard his Saviour's voice and looking up with a smile, he was not, for God took him.

His sickness was not long, and so the Reaper found us all unprepared to say farewell, but we know we shall meet him again in the morning of the Resurrection.

The faithful wife and four children and four grandchildren, with a host of friends, mourn his departure. But they recall Bro. Carter's favorite text, the last one upon which he had prepared a sermon, "At Evening Time It Shall Be Light," and they weep not as those who have no hope. They look forth with assurance to the meeting day that shall come to those who love and serve their risen Lord.

His funeral was held in the Auburn church, with E. L. Pletcher in charge, and interment was in Zion Cemetery, near Lincoln, Illinois.

J. P. EDGAR.

John Perry Edgar, oldest child of James and Margaret Edgar, was born near Humbolt, Illinois, July 24, 1863, and passed to his eternal home December 25, 1920.

He was the son of Godly parents, who in his infancy consecrated him to God in Christian baptism. He was brought up under religious influences and careful Christian training. In a brief diary which Brother Edgar kept he notes the fact that the practice of daily evening prayer has been observed all of his life, from earliest infancy, with the exception of about a year and a half in his early manhood.

In February, 1882, he fully surrendered himself to God, and received a satisfying witness of his acceptance and salvation. Four years later he received his call from God to the ministry of His Word. In July of the same year he was licensed as a local preacher by the Rev. Horace Reed, presiding elder of the Mattoon District.

Bro. Edgar's educational training was received in his home district school, the Arcola High School, two summer terms in Lee's Academy of Loxa, Illinois, as special preparation for teaching, and Illinois Wesleyan University of Bloomington. He received a diploma from Lee's Academy and the degree of Ph.B. from Illinois Wesleyan University.

Between the completion of his work in the Arcola High School and his graduation from the university he taught three or four terms of school near his old home, which experience proved very valuable to him in his work of later years.

While in the university he filled three student charges, Cooksville in 1890, Bloomington Circuit in 1891, and Shirley in 1892. In the last-named charge he was instrumental in securing the building of a new church, which marked his first triumph in constructive church work.

He was admitted on trial in the Illinois Conference in the fall of 1893, and ordained a Local Deacon. In 1897 he was ordained Elder.

After admission to the conference he served the following charges: Arrowsmith, Atlanta, Blue Mound, Lovington, Cerro Gordo, Kansas, Moweaqua, Hillsboro, Carrollton, Homer and Chrisman. His health failing, he took the Retired relation in the fall of 1918, and spent the last days of his life in Arcola. The last sermon that he preached was the funeral sermon of ex-Senator Grace.

On June 18, 1895, Brother Edgar was united in marriage to Miss Mary B. Wood of Sheldon, Illinois. For twenty-three years they wrought together, and God graciously owned their work in the salvation of many souls, and the building up of the community life in all of their charges.

God gave them two daughters, Florence M. and Irma B., who remain to companion and comfort their mother in her sore bereavement.

As a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, John Perry Edgar was a workman who had no need to be ashamed. For twenty-five years he went in and out among his brethren of the ministry as a true Christian gentleman. In his preaching he loyally maintained those truths for which the Methodist Church stands.

Deeply conscious of his own salvation, in his preaching he constantly insisted that a soul may have a satisfying experience of personal acceptance with God. He faithfully used the Word to lead souls into that experience. He preached a full Gospel with great earnestness.

He gave himself with utter self-abandon to his work in the ministry. He never spared himself, nor sought the easy field. He always sounded the evangelistic note, and he never was so happy as when in revival work. His glory was the exaltation of his Lord and the salvation of souls.

As one of the fruits of his life work it was given to him to lead eight young men into the ministry of the church he loved. What a rare joy it was, when the time of his own retirement came, to know that God had used him to secure other men to carry on the work he so reluctantly relinquished.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, his aged father, James Edgar, of Arcola, and six brothers and sisters: W. T. Edgar of Humbolt, Miss Ora Edgar, J. Rue Edgar, L. R. Edgar, Miss Agnes Edgar and Harvey Edgar, all of Arcola. His mother died in 1892.

Funeral services were held in the Arcola church, A. H. Flagg, pastor, officiating, with many visiting ministers and friends in attendance. Interment was in the Humbolt cemetery.

JONATHAN GLICK.

Jonathan Glick was born in Columbus, Indiana, February 23, 1850, and passed to his reward August 15, 1921, from the Lakeview Hospital in Danville, Illinois.

His parents were Aaron and Lucinda Glick, pioneer residents of Georgetown, Illinois, and loyal adherents of the "Faith of the fathers." For many years they were affiliated with the Lutheran church, but on moving to Georgetown, Illinois, they became members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and remained faithful until their death. Brother Glick was early Christened in the Lutheran faith, but shortly after his conversion joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church, then later, in accordance with his convictions, united with the Methodist Episcopal church, in which he so faithfully served for nearly half a century, 33 years in the active ministry.

As a young man, teaching school, Brother Glick faced an unmistakable call to the Christian ministry, but like many another, sought to push it aside, and for nearly a year the struggle waged within his own soul. Finally he gave himself to become a minister of the gospel. His preparation for his chosen calling included a year in De Pauw University, one year at Illinois Wesleyan University, and three years at Garrett Biblical Institute, from which institution he graduated in 1891.

Brother Glick was always a student, a lover of books and one who constantly kept abreast with the best thought of his times. He was never happier than when deeply engrossed in his studies preparing to deliver a message to his congregation. Through his dynamic preaching of the Eternal Word more than 1,500 souls found their way to the Light during his ministry.

Although Brother Glick was supremely concerned with evangelism, he accomplished much in the organization and building up of the material interests of the churches which he served. It was his privilege to organize what is now the Lincoln Street Church in Danville. This organization began with 17 charter members and during the first year a great revival was held which resulted in the addition of about 85 new members. He was pastor of our Newman Church at the time of the building of that fine church edifice, at which time he led the forces on to victory. Many churches were repaired and old debts liquidated during his years of service, and always his business ability was revealed in his efforts at building up the Kingdom. Brother Glick entered the Illinois Conference on trial in 1880 and subsequently was ordained deacon and elder. He has served continuously in this Conference except two years spent in Kansas, where he had gone on account of his health and that of his family. He retired from the active work in 1913 and made his home in Georgetown, Illinois.

The following charges constitute his assigned fields of labor: Pilot, Danville Circuit, Stewardson, Humbolt, Murdock, Clayton, Illopolis, Newman, Saybrook, Mt. Sterling, Mansfield, Atlanta and Chestnut, in the Illinois Conference, and Kiowa and Dighton in the Southwest Kansas Conference.

In 1877 Brother Glick was married to Miss Susan Rogers, who passed away 18 months later, and in 1881 he was united in marriage to Miss Rosetta Lowther of Chrisman, Ill., and to this union was born one daughter, Olive Grace, who is now Mrs. R. N. Miller of Emporia, Kansas. Wife and daughter both survive him.

Brother Glick was a lover of his home and family. He spared no efforts to make them happy and was ever concerned with providing for their comfort. During his last days in the hospital he frequently called his family to his bedside to tell them of his hopes and plans for their future. He tenderly laid his hands upon each head and gave them his fatherly blessing, praying that all might attain the highest ambitions of life and, above all things else, that they might always be "good soldiers of Jesus Christ." For his beloved granddaughters, Charlotte and Guinevere Miller, Brother Glick prayed that they might be given the best possible education and training to prepare them for valient and efficient service in the Master's Kingdom.

For days before he passed to his coronation he thought and talked only of Heaven and the glories which await the redeemed. His room seemed aglow with unearthly light, the celestial chorus apparently filled the room with heavenly music, and those present were conscious of the abiding presence of the living Christ. Without sadness, but with declarations of triumph, a weary but victorious warrior approached his Chief, for he had fought a good fight, finished his course, kept the faith and had come to claim his well-earned crown. As he was slipping away, he was heard to say: "There is no river here; we are floating in Light," and a new day had dawned. It was morning. It was heaven.

Besides those already named, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Goodner, of Rochester, Indiana; Mrs. Malissa Gillespie, of Georgetown, Illinois; and four brothers, Aaron, of Perrysville, Indiana; Manasseh, of Hamilton, Missouri; Erasmus, of Rochester, Indiana, and Luther, of Georgetown.

The funeral services were held August 19 in Georgetown, where he had resided since August, 1917. About twenty of his brother ministers were present. At the house A. K. Byrns, District Superintendent, was in charge, assisted by Rev. F. M. Ault and Samuel Pierce. S. N. Wakefield, pastor, was in charge at the church, assisted by W. H. Webster, G. Moore of the Friends church, Wesley Miller, H. C. Gibbs, H. W. M'Pherson and G. E. Scrimger, the last three making appropriate addresses. The male quartette from Newman, a former pastorate, furnished the music, and ministerial brethren acted as pallbearers. Many friends from the former charges of the deceased were in attendance. Burial was in Woodland cemetery, Chrisman, Illinois.

BRADLEY HUNGERFORD.

Bradley Hungerford was born in the state of New York August 3, 1831, and died of cancer in the National Soldiers' Home in Sawtelle, California, June 24, 1921, after being bedfast from two to three weeks. In his native place he received his early education and training for the Methodist ministry. He was received on trial in the Illinois Annual Conference in 1853. His appointments were as follows: Paradise, Shelbyville, Martinsville, Hillsboro, Warsaw and Petersburg. From 1861 to 1863 he was a Chaplain in the U. S. army. His next charges were Urbana, Mt. Auburn and Hickory Grove, Chandleville, Rushville Circuit, Plymouth, Astoria and Centerville. He took a superannuate relation in 1871, and has been on the retired list ever since.

In course of time he was united in marriage at Rushville, Illinois, to Anna Catherine Tate, a native of Kentucky. To this union three sons were born, one passing away in infancy, and Charles H., living in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Frank, residing in Sawtelle, California. Rev. Hungerford came to that state with his son Frank in 1899 and lived with him for one year in Los Angeles, after which he entered the Soldiers' Home, where he remained till his decease. He was a very regular attendant at the Protestant Chapel services in the Home. He was quite popular with his fellow comrades, and was regarded as an intelligent, kind, courteous, in short, good man. Funeral services were conducted in the Home, Chaplain Dr. M. S. Kaufman in charge, with burial in Pacific Branch National Cemetery, California, grave No. 6121.

H. W. MILLER.

Henry W. Miller was born March 31, 1870, in Van Wert County, Ohio, and died at the Lutheran Hospital, Fort Wayne, Indiana, July 8, 1921. In early life he came with his parents, Noah and Rebecca Miller, to Wabash County, Indiana, where he graduated from the High School. He received larger educational equipment at Findlay College, Ohio. Brother Miller was reared a and polity of that church, and came into full communion with the Methodist Episcopal church while supplying the Van Buren church, entering the ministry at 20 years of age. Both as a supply and member of Conferences, his ministry covered a period of 25 years. He first served in the North Indiana Conference, the following charges: Van Buren; Grace Church, Marion; Cherubusco; La Fountaine; Sweetser and Ninth Street, Marion; Albany Circuit, and Charlottesville. In 1915 he was transferred to the West Wisconsin Conference, where he labored for three and one-half years. He came to the Illinois Conference in 1918, and was appointed to Franklin charge. In 1919 he was sent to Ridge Farm, of which place he was pastor at the time of his decease.

He was married in 1892 to Eva M. Bashford, of Ormas, Indiana. Four children came into their home, two sons and two daughters, one daughter going hence prior to her father's decease. His surviving companion was a great assistant to him in his work, as a musician, leading his choruses. His last work was a two weeks' revival engagement in the Chrisman charge. Shortly afterward, last March, he went into a decline and has rendered but little service since. Given leave of absence by his church, he went to the home of his sister in Cherubusco, Indiana, hoping to regain his health, but failing to do so, he entered the hospital, where his life soon ended. He desired to live that he might continue to serve his Master here, but his work was done, and he was ready to depart. His ministry was evangelistic, and many souls were saved under his labors, and the interests of the Kingdom advanced along both material and spiritual lines. His funeral was held in the Van Buren Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor, Ernest E. Lutes, in charge, with sermon by C. W. Hamand of the Illinois Conference.

H. H. O'NEAL.

Henry Harris O'Neal saw the light of day at Greencastle, Ind., May 28, 1840, and fell on sleep at Bay View, Mich., June 30, 1921, at a ripe age. The youngest of a family of eight children, he was the sole survivor at his death. Left an orphan at 11, he was compelled to face the battle of life alone, except for the assistance of his older brothers and sister, with whom he was living near Bloomfield, Iowa, when he made his first assay in the Methodist itinerancy. But little is recalled of his parents except that they were good Christian people of the Baptist faith. Early thrown on his own resources, he was hardened by the buffetings of fate. Who shall say that this was not preparation, by a Divine Providence, for those hardships of his later career, as a saddlebags itinerant. Two essential elements enter into the making of a great character first, the meeting and overcoming of difficulties and, second, the fixing of a goal toward which one presses with an indomitable will. These two marks of the upstanding soul belonged to Henry Harris O'Neal in a marked degree. As the winds beat upon the oak of the forest, only to make it sturdier, so the adversities of his early life only made him stronger. The wonder is that under the circumstances he was not overwhelmed by them. But he rose to the occasion and developed a stalwart Christian character. At the same time he laid the foundations of a genuine education, in which the mind is disciplined and the will is set for a lifelong and progressive endeavor at self-development. Though he never had more, in the way of higher education, than a Normal Course, which he first pursued with the intention of making teaching his profession, he became a well-read, self-educated man, oftentimes to the surprise of those who knew his early limitations. Converted at 15, he taught school at 16, and at 18 entered Troy Academy. Then he took up the itinerant life at the call of Presiding Elder Burgess, who, in 1859, licensed him to preach and sent him to a far away point, Sidney, a circuit of magnificent distances. A horse, which died when he reached his destination, and the usual saddlebags equipment were his only tools. A friendly minister with whom he "rode and tied" in accordance with early custom assisted him back home after his year's work. Traveling was arduous and dangerous, for rogues called "bushwhackers" infested the highways; compensation was almost nothing and results meager, but the call to preach was on the soul of the young man and, in the year 1860, he was received on trial in the Western Iowa Conference and sent to Glenwood, Iowa. Here the young, unmarried preacher was entertained at the hospitable home of the Windhams, and here he met and won and wedded the daughter of the family, Lemira, who had been attending Iowa Wesleyan University at Mt. Pleasant. As in not a few cases on record, the grand passion won out in competition with the dream of college degrees for both, and they were married and devoted themselves, with an almost idyllic love for each other, to the Methodist itinerancy for over 51 years, until Dr. O'Neal's retirement. The record shows that he served Glenwood, Sidney, Council Bluffs, Onawa and Sioux City in the Western Iowa Conference; Winterset, Boone, Chariton, Wesley Chapel, Des Moines, Red Oak, the Corning District, Clarida and Prospect Park in the Des Moines Conference; Kimber Church, Danville; Grace, Decatur; First, Champaign; First, Shelbyville; Charleston; Grace, Jacksonville; Monticello and Macon in the Illinois Conference. Since 1909 he has been on the retired list. Twice he represented his Conference in the General Conference and for ten years he was Secretary of the Des Moines Conference. After his retirement he discharged a beautiful ministry to the colored people by teaching history in Walden University, and thereby greatly endeared himself to the colored race. His grand passion, however, was preaching. He was like a boy in gleeful anticipation when he was preparing for his pulpit ministrations. He delivered a thoughtful, logical, well-constructed message with unction and power. He had wrought out two fine lectures on "The French Revolution" and "Napoleon," which he gave on the Chautauqua platform, as well as a series of sermons on the "Creative Days." In all his ministry he was highly blessed and encouraged by a wife who was uniquely fitted to be a minister's companion. No one but the mistress of the parsnage knows what extraordinary grace, good judgment and exceptional consecration to a peculiarly sacrificial life it takes to be a preacher's wife. Lemira Windham had the qualifications to an unusual degree. She preceded her husband in death by five months. Indeed, he never fully recovered from the loss and grief of her going. Stricken suddenly with paralysis on the night of June 26th, at Bay View, Mich., where he had a summer cottage, in four days the end came. Funeral services were conducted at Bay View by Dr. Eugene M. Antrim, Superintendent of the Springfield District, and the interment took place at Glenwood, Iowa, where slept the dust of the loved wife. Funeral services were conducted there by Rev. C. A. Ward, a former associate of olden days in the Conference.

T. A. PARKER.

Dr. Thomas Asbury Parker, a very prominent Methodist minister, was born in New Albany, Indiana, February 22, 1838, and ascended from Champaign, Illinois, June 18, 1921. When eleven years of age he moved with his parents to such an educational atmosphere as was found in Lebanon, Illinois, where young Thomas, at 18, graduated with the class of 1856 from M'Kendree College. Following graduation he entered a physician's office in St. Louis preparatory to taking a course in medicine. After receiving his certificate he went to Topeka, Kansas, as a practicing physician. While in Topeka he accepted a call to the chair of English literature and became a member of the first faculty of Baker University, in Baldwin, Kansas. Afterward he was Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Missouri, Principal of Northwestern Collegiate Institute, and President of St. Charles College. He filled many other important special positions. For 19 years he was Grand Prelate of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, of Illinois, a record never before attained. Early in the Civil War he enlisted as a private in the 12th Regiment, Kansas Volunteers, and received the appointment as Chaplain, with a Captain's commission. He was Chaplain of the Missouri House of Representatives, and also in the Legislature in Springfield, Illinois. He was a prominent member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and for twelve years was Chaplain of the Soldiers' Home at Danville, Illinois, holding this position till his retirement six years ago.

Dr. Parker was in the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church for 60 years, first entering the Kansas Conference in 1861. For 47 years he had been connected with the Illinois Conference, transferring here in 1874, after making pastoral records in Topeka, Kansas, and Hannibal, Missouri. Since that time he has served the following charges, and filled the other positions named: Rushville; Bloomington, First Church; Danville, North Street; Springfield, First Church; Lincoln; Champaign District; Decatur, First Church; Beardstown; Delavan; Taylorville; Mason City; Seymour, and Superintendent of the Domestic Missionary and Church Aid Society of the Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was a high grade man as a type of the perfect Christian gentleman. Dr. Parker was also quite widely known as a writer and lecturer. Since his retirement he had resided in Champaign, Illinois.

Dr. Parker's wife passed away about six years ago. Surviving him are his sister, Mrs. Kate Parker Bryant, of Chicago, and four children: Mrs. A. H. Sperry, of Champaign; Mrs. Richard J. Cody, of Evanston, and Mrs. Henry E. Dwight, and Walter A. Parker, of Chicago.

Funeral services were conducted by Dr. H. A. Keck, his pastor, with interment in Woodlawn cemetery.

MRS. T. M. DILLON.

Mrs. Caroline A. Dillon, widow of Rev. T. M. Dillon, was born in Springfield, Ill., September 1, 1843, and died at Williamsville, Ill., at the home of her daughters, Mrs. Samuel Byers and Miss Dora, November 12, 1920.

Mrs. Dillon was the daughter of Sullivan and Lydia Conant, and was the last member of the immediate Conant family. In early life Mrs. Dillon was converted and united with the Presbyterian church, of which she remained a member until her marriage to Rev. Dillon, June 2, 1868, who was a member of the Illinois Conference. She then united with the Methodist Episcopal church. For thirty-five years Mrs. Dillon shared the trials and triumphs of a Methodist itinerant, gracing the parsonage home where her husband labored, with that sweet, gentle, Christlike spirit which she so abundantly possessed.

Mrs. Dillon considered not only her own interests, but always the interests of others, being kind and considerate at all times. Having no children of her own, she and her husband, in order that two little motherless girls, aged two and four, might not be separated, adopted them and she bestowed upon them a mother's love and care, and for the past thirty-three years there has been an undying love between mother and daughters.

During the past three or four years Mrs. Dillon had been in failing health, and when the end was approaching, not being able any longer to communicate with her daughters or friends, one afternoon the sunshine of God's love and glory shone into her soul and with a face shining like the face of an angel, she opened her eyes and triumphantly exclaimed, "Oh, joy! Oh, joy!" Then she broke into singing "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "O Happy Day," and soon was not, for God took her. While the outer consciousness failed to function, the inner was ever alive to those things which became a veritable part of her being.

Mrs. Dillon leaves her two daughters and two grand-children, Virginia and Mildred Byers.

Funeral services were held in Springfield November 15, 1920, conducted by Royal W. Ennis, assisted by E. S. Vorbeck, of Williamsville, and T. B. Wright, of Niantic. Interment was in the Oak Ridge cemetery by the side of the remains of her husband.

MRS. P. F. GAY.

Amy S. Gay, widow of the Rev. P. F. Gay, was born in New York State, May 3, 1841, and died November 17, 1920, after an illness of six years' duration. When nine years of age she moved with her parents to Wisconsin, and was married to Philip F. Gay, later of the Illinois Conference Methodist Episcopal church, September 5, 1860, who passed away about ten years ago. For about half a century they walked the pathway of life together, and for the larger part of that time mutually shared together the experiences of the itinerant Methodist preacher, in many charges. She was a true preacher's companion in all her relationships.

Since her husband's death she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Flora S. McAfee, of Cincinnati, Ohio, from which home she departed this life. Another of her three children survives her, Mrs. Minnie G. Osborne, of Santa Barbara, California. The son, Francis E. Gay, went hence about four years ago. Her remains were taken to Ohlman, Illinois, where funeral services were held, with interment in the Rosamond cemetery, beside the dust of her deceased husband.

MRS. A. Y. GRAHAM.

Martha Louisa Drake was born near Halifax, England, November 4, 1834, and went to her reward March 24, 1921. She was the daughter of Rev. George and Anne De Mitten Drake, sturdy pioneers of Methodism. She was one of a family of six children, only one of whom is living, Mrs. G. B. Day, of Los Angeles, California. In 1852 her father came with his family to Illinois, making their home in Chicago. On December 3, 1861, she was married to Rev. Adam Young Graham, and was a devoted helper with him in the work of the ministry for forty years, till he was called hence August 3, 1905.

To rear and educate a family on their meager salary meant a life of sacrifice; but Mrs. Graham gave instruction in music for over sixty years, until her 79th year. Thus she supplemented the husband's salary.

To this union were born four children, a son who died in infancy; E. N., who died in 1888; Georgiana Campbell, who died in 1907, and Miss Bertha, who with loving solicitude cared for her mother during her declining years of affliction. Besides these, four grand-children survive, E. J. Campbell, pastor of the Sullivan (Illinois) Methodist Episcopal church; Donald Campbell, member of the Illinois Bar, of Evanston, Illinois; Gladys Campbell, head of the English department, Streator, Illinois, and Horace G. Campbell, physician at the Government Hospital at Ancon, Canal Zone.

Those who knew her found in Mrs. Graham a woman of noble character, high attainment and sympathetic spirit, whose influence was gracious and whose life was uplifting. "None knew her but to love her, or named her but to praise." Funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church, Westfield, Illinois, conducted by her pastor, B. M. Petty, with interment in Maple Hill cemetery.

MRS. J. W. HENNINGER.

Clara Kimlin Henninger, widow of the late Rev. J. W. Henninger, passed to her reward May 12, 1921, in Bloomington, Illinois, after a lingering illness. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Kimlin, of Quincy, Illinois. She was born February 7, 1868, at Lindley, Missouri. She graduated from Chad-dock College, in Quincy, and later took a course of study at the New England Conservatory of Music, at Boston, Massachusetts. She also had special training for teaching at the Carbondale (Illinois) Normal School, from which place she went to Charleston, Illinois, as teacher of mathematics and history in the High School. Mr. Henninger was at that time Superintendent of Schools at Charleston, and the friendship there formed ripened into love, and resulted in their marriage, September 2, 1891.

Mrs. Henninger has been an active and devoted Christian and member of the church practically all her life. She had a most gracious and winning personality. She was in full sympathy with her husband in his educational career, and entered fully into co-operation with him in his work as a minister of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Her service in this capacity began with his entrance into the Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1911, serving with him two years in the pastorate at Gays, Illinois. In 1913 they moved to Bloomington, Illinois, where they lived together till his death, July 25, 1918. He first acted as endowment secretary for the Illinois Wesleyan University, for one year, and was then elected to the chair of Philosophy and Social Science in the Wesleyan, which position he held to the end of life, meanwhile also serving as pastor of the M. E. Church at Gridley, Illinois. During all this time he and his family lived in Bloomington, as a matter of convenience, and because of the educational facilities afforded for his children in the university. All this time, also, Mrs. Henninger was active in Sunday School and Missionary work, at first in First church and afterward, because of location in a change of residence, in Grace church. She was a prominent officer in the local and District Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and rendered valuable services therein. She was a constant attendant at all the services of the church, including the prayer meeting, until failing health compelled a cessation of such attendance. She suffered greatly toward the last, but endured with remarkable patience and Christian fortitude, as seeing Him who is invisible.

Three children came into her home, two of whom, Ellen Louise and Julia Kimlin, survive, the son, Thomas John, having, six weeks earlier, preceded his mother in his exit out of this life. She is also survived by her mother and the following brothers and sisters: Walter Kimlin, of Denver, Colorado; Arthur Kimlin and Mrs. W. M. C. Bryan, of St. Louis, Missouri; Miss Julia Kimlin and Mrs. C. K. Carpenter, of Chicago; A. E. Kimlin, of Quincy, and Mrs. T. M. Barger, of Normal, Illinois.

After a brief house service, A. L. Caseley, her pastor, was in charge of the service at Grace church, assisted by Dr. A. C. Piersel. "Lead, Kindly Light," was among the hymns used, and the pall bearers were members of the Wesleyan faculty. Interment was in Parkhill cemetery, Bloomington, beside the remains of her husband.

MRS. BRADLEY HUNGERFORD.

Anna Catherine Tate was born in Macomb, Illinois, April 3, 1833, and passed hence January 24, 1921, at the Methodist Episcopal Old People's Home in Chicago, Illinois. She was married to Rev. Bradley Hungerford, of the Illinois Annual Conference, whose memoir appears in this memorial list. The three sons who came into their home are accounted for in the sketch of his life. Her people lived in the East, and she spent much of her time with them, though she made several trips to the Pacific Coast to visit her husband and son who lived in California. Funeral services were conducted in the Home January 25, 1921, by Dr. Harlow V. Holt, with interment in Knoxville, Illinois.

MRS. J. G. LITTLE.

Elizabeth Payson Little was born in Fremont, New Hampshire, August 8, 1834, and entered into the larger life January 31, 1921, at Perry, Iowa. Her early youth was lived in her native state and in Maine and Massachusetts, where she was privileged to enjoy excellent educational advantages, together with some business experience with her father, a manufacturer. In the spring of 1857 she left her New England home, coming west to Decatur, Illinois, where she was united in marriage to Jacob G. Little, a college class mate, who at that time was teaching school, but who, feeling a call to preach, joined the Illinois Conference in the same year. For twenty-five years they labored together in various charges of the Conference, following which Rev. Little took a supernumerary relation, the family removing to Perry, Iowa, which was their home until death closed the earthly career of the husband, July 10, 1906. During the years spent together in Iowa, they both gave of their time and labor to questions of local and state-wide interest, Rev. Little being very active in the promotion of Prohibition sentiment and Mrs. Little a never tiring worker in the cause of Equal Suffrage and of the American Home Finding Association, of which she was a District Superintendent for a number of years. This last work called her into various sections of the state where her appeal for financial support of the work, and especially the placing of nearly a score of homeless children in childless homes, will cause her name to be remembered with gratitude by the many so benefited.

Mrs. Little was a woman of unusual personality, one whom to know was to admire because of her broad sympathy, an ability to inspire high ideals in the young, keen intellect and a capacity for leadership. She is survived by one son, three daughters, five grandchildren and one great-grandson, and though having lived to the advanced age of eighty-six years, she maintained a keen interest in public affairs and enjoyed the satisfaction of seeing Prohibition and Equal Suffrage embodied in the National Constitution. Her life was lived for God and humanity, unselfish, noble, splendid, and as such will be a precious memory to children and friends.

MRS. W. N. McELROY.

On Friday morning, April 8, 1921, at Springfield, Illinois, Mrs. W. N. McElroy went to her eternal reward. Stasira Maria Pasteur was born July 6, 1835, at Warrenton, Ohio. With her parents she moved to Griggsville, Illinois in 1840. Here she received an excellent education for those days in a woman's seminary at that time located at Griggsville, of which institution she was a graduate.

In early girlhood she became a disciple of the Master and throughout her long life she confirmed the testimony of her lips by a refined, sincere, unselfish and highly useful life. Her parents being Presbyterians, she was a member of that church until the time of her marriage, when she transferred her membership to the Methodist Episcopal Church.

She was married October 7, 1856, to William N. McElroy, who was at that time a school teacher and lived in Griggsville, but who soon was to become one of the most distinguished ministers in the Illinois Annual Conference. For more than half a century she shared with him the self-denials of a Methodist minister. Together with her husband she followed the call of the church to many responsible fields of labor and together with him she rose to distinction and honor in the work of the ministry. Cheerfully and with earnest endeavor she sought to perform the noble tasks devolving upon a faithful pastor's wife. Loyally and efficiently she filled the place of a minister's wife in the following places: Naples, Havana, Shelbyville, Bloomington, Champaign, Danville, Decatur, Jacksonville and Springfield. Thirty-five years of her life were spent in Springfield—twenty-seven of these while her husband was still in the work of the ministry. Her consistent Christian life, her gentle spirit, her cultured mind, her excellent judgment, left their impress upon the communities where she lived. In quiet, unostentatious ways, but always with genuine devotion and a fine understanding of what was needed, she served the interests of the church to which her husband was appointed and won the admiration and loving esteem of many friends in every community where she lived.

Her life revealed itself in rare beauty in the home over which she presided with queenly dignity. She was blessed with five children—three daughters, Martha, who died in infancy; Alice, who at the age of seven was killed in a runaway accident, and Mary, wife of Thomas Crouner, who died in 1896; and two surviving sons, Charles of Decatur, and Robert of Springfield, who was given the glad privilege of ministering to his mother during the declining years of her life. Her husband, Dr. W. N. McElroy, died in 1913.

Mrs. McElroy's last days seemed unclouded. She retained her interest in people and in the onward march of events. Almost to the last she was still a reader of good books. She came down to old age in an almost ideal way. With a body growing frail but apparently free from disease, with optimistic spirit, with mind strong and clear to the last day, and with loved ones ministering in filial affection, and, above all, with an unswerving faith in God and a glorious hope for the future—of her it could have been truly predicted: "At evening time it shall be light."

Her funeral services were conducted at the residence in Springfield by the pastor, Dr. Freeman A. Havighurst, assisted by Dr. S. H. Whitlock, and her body was laid to rest in beautiful Oak Ridge cemetery in Springfield.

MRS. W. McK. McELFRESH.

Mrs. Matilda McElfresh, widow of William McKendree McElfresh, fell asleep at her home in Jacksonville, Ill., Thanksgiving Day, November 25, 1920. Her maiden name was Brelsford. She was born in Dublin, Ohio, April 2, 1833. She was the daughter of Abner and Eliza Brelsford. Being left motherless at the age of seven years, she grew to womanhood in the home of her uncle, George Ebey, of Winchester, Ill. Here she was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church under the ministry of W. J. Rutledge, in 1848. In October, 1853, she was united in marriage with Wm. McK. McElfresh, and for forty-four years shared with her husband the joys and sorrows of an itinerant ministry. She was in the highest and finest sense of the word the help meet of her husband and gave herself without stint in every form of loving service. She was educated in the public schools of Scott County and in the Illinois Woman's College at Jacksonville. She was the mother of four children, but is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George Blair, of Jacksonville, Ill. When the Rev. Mr. McElfresh retired from the active ministry he located in Jacksonville, where he died eleven years ago and where his wife has been in the work of Centenary Church for twenty-five years.

Sister McElfresh was happily spared many of the infirmities which come with advancing years and never lost that sweetness of soul nor the sunniness of outlook which characterized this saint of God and endeared her beyond words to express to neighbors and friends. Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. D. V. Gowdy, assisted by the district superintendent, E. L. Fletcher, the Rev. T. H. Tull, and Dr. Joseph R. Harker, November 27, in Centenary Church, and the body laid to rest in Diamond Grove Cemetery.

MRS. S. A. McINTOSH.

Laura E. McIntosh, wife of Reverend S. A. McIntosh, was born at Mt. Vernon, Illinois, on the fourth day of February, 1855, and died at Warrensburg, Illinois, March 16, 1921, after practically two years of continued suffering and three weeks of confinement to a sick-bed, which proved to be her death couch, passing on to her crowning reward.

She was the daughter of David J. and Elizabeth Hicks, both of whom preceded her in death many years ago. She grew to beautiful womanhood in and about Mt. Vernon, Illinois, attending the schools of her day, thereafter becoming a teacher herself. After her mother's death, being the only one of the daughters left at home, she kept the old home together, living with her two unmarried brothers, W. D. and David Edward Hicks, the older in business and the younger in school.

On December 28, 1881, she was united in marriage to S. A. McIntosh, to whom were born five sons, all of whom have grown to full manhood, now surviving her, as follows: James W., of Danville, Illinois; Harry E., of Ithica, Michigan; S. Roy, of Rockford, Illinois; Loy N., of Chicago, and Frazier E., Lieutenant, U. S. Army, now stationed in Paris, France.

When a girl she was converted under the labors of the Rev. Harper, who delivered the sermon from these words; "If Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean." She, though young in years, became at once a devout worker in the Kingdom of her Lord, and by the side of her husband in all the pastorates which they held until nearly two years ago, when she became disabled with the disease which terminated in her death.

It is perhaps not too much to say that although she was seldom able to meet with those engaged in the active duties of the Church, she won the hearts of all who knew her since with her husband she came to Warrensburg last fall. This has always been the history of her life in every place in which she served her Master.

Besides her bereaved husband she leaves her surviving five sons, seven grandchildren, five brothers and two sisters and a host of friends to mourn her going. The brothers are as follows: J. H. Hicks, of Ina, Ill.; Isaac Hicks, of Bonnie, Ill.; John T., of Woodlawn, Ill., who was present when she passed away, and David E. Hicks, of Waltonville, Ill., all of whom except the last saw her recently; her two sisters, Mrs. Mary Gilbert, of Hinton, Okla., and Ada Gilbert, of Granite City, Ill., neither of whom had the opportunity to be with her in her last illness.

Thus passes to her home, where the many mansions are, a mother and wife whose life has been the inspiration and guiding star of her family, a devout Christian, a faithful wife and loving mother. Her place no one can fill. Her price is above rubies, and her reward is eternal. With her hands ever stretching out to serve and to bless, she has gone to beckon us on.

MRS. H. H. ONEAL.

Lamira Laughlin Windham was born May 28, 1842, at White Cloud, Nodaway County, Mo. She was the second of six children. In September, 1859, she matriculated in Iowa Wesleyan University, a famous institution of learning, which had as its president that prince of pioneer educators, Dr. Charles Elliott. Hers was a class of boys and girls who eventually became famous, among whom were Judge John Woolson, the Rev. Henry B. Heacock, and the Rev. Leroy Vernon, who founded the Methodist Mission in Rome, Italy. August 28, 1861, Lamira Windham was united in marriage to the Rev. H. H. O'Neal, who was the pastor of the Glenwood (Iowa) Methodist Episcopal Church, the ceremony being performed by that famous old circuit rider, the Rev. William H. Goode. To them were born five children: Gertrude, deceased; Ernest Wray, of Rock River Conference; Bertha Elizabeth, now Mrs. C. A. Cole, of Lakeland, Fla.; Jessie Blanche, deceased, and Mira Maria, deceased. For fifty years she was the vital inspiration and companion of her husband in the active ministry of a Methodist itinerant, which carried them through thirty years of service in the Des Moines Conference of Iowa and twenty years in the Illinois Conference. On retiring from the active work, they lived on a fruit ranch at Lakeland, Fla. Whoever met Mrs. O'Neal knew of her remarkable equipment for doing good and serving well in this needy world. Her equipoise of character, her vital mentality, her musical ability, both as singer and trainer, her literary equipment, her fine sense of human nature, her conscious fellowship with God and her at-homeness with the deep things of the Bible and the spiritual realm, carried her with momentum into leadership wherever she moved. In the fall of 1919 Mrs. O'Neal developed Bright's disease and for the months that followed to the day of her death, January 13, 1921, she suffered with ever-increasing agony, keeping her in bed for twelve months and making her last weeks a tragedy of keenest distress—and yet, a revelation of the grace-filled spirit which knew no word of complaint. To her daughter, who never failed for a single moment to be at hand during all these days of strain, and to her husband, whose heart was torn with the unremitting suffering, there abides one great fact of comfort, and that is, she has peace after pain and joy after sorrow.

The funeral was in the old Glenwood (Iowa) Cemetery, the location of Dr. O'Neal's first pastorate and where Mrs. O'Neal met and married the companion of the years of their itinerant ministry.

MRS. W. M. REED.

Esther Hull was born in Randolph County, Illinois, January 2, 1829. Her parents were among the first settlers in that county, locating about seven miles from Kaskaskia in 1822. Lewis Hull, the father, and the mother, Martha Smith, were married in Virginia in 1821, whence they moved to their Illinois home. They were devout Methodist people. The father was a class leader for ten years and his home was a regular preaching place. Two of the early preachers that are remembered by Mrs. Reed were John Drew and John Van Cleve, the former of whom baptized her in 1833. Her father died in 1834, leaving the mother to care for four girls and two boys. She removed to Pike County, Illinois, and purchased a farm about eighteen miles from Quincy, where she reared her family, giving them the best education the schools of the time would afford. The daughter, Esther, continued her studies and taught school for some time in the vicinity of her home. She early felt it to be her duty to lead a Christian life but resisted it for some years. One day in February, 1842, she heard a sermon by Rev. Edward Troy of the Illinois Conference, from the text: Rev. 22:17. She was happily converted at the close of the sermon and soon saw a number of her classmates enter upon a Christian life.

She was twice married, first to Charles Hamilton, on the 17th of May, 1848. To them were born three children. In 1860 she was married to W. M.

Reed, of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. To them was born one child, Henry T. Reed. With each marriage she assumed the duties of a stepmother. Rev. W. M. Reed died August 2, 1902. Their appointments were Milton, Jacksonville Circuit, Chatham, Paris, Shelbyville, White Hall, Carrollton, Mechanicsburg, Virden, Arcola, North Jacksonville, West Jacksonville, Winchester, Naples and Meredosia, Camp Point, Clayton, Warsaw and Mendon. During these years they witnessed over two thousand conversions as the fruit of their labors. They leave eight children, Wm. H., Elvira and Burl Hamilton, Henry T. Reed, Joseph Reed, Lucy Frazer, Nellie Frazer and Libbie Sparks.

There are nineteen grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. She began after conversion at once a close study of the Bible, and in time found the way to the higher life hid with Christ in God, and this she has ever found to be a blessed way of peace and joy.

She passed away December 10, 1920, and funeral services were held December 13, Benjamin Howard officiating. A scriptural lesson and hymns of her own selection were used. The interment was at Evergreen cemetery in Riverside, California.

MRS. JOSEPH WINTERBOTTOM.

Elizabeth Gillham, daughter of Erastus L. and Elizabeth Becroft Gillham, was born in Scott County, Illinois, May 23, 1855. She graduated from the Illinois Woman's College in Jacksonville, with her sister, Hester A., in the class of 1876. On October 4, 1876, she was married to Rev. Joseph Winterbottom, and began the life of an itinerant preacher's wife in the ministry of the Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, serving with her husband in the following pastoral charges: Bement, Virden, Mechanicsburg, Taylorville, Greenfield, Saybrook, Rossville, West Jacksonville, Chapin, Lynville and Litterberry. After a quarter of a century in the effective ranks, she retired with her husband in 1900, and lived in Jacksonville until his death, March 27, 1904. Four children were born to them, Elizabeth, wife of Dr. Howard T. Carriel, and a graduate of her mother's Alma Mater and of the Ohio Wesleyan University; the three sons, James G., Joseph Erastus and Jesse Newton, all of whom are graduates of the Illinois College, of Jacksonville. Mrs. Winterbottom was a cousin of C. R. Morrison, of the Illinois Conference. She was very devoted to her family, and very conscientious in her church work, making many friends in the pastorates served by her husband. At the time of her death, which occurred August 17, 1919, she was making her home with her sons in Chicago, and was a member of St. James Methodist Episcopal church. Besides her children, she leaves one sister, Hester A. Willard, of Chapin, Illinois. Her remains were brought to Jacksonville for interment, and were placed beside the dust of her husband in Diamond Grove Cemetery. (Memoir was not available at an earlier date.)

MRS. J. F. WOHLFARTH.

Mrs. Louisa R. Wohlfarth was the youngest child in a family of twelve children of William and Judith Rothermel. She was born in Mahanoy, Pa., March 28, 1851, and died in Mason City, Ill., May 6, 1921.

At Treverton, Pa., October 7, 1873, she was united in marriage to Rev. J. F. Wohlfarth, then a minister in the Evangelical Association, and for more than forty-seven years she has shared with him the vicissitudes of an itinerant ministry.

Their union was blessed with three children, Howard R. Wohlfarth, of Champalgn, Ill.; Mrs. Ora H. Brown, of Pana, Ill., and Mrs. J. H. Kelker, of Quincy, Ill., all living and present at the funeral service. She also had three grandchildren, Louisa and William Wohlfarth and Everett Wohlfarth Brown.

They came west in 1878 and settled in Missouri first, and a few years later in Illinois. Since 1882 they have labored within the bounds of the Illinois Conference, serving the following charges: Augusta, Paloma, Quincy, Griggsville, Monticello, Urbana, Rushville, Decatur, Shelbyville, Pana, Quincy District, Sullivan, Rossville and Mason City.

Mrs. Wohlfarth gave her heart to Christ the same year her husband was converted, in early life. She was always a quiet and lovable Christian character, very discreet in all her ways, making friends everywhere she lived, and never losing one of them by any word or act of hers. Her home was her pride and was always well kept. It was a place of generous hospitality as long as she enjoyed reasonable health; ministers and others always received a cordial welcome to its comforts.

She had a great desire to live in a home of her own for a few years after her husband should retire from the active ministry. But this was not to be. Because of poor health in the past decade she was obliged to look on rather than take part in many church activities. She could not attend all the services of the church, but when she did those who met her were impressed with her gentle manners.

She was a devoted mother. Her children all rise up to bless her memory. Her husband found in her all the excellencies of a good wife. The communities in which she lived were always made better by her cheery smiles and radiant life. She was a true friend to all who knew her, and to know her was to really love her.

Her only surviving sister is Mrs. Susan Wright, of Philadelphia, Pa. She had many nephews and nieces in the East and West, and many others who will mourn her departure.

Funeral services were held in Mason City May 9th, and in Champaign May 10, 1921. C. M. Duncan was in charge in the former city, and H. A. Keck in the latter, assisted by S. H. Whitlock. Interment was in the cemetery at Urbana, Illinois.

MRS. PRESTON WOOD, SR.

Jane Keziah Christian was born in Montgomery County, Illinois, November 13, 1831. She was the daughter of Thomas Caldwell and Lydia Grantham Christian.

She was united in marriage to the Rev. Preston Wood at Hillsboro, Illinois, August 8, 1853. Among the charges they served together were: Hillsboro, Beardstown, Waverly, LeRoy, Decatur, Atlanta, Clinton, Lincoln, Carlville and the Danville, Bloomington, Griggsville and Springfield districts.

Nine children were born to them. Of these, Elizabeth, Eva Ellen, Charles Edward and the Rev. Preston, Jr., preceded her to the Heavenly Home. Those remaining are: Gen. William T. Wood, U. S. A., Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mary W. Phillips, wife of the Rev. W. S. Phillips of this Conference; Mrs. Anne W. Galford of Clear Lake, Iowa; Miss Catherine Wood and Albert L. Wood of Jacksonville.

In 1904, a year after the death of her husband, Mrs. Wood removed from Springfield to Jacksonville, where she built a home and lived quietly until the summons came, October 25, 1920. Interment was in Oak Ridge Cemetery, Springfield, beside the body of her husband.

Thus ends a life that was practically commensurate with that of the Illinois Conference. Her parents were pioneer Methodists. Bishops Roberts and Soule were intimates of their home. Peter Cartwright and his co-workers had headquarters there. Her husband's colleagues were the men who did the Titanic work of the latter half of the 19th Century. This work Mrs. Wood gladly shared. She had her part in its sacrifices and toils. Hers was the rare privilege of seeing so much of the planting, so much of the reaping. Truly she rejoiced to see the advances of these latter days.

Her heart was grateful for the mercies of the past. Her mind undimmed, she was keenly interested in the present. With Faith triumphant, she waited with shining face her summons to "the City that hath foundations, Whose Builder and Maker is God."

MRS. JAMES M. YOUNG.

Emmarilla Johnstone Stonemetz was born in Missouri June 13th, 1825, and with her parents moved in early childhood to Illinois, where she received her training and education, and spent all her early life. While she was living in Detroit, Ill., the Rev. James M. Young was appointed to serve the local Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and they soon became acquainted. She was converted under his ministry and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. At the close of his pastorate in Detroit, she became his bride on November 13th, 1877, and entered the service of the church in the Methodist parsonage.

A true help meet to her husband in all his work, especially in the activities of the Sunday School, they served during the next years two charges in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and then eight charges in the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the Illinois Conference, and spent some years in Evangelistic work as well, retiring from the active ministry in 1900.

In 1904 Mr. and Mrs. Young moved to California, locating in Hemet, where they have since had their home. Not many years after moving to Hemet Mrs. Young had a stroke, and has since been an invalid, and has thus been unable to serve in any public way, but her life has been a benediction to all who knew her, and during these years she has been most lovingly cared for by her husband in untiring devotion. Patient through all her suffering, always abiding in God's presence, devoted to the ideals of her more active Christian life, she has been waiting for the summons of her Master. On August 20th, 1921, the long looked for summons was heard, and her earthly life of more than 96 years came to its close; and unhindered by the afflictions of the flesh she went home to be with her Lord and Master, there to abide and serve, and await the coming of the companion of her life service.

XVI.

Conference Rules.

"1. The Conference shall meet at 8:15 o'clock a. m. and adjourn at 12 o'clock, noon, but may alter the time either of meeting or of adjournment at its pleasure. A recess of ten minutes shall be taken at 10:30 o'clock unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

"2. When a member is about to speak in debate or to deliver any matter to the Conference, he shall rise and respectfully address the president, but shall not proceed until recognized by him.

"3. No member shall be interrupted when speaking, except by the president, to call him to order when he departs from the question, or uses personalities or disrespectful language; but any member may call the attention of the president to the subject when he deems a speaker out of order, and any member may explain when he thinks himself misrepresented.

"4. When a member desires to speak to a question of privilege he shall briefly state the question; but it shall not be in order for him to proceed until the president shall have decided it a question of privilege. Questions of privilege are matters relating to the rights and welfare of the individual as a member of the whole body, and of such an imperative character as to justify the interruption of the regular order.

"It shall be the imperative duty of the president to require the member to state his question of privilege. This having been done the president shall decide whether it shall be allowed; and, if so, shall hold him closely to the subject.

"5. No person shall speak more than twice on the same question or more than ten minutes at one time without leave of the Conference; nor shall any person speak more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

"Provided, however, that a committee making a report shall, through its chairman, or in case the chairman shall not be in harmony with the report, through one of its members selected by the committee or by the chairman, be entitled to ten minutes to close the debate, either to oppose the motion to lay the report on the table, or, this permission not having been used, to close the debate on the motion to adopt. The committee shall not be deprived of its right to close the debate even after the previous question has been ordered, and, when a report consisting of two or more propositions has a serious consideration, the chairman or representative of the committee shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges on each proposition thus decided separately as he would have if the report was considered as a unit.

"6. No effective member of the Conference shall absent himself from the sessions of a Conference without leave, unless he is sick or unable to attend.

"7. Resolutions shall be written and presented in duplicate by the mover. All motions shall be reduced to writing if the president, secretary or any member request it.

"8. All written motions, reports and communications to the Conference shall be passed to the secretary to be read by him to the Conference.

"9. When a motion is made and seconded, or a resolution introduced and seconded, or a report presented and read by the secretary or stated by the president it shall be deemed in possession of the Conference; but any motion or resolution may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before amendment or decision.

"10. The following motions shall be taken without debate: (1) To adjourn. (2) To suspend the rules. (3) To lay on the table. (4) To take from the table. (5) The call for the previous question.

"11. No new motion or resolution shall be entertained until the one under consideration has been disposed of, but one or more of the following motions may be made, and they shall have precedence in the order in which they are placed, namely: (1) To fix the time to which the conference shall adjourn. (2) To adjourn. (3) To take a recess. (4) To lay on the table. (5) For the previous question. (6) To postpone to a given time. (7) To refer. (8) To substitute. (9) To amend. (10) To postpone indefinitely. The motion for the previous question can not be laid on the table.

"12. Only one amendment to an amendment shall be in order but it shall then be in order to move a substitute for the main question, and one amendment to the substitute, and if a substitute is accepted, it shall replace the original proposition.

"13. It shall be in order to move the previous question on any measure pending, except in cases in which character is involved; and, if sustained by a vote of two-thirds of those present and voting the question shall be taken; nevertheless, it shall be in order under this rule to move to refer, to recommit, to divide or to lay on the table after the previous question has been ordered, the vote being taken in every case without debate. It shall not be in order to move the previous question or to move to lay on the table at the close of a speech in which the pending question has been discussed.

"14. On the call of a member a question shall be divided if it is divisible into distinct propositions.

"15. The motion to adjourn shall be always in order except (1) when a member has the floor, (2) when a question is actually put or a vote is being taken, until finally decided, (3) when a question is pending on sustaining the demand for the previous question, (4) when the previous question has been called and sustained and action under it is still pending, (5) when a motion to adjourn has been negatived and no business or debate has intervened.

"16. When any motion or resolution shall have been acted upon by the Conference, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing side to move a reconsideration; but a motion to reconsider a non-debatable motion shall be decided without debate.

"17. The mover of any question or resolution, that shall in any way place a financial obligation on the Conference or any member of the Conference or any church in the territory of the Conference, shall introduce the same before the Conference at least twenty-four hours before a call for vote on the same, and he shall post a duplicate typewritten copy of the same in a conspicuous place at least twenty-four hours before a call for vote.

"18. Every member who is within the bar at the time a question is put shall vote, unless the Conference for special reasons excuses him. No member shall be allowed to vote on any question who is not within the bar at the time when the question shall be put by the president, except by leave of the Conference when such member has been necessarily absent.

"19. Voting shall be by the uplifted hand, but, on a division of the house, a count vote shall be taken, the members rising in their places and standing until counted. Votes may also be taken by ballot and by ayes and noes.

"20. It shall be in order for any member to call for the ayes and noes on any question before the Conference, and if the call be sustained by _____ members the vote shall be taken by ayes and noes. If not sustained, members, voting in the minority, if said minority is less than _____, may have their votes recorded by name.

"21. The District Superintendents shall be a committee to prepare nominations for the standing committees of the Conference in advance of the Conference Session and present their nominations immediately following the organization of the Conference.

"22. Vacancies in the Conference Board of Trustees, the Conference Board of Stewards and the Conference Deaconess Board shall be filled by election of the Conference on nomination by the District Superintendents.

"23. All requests for special appointment shall be referred to the Committee on Conference Relations.

"24. The report of the committee on education shall be the order of the day at 10 o'clock a. m. on Saturday of each session of the Conference and all representations of educational institutions shall be made at that time.

"25. The Statistical Secretary at each session shall appoint a person for each district whose duty it shall be to collect the statistical reports in the districts severally before the opening of the ensuing session and to report under the call for statistics the names of those charges in the several districts which have not presented their statistical reports. The call for statistics shall be made at the opening meeting of the Conference Session immediately following the organization of the Conference.

"26. Each member in effective relation, and each supply, shall contribute a sum equal to the amount of 1-10 of 1 per cent of his cash salary to be applied as necessity may require to the purpose of securing expert accountants, or stenographers, or assistants, and for Secretarial Expenses.

"27. In all matters not herein specified the proceedings of the Conference shall be governed by common parliamentary law.

"28. These rules shall not be suspended except by a majority of all the members of the Conference."

THE FOURTEENTH ANNUAL SESSION OF THE LAYMEN'S ASSOCIATION OF THE ILLINOIS CONFERENCE

Jacksonville, Illinois, September 9th and 10th, 1921.

President Kagey called the session to order promptly, and introduced Mr. C. W. Caughlin, of Pittsfield, Illinois, who led the devotional service, after which Mr. Hugh Green, of Jacksonville extended greetings and a hearty welcome to the members of the Association, for as long as they might wish to remain in the City.

Drs. Nate and McCarty, representing the Annual Conference, were introduced, and extended a cordial invitation to the Laymen, to attend a joint session of Ministers and Laymen on Saturday at 9 A. M. On motion the same was accepted. Dr. Joseph R. Harker explained the purpose of the meeting of the joint session. On motion the President and Secretary were charged with steering the program to the best advantage as to time and place.

The following Committees were appointed by the President:

Resolution:

D. L. Musselman, Quincy, Ill.
B. F. Huff, Cerro-Gordo, Ill.
Judge F. H. Boggs, Urbana, Ill.

Nominations:

T. R. Burdsal, Hillsboro, Ill.
W. E. Proctor, Gibson City, Ill.
G. W. Lenhart, Georgetown, Ill.

Mr. L. F. Bower, Director of Lay Activities in the Chicago Area, was introduced and spoke of the possibilities of the Laymen in Kingdom Business of to-day. Likewise Mr. Samuel Nichols, a member of the G. A. R. and representing the Jacksonville Journal, spoke of the Church in his day.

Mr. W. F. Engle, of Bloomington, Ill., was called ahead of his hour on the program, and delivered a most excellent address, which we chose to call "THE ASSOCIATION ADDRESS".

Secretary and members of the Lay-Electoral Conference were welcomed by President Kagey and accorded the privilege of the floor for the transaction of business.

Judge H. R. Snavelly, of Marshall, Ill., was elected Chairman and T. E. Orr of Buffalo, Ill., Secretary. 108 Lay-Electoral Delegates were present. Secretary stated that the business at hand was that of voting upon three amendments—The first being the one pertaining to Laymen in the Annual Conference, and the one in error was voted down, and the corrected one carried by a vote of 106 to 2 against. The second was the proposed Amendment to Change the Name of Quarterly Conference to Local Conference, and this was lost by 59 against and only 45 for, 4 not voting. The Third was an amendment to change the Ratio of Representation in the General Conference, which carried by a vote of 95 for and 1 against, 12 not voting. Motion to adjourn carried.—Judge Snavelly, Chairman; T. E. Orr, Secretary.

Laymen's Association reconvened at 11:20 A. M. and a few General Conference Impressions were heard.

On motion the association adjourned at 11:45 A. M. to go in a body to the Illinois Woman's College, to there join with Ministers in witnessing the unveiling of two Tablets, one containing the names of all the College Presidents, and the other the names of all Presidents of the Board of Trustees.

Morning session closed by Prayer, with Rev. O. B. Hess, of Paxton, Ill., leading.

Friday Afternoon, September 9th, 1921.

Devotions—Leader, A. C. Metcalf of the Woman's College.

President Kagey announced his intentions in crowding as much of Saturday's Program, into Friday afternoon hours as possible, account joint session Saturday.

Joseph R. Harker, D. D., next spoke of "The Future of the Illinois Woman's College," in his usual prophetic manner.

The address of Miss Winifred Willard, Publicity Director of College Finance Campaign of the M. E. church, was excellent. Her subject,—“The Education of Women.” At the close of her address, she presented to Dr. Harker, of the Woman's College, the hammer used by her great grandfather, in laying the corner stone of the first building of the now Illinois Woman's College. Dr. Harker expressed his gratitude, and spoke highly of Miss Willard and her work.

Rev. W. J. Weber's address on “The Religious Life and Training at the Woman's College,” was such as would cause all parents present to desire such an influence for their girls.

VIII. Reports.

(A) DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS.

BLOOMINGTON DISTRICT.

C. M. Duncan, Superintendent.

Bishop Thomas Nicholson and Brethren:

J. E. Bullard says: "There are just two things that really count in this world and these are getting things done quicker and getting things done better."

I believe we find in this statement the very spirit that is prevailing in the Bloomington District at this time. We are very conscious of the fact that it is necessary that we do our work quickly, and at the same time we know that there is a demand that we shall do our work better. Someone has said:

"Ambition is the spur that makes men struggle with destiny, and man's destiny is to be not dissatisfied, but forever unsatisfied."

For one of the greatest tragedies that can come in a man's life is to be content with mediocrity. The civilization of the day has made its greatest steps in advance under the stress of necessity and under the leadership of a great ambition to satisfy the heart's yearning for better things.

Organization.

W. C. Durant says: "This is no time for conversation—this is the time for concentrated, determined and intelligent action."

Now that these things are in our thinking we as a district have planned very carefully our program for the year, and at our Fall District Meeting adopted a most comprehensive plan whereby we might work together and hitch on to the common load of the church and at one and the same time pull in the same direction. Elbert Hubbard said:

"Sanity lies in your ability to think individually and act collectively."

We do not propose to detract a particle from the individual idealism, but we do hope to co-operate together that with the principle of "One shall chase a thousand, two shall put ten thousand to flight," that we may pull the whole load just a little nearer the great throne of God. Thus we have our great Unit System, Constituency Roll, Evangelism, Stewardship, Religious Education, Sunday School, Epworth League, Daily Vacation Bible School, District meetings and Institutes, all of which are just a small part of the great machine for evangelizing that portion of the Conference which has been entrusted to our care.

Illness.

We are truly grateful to Almighty God for His beneficent care and preservation of life during this conference year.

Rev. J. D. Kruwel of Lincoln was called upon to pass through a very critical operation, but we are happy to report that he is fully recovered and able to complete a successful year's service. The Lincoln Church was very fortunate in being able to secure Rev. R. F. McDaniel as a supply during this period. Great praise is due Bro. McDaniel for his splendid service.

Rev. E. H. Lugg, one of our most worthy pastors, was taken ill early in the month of January. Everything that skilled physicians and friends could do to save his life was of no avail, and he passed on to his work beyond on January the 27th, 1922. Probably no pastor was more loved and more greatly appreciated than this our esteemed brother. Mr. Vasey, one of our most beloved official members, in speaking of his pastor said: "The dominant note in Mr. Lugg's prayer was constantly for a revival." It can truthfully be said of our departed brother that he gave his life for his people. Brethren, it is a wonderful thing to live so that at the end of the way it may be said:

"Servant of God; well done
Thy glorious warfares past
The battles fought, the victories won,
And thou are crowned at last."

Changes.

To fill the LeRoy charge was no easy task. The official members stood by loyally and considered every interest of the charge. After much thought and consideration, the son, Rev. T. B. Lugg, was appointed to succeed his father.

Rev. A. H. McConnell, pastor at Weldon, resigned his pastorate at the third quarterly conference in order that he might attend the summer school at Normal. The Rev. W. A. Ihde was appointed a fill in the year and has given to this charge most excellent service.

Improvements.

We were not anticipating any great amount of material improvement during the year. However, we want to make mention of two outstanding improvement programs.

The Wapella church under the leadership of their pastor, Rev. A. G. Carnine, placed a new basement under the entire church building, making a suitable place for conducting a community program. The cost of same was about $1,000, all of which amount has been provided.

The New Holland Church has practically been made new. The auditorium has been extended, making provision for worship and modern Sunday School activities. The exterior has been beautified by white stone stucco. The basement is modernly equipped for community programs. This church with the cost of $12,000 offers to their community every modern convenience that is necessary. Rev. W. J. Davidson re-dedicated this church with all pledges fully subscribed. Much praise is given to our pastor, Rev. A. E. Bunton, and to his faithful Building Committee, without which it would have been impossible for this attainment.

Stewardship.

James Samuel Knox says: "The biggest word in the business language is not profit, but service."

Never in our lives have we been so impressed with the Centenary as during the closing days of this conference year. I have heard it said that these are strenuous days in finance; and too we have heard some unkind remarks concerning the five year pledge. But if ever the church should take courage and thank God, that the pledge for promoting the Kingdom is now on the five year base instead of the old annual plan, that day is in the year of our Lord 1922. I am gratified at the responsibility and a still greater gratification comes to me in the self-sacrifice that is witnessed in every charge. With our consistent teachings of the principles of stewardship and the practice of heroic giving on the part of the church, we expect to see a new day in the church to which we all belong. We have seen men caught by the commercial undertow which drags its victims to ruin within a day; we have seen these balmy days changed by the horrors of an eclipse, spreading its fears and dreads in hearts of a hesitant church. But even in these days the call is heard and multitudes of fine, splendid folk are hearing the cry—Go on! Go on! so clearly pronounced by Him who trod the way alone until this day we rejoice in that wonderful slogan—"There is an open road forever ahead." Today with that hope within our breast, we take up our task anew and pledge God and His church the loyalty of a truly awakened soldier of the cross.

Christian Education.

Some one has said: "Ten times more can be accomplished by way of growing a better generation of the young than can be achieved with the same time and money cost in an effort to reform a bad adult generation."

Prof. Elwood in his recent book says: "A religion adapted to the needs in modern life must have a positive and unequivocal doctrine concerning the family. The child receives especially from his family his ideas, beliefs and standards concerning industry, government, law, art, morals and religion. In brief, he receives from his family life practically everything which makes him a man as distinct from a brute."

This Christian home life co-operating in the church life through the Sunday school, Epworth League, the Junior League, the Young Peoples Societies of the Missionary Auxiliaries and the Daily Religious School will surely bring forth a type of young manhood and womanhood that will challenge this day. Every department of the Educational Program of the church is encouraging. More than twenty Daily Vacation Bible Schools were conducted within the bounds of the Bloomington District and all except two or three were more than a success. The Sunday Schools show a degree of increased interest and many Epworth Leagues have been revived and vitalized into active service.

Evangelism.

We believe in the Educational Program of the church; we accept the Centenary as a real challenge to any people. We are conscious of the needs of the Bi-Conference Movement, we accept the Greater Social Movement as a real necessity, but of all the things that we are very conscious of is the need of a revival of vital religion. Righteousness must be preached with a new emphasis. They tell me that the simple old story of our Risen Lord still causes men to repent, sinners to be converted and believers to be built up in the Holy Faith. If ever the Bloomington District solves its great problems of ministering to the whole people, it must necessarily be given over diligently to the task of Evangelism.

We are happy to report wonderful success in many instances throughout the district. Rev. P. Raymond Powers, our district evangelist, has done most excellent service. We have tried every conceivable condition and it has proved that the Gospel is sufficient. Possibly one of the outstanding demonstrations of God's blessings upon a people is witnessed at DeWitt. One hundred and thirty-six persons were converted in this seven weeks revival. Every charge for miles around had some people converted in these meetings. Rev. Bumpus tells me that he just preached the Gospel, for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth. During the summer months, they have had a mid week prayer meeting service with an average attendance of sixty. Rucker Chapel also rejoices in a summer meeting with twenty-two conversions and sixteen additions to the church.

District Meetings.

We have had several district meetings during the year. The fall meeting of pastors and district stewards was held at Bloomington, the spring meeting was held at Lincoln, at which time our Bishop Nicholson gave himself in a most excellent and devoted manner to the needs of our day. The third quarterly conferences were held in six groups, with a study of the needs with reports from individual charges during the afternoon session, and at the evening hour a simple Christian story concerning the real need of the young people was told by one of our students from the Illinois Wesleyan, followed by that great and compelling motion picture, "The Maker of Men." This service proved to be very beneficial to all charges where the officials made special effort to attend.

The Epworth League Convention was held at Gibson City with a record breaking attendance and an overplus of enthusiasm. One of the forward movements was the adoption of a carefully prepared program for the entire year. This challenges the leaguers for a continuous service through the summer months.

The two Women's Missionary Auxiliaries have done a most outstanding piece of work for the year. They held their annual conventions and with great enthusiasm impressed upon each and every department the need of this year. These specialists are more wonderful to me every day. They undertake and then go and do the task.

Illinois Wesleyan University.

Ellwood in his book, The Reconstruction of Religion, says: "In the reconstruction of our civilization which we now face, it is time that scientific thinkers and the representatives of religion join hands in seeking to promote the development of rational religion as the world's supreme need."

It is the purpose of our institution to give unto the student a religious outlook which is in harmony with our modern science and life. We feel that under the leadership of our new President, Dr. W. J. Davidson, this institution will give much attention to interpreting life in the light of modern scholarship and in the spirit of our Risen Lord.

We will soon have our modernly equipped Gymnasium with advantages not excelled in any institution within the state. We also have the Buck Memorial Library under way of construction and it bids well to being one of the most beautiful buildings within the city. Students, many of them are enquiring and planning to attend college this year. With our president and his splendid faculty, our institution faces the future with a determination to send out from her borders those influences that shall make for a better tomorrow.

Ministerial Support.

Fleishman says: "You'll never make a home run if you go to bat thinking you can only bunt."

This may be the reason for the report I am about to make. For I must confess to you that to live for three years on bad oats and come in contact daily with the subject of imminent failure will have a tendency at least to make the impression that a real home run is an impossibility.

We are sorry that we have to report thus: Thirty-two charges heroically hold the fort; six charges retrench; two add a step to their sword, making pastoral support for the next year short $1500 with a gain of $500, a net loss of $1000. We hope that this may not even be so at the first quarterly conference.

Bishop and brethren, let me speak this closing word. We think as pastors of the Bloomington District that we have done well. We might have done better, but after all we feel very much akin to that fine splendid athlete, when he was asked: "Why didn't you become a Christian while all of your associates about you came?" With a quivering lip and a tear stained cheek he said: "Sir, I am not man enough to be a Christian." We too feel that we are not quite "man enough" to do the whole task that is before us.

CHAMPAIGN-DANVILLE DISTRICT.

A. K. Byrns, Superintendent.

Immediately following the conference last fall, C. T. Pilch was changed from Rankin to Grace Church, Urbana; A. S. Weiss from Sidney to Rankin; and William Cross remained at Sidney. Earnest J. Peters, a Garrett student, was secured to supply Tolono; and Raymond Laury, also of Garrett, to supply Penfield. In the middle of the year, Arthur Miles, supply pastor at Henning, accepted a charge in the Indiana Conference from which he came. Earl D. Myers of Garret was assigned to finish the year's work. With these adjustments every charge in the Champaign-Danville District proceeded smoothly and the District Superintendent had the delightful experience, for at least six months, of not hearing a word of complaint from either pastor or people in any charge. This does not imply that the last half of the year has made up for the former tranquility, for with very few exceptions, the statement made would apply to the entire year. I am confident that no group of pastors in any district ever worked more faithfully and efficiency than did the forty resolute men who this year served the district for which it is now my honor and privilege to report.

I shall not call upon you to listen to a review of the multiplied difficulties growing out of the depressed condition of the times which are more or less common to all our districts, having fallen so heavily on the rural churches on the one hand and on those of the industrial centers on the other. At least seven churches in this district have been very materially affected by strikes and other industrial disturbances. In one church recently, every man but two was out on a strike. These are indeed times to try men's souls. In many places true heroism has been manifest on the part of the membership in the sacrifices which have been made to maintain the church both at home and abroad.

Centenary.

Every effort has been made to keep our people appraised of the activities and need of our great benevolent agencies. Following the Detroit meeting last fall, a district conference was first held, and then a special missionary program was put on in every charge of the district. The pastors faithfully co-operated with each other in making this possible. Self-denial week was observed at Easter time with a little better than $2,000 in gifts reported.

I am hopeful that the payments made to the Centenary from this district now in the hands of the treasurers, will be better than we had at first dared to anticipate.

Bi-Conference Movement.

Two group meetings including all the pastors of the districts were held, at which the Bi-Conference Movement was presented by Reverend A. G. Carnine of Bloomington. In compliance with the plan of our conference director, an exchange of pulpits was arranged for May 21st, at which time, "the place and value of our educational institutions" was vigorously presented.

The Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois.

This great university, which in 1890 had a student body numbering only 469, the past year had an enrollment in the departments located at Champaign-Urbana of 8,743. Of this number 2,166 (not including summer school), or more than one in every four, was a Methodist or preferred the Methodist church.

The Wesley Foundation is the attempt of Methodism to meet her unavoidable responsibility to this mass of energetic, capable and destiny-making men and women at a time when they are definitely fitting themselves for places of leadership in the world. No statistician can compute the possibilities for good or ill which are here represented. These Methodist students are distributed as follows:

In Rock River Conference.....	598
In Illinois Conference	834
In Southern Illinois Conference.....	297
In Central Illinois Conference.....	258
In forty of the other states than Illinois.....	464
In countries outside the U. S.....	40

The present equipment of the Wesley Foundation as far as buildings are concerned consists principally of Trinity Church, long since out-grown and from which students frequently are turned away at the time of the morning preaching hour for lack of room, and the Social Center Building dedicated a year and a half ago. This latter building has already demonstrated beyond a shadow of a doubt its adaptation to the work and has convinced even the skeptical that it represents a most wise expenditure of money.

From February, 1921, to February, 1922, in addition to those who came and went for study, reading, etc., there were 1,027 regularly scheduled meetings with 66,552 in attendance. It is a veritable "Home Away from Home" for the students. There were seven regular courses in Bible given under Professor E. S. Boyer for which credit in the University was allowed. The enrollment in these classes was 129. Twice as many made application as were registered, being prevented from entering the courses because of conflicts and standard limitations. Specially significant work has been done in relation to the students of the College of Agriculture through the credit courses, Country Life Club and the Rural Seminary. Three mission study classes were also conducted. The student department of the Sunday School numbered 475. The average attendance at Epworth League through the winter was 401. Gospel teams did efficient work in many nearby churches. The life service group numbered fifty-seven. Several fine young men have been licensed to preach, and three young women (two of whom sail on September 7th), are going out to foreign fields under appointment of the W. F. M. S. The attitude taken toward the 257 foreign students from 35 countries outside of the United States, and the work of the Foundation among them, has constituted beyond question one of the most efficient and far-reaching missionary enterprises of our entire church. President Kinley recently said regarding the work of the Wesley Foundation: "I thank God that the Methodists of Illinois have done this thing. In doing it they have served God in a larger measure and in more ramified ways than they yet realize." The immediate and urgent need for this institution is for a maintenance fund and a new church building.

The Cunningham Children's Home.

The Cunningham Home located at Urbana, Illinois, has property holdings as follows:

Twenty acres of land.....	$ 7,000.00
With the following Buildings and Equipment:
Illinois Conference Hall	21,000.00
Sheldon Hall	26,500.00
Cunningham Building	37,000.00
Barn	1,300.00
Cottage	600.00
Engine House	800.00

Heating Plant	3,500.00
Laundry Equipment.....	1,100.00
Live Stock	800.00
Ford Sedan	600.00
160 acres of land in Vermillion Co.....	40,000.00
Endowment	7,905.00

Making a total in assets of$141,105.00

The total number of children cared for during this past year was ninety-nine, with an average of seventy-two at the home. Of these, almost half were entirely without support, other than that given by the W. H. M. S. The average cost per child is about $1.00 per day. Hundreds were turned away for lack of room. No Children's Home in Methodism is rendering a more needed or worthy service than this institution of the W. H. M. S. of our Conference.

District Survey.

Brothers J. H. Singleton and Jesse L. Murrell have toiled faithfully in working out a survey of the district. The completion of the district map reveals several wide stretches of "no-man's land" between our charges which is a challenge to which we must respond in some way.

Material Improvements.

While this year is one in which improvements and debt-paying have not been pushed, we are gratified to report the following:

Paid on church indebtedness.....	$ 9,573.00
Paid on parsonage indebtedness.....	1,613.00
Paid on former current expenses.....	5,362.00
Paid on church repairs and improvements..	10,627.00
Paid on parsonage repairs and improvements	1,000.00

This makes a total, outside of the budget items of$28,177.00

The church at Fairmount has been refrescoed at a cost of $500. A new roof has been put on the Ludlow church at a cost of $500. A new furnace in the church at Fithian cost $300. Paxton refrescoed their church and made the basement over at a cost of $7,000. Danville, Grace, succeeded in making the last payment on their building debt and held their mortgage burning on July 14th.

McKinley Congregation, East Danville (under the leadership of J. M. Judy), has been making heroic efforts to build a church in which to develop the unmistakable opportunities which their field presents. They now have a choice location paid for, $800 worth of building material on the ground, and $2,000 in pledges. The railroad strike has brought matters to a standstill since most of the supporters are shopmen.

Central Church in the country on the Ogden charge was struck by a cyclone in the early summer, and utterly destroyed. Fortunately there was insurance to the extent of $800 which had been collected. The people are planning a new church with all modern equipment, to cost approximately $8,000. We surmise this cyclone cloud had a "silver lining".

St. James, Danville, has taken a most important step in the securing of the Canon-Cohen site on Vermillion St. for the location of the proposed new church. This site cost $49,000 and all Methodists should rejoice over its acquisition. Kimber church has been sold and the receipts applied on the new enterprise.

On the third day of July, following appropriate ceremonies, Mrs. Celeste Wolfe, a large contributor to the enterprise, removed the first spadeful of dirt preparatory to beginning the erection of a modern four-story Parish House adjoining First Church, Champaign. The wide-awake congregation of this church are following in a most heroic way the indomitable leadership of their pastor and, despite the times, are going forward to achieve bigger and better things for the Kingdom. The total cost of this equipment will probably reach $150,000. Dedication day has not yet been set, but it is hoped the building will be ready for occupation this coming January. A full-time director of education and athletics has been employed. May the courage and sacrifice of these good people be abundantly rewarded in multiplied returns for the Kingdom.

Church Membership and Other Activities.

Seven hundred six were received from preparatory membership. One hundred twenty-one from other denominations. Four hundred ninety-two by certificate from other Methodist churches.

When all deductions are made on account of deaths, certificates granted, withdrawals, etc., there remains a net gain in membership of 821, which is better than 5½ per cent increase.

A few of the churches will show a loss in membership due to correcting of the records. This is especially true at Hoopeston where the actual count revealed over 100 fewer persons than the figures in the Conference Minutes indicated.

Twenty-four church vacation schools were conducted this summer, with a total enrollment of 1,434. These schools were in operation for a total of 85 weeks. They are commented on most favorably by both pastors and people. This type of religious training is meeting an important need. At Paxton a Religious Day school was conducted in connection with the public school and credits were allowed for grades received. Other places in the district are planning similar schools for next year. It is most gratifying to see how willing school boards are to co-operate in these plans.

The Sunday Schools of the District have made a very substantial gain in average attendance this year, equaling for the district a little better than 10 per cent over last year's record.

A number of Epworth and Junior Leagues have been organized during the year and the reports show most of the Leagues of the District in a more thriving condition than a year ago. More than fifty of our young people were in attendance at the Institute at Shelbyville, twenty-three of whom consecrated themselves for life service.

The W. F. M. S. and W. H. M. S. have been faithful in their work and will fall but little, if any, below former years in their financial reports.

In Conclusion.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the pastors for their fine spirit of fellowship and ready response to the plans and requests of the District Superintendent. They have been kind and courteous, consecrated and courageous, and I believe their attitude toward the ministry as well as my own, is expressed in the following lines.

"O Matchless honor, all unsought,
High privilege surpassing thought
That thou shouldst call us, Lord, to be Linked in work-fellowship with Thee!
To carry out Thy wondrous plan,
To bear Thy messages to man;
'In trust', with Christ's own word of grace
To every soul of human race."

DECATUR DISTRICT.

T. N. Ewing, Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

The day after the adjournment of our Annual Conference a year ago Bethany charge was left vacant by the removal of Brother E. L. Carson to Urbana, who was advised by his physician to give up the work on account of Mrs. Carson's health. Brother J. D. Reed was appointed to Bethany. In May Brother T. B. Lugg of Sadorus was appointed by the Bishop to LeRoy, made vacant by the death of Brother E. H. Lugg. Sadorus has been very efficiently supplied by Brother A. W. Hamilton of the Rock River Conference. Sanner Chapel has been without a pastor the most of the year, but early in June Brother C. C. Nordling, a student in Boston University, was appointed as a supply and has done splendid work. Aside from these adjustments the charges have been cared for according to the appointments announced at the close of the Annual Conference last year.

The year's work began auspiciously with a fall meeting in which pastors and laymen consulted most profitably concerning ways and means of building the church for the salvation of men. Plans for evangelism for the year were compared and a working schedule set up. Most of these were put into effect at some time during the year with very gratifying results. During the year over 1,300 members have been received into our churches with a net gain of membership as reported in our fourth quarterly conference of over eleven hundred.

I fear our apportioned benevolences have hardly kept pace with last year. Centenary vouchers covering the year until the latter part of August show only a trifle over $18,500 paid. In order to maintain the record of last year it would be necessary to show in conference reports nearly twice as much more. However, in view of the fact that our Centenary subscriptions were made payable, the most of them, about September first, we are hoping that the situation is much better than it seems. The Easter offering was something over $2,400.

Reports from the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society are not complete and I am unable to state the total of their offerings for the year. Quarterly conference reports, however, in so far as I have them show a steady going forward by this great organization. The Woman's Home Missionary Society has reported a total of over $4,700.

In the matter of church and parsonage property we have made some progress. By the utmost of heroic efforts the people of Windsor, under the leadership of Brother Tremaine, paid off $2,500 of a parsonage debt of $7,500. The people of Cowden have taken steps toward the erection of a home for their pastor, which we hope will be completed during the coming year.

During the year the work on St. Paul's Church has advanced until the walls have been completed and roof put on, while the recreation room has been fitted up for public worship so that church and Sunday School services can be held therein. Work on the building, however, was stopped last December for lack of funds. Large credit is due the devoted leadership of Brother Booth, pastor of St. Paul's, who has for five years led the people of the east side of Decatur in this great enterprise thus far, and much praise is also due the people themselves, as well as the Centenary authorities who have stood by. We look forward confidently to the early and larger attendance. We are doing a higher grade of teaching, and the completion of this beautiful structure which will be of lasting service and a source of inspiration to us all.

On Easter Sunday our new church in Lovington was dedicated by Bishop Nicholson. It is a thoroughly modern and well built building, furnished completely for every activity of a modern church, with not only an auditorium of suitable proportions and elegant furnishings, but a complete suite of Sunday School rooms, kitchen and dining room, and a splendid gymnasium for the recreation and physical development of our youth. Brother Powell, the Lovington pastor, has been and continues to be the genius of this building enterprise, leading the people with tireless effort and with unremitting patience. The whole plant, including a practically new parsonage, is one of the very best in the whole conference and will be a source of pride to Methodism in Lovington and the country round for years to come. That the Methodist people realize this is shown by the loyal way in which they have stood by and underwritten the project with their means.

The District has been fortunate enough to escape any and all visits of the grim reaper of death during the year. There was, however, an unusual amount of sickness among our pastors, five of them at one time being laid up for physical repairs and some of them having a close call, bringing anxiety to their loved ones and friends. Three of our pastors, Brothers Powell, Campbell and Duling, were married during the year and this incursion of devoted womanhood is keenly appreciated by all of us who know how much of a pastor's success is always attributed to parsonage atmosphere.

The district has been favored this conference year with several visits from our tireless and painstaking Bishop and his example of hard work and effective leadership has been an inspiration to us all. Decatur people were especially favored by his Passion week sermons delivered in Grace Church and concluding with a great Easter Day service in which a throng of new members were received and the tide of spiritual interest carried far ashore.

In the matter of ministerial support the Decatur District took its losses last year when a heavy slump was felt in many of our churches. The situation this year, hard as it is, shows considerable improvement. The deficiencies have been very greatly reduced. Estimates for next year will be as large in the total as this year. We are hopeful that the worst is passed.

The work generally over the district has been of a higher grade and pastors and laymen seem steadier and more devoted. We are all looking forward with confidence that the coming year will show such devotion and sacrifice and loving service as we have not known in all our history. May God grant it may be so.

JACKSONVILLE DISTRICT.

E. L. Pletcher, Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

It is the policy of the Methodist Episcopal Church to receive quarterly reports from each church and pastor, also I have secured annual reports from each church and pastor in the district. My report is made up from the reports submitted to me by the several churches and pastors. My object shall be to report to you the conditions as they are in the Jacksonville District and thus give a survey of the past year's work. From the nature of the case it is impossible to give a very satisfactory report, the District being of such size, and the number of churches makes it impossible to cover this District and its work as one would desire. There are ninety-seven churches and forty-eight charges to be covered in this report.

It is possible that my colleagues will report to you the very unfortunate railroad conditions which have prevailed during the latter part of the year. It may be that they will also mention the great financial depression that has been upon the country. They may suggest to you that the farming districts have suffered greatly in this connection. Laying all these matters aside, I shall report to you briefly the work of the year.

The conference year opened well with all charges filled and the prospects bright for a successful year. During the first month of the year Rev. F. P. Bonnefon transferred from the Durbin and Province work to the Central Illinois Conference. We were very fortunate in securing Dr. F. M. Rule to supply this work the remainder of the year, which has been a most satisfactory and fortunate arrangement. The charge this fall asked for a young man who could reach the young people and carry on an aggressive campaign for the coming year and they named Dr. Rule as the man they desired. There has also been a change at Girard. The pastor appointed to this work, H. M. Ellis, was in the midst of a revival when he suffered a nervous break and resigned. A. B. Carlberg was secured, but later he accepted a position in the Gary, Indiana, School. After a few months S. M. Spurgeon was secured for Girard and has completed the year in a most acceptable manner. Through all these changes the good Methodist people of Girard remain true to the Church and Girard has prospered greatly.

There have been no deaths in the Parsonage homes during the past year. And as a rule the preachers and their families have enjoyed good health. Early in the year we were honored with a visit in the Jacksonville District from Bishop Nicholson and as a result the people were greatly inspired and the preachers stimulated. His helpful service and advice has greatly improved the general morale of our ministers. We are also deeply indebted to the Area Office for their most efficient and kindly help. Dr. Moore, Area Secretary, has visited the district often and has been untiring in his services and suggestions.

It has always been our idea that a church should have a program, likewise the District should have an adequate program for the year. Our District program has included Evangelism and Church efficiency and in this way we are building up the benevolences in full and the prompt payment of our ministerial support and the organization of the churches for a more adequate church service to the communities. In our evangelistic work we have well passed the 1800 mark of converts in the District during the year. Our District Evangelist, Mr. D. C. Linton, has held meetings in the following Churches: Everly Chapel, Girard, Virden (two meetings), Manchester, Chesterfield, Rockbridge, Auburn, Chatham, Curran, Roodhouse, Whitehall and Oakford, also Glenarm in the Springfield District. The total number of converts in these meetings being 1476. During the summer months the District tent was also used to good advantage. The real value of these meetings can never be estimated until the books are opened at the Last Great Day and the record fully known.

Brother Linton has thrown his utmost effort and devotion into all of these services. A number of other very fine meetings have been held over the District, the pastors acting as their own Evangelists and there is scarcely a charge which does not report a goodly number of converts and accessions during the year. It has been the purpose to have the Church organized so that a definite program may be carried out and so that the Church may reach and administer to the whole community. A very marked work in this line of organization has been carried on in Carlinville where, under the Men's Forward Movement, a large constituency of men has been secured and this Church has prospered in things both material and spiritual. Pastor W. S. Phillips closes his fifth year, the most successful and prosperous of the entire period.

All over the District our Sunday Schools have shown a better interest and larger attendance. We are doing a higher grade of teaching, and the outlook is most hopeful. Also the Epworth Leagues are becoming a vital force among our young people as never before. At the Institute in Shelbyville the Jacksonville District had, if not the largest delegation, the equal of any.

Our Ladies' Aid Societies have toiled and saved all of this year. A few of the largest reports being: Centenary, Jacksonville, $1459; Winchester, $1462; Murrayville, $1470, and New Salem, $2538. The W. F. M. S. will equal last year's report, and with the fine gift of over $8000 from the will of Mr. Purvines of Carlinville, we hope to lead the entire Conference.

Nearly every church has made some improvements, the most noted being at New Salem, where in December the District Superintendent was called upon to reopen and dedicate the remodeled church and the new basement, this improvement amounting to at least $5000.00. This place is of historic importance because it is the site of the encampment of General Grant's Regiment on his line of march from Springfield to Naples and he camped where this New Salem Church now stands.

Nilwood has seen a most successful year in both temperal and spiritual advancement. A new basement and a general remodeling of the church there and also a new basement at Bethel. These improvements are due to the faithful labors and devotion of the pastor, J. B. Wunderlick, who is closing his sixth year on this charge. Roodhouse has installed a fine new pipe organ, and other improvements. The District Superintendent was called the last Sunday before Conference to reopen the church at Zion on the Manchester charge, where a new basement and general improvements amounted to $2,070.00 have been brought to a successful conclusion. The people here were convinced that it would be impossible to raise all of the money for the improvements at this time. But the District Superintendent was able to secure not only the full subscription but money to pay the insurance upon the church and this in less than thirty minutes.

Our people are very active in securing better homes for the pastors and the parsonages have been improved, beautified, and modernized. Nearly every pastor's home is as comfortable as the homes of the most prosperous laymen. Also there is a feeling that our churches must be modernized and adapted to the needs of this new day. A number of the churches have made improvements to meet with the requirements of the Modern Sunday School and present day church activities.

August the sixth a district meeting was called, each preacher was asked to report the condition of the church at that date and the prospects for collections of all claims in full. Arrangements were made that neighboring pastors might assist each other.

There have been some very sad hours during the year when we have been called to part with four of the veterans of the church. J. B. Hillerby, whose home was in Jacksonville with his daughter, Mrs. Charles Hopper, was called to the Home Beyond and he was ready. C. W. Caseley, who took a retired relation at the last Conference, after suffering long and patiently, died at his home in Jackson, Ohio. J. J. Dugan passed away suddenly from our midst at his home in Petersburg, Illinois. C. F. McKown, after long days of pain, passed to his reward from his home at Athens, where for ten years he had been pastor. These all having received a good report through faith, God having provided better things for them.

This report would not be complete without facing the New Year and looking forward. As a result of the Evangelistic Campaign during the year many new members have been brought into the church, and we must see to it that they be encouraged in their Christian activities. There will be no reduction in the total salaries of the District next year, but an increase of perhaps near a thousand dollars. Only two places have reduced their salaries and it is hoped that they will soon be in a position to attain their former standard. It has always been our policy to encourage and develop the weak churches and that this can be done has been fully demonstrated in a number of our rural sections. We find that the Gospel is not only the power of God unto Salvation but that its application to the lives of men make our country safe for the generations that are to be.

No report from the Jacksonville District could be in any way complete without reference to one of the most outstanding educational institutions of Methodism, this is the Illinois Women's College. Our opportunity for observation has been most unique. As pastor of the church within one block of the College and as Superintendent of the District, I have not only observed the work of this institution but also its general effect and influence. No word of commendation can be too extravagant or appeal too earnest that this institution should be adequately supported. It may seem like repeating a story of the past to say that the last year has been the best year both as to finances and the character of work done. The prospects for the new year are that the student body will be larger than ever and will test to the utmost the capacity of the school. President Harker has been encouraged by the high recognition given this college as to its high scholastic standards. During the year the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church sent a committee to investigate the needs of the College. This committee reported that the present site of the College should be maintained and campus enlarged, also that there should be secured an additional endowment of not less than one million dollars of productive endowment in the near future. To meet the requirements of the General Education Board, the campaign for the first unit must be completed not later than the coming June.

Much praise is due to the fine things which have been done by both pastors and people for the churches and the Kingdom in the District during the past year. If we should attempt to enumerate we must needs mention each pastor, as they have all served most faithfully. They have been supported by the Methodist laymen and back of all we appreciate the strong and continued assistance which has come from the Area Office and our beloved Bishop and with faith in a God who never fails we face a new year bravely, assured that the conquests of the past are but steps into the Temple of the future.

MATTOON DISTRICT REPORT—1921-1922.

W. D. Fairchild, Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Members of the Illinois Conference:

I herewith submit my report of the Mattoon District for the year now closing, speaking of the activities made possible by our faithful pastors and churches. The year has been marked by a systematic effort to carry on a constructive program. In some measure we feel that we have succeeded. We might have done more, possibly; we are glad we have not done less.

All Charges Supplied.

At the opening of the Conference year all charges were supplied with pastors and there was no break in services during the first six months. In the middle of the year O. W. Alexander, supplying the Grendview charge, left his work and the charge remained without a pastor the rest of the year. At the same time J. D. Shouse relinquished his charge at Greenup and Miss Imogene Quinn was appointed for the remainder of the year. E. T. Lewis, a member of the Iowa Conference, supplying at Brocton, gave up his work July first and took another charge outside our Conference. Aside from these interruptions the work has gone forward regularly throughout the year.

Evangelism.

Our pastors and churches have not been remiss in their chief business, exalting Christ and calling recruits to His service. In these days of so many varied activities of the church we are in danger of losing sight of our chief function. The pastors of the Mattoon District have not neglected the regular routine of duties connected with the program of our great church—they have carried on in all this work, but they have sought to lay great stress on winning souls to Christ and building up His Kingdom. Special evangelistic parties have in a few instances been employed and rendered excellent service. For the most part pastors have done their own work in conducting revivals and have had more than usual success. The work has been characterized by a very high order. Pastors have not forgotten to care for their converts, hence, the number of accessions almost equals the total number of conversions. Much attention has been given to organizing classes for instruction and thoroughly preparing the young converts for membership in the church. Pastors report a total of nearly eleven hundred conversions and almost one thousand accessions.

Sunday Schools.

We point with interest to the work accomplished by our Sunday Schools during the year. The ninety schools, enrolling over 16,000 names, have done an improved piece of work. We are able to report considerable increase in enrollment, average attendance, and general interest. We especially note the increase in attendance of men. There has been some advance made in organization, methods, equipment, and personnel of teaching force. We are convinced that the Sunday Schools offer the largest opportunity found in any department of our church work, but in order to utilize the advantages offered some radical improvements must be made in our methods. Too many schools are failing altogether to grasp the real purpose and opportunity of Sunday School work, and comparatively few are approaching the limits of their possibilities.

Epworth Leagues.

Emphasis laid on the league work this year has produced results. Several new leagues have been organized and many of the old leagues strengthened. The enrollment has made a gain of three hundred. The Junior League work has also advanced. Some two hundred new members have been added.

The outstanding feature of our league work this year has been the attempt to lay hands on and interest the great body of young people of league age not now touched by the league in its present conduct of the work. Our District President, Rev. C. E. Pettit, assisted by Rev. A. S. Chapman and others, formed a unique program and plan for the summer convention. A three-fold convention was planned and Paris, Mattoon, and Arcola chosen as the places for the meetings. A strong program was arranged and given in each of the three places, using the afternoon and evening of each day. Over 500 delegates registered in the three meetings. What has been done is in the nature of an experiment, and the results warrant an effort to further develop the possibilities of this movement. We hope through these young people's conferences to enlist the young people in training for vital Christian service.

Improvements in Church Property.

Substantial improvements have been made on church property in a number of charges and other work of this kind is contemplated in other charges.

Improvements begun last summer at Martinsville were completed in the fall and the building was re-opened January 22. A basement was constructed under the entire building, providing additional room for Sunday School and social purposes. A new heating plant was installed, the interior re-decorated, and the outside wood-work painted. This church is now equipped to care for the needs of our church in Martinsville. To the pastor, Rev. W. A. Phillippe, in large measure is due the success of this undertaking. The total cost of these improvements amount to $6000, all provided.

At Greenup improvements on church and parsonage amounting to $1000 have been made. A new furnace has been placed in the church. All funds are provided to care for this improvement.

Under the leadership of Rev. C. E. Hogue of Lerna a new church has been built at Farmington on the Lerna charge, costing $6250. The structure is a beautiful brick veneer with auditorium and full basement. The donated labor made possible the construction of this fine building at this low figure. This church stands in a historic place. In an early day Thomas Lincoln, father of our illustrious President, settled on a small farm near Farmington, still known as the Lincoln farm. Here he spent his closing days, while his son was rapidly rising in favor with men and preparing to take the exalted place accorded him by all the nations of the earth. Here it was that Thomas Lincoln died, and his body lies in the old Shiloh cemetery near by, the place being marked by a marble shaft erected there in recent years by his grandson, Robert Lincoln. The oldest settlers remember the visits of Abraham Lincoln to Farmington and take a certain measure of pride in recalling the presence of this friend of the common people among them.

For the past two years the people of Vermilion have been talking church remodeling. When Rev. J. E. Willey came to this charge last fall he immediately began to crystallize sentiment into action, and on August 27 an improved and enlarged church was re-opened. A full basement was constructed, providing for furnace room, kitchen, and Sunday School facilities. New windows were placed, new furniture added, and the building painted. We have there a splendid plant to care for our interests in Vermilion. The total cost was $6500, all provided.

At Mattoon our church has expended $2000 in re-wiring the building and installing modern lighting fixtures.

At Edgar and Logan on the Edgar charge improvements have been made to the extent of $1500, all provided.

At Toledo preparations are under way for remodeling the church at a probable cost of about $10,000. We expect to begin work within a few weeks. Cottonwood and Morton chapel on this charge have made improvements this year amounting to $900, all paid.

Tuscola has added several hundred dollars in improvements to church and parsonage during the year.

Many other churches have added from a few dollars to three or four hundred each, all aiding materially in preparation for better service.

Shiloh church, on the Martinsville circuit, was destroyed by a cyclone in the early spring. Money has been subscribed for a new building and it is expected that work will begin soon.

A total of $30,000 has been spent for improvements in the District the past year.

Hospital.

The Mattoon Methodist Memorial Hospital continues to do fine service and render a good account of her usefulness. Since this hospital is not supported by general donations from the Conference it must depend chiefly on local support. However, through the generosity of local friends and those in near-by places we have been able this year to carry on the work in a very fine way and have not fallen under former years in the amount of service rendered. Everything in the way of material equipment and professional service in connection with this institution is of the first order.

Centenary.

We are at the end of the fourth year in our Centenary program. None could see when the pledges were taken what strenuous days were ahead for us. Had conditions remained as they then were we would have little to complain of now. But financial depression, particularly in agricultural districts, has added greatly to our task and has dealt a telling blow to our Centenary collections. We are hoping that this is only a temporary condition. We have done all we know to do to impress on the minds and hearts of the good people of Mattoon District the necessity of full payment. The needs of the world at large have been stressed. They have been made aware, too, of the embarrassing position in which we are placed by any failure on our part to meet our obligations and our promises, especially to heathen nations.

We have found some disposition to postpone payment on account of financial conditions, but very little disposition to repudiate subscriptions. In many instances men of honor tell us they cannot meet both the local pledge and the Centenary. It is not difficult under such conditions to say what will be done. But notwithstanding the conditions, many of our churches report but little less than last year, a few report more, and others promise to make good their payments by October 31.

The Conference Treasurer's report will show a slight decrease in the total over last year, but we are hoping that by the end of the Centenary financial year, October 31, the report will be equal to that of last year at the same date.

Local Finance.

In some ways this has been the most difficult year we have experienced in local church finance in recent years. One year ago we faced financial depression, but church boards were optimistic. This year we still face financial depression, but in addition to this some stout hearted have lost some of the former feeling of assurance.

Throughout the year we have held strictly to our system of quarterly settlement of all claims of ministerial support, and have published the District Bulletin setting forth the situation in every church in the District. We were thus able to come up to the Fourth quarter with little more than that quarter's claims to be paid. But notwithstanding all this it has been difficult in a few churches to come through with a clear record. Strict prorating of all claims has been insisted on in every charge, and except in one or two places the churches have responded in fine order, prorating all claims quarterly.

Much of our embarrassment in the local finances of our churches is due to a lack of system. It is not necessary for me to describe the lack of plan. Many of you are familiar with it. Our fathers have unintentionally fastened upon many churches methods of conducting church finance that are proving disastrous. In many places there is no vision commensurate with the needs of the day, and the success of caring for the local expenses depends wholly on the personality of the collector or the popularity of the preacher.

In my judgment we shall be compelled to adopt modern methods of finance in our church work or in a few years abandon many of our churches. Churches this year in good territory are uncertain of their ground on account of a lack of liberality and proper method. We are forced to the task of acquainting men and women with their responsibility in the support of all kingdom work or pay heavily for our neglect.

We are facing a peculiar situation, one demanding higher efficiency at reduced compensation. The cry is for a better prepared ministry, for men who can do marvelous things, almost miraculous, but we can offer for such preparation and such service scarcely a bare support, and that only for a few brief years. Men are first too young and next too old. It is the rich middle of life demanded with a compensation scarcely equal to that of the common laborer requiring neither special preparation nor skill. These conditions must be remedied for the churches' future good.

We have been compelled to accept a few reductions in salary for the coming year, but in other places salaries have been advanced, and it now appears that the increases will offset the decreases and the total for the District remain about the same as this year. From reports in the hands of the statistician we are assured that every charge will meet its claims in full for ministerial support.

Asbury Fund.

The erection of an equestrian statue of Bishop Asbury in a conspicuous place in Washington City has appealed to us. We have thought that in that city of monuments where every industry and human activity is commemorated in stone or bronze the religious forces should not be omitted. Turn where you will you are greeted by figures representing the great men and movements in human progress. It is certainly very fitting that Methodism should be properly represented in the bronze figure of our great bishop. Every charge in the Mattoon District has paid its apportionment in full for this purpose.

District Survey.

The survey which we have been proposing for some time has at last gotten under way, and is nearly completed. We have yet to gather up the various elements in the survey and make the most effective use of them.

We were unable to begin this survey in an effective way till late in the year and the amount of labor involved was such that it was a physical impossibility to fully prepare it for presentation at this session of the Conference. However, we have at hand some interesting data and preliminary sketches yet to be worked into a complete exhibit.

The District is made up of Clark, Edgar, Cumberland, Coles, most of Douglas, and parts of Vermilion, Champaign, Moultrie and Shelby counties. The survey has been made with the county as a unit. The purpose has been to gather such information regarding churches, their location and condition, as would serve to enable us to better understand our real problem. We are sometimes required to make up certain askings for a five or ten year program. In some instances the final askings rest pretty much on guesses—sometimes wild guesses at that. We are seeking such information as will enable us to lay out an intelligent program and to justify the askings made. One of the chief objects has been to determine parish boundaries, and to eliminate all the no-man's land, and lead up to a cultivation of the entire field. The exhibits submitted indicate our plan and purpose. There are many abandoned churches of various denominations in the District. We have a few abandoned Methodist churches. In no instance, however, have we abandoned any church where there is a real necessity for its existence—where the community cannot be in a good measure cared for otherwise.

The abandoned churches which we have are those that have ceased operations some years ago, with one or two exceptions. We shall ask permission to dispose of all these abandoned churches in order to make use of the proceeds in active charges.

Women's Societies.

Both the W. F. M. Society and the W. H. M. Society have been active during the year. They, too, have felt the financial depression, yet, the reports will probably equal those of last year. The borders have been enlarged and the work intensified. The women who compose these societies work with might and they can be depended on never to give up. They set us a fine example of patient Christian endeavor that succeeds.

Our Ladies' Aid Societies and kindred organizations have done a fine work, contributing much to the financial and social needs of our churches.

Health in the Parsonages.

We are glad to report that in general the health and happiness in parsonage homes has not been marred by critical illness or accident. The one exception to this was the tragic death of Mrs. P. P. Carson of Charleston. She had made herself so useful in all church activities, was so well known in many churches, that her death has brought forth a wide-spread sympathy throughout the Conference. The splendid church which Brother

Carson serves has deeply appreciated the loss, and has stood by the pastor in a way that testifies to their high appreciation of his worth.

During the year two of our retired men have gone from among us, Rev. A. D. Moon and Rev. M. B. McFadden. Both these men served their church long and faithfully and have left behind noble records.

Appreciation.

I wish here to record my deep appreciation of the fine service rendered by all our pastors and their families during the year. There has been a fine fellowship, a spirit of genuine loyalty to all that we have undertaken as a District to do. I have greatly appreciated all their kindness and effort to make our work a success, though I may have failed too often to give proper recognition. I have sought without reservation to do my best for churches and pastors, have given myself to the limit of time and endurance to the work, and close the year glad for whatever we have been able as a District to do, and with regret for whatever mistakes may have been made or work left undone.

QUINCY DISTRICT.

E. S. Combs, Superintendent.

Dear Bishop Nicholson and Co-workers of the Conference:

One more year has been added to the illustrious history of Illinois Methodism on the Quincy District, and we take this opportunity to record some of the acts and facts of the ministry, laity, churches, and schools of the District.

The District has been moving and pushing toward the great goal set by our Leader and Saviour, Jesus Christ. We have not reached it, but we are striving for the mastery. The District believes in all the great doctrines of our church and is in hearty sympathy and accord with its policy and workings. We believe in her bishop, ministers, laymen and programs.

We stand for one hundred per cent (100%) Methodism and we do not invite any one to come our way that can not register one hundred per cent (100%) Methodistic. The District stands for one hundred per cent (100%) Americanism, hence we believe in the Constitution and all its amendments, including the "Eighteenth Amendment." We believe in the enforcing of the same, and no man can be a one hundred per cent (100%) American who does not stand for the same. We love our American Flag, and are proud of its glorious record, and hereby pledge our faith and loyalty to its Stars and Stripes.

We entered upon the second year's work of the District with greater fear, than we did the first, because we had to face plans and appointments we had helped to make. We started the year's work with fifty (50) charges, one hundred (100) churches, and forty-eight (48) preachers. The pastors and laymen of these one hundred (100) churches have toiled faithfully and heroically for the success of the kingdom. Some have toiled against great odds, but not without victory.

Mr. D. L. Musselman, President of the Gem City Business College of Quincy, maintains a high place of leadership among the churches of the District. He gives liberally of his means, time and counsel for the cause of Methodism. No superintendent ever had a more faithful helper.

Rev. G. L. Losh and Rev. O. H. Meyers, who have acted as captains of the two sections of the District, have rendered splendid service to the District work. The unit or group leaders have also co-operated in a very helpful way, and without their aid we could not have made so good a record.

In passing through the door from one year to another we pause to thank God for His mercy and goodness to the parsonage homes. Twice during the year the death messenger called at parsonage homes. In June, Mrs. Hatfield, wife of our pastor at Rockport; and in July Rev. J. H. Kettle, our pastor at New Salem, passed on to that city which hath eternal foundations. The bereaved of these homes have our prayers and deepest sympathy.

As a superintendent, I have never in all my ministry worked harder, traveled more miles, burned more gas, organized, ministered, prayed, lost more sleep, and endured as I have during the past year at the task of the Quincy District. I do not plead for sympathy, but co-operation. I do not ask to be recompensed, but I do pray that God may smile upon the work and people of this great District.

The parsonage homes of the District are veritable palaces by the way-side for the weary superintendent, and the wives, who preside over them, are queens, and I take this method and opportunity to thank one and all of them for their fine hospitality.

Finance.

Our goal has been one hundred per cent (100%) for ministerial support. The pastors and laymen have toiled faithfully. For the first time in the history of the District 100% of ministerial support has been paid. But next year we will sustain some decreases in salary and secure some increases. We will make about $500 gain in salaries on the sum total for next year. I repeat what I have said before, the pastor is the key man financially, spiritually and socially. When we have preachers, who measure up to the ideals of our laymen, we have but few problems, at least no financial problems.

Disasters.

Floods unprecedented swept down the Illinois River for weeks during the spring months, and not only flooded thousands of acres of the finest farm lands, but destroyed crops, homes, grain. Numbers of farmers lost everything, and have not produced a crop this year. Thousands of acres have not been farmed. The towns of Beardstown, Naples, Valley City, and Meredosia were flooded for weeks, property damaged and destroyed, business delayed. Only those who were in the flooded districts can imagine the calamity that befell these districts. Some of the churches will not be able to support a pastor next year, unless we can secure outside help. Some men will never recover financially from the flood calamity. I want to thank those who gave aid, financially or otherwise.

Building and Improvements.

On Sunday, April 20, Bishop Nicholson dedicated the Orr Memorial Community House at Pittsfield. Our Methodist folks spent about $45,000 on improving the old church and building the new. Mrs. Ellen Orr made this project possible by her generous gift. Rev. A. H. Grummon has led our people not only into a new building, but into a new day at Pittsfield.

August 13, we laid the corner stone for the new Grace Church of Quincy. This church will cost about $50,000 when complete. We hope to have it enclosed before winter comes. Rev. A. E. Cole has labored faithfully. Here we build as we have the funds. Our motto is—"Financial Safety First."

At Beardstown, in spite of the flood calamity, where one hundred and thirty-five Methodist families were directly, and a large number indirectly touched, the Methodist Church has let the contract for remodeling the old church and building of a new two-story community house at the cost of $75,000. Architect Dillard says it will be one of the most complete plants for church work in the middle west. Rev. Losh has been untiring in his work and his people have stood loyally back of him in the midst of floods and strikes.

The total cost of improvements on the District for this year and next will exceed $175,000.

Churches at Bluffs, Bowen, Plymouth, Plainville, Kinderhook, Shilo, on the Rushville Circuit, have decorated and made extensive repairs.

Sunday Schools.

No greater organization was ever founded within the church, than the Sunday School. Its influence, power and strength are beyond the knowledge of man. The Sunday Schools of the District have made marked progress during the year, in numbers, finance, equipment, efficiency and spiritually. A large number of young people have been gleaned from the schools for the Kingdom and the Church. Everywhere there is an increasing demand for better teachers and equipment for our schools. Our goal for the school was a fifteen per cent (15%) increase in attendance, some report a thirty per cent (30%) increase. Salvation by inspiration and education is essential. We have grossly neglected the latter. God bless the Sunday Schools of our great Church. There were also a number of vacation Bible schools held during the summer. The demand for this kind of work is increasing and rightly so.

Epworth League.

Stewardship and Life Service are two of the great outstanding movements of the church today, and I know no richer field of conquest than among our Leaguers. They will be the Church of tomorrow. Wise is the pastor who cultivates this field. We have a number of very fine leagues in the district and they are doing splendid work. The district had the second largest delegation at the Shelbyville Institute, in spite of the distance. We dare not neglect the young life of our churches in this day when the world is using every means available to commercialize the youth of the land. We must Christianize it. We can if we will. Rev. A. R. Grummon has done a great service for the leagues of the district as president of the same for the past two years.

Missionary Societies.

The Women's Foreign and Home Missionary Societies have been doing splendid work on the District. The women in these two societies are faithful and loyal to the great cause they represent.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society are doing their utmost to send the gospel to their sisters in other lands, for they know the value of Christianity to the home as no other class of people in the world. This society has worked against great odds this year, but not without results.

The Women's Home Missionary Society seeks to reach the needy places in the home field, so that Christ may be the head of the house and the center of the heart. This society reports a gain of one auxiliary and three Mother's Jewel Bands. The year has not been conducive to great gains in these societies.

Chaddock Boys' School.

The Chaddock Boys' School, under the efficient management of Mrs. Eva Friedls as superintendent, is continuing to do splendid and lasting work in one of the most deserving and needy fields of the church. Last year they received and enrolled sixty-eight (68) boys. Already they have more applications than they can take care of in the school.

We must not only keep faith but give a better cooperation with this school, to which there is an ever increasing demand to take over boys and beside an office secretary and a financial field secretary, Mr. R. E. Vennum, who has been added to the force during the past months. The school has made Christian-trained men out of them. There is always a great demand for this kind of a finished product in the world. The school has twelve (12) on the faculty who are resident teachers and four non-resident teachers, met and paid all current expenses during the year.

Laymen.

I never met a finer class of laymen who are giving time and money to the church, than we have on the District. I have a growing admiration for them. They love the church, and are willing to sacrifice for its success. They have absolute faith in its program, bishops, superintendents, and the preachers. They are willing to be led and willing to do their part, if the pastor will only lead. They know the value of the church to the community and say we must stand by the church and the teachings of Jesus, for it is the only cure for the present day ills. They know the value of a program to the church, for they have learned this from their commercial and farm bureaus. I think some of our preachers could learn a lesson here from the laymen. We do not win as individuals, but as units. The church has succeeded because of its programs, polity, organizations, nearness to God and sympathy with the masses. We have had our walk-outers and come-outers, but the mother church is stronger today than at any other period in her history. Be loyal to the Methodist Church.

Dear brethren, let us not be taken unawares, the laymen know the fallacy of a lazy preacher. Be not deceived, the laymen know the difference between a Paul and a Demas. I am sure there is some good advice for all of us in a poem I had printed in one of the district bulletins recently.

Dig In.

Dig right in and do your bit;
Take your dose of work and grin;
Put your soul right into it,
That's the only way to win.
Don't sit down and loudly wail
Just because your task is tough;
That's the surest way to fail;
Tackle it and show your stuff.
Each man living meets his test,
Hard jobs come to one and all;
Dig right in and do your best,
Shirk it, and you're sure to fall.
When you're up against a job
That's distasteful, dig right in,
Don't take time to sigh or sob;
Do it, and you're bound to win.

Rural Conference.

During the month of May, Rev. J. J. Gross, our pastor at West Point, with the assistance of his church, put on a rural conference for one week, that proved to be one of the most instructive, inspiring and worth-while programs that any church has put on in the Illinois Conference. I commend this method to our rural churches and small towns. We had a number of speakers, all of whom were specialists in their lines.

Evangelism.

Evangelism has been stressed all along the way, and the pastors and laymen have responded heroically. The visible results are not what they should have been for the amount of service given, but it is not ours to reason why, but to do and die for the lost as did Jesus.

Last year the district was noted for its revivals and large number of conversions, but not so this year. There will be about six hundred (600) conversions reported, it may reach seven hundred (700), and about eight hundred (800) additions to the churches. We have not reached our goal this year, but we are not discouraged, we are still pressing on, and hope to do better next year. Churches, having good revivals, are as follows:

Riggston, Bluffs, Camp Point, Mt. Sterling, Versailles, Griggsville, Loraine, Basco, Brooklyn, Astoria, Beverly and Vermont St., Quincy, Ill.

There is an ever increasing demand on the part of the laymen for revivals of power and spirit. Brethren, when we are willing to meet the conditions the revivals will come. History proves this fact. Conservation, concentration, conviction, and coming bodily to the throne of God, confessing our sins, will give to all and the church her heart's desire. The price must be paid before the spirit will descend. Are we willing to meet with the Lord? As Methodists, we are at the door of a new era. Will we pass through to something greater? Not without the pass word, which is, consecration of life, talent, money and time to the Lord, for the use of the Church. Let us highly resolve that Christ shall not have come into existence without a cause.

Centenary and Benevolences.

To July 31, 1922, the district had paid on pledges, not including special collections, $141,103.38. If the receipts of this conference equal those of last year, the total receipts will reach about $170,000. The Easter offering reached about $1500.

The task of collecting and getting new pledges has not been easy this year. We have lost some by death and removal, and some I am sorry to say have repudiated their pledges, and some pastors have made excuses for the Centenary and program of the church, and this has had effect upon the laity.

Brother preacher, the pulpit is your throne, but not a soap box from which you are to crucify the church of the living Christ. The pulpit is your throne, but the street and field are your places of conquest. Do not sleep on your throne or in your study when you should be fighting on the field of conquest. Some make excuses for not paying the Centenary, and some excuses are just in these trying times, but the rank and file of our Methodist folks are not wearing homespun, or riding in ox carts, or living in log cabins, or eating corn grist, or farming with hoes. We never dressed, traveled, fed, lived, amused ourselves better than today.

Brethren, we must go in and redeem this gospel in the eyes of the world, if the Church of Christ is to live. If not, it will lose its power. Abraham Lincoln said, "This nation can not exist half slave and half free." And he was right. This world can not exist under present conditions, half heathen and half Christian. It will become all of one or the other in the next fifty (50) years. I believe the Methodist Church can decide the day if she will.

The Honorable Lloyd George said recently, speaking at City Road Chapel, London, the burial place of John Wesley, "That the present collective members and communicants of the Methodist Church number not far short of forty millions, the greatest Protestant Community in the world. One can imagine what its influence has been, not only on the British Empire, and America, but on the destiny of the whole world."

God help us to be a deciding factor for Jesus Christ, and the salvation of the world. We dare not turn aside. We dare not evade the question. Lord help us to boldly take up our cross and go out into the field of activity. If we do not, woe unto the Church, but if we do, God will be with us with legions of angels to assist and bless.

SPRINGFIELD DISTRICT.

E. M. Antrim, Superintendent.

Dear Bishop and Brethren:

A modern District Superintendent, with present day responsibilities is not like the mythical freshman, who did not know what to do with his

"week-end." There are not enough hours in the day nor days enough in the week to keep pace with the growing demands upon his time and strength. Not only does he give the day to the most nerve-fagging work, but not infrequently he is a "night-rider," speeding his car over the dusty roads of his District while all others of his flock are peacefully asleep, with his eye on the distant dome of the capitol building which guides him like a pillar of fire in a new wilderness of Israel. His greatest consolation is to see the work go forward. As for the sacrifices? It's a great life if you don't weaken!

Spiritual Activities.

This has been a tremendously trying year. But when the purse grows lean the soul grows fat. Adversity is the sure remedy of religious indifference. In spite of the current social unrest, the economic instability of the times, and the world-wide financial depression, many of our churches have prospered spiritually as never before. One faithful thermometer of the condition of the church is the average attendance at the Sunday School. Every church in the District but eight has made an increase in this particular over last year. Church membership likewise will this year register a net increase of at least 1200. Revival meetings have been held in most of the churches. Notable among them were those at Douglas Avenue, Blue Mound, Glenarm, Edinburg, Farmersville, Kincaid, Mt. Pulaski, Riverton, Rochester, Tovey, Shiloh, Stonington and Witt. Persistent evangelistic efforts in other ways have added many scores to our membership rolls. The wider work of religious education through Bible Classes, teacher training classes, Junior and Epworth Leagues, Church Nights and Daily Vacation Bible Schools has been making steady progress at many points. Daily Vacation Bible Schools were successfully conducted at Stonington, Taylorville, Farmersville, Niantic and First Church, Springfield. Kincaid held a week-day school of religious education every Wednesday for six months, with a total enrollment of 172. We wish time and space would permit us to describe in detail the work of each individual pastor. Some of those doing the most faithful work will make the least show in the statistical tables.⁶ Their labors count highly for the Kingdom just the same. We have over twenty-five Epworth Leagues in operation with an enrollment of over 1400. Some new Leagues have also been organized during the year. Among the outstanding Leagues are those at Pana, Morrisonville, Pawnee, Kumler, Laurel, Douglas Avenue, First, Buckeye, Sharpsburg, Nokomis, Hillsboro, Edinburg and Divernon. A goal we have definitely set for the new year is "an Epworth League in every charge and special stress on young people's work." Successful Church Night Programs have been carried out at Douglas Avenue, Kumler, Buffalo, Mechanicburg and Morrisonville. Many other activities deserve special notice, but time forbids. "Is the work of the Kingdom really advancing on the District?" Answer, "It is." We hope the rate will be accelerated in the new year.

Ministerial Salaries.

Now, blessed be fried chicken! May its appetizing odors never grow less! Succulent incense arising from half a hundred chicken fries have helped more than one church out of a financial deficit this year. The economic conditions prevailing over the country have put the churches to the severest financial strain in their experience. Our great agricultural constituency has been suffering from a financial slump well-nigh paralyzing. In addition, the coal strike, lasting from April to September, absolutely cut off all sources of income, to many of our communities depending upon the mining industry. Faithful workers have had to sweat blood to make ends meet. Those at the center of responsibility have generally done their full duty and deserve highest praise. A sense of responsibility on the part of the whole membership, combined with adequate canvasses, better financial methods and a full recognition of the principle of stewardship would work wonders in many churches. Slowly we are bringing order out of chaos. But what some of the ministers have to endure in the matter of delayed salary payments and general financial anxiety is a severe trial and would discourage most men of other professions. We began the year with total salary estimates somewhat under the year before as was expected. Estimates for the new year show a few decreases and a few increases, but with a total net increase for the whole District amounting to $1450. This is a great achievement, considering the times.

The Centenary.

We have discovered from previous experience that it is impossible to estimate accurately in advance of the actual reports the amount of money brought to Conference to be reported on Centenary and other benevolences. In most cases subscriptions fall due on September 1st. That leaves but a limited time in which to make collections before Conference. A few churches will report an increase, notably Pana with nearly $10,000 to its credit, but in spite of most faithful efforts most of them will show a decrease over last year. The Easter Tithe collection resulted in an offering of some $2000. Most subscribers who are delinquent would gladly pay, but actually lack the cash to do it. There is not a little misinformation abroad concerning the Centenary. Too many people are quick to accept rumors as facts and either use that as an excuse not to pay their subscriptions or to create a local atmosphere inimical to the great part our church is playing in world redemption. If only our people would generally take and read the Church papers, much of the misinformation and lack of sympathetic touch with the mighty things being done in the name of the Lord would give way to hearty cooperation. When our people reach the standard of self-abnegation for the true religion that some folk do for their imperfect religion the Kingdom of God would move forward by leaps and bounds.

Women's Societies.

As usual the women's societies have been exceedingly active and successful this year. The F. M. S. will show receipts amounting to —, while the W. H. M. S. will show a small increase over last year. Ladies Aid Societies have had a remarkable year. Probably not less than $20,000 has been raised this year by these faithful women in ways past finding out. The most notable records were made by the Tylorville Society with a record of $3335; Kumler, which raised $2582; Douglas Avenue, which reached the figure of $1456, and Witt, which took in $1100.

Church Building Enterprises.

Twice this year the Superintendent's mail brought startling news. Once the letter came from Brother Munch of Sharpsburg, announcing that their church had burned down the day before, and a second time from Brother McCreery that the Millerville church had also burned to the ground. But what at first seemed a supreme disaster may prove a blessing in disguise. For, already the corner stone of a new brick church has been laid at Sharpsburg and the Board at Millersville has voted to rebuild and will begin operations soon. The former building will cost not less than $16,000 and the latter about $10,000. Likewise a beautiful brick parsonage, costing about $10,000, has been erected at Owaneco under Brother Martin's leadership, while Shiloh is remodeling its church plant at a cost of $1500. The people of Rochester under the leadership of Brother W. G. Montgomery, have purchased a site for a new church at a cost of $1000. Although this has been the most difficult financial year in our experience other building and improvements (including the Springfield advances hereafter noted) have been made at a total cost of some $135,000. Moreover, about $20,000 has been paid on old indebtedness. Some $18,470 has been left in bequests to certain churches of the District, including about $10,000 from the Judd Estate left to the Springfield Churches, about $2100 from the Satterly Estate to the Irving Church, $2500 from the Cantrall and other estates to the Rochester Church and $1000 from the Grantham Estate to the Butler Church. This brings the gifts of the people to these purposes up to the astonishing total of $176,500 in this the leanest of all years, which is two and one-half times what was contributed last year and five times the amount, the year previous.

The Work in the Capital City.

The achievements of our Springfield Churches have been remarkable in several lines. One only needs to remember the personnel of the Springfield pastors and laymen to discover the secret. In every church and community enterprise these men are always at the fore-front, from taking a leading and vigorous part in the activities of the Civic League which has done such good work in improving moral conditions in the Capital City, to the carrying forward of a complete church program in highly efficient form.

Every church in the City of Springfield but one has made extensive material improvements this year. Kumler remodeled and redecorated her auditorium at a cost of $2500. Douglas Avenue redecorated her entire plant at a cost of $2000 and purchased property adjoining the church for a parish house at a cost of $4500. Eighteenth Street has purchased and all but paid for a site for her new church at a cost of $5100. While the new Wesley Church, Parish House and Parsonage will have a completed plant valued at $30,000. This church and plant, made largely out of bricks from the pavements of Springfield, will be dedicated in October. But the outstanding achievement was the remodeling of First Church at a cost of $88,000. Practically every dollar of this amount was subscribed in advance of building operations. The auditorium has been remodeled and redecorated, pews replacing the old opera chairs on the main floor. Social and Sunday School rooms extend under the entire plant, accommodations to serve 600 banqueters being provided. In addition, floors of the annex are devoted to Sunday School and other religious activities, including a gymnasium on the top floor. This is one of the most completely equipped church plants in the Illinois Conference. Including what has been paid in cash on these improvements the people of First Church have contributed for all purposes this year not less than $70,000 in cash.

Work Among New Americans.

Our Home Missionary projects at Coalton, Schram City and Kincaid, in charge of three Centenary workers, Miss Corinne M. Calvert, Miss Faye Park and Miss Flora M. Clark, has been moving on steadily this year. It is hoped that a new Mission Chapel may soon be erected at Coalton and the Sunday School and other services moved out of the jail, where they have so long been compelled to meet. The work at Schram City has already progressed far enough for the people to begin talking about organizing a church society and building a place of worship, while the program of activities carried on at Kincaid, temporarily interrupted by the resignation of one of our workers, has helped build up this new and intensely interesting field. Bible Classes, English Classes, Sewing Classes, Club activities, Daily Vacation Bible Schools and other features, in addition to the work of religious education, are touching these new people through their children in vital ways. We find them responsive and appreciative. This work ought to be increased and enlarged.

And now we come to the close of another year. It has not been an easy one. The task has tried all our powers, but our faithful workers, to whom the credit is due, have never faltered. We need always the help of the great Captain and Bishop of our souls, and to Him we ascribe the praise.

"Oh Master, we've placed our hands to the plow,

But the field is hard and rough,

And our faith is weak, and faint our hearts—

Oh Master, we've not enough

Of courage as now we face the task,

Fain would we turn back.

Lord give us strength for the toil we pray,

Lord give us the faith we lack."

(B) STANDING COMMITTEES AND BOARDS.

BENEVOLENCES.

We wish to express our appreciation of the interest manifested by the members and friends of our church in the Centenary. Notwithstanding the financial depression through which we have passed, many have practiced self-denial in order to pay their pledges. Some have borrowed money to do so. There are those, however, who have not participated in the Centenary in proportion to their means.

We recommend that all such, whether new members or those whom the Lord has prospered, should be led to recognition of their vows to the church and their privilege in having a part in the making of the Kingdoms of the world the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ. To this end we must stress the teaching of Christian Stewardship in the preaching of the Word, in young people's study classes, and by the distribution of stewardship literature. We should lead our people to recognize themselves as stewards of the material treasure with which God has entrusted them. We should form them into tithing bands.

We commend the program of missionary education put on by our Area Secretary, Claudius S. Moore, and his staff, and hope he may have a similar program for this year.

W. W. THEOBALD,
PETER KITTEL.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD.

Annual Meeting.

The Illinois Conference Deaconess Board met in regular session at Grace Church, Decatur, Friday afternoon, September 8, at four o'clock with the following members present: Dr. C. W. F. Smith, Mrs. Eva C. Fields, Rev. C. R. Morrison, Dr. Alva Piersel, Dr. Wm. Beadles, Miss Corrine M. Calvert, Miss Harriet L. Severns, and Rev. G. L. Losh.

The officers were re-elected for the ensuing year.

The character of each deaconess was passed upon and reports of Mrs. Eva C. Fields, Miss Corrine M. Calvert, and Miss Harriet L. Severns were given and filed.

The Board desires to call attention to the fine record of Chaddock Boys' School financially and otherwise. We earnestly solicit the hearty co-operation of every minister and layman in the support of this worthy institution.

This Board also heartily endorses the effort of the general Conference Deaconess Board to raise an endowment of $500,000.00 from which a pension fund may be had to adequately care for the retired deaconesses.

CHADDOCK BOYS' SCHOOL.

Superintendent's Report to the Conference Deaconess Board.

When we entered upon this year with less than half our boys full pay students, the financial side of the problem looked impossible. However, we felt we must care for as many as possible of the boys who had no one to help them. We have not only paid our current expenses up to June 1st, but have advanced over $1100 to pay interest and meet other necessary obligations to the Campaign and Building accounts, in the face of the most difficult conditions financially throughout the Conference which we have faced in the past ten years.

In securing the services of R. E. Vennum, who is devoting his entire time to the financial side of the work, we feel very hopeful of larger results. Mr. Vennum came to us only a very short time ago and has now gotten well acquainted with the spirit of the School and its work, has met in groups all the pastors of the Quincy District and many other Districts, and is continually cultivating the field from which we hope in the near future to reap results.

We are glad to report excellent work throughout the year by the best corps of instructors, house mothers and helpers in general we have ever had. The high character of the work, the fine atmosphere in the homes and in the school room, and on the playground are all due to the very fine spirit of co-operation which has characterized our workers.

Our eighth grade boys, with the help of Mr. Smith, have put one acre of our garden under irrigation. It was interesting to see these lads, some of them almost lost in the trench they dug to carry the water to the garden. They were a proud group of lads when the last pipe was connected and they saw the water falling over that acre at their command. A boy whose energies are directed in channels of construction and production finds greater joy than the one whose undirected or misdirected energies destroy and tear down.

We are beginning in a small way this year to do commercial gardening. We have sold $500 worth of vegetables besides supplying the table for forty people throughout the summer and storing by cold pack process several thousand quarts. The intensive gardening with our present acreage gives work that is wholesome, productive and not too heavy for the boys who remain for the summer and supplies one of the greatest demands of the School.

Seventy-one boys have been enrolled this year. We have earnestly tried to minister to the individual boy, creating at the same time an environment, an atmosphere where the development of each boy could proceed normally and naturally through his personality.

And now let us face the new year with resolute hearts. A tremendous task awaits willing hands and courageous hearts—with the thought that "Heaven does with us as we with torches do—not light them for ourselves" let us on to the goal of making permanent this home-garden for boys, that boys who lose so much when their homes are broken may find it again in Chaddock Boys' School, that we may have for generations to come some finely trained leaders instead of dwarfed and broken personalities.

Respectfully submitted,

EVA C. FRIELDS, Superintendent.

CHURCH LITERATURE.

From the days of Wesley to the present hour the growth of Methodism has been permeated by the influences of a literature, rich and spiritually virile. In order that the lives of our members may continue thus to be nurtured, we request our pastors faithfully to observe Good Literature Day in all our churches and to present the benefits to be derived from the use of our church publications, such as the Northwestern Christian Advocate, The Epworth Herald, and the Methodist Review.

We appeal to all leaders of our young people to co-operate with our pastors in seeing to it that all our homes give a place to one or more of our church periodicals. We commend the efforts of the Methodist Book Concern to provide a wholesome, and inspiring field of instructive reading for all our people.

To further inspire our members and workers we recommend that all pastors follow up Good Literature Day by giving a series of addresses, or sermons, on the great service now being rendered, and the worthy books being written, by present-day builders of the Kingdom.

J. A. BELL,
J. H. SINGLETON.

EVANGELISM.

Inasmuch as the revival meeting has played a great part in the building of Methodism and the Kingdom of God and that large numbers have been led to Christ through these meetings we wish to recommend the following:

1. That a revival meeting be held in every church sometime during this Conference year.
2. That when we honor the Holy Spirit in His leadership to direct us in Soul Winning we will be able to see more people won for the Master.
3. That the Pre-Easter services be observed as usual but not considered a substitute or the regular revival campaign.

The Church Revived First.

The type of special meetings needed in our churches today is one that will revitalize all departments of the church and bring our membership into a conscious relationship to God. We must insist on conversion that will make men and women invest their life interest and means in the program of Christ and the Church. We have too often thought of evangelistic meetings only as a special means of securing new members. The time has come when we must declare the old time doctrine of Methodism until conviction and a sense of righteousness awakens our congregations which will result in a Conference wide revival.

Family Worship.

"Back to your knees" should be the slogan in the homes of our people. The powerful effect of the family altar can never be measured and when God's Word is read and used as a Standard of Family Life great results will follow.

Win One—Stand By.

The Win One—Stand By program has been adopted as the great program of the church. We believe if this is properly stressed and systematically worked it will not only lead many to Christ who would not be won otherwise but it will also aid in the Christian Development of the church.

Decision Day.

The church membership is largely built up through the Sunday School. We believe that too much emphasis cannot be placed upon Decision Day and that it should be looked upon as a great day of in-gathering for the children.

First Quarterly Conference.

We believe so strongly that winning souls to Christ is the primary business of the church that we want to suggest that the District Superintendents at the first quarterly Conferences should consider well the all around evangelistic program for the year urging upon laymen and pastors throughout the Conference the importance of the task before them.

EDUCATIONAL REPORT.

The committee on education presents the following report: The year that has just closed has been one of the most difficult that has confronted our educational institution. The ever increasing standard, the necessary increase in salaries to meet the higher cost of living, the phenomenal increase in the student bodies all without a corresponding increase in revenue has made the strongest of our institutions greatly perplexed as to how they could meet the ever mounting expenses.

The Board of Education.

We congratulate the Board of Education of our church upon the development of its work in its several departments of service. We note that the conditions are country-wide by which our institutions of learning are struggling under financial conditions of most unusual character. The Board asks for the utmost co-operation of our Conferences everywhere on behalf of the institutions within their boundaries in this period of constantly enlarging student attendance and the increasing cost of standard maintenance.

We are pleased to note the fact that the Children's Day funds have now aided the total of 29,984 students to make their way through college, in the aggregate sum of $3,382,450. The collection has increased from year to year. Yet, under the growing student enrollment and other factors, the demand by our students for help increases steadily beyond the enlarged receipts.

The Wesley Foundation.

Two thousand one hundred and sixty-six Methodist Students were at the University of Illinois during the regular school year of 1921-1922 and in addition there were four hundred and sixty-five Methodists during the summer session of 1922, making a total for the year of two thousand six hundred and thirty-one. This is a little more than one-fourth of the total student body of the University.

Of this number one thousand one hundred and seventeen entered into relationship with Trinity Church (the Church of the Foundation) as affiliate members four thousand five hundred and seventy of these affiliate members being freshmen. There were in addition to this enough other students in the Epworth League and other organizations to bring the total number connected with the church past the one thousand four hundred mark.

The Wesley Foundation is seeking to develop laymen who will learn how to be constructive forces in the church while at the University. There are tremendous possibilities for lay leadership bound up in a great student body such as that at the University of Illinois. During this year 643 students actually were at work in some part of the Wesley Foundation program.

The program of religious education is developing in a very encouraging way. In the courses for which the University gives credit 120 students were enrolled. Twice that number sought admission to the classes but were hindered from taking the work by conflict with their other courses or standard University limitations. In addition to the credit courses 497 students were in the voluntary Bible classes.

The new Professor of Religious Education is W. A. Goodall, who holds a Ph. D. from Yale.

Special attention has been given to the problem of rural leadership. A large number of agricultural students were in the credit courses and in addition there have been a Country Life Club and a Rural Seminary. This work has great significant relationship to our country church problem.

Fifty-seven students were in the Life Service group. Four University of Illinois students are going to the foreign field this autumn; three to China and one to Egypt. Nine students are in our theological schools and this number will be increased next year. Four women graduates of the University have recently been accepted by the W. F. M. S. and will probably sail within the year.

The growing success of the work of the Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois creates a considerable financial embarrassment, it being very difficult to keep up with the financial needs. There must be a new Trinity Church at the earliest possible date, to furnish adequate facilities for worship for these University Students and there is very great need of maintenance funds to sustain the developing activities of the Foundation.

The primary significance of the work of the Wesley Foundation is that as a church we are seeking to conserve in the largest way the investment which we are making as citizens in that institution. We pay our taxes for its support together with other citizens of the commonwealth. We believe in public education but we are realizing that our responsibility as citizens and as Christians is not fulfilled when we have paid our taxes. What we are seeking for our young men and women is that they shall have thoroughly well developed characters, a due realization of their social responsibility, and a consecration of the fulfillment of that responsibility. Therefore we seek to bring up about the University of Illinois Christian influences which will make our investment as citizens a sound investment, assuring training not only of the mind and body but of the spirit as well.

Illinois Wesleyan University.

Fourteen years ago, in one of the great crises of the Illinois Wesleyan, Theodore Kemp was selected to step into the breach. This he gladly did, in that sacrificial spirit which has characterized all his predecessors. During his administration the endowment has been increased, new buildings have been erected, and the student body enlarged. But after these years of great and trying service he has seen fit to lay down his responsibility by handing in his resignation. This was accepted and he and his good wife will spend the greater portion of the year in travel and study.

To take his place in this crisis of the institution's life we have been fortunate in securing as the new President, that brother beloved among us, preacher, educator, administrator, W. J. Davidson. We welcome him in this new capacity and congratulate Illinois Wesleyan University upon this new day we believe will dawn under his inspiring leadership.

Attendance.

Under the last year of President Theodore Kemp's administration the Illinois Wesleyan University made an advance in attendance in the College of Liberal Arts, the enrollment therein being 372 students. The total enrollment for the year in all departments was 591 students. The advance registration indicates an advance in the College of Liberal Arts to 400 students and probably more.

Financial Aid to Students.

The Wesleyan could have at least fifty more students than she will have in Liberal Arts if she had fifty additional scholarships to award to worthy and scholarly young people who have expressed a desire to enroll this year. The Williams Fund, which is used entirely for scholarships, has all been distributed. Friends who desire to aid young people can find no better direct method of doing so than by establishing a scholarship as a permanent investment.

New Gymnasium.

The new Gymnasium costing $180,000 is nearly completed. Its dedication will occur early this fall. It is a modern gymnasium in every respect and reflects great credit upon those who designed it and supervised its construction. Associated with its work will be the regular classes in physical education under the direction of specially trained professors who will have charge of the work for men and women respectively. Also all organized athletics will henceforth center about this great new building.

The New Library.

Under the wise direction of the Buck Estate Trustees the beautiful new Buck Memorial Library is now well under construction. This building will be a striking architectural contribution to the University and the city of Bloomington. It is a vital part of the education of a young person to be able to see such a building as this will be for four years of the formative period of his life. Besides this, the building will embody the most up-to-date facilities for efficient library work.

The New Gateway.

The Association of Commerce of Bloomington is making the University a present of a magnificent entrance to the campus from North Main Street into University Avenue, and the columns are now being built. This will be known as Foundation Gate.

Religious Organizations.

Large and strong organizations for student religious work and for Life Service training for home and foreign fields are operative on the campus and renewed interest in the spiritual life and work of the students is manifest.

An A-Class College.

The Illinois Wesleyan University is an A-Class College according to the highest academic standards for our colleges today. The significance of this should be appreciated by all pastors upon whose advice young people select the school where their college education will be taken.

The College of Music

The Bloomington School of Music, with over 200 students, made overtures to President Kemp in the spring, looking toward a merger into the College of Music of the Wesleyan University. The merger was approved and we will open with the largest and strongest music faculty in the history of the school. Dean Westbrook, a graduate of Albion College, a fine Methodist with successful experience, and Mr. Rewick, pianist, another Methodist man, will be distinctive additions to this College and also to the musical life of the community.

Illinois Woman's College.

ATTENDANCE: The enrollment of students increases each year. In the last four years it has gone up as follows: 349, 359, 432, 473. The advance registration for the coming year is larger than ever before, and dormitories and class rooms will be filled to overflowing.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES: The year has been marked by special interest in religious activities both of faculty and students. An effort is made to connect every student in some way with a definite religious life, and to give her training in some phase of religious and social work. The program includes special courses in the Bible and Religious Education, volunteer Bible study and Missionary classes, suggestions on possible lines of Life Service, Y. W. C. A. work, Sunday School, Epworth League, and all helpful Social and Community Service.

STUDENT AID: The college does all it can to help worthy and promising students who cannot meet full college expense. During the last year it helped twenty-five ministers' daughters to a total of $3,286, and altogether it assisted eighty-five students to a total of $11,508. Scholarship endowment is needed of at least $250,000 to help educate these worthy young women. No finer benevolence can be suggested.

ENDOWMENT: The greatest problem before the Illinois Woman's College is that of adequate endowment and equipment and current support. A committee from the Board of Education of the Church recently visited the College, and after a careful survey reported that an additional million dollars is essential even to present needs.

The College appeals to the Conference for the fullest sympathy and co-operation in its efforts to secure adequate current support and endowment.

We suggest for nomination for trustees to fill a vacancy in the Class of 1925, M. H. MacLean of Chicago, and to fill a vacancy in the Class of 1927, Dr. Edmund J. James.

Theological Schools.

The presence here this year of Professor W. D. Schermerhorn of Garrett Biblical Institute and Dean Jas. A. Bebee of Boston University enables us to call attention anew to our theological schools. Never have our Schools of Theology possessed better faculties nor have they been possessed with a finer group of students. We commend these schools not only to our young men who are considering entering the ministry, but we also commend them to the men and women of the Church who have the possibilities of contributing the financial aid necessary to hold them in their present high position.

Distribution of Moneys.

We recommend that in the coming year as in the several years past the educational moneys be distributed as follows: 20% to the Board of Education, 35% to the Illinois Wesleyan, 35% to the Illinois Woman's College and 10% to the Wesley Foundation.

Banquet Committee.

We nominate for the Banquet Committee for the coming year: C. E. Pettit, chairman; A. R. Grumon, H. W. Hartman, G. L. Losh.

The Bi-Conference Movement.

One year ago this Conference, together with the Central Illinois Conference, inaugurated a movement for the purpose of upbuilding and endowing the Educational Institutions of these Conferences, and the respective funds for their Conference Claimants. This movement has come to be known as "The Bi-Conference Movement."

Each Conference appointed a committee of five to co-operate in developing plans for such a campaign, including a permanent organization with due representation of laymen. These committees named a Commission of seventy-six, with Bishop Nicholson as chairman. The commission included: The Bishop of the area; the heads of the seven Institutions or causes interested; the eleven District Superintendents of the Central Illinois and Illinois Conferences; two laymen from each of the eleven districts in the two Conferences; one pastor from each district; one representative from each board of trustees; one alumnus of each institution, and ten representatives to be selected at large.

The commission created an Executive Council of twenty-one, and the council named a Business Committee of five which could be easily called together, to keep in touch with the details of the campaign. This committee has held frequent meetings. The commission has met twice, and the council has had two meetings.

Plans for the campaign were worked out in conference with the Department of Finance of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church, represented by its counsellor, Dr. J. W. Hancher, who nearly always met with the committee. These plans were carried forward so that the various forms of pledges to be used were printed. Rev. J. F. Jones and Rev C. M. Duncan were appointed campaign managers for the Central Illinois and Illinois Conferences respectively. Information and pictures were collected for a campaign of education. At this point the work was halted by the proposal to remove Hedding College from Abingdon. The uncertainty of the Hedding plans continued until quite recently, so that no further steps have been taken.

The whole situation was carefully gone over by the Committee of Seventy-six at its meeting in Springfield August 9th, 1922, and through its Business Committee presented the following recommendations, which are approved by the Committee on Education, and are hereby presented to the Conference:

I.

The financial needs of our institutions are more evident and pressing than they were a year ago. Your committee is keenly aware of unsettled business conditions. However, the fact that the institutions themselves are suffering from these conditions, makes it more imperative that we shall come to their relief.

II.

We recommend that the Commission of Seventy-six be continued by the Conferences to serve during the ensuing conference year, and that this Commission be empowered to fill such vacancies in its number as may occur.

III.

Without invalidating the askings approved at the Conference sessions of 1921, we recommend that the plan of campaign be modified because of current conditions as follows:

(a) The total objective for the coming Conference year shall be $1,250,000. This shall be the first unit of the total original asking and shall be divided as follows:

Chaddock Boys School	$ 83,333.00
Conference Claimants, Central Illinois Conference.....	83,333.00
Conference Claimants, Illinois Conference.....	166,667.00
Expenses and Miscellaneous	83,334.00
Illinois Wesleyan University	333,333.00
Illinois Womans College	250,000.00
Wesley Foundation	250,000.00

Total.....$1,250,000.00

(b) We recommend that a campaign committee consisting of the heads of the institutions or a representative from each institution be formed for the purpose of carrying forward plans for the securing of designated gifts, in harmony with the action of the commission of seventy-six and the spirit of the campaign.

(c) Because of the unusual and serious condition of our College budgets, the sum of 25 per cent of the stated askings shall be available for the sustentation of the institutions, indebtedness or otherwise as may be determined by the respective Boards of Trustees.

(d) Although Hedding College has suspended work for one year, we recommend that it shall be permitted to receive all such gifts as are specifically designated for said College.

IV.

We recommend that we continue our request for the co-operation of the Board of Education through its Department of Finance, and that preparations for the campaign be begun at once. Also that the intensive campaign be put on during the months of April, May and June, 1923, and to close not later than midnight June 30, 1923.

V.

Pledges shall be made for two years, and payable in five equal installments, July 1, 1923, January and July 1, 1924, and January and July 1, 1925, all subscriptions to bear interest at 6% from maturity.

Bequests and Annuities.

We desire to call the special attention of our people to the opportunity for Kingdom service represented in bequests and annuity gifts to our educational institutions. For many to whom an immediate gift of like proportions is impossible, the remembrance of one of these institutions in a will, or a gift upon the annuity plan, will be the foundation of blessing to our colleges and their youth, which will abide through all the years. Equally, on behalf of every philanthropic cause and agency of our Conference does this method of help commend itself. There is no finer way by which to project one's own life and influence than is afforded by such benefactions. It is a cause for congratulation that, more and more, our people are recognizing this form of opportunity for great and endless service to their fellowmen.

We bespeak the co-operation of all our superintendents and pastors in a larger extension of this form of building for the future. It is requested that the helpfulness of such bequests and annuities be urged in connection with the annual educational services and sermons in the churches; that the Board of Education of our church and the Conference institutions furnish literature upon the plan and the need; that our pastors report to institutions the names of any who might become especially interested by a personal solicitation of such benefactions; and that from time to time the Quarterly Conferences include these proposals in their programs of discussion upon the interests of the church at large and of their own broader fields of service and influence. We recommend that the conference claimants endowment be also commended to the generous consideration of our people.

Bloomington Association of Commerce.

We call the attention of the Association of Commerce of Bloomington, Illinois, especially to the fact that the total Conference goal of $1,000,000.00 for Illinois Wesleyan was established and duly enacted at the Conference session of 1921. The people of Bloomington are aware of conditions throughout our territory which have made general campaigning impossible during the year past, and that the formal campaign program for the ensuing year contemplates raising the sum of $333,333 for the Wesleyan.

Under the circumstances we desire to express our appreciation of the faithfulness of the Bloomington Association of Commerce and the people of Bloomington to their local program of sustentation of the Wesleyan, the building of the gymnasium, the enlarging of the campus and otherwise promoting the needs of the University. The Illinois Conference desires to co-operate adequately in all these endeavors as conditions may permit.

HOSPITALS AND PHILANTHROPIES.

Forasmuch as the Cunningham Children's Home, of Urbana, Ill., the Baby Fold of Normal, Ill., the Mattoon Memorial Hospital of Mattoon, Ill., the Wesley Memorial Hospital of Chicago, the Chaddock Boys School of Quincy, Ill., are glad to avail themselves of contributions of cash and supplies from the churches therefore, be it

Resolved, That since the efforts of these institutions are for the advancement of the kingdom of Christ among men, it is the sense of this conference that contributions of cash and supplies should be liberal; and furthermore be it

Resolved, That the representatives of these institutions be granted a hearing from our pulpits, and our people urged to a generous response to these interests.

STATE OF THE COUNTRY.

Moving Pictures.

We recognize the supreme need of public control of the Motion Picture business and hereby protest against the poisoning of the public mind by vicious display of all vices upon the canvas.

Sabbath.

We insist that the Sabbath was made for rest and worship, that the Sunday laws are in harmony with these aims and that obedience to these principles and laws is necessary for the good of the Republic. We insist that the Sabbath shall not be prostituted for commercial purposes by any company of people under the guise of personal liberty, necessary amusement or any other subterfuge.

Capital and Labor.

We believe the general public has rights that have been overlooked and ignored in the recent strife between labor and capital and urge that both parties to the disputes and the American Congress adopt and enforce laws that will safeguard the rights of the public.

We deplore the conditions which brought about the horrible massacre at Herrin, Illinois, and demand that the fair name of Illinois be maintained in prosecuting and punishing all offenders participating in the crime which has brought such a shame to the state.

Temperance.

We stand for the faithful enforcement of the 18th Amendment.

We insist that the words "intoxicating liquor" have been fully defined by 60 years of use in the internal revenue department as "any liquor containing more than 1-2 of 1 per cent alcohol, that any vote for light wine and beer is thus a vote for nullification of the constitution, is contrary to public policy and that all possible efforts should be put forth to keep that question off the ballot in Illinois.

The Home Life.

We believe that the present unrest in society is largely due to the disorganized conditions in the modern home. Modern living conditions incline to disrupt the home unit. The stability of the home must precede any stability that will come to the nation. The home is the strongest bulwark of the nation.

We urge, therefore, that every christian home erect a family altar and assume the first responsibility for the training of the rising generation.

We deplore the fact that our institutions for restraining youth are full to overflowing and that many thousands of boys and girls are annually lost to their homes.

We urge a more intensive movement in our charges for saving both the boy and the girl.

Education.

We resent the opposition coming from the Roman Hierarchy against our Educational program in Italy and other parts of the world.

We urge upon Congress the hastening of the adoption of the Smith-Towner Bill now resting in the pigeon hole of the Committee's desk, which provides for the Education of all youth of our land that we no longer suffer the shame of illiteracy.

The Bible in the Schools.

We appreciate the act of the Constitutional Convention in adopting a provision in the new Constitution safeguarding the right of the Bible in the public schools of our State, and we recommend to all school teachers the reading of a few verses and uniting with the pupils every morning in repeating the Lord's Prayer as a very helpful means of producing in the minds of the young that knowledge of and respect for those moral and religious principles that are necessary to the life of the nation.

J. O. KIRKPATRICK,

A. A. HEINLEIN.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AND EPWORTH LEAGUE.

We rejoice in the continued advance during the year of both the work of the Sunday School and Epworth League.

The program of religious education which comprehends every phase of every life at every age is meeting with increasing response in many places within the Conference. The Daily Vacation Bible School has been inaugurated in an increasing number of charges and with increasing success both as to the number in attendance and the character of the work done. The Conference Epworth League Institute continues in notable achievement. We recommend to all pastors, directors of religious education, and workers in the Epworth League the serious consideration of the work of these established agencies.

In view of the fact that our Sunday Schools constitute the most extensively organized department of work among our young people, enrolling as it does fully three-fourths of that body, and that the Epworth League places its primary emphasis upon work among the young people it is the judgment of this committee that there must continue close co-ordination of work in these organizations. The work of the Epworth League among our young people is an outstanding achievement. All departments of work among our young people must be co-ordinated and brought to this high level of efficiency.

In further view of the close relation existing between these organizations and as a means of further interesting the young people of the Epworth League in the work of the Sunday School and likewise in interesting a greater number of our young people of the Sunday School in the work of the Epworth League we recommend to those formulating the program for work in the Conference Epworth League Institute place increasing emphasis upon methods in religious education.

We recommend that this institute for young people be given a permanent location and that provisions be made by the District Superintendents for a committee that shall have this location in charge for study and report of recommendation to the next annual Conference and, further, that this committee while making a study for such location shall give consideration to the development of a summer school for religious education.

COURTESIES.

The ninety-ninth session of the Illinois Annual Conference has been cared for and conducted in such a way as to obligate us to those co-operating.

We are sincerely grateful for the characteristic thoughtfulness of our pastor-host, who has done everything needful to the welfare of the Conference; also for the generosity of the congregation of Grace Church, which has so nobly performed its function as host; also for the generous response of the Methodism of the city in our behalf; also for the unbounded hospitality and encouragement of the churches of the city.

We are thankful for the civic welcome of the city and our kindly treatment by the public institutions and industrial concerns of Decatur. Especially do we want to thank the Farmers' State Bank for the use of its adding machines and fans at the offices of the Treasurer and Statistician and for its generous assistance in the care of our funds.

We are, furthermore, in the mood of thankfulness for the sympathetic and careful publicity of our Conference given by the newspapers of Decatur.

We are deeply grateful to those persons whose special service has heightened the value of our Conference. We highly appreciate the prophetic leadership and inspiring counsel of our honored President, Bishop Nicholson. We are mindful of the almost unprecedented difficulties facing the Cabinet in its portion of the Conference work and are eager to express our appreciation for its forbearance and individual solicitude.

Our sincere gratitude is hereby tendered Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of the Detroit area, for his gracious presence and inspiring sermon and addresses.

We have been ably led in song by our Directors, Phillips and Betcher. And we have enjoyed splendid musical numbers by several friends. To all these we give grateful thanks.

In view of the financial depression and because of the sacrificial spirit of our people throughout the Conference making so large offerings and benevolences possible; and in view of the large ingathering of new Christians as reported from all sides and parts of our great Conference, we tender our grateful thanks to God, our Heavenly Father.

We feel stricken in the passing of the late John G. Wooley, whose indomitable service to the cause of temperance can not be computed. We are thankful to our Heavenly Father for the life and service of this, His son.

H. F. CUSIC,
JESSE L. MURRELL.

EPWORTH LEAGUE INSTITUTE.

The Epworth League Institute has now become established in Methodism. More than 100 are being held this season in the United States. No church has anything for its young people that surpasses it. Our church, in its mighty effort to save a world, needs just such a program for its youth. It is social; it is educational; it is evangelistic. Someone has said, "The Institute is a combination college, circus and camp meeting."

The Institute of the Illinois Conference held its fourth annual session at Shelbyville, July 10-19, 1922, in the beautiful Forest Park near that city. Rev. E. V. Young and his local people did themselves proud acting as hosts to these Epworth Leaguers. Resolutions were adopted thanking the Chautauqua people for the use of the park. The total regular registration was 327, over 100 more than last year; besides 77 over the week-end and many others who came from far and near for a part of the time. Some of these camped out in tents, while others roomed in dormitories and cottages.

Such busy days as everyone did have. They were running over with things to do. It was hard to enforce the rest period. With the morning watch at 6:30 a. m. till curfew at 10:00 p. m., one could find something to do all day long.

The success of this institute, the best we have ever held from the standpoint of attendance, spirit, finance and results, is largely due to the following officers, all of whom were elected to serve another year, and form the Illinois Conference Epworth League Institute Commission:

E. G. Sandmeyer, Urbana, President of the Commission; Dean C. R.

Booth, Pana, Chairman of the Program Committee; E. V. Young, Shelbyville, Chairman of the Local Arrangements Committee; H. G. Beck, Hoopeston, Chairman of Finance Committee; J. B. Butler, Blue Mound, Chairman of Recreation Committee; Mrs. N. M. Rigg, Decatur, Dean of Women; Howard Leach, Quincy, Secretary and Registrar; Jesse Murrell, St. Joseph, Director of Music; D. V. Gowdy, Virginia, who was the steward; G. L. Losh, Chesteen Smith, Herbert A. Keck, A. R. Grummon, T. H. Tully and W. G. Pulliam.

The following laymen were also elected as members of the Commission: Judge H. R. Snively, Thomas V. Hopper, Wm. R. Baker, Essel Divallon, Louis Unger, Carl Show.

The following members of the faculty were a great inspiration to the student body and the young people are loud in their praise of the splendid work they did.

E. G. Sandmeyer was in charge of Morning Watch, using the theme, Christian Stewardship.

Dr. Gilbert Stansel, who came from Wilmette, Illinois, taught the class in the New Testament, and T. H. Tull, the Old Testament; W. G. Pulliam taught the class in advanced work, and A. R. Grummon the Life Service Course; under the direction of G. L. Losh in the Work of Evangelism and Gilbert Stansel in General League Methods the Leaguers of this Conference were inspired to do their best to win souls for Christ and to use the best possible methods in doing their work. J. D. Butler directed the recreation, ably assisted by others on the faculty and student leaders.

Special Services.

The program for special evening services included addresses by faculty members and others, Dr. W. J. Davidson being on the list; stunt night, students' meeting, circus and camp fire.

On Sunday at 9:00 a. m., Dr. Stansel led the love feast and it was evident that the power of God was working in the hearts of the people getting ready for a great Sabbath Day's victory. In fact, all through the week we felt we were building up to the climax which came on Sunday morning at the annual life-work service, when 53 of the finest young people in the Illinois Conference came forward and gave themselves for the first time to some form of life service. It was a thrilling sight. Some 30, who had previously come, led the way. The roads led that morning from Shelbyville to everywhere. The brave-hearted youth who had laughed, played, prayed and studied through the week now were consecrating themselves to go along those paths to the home field and the ends of the earth. Rev. A. R. Grummon is carefully following up these folks and is sending letters to local pastors and district superintendents.

At 3:00 p. m Dr. Stansell, who was a popular leader on the grounds, brought a helpful and appropriate message. On the island at 7, A. R. Grummon and Jesse Murrell conducted a very inspiring vesper service and the closing sermon was preached by Thomas H. Tull. When all reports were in there was a total of 57 Life Work Candidates. Possibly the whole thing is best summarized in the words of one of our popular Institutors:

"What happy friendships we form! The air is charged with friendliness! Stay aloof if you can! One Institute Veteran names more than ninety friends in last year's group picture. Certain young people annexed several dozen correspondents. All of us cherish memories of heart-to-heart talks with young people of kindred ideas, common creeds, and mutual likes and dislikes.

"Then what manifold lessons we learned! Well filled note books and capacity-crammed heads attest to the popularity of the study-classes. Class discussions are snappy. They embrace every subject of interest to the Epworthians, from the theological tangles to the reasons for successful socials or dismal devotional meetings.

"Most blessed of all, we grow spiritually; prayers and testimonies become spontaneous; guidance in the choice of lifework is sought and obtained. Young people from all parts of the Conference find God's plan for their lives. For a little while we are apart with the Master.

"Then back to the Valley of Service we go, better fitted for its tasks. A host of new friends, a wealth of ideas to try out in the home League, a deeper consecration—these we gain at Institute. An intensive training school, yet the happiest of vacations—these we enjoy."

C. R. BOOTH, Dean.

PROHIBITION.

Resolutions From the Laymen's Association, Also Adopted by Illinois Conference.

That the Laymen's Association of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, notes the insidious and persistent attacks from almost every conceivable angle that are being made upon the Eighteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, the Volstead Act, and the appropriation bills intended to strengthen the enforcement of prohibition.

We are in favor of the strict enforcement of the Volstead Act, and against any movement that will legalize the sale of light wines and beer.

We call upon all law-abiding people to vote at the coming election for local officials who will enforce the laws, members of the state legislature and members of Congress who will stand for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the prohibition laws as they are now written. We call upon the President of the United States and others in authority to appoint men of approved integrity and unflinching courage who will administer the prohibition laws without fear or favor to any man.

Conference Resolution.

WHEREAS, The outlawed liquor traffic continues to be the arch-anarchist of the ages;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That, while supporting our own church temperance organization, we give fullest endorsement to the Anti-Saloon League as the agency of the federated churches in their fight against this sum of villainies, including the effort for the return of the traffic through the avenue of beer and wine.

With our last General Conference "we call upon our churches and people not only to continue but largely to increase their moral and financial support of this tested agency for the accomplishment of those phases of the enforcement, conservation and extension of prohibition which cannot be wisely undertaken or successfully carried through by any single denomination."

We will regularly welcome to our pulpits representatives of the League to present its claims.

We elect as our Directors on the Board of Trustees of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois, Drs. T. N. Ewing and Chris. Galeener, and Hon. T. E. Lyon, Dr. Hiram Buck Prentice and John W. Webster.

PARKER SHIELDS,
R. Y. WILLIAMS.

PUBLICATION OF THE MINUTES.

Your committee wishes to report that the contract of 1921 for the publication of the Minutes has been renewed for 1922 and reads as follows:

The Illinois State Register Printing Company has agreed to publish 5000 copies of the Conference Minutes, of 224 pages each at a cost of $1192.50 and ten cents for each line changed from the original, including postage.

Your committee also recommends that each pastor, District Superintendent, and preacher in detached service, be required to pay into the Minute Fund, an amount equal to one-fifth of one per cent of his cash salary, to defray the cost of this publication, and that this quota be paid before the close of the present Conference Session. That the Minutes be distributed as nearly as possible, pro rata on the basis of the amount paid to the fund.

Your committee suggests that the Conference express its opinion regarding the publication of a Centennial Number of the Conference Minutes for 1923.

Your committee further recommends that the Secretary of the Conference be elected Editor of the Minutes, and that the Treasurer furnish the publishers a mailing list and a quota of the Minutes to be sent to each preacher. That the publisher of the Minutes for 1922 be instructed to publish the names of all those who have failed to pay their quota to the Minute Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

C. S. BOYD,
C. F. JUVINALL,
E. M. ANTRIM.

BOARD OF STEWARDS.

WHEREAS, We believe it to be fundamental to the success of any pension system that its funds shall be administered in justice and equity, as nearly as possible; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That from the cash allowance of any claimants whose years of service upon which his claim is based are not previously paid to the Preachers' Aid Society there shall be deducted, for five consecutive years, the sum of Nine Dollars for each year of delinquent dues, and from the claim of a widow of a deceased preacher Six Dollars per year for which dues have not been paid, until the sum of Forty-five Dollars for each delinquent year has been fully paid. These deductions are to be indicated in a separate column in the report of the Board of Stewards.

WHEREAS, The Conference has to the best of its judgment, appointed to constitute its Committee on Conference Relations, members who are brotherly, fair minded, discriminating, and sympathetic, men who we believe are seeking to give the most earnest and careful consideration of each Claimant for classification; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That this body endorses, approves and commends the action of this Committee in its efforts to secure equity and justice in the classification of our claimants in harmony with the legislation of the church and in keeping with the facts in its possession.

RESOLVED ALSO, That the District Superintendent be requested to report to the Committee on Conference Relations, at the opening of the Conference Session, all cases where members are coupling business pursuits for compensation with pastoral work to such an extent that only a part of their time is devoted to the work of the Church to which they have been assigned. This Committee is hereby directed, after proper consideration, to recommend to the Conference what relation, if any, such members shall sustain to this Conference. Be it further

RESOLVED, That the case of all members of this Conference, who are rendering service, or are seeking appointments to render service to organizations or institutions, not under the direction and control of the Methodist Episcopal Church and whose appointment, as per direction of the Discipline, requires the recommendation of the District Superintendents and two-thirds confirmatory vote of the Conference, and in harmony with the Conference rule No. 23 shall be referred to the Committee on Conference Relations, and no such an appointment shall be made until after the recommendation of this Committee in the case shall be heard.

WHEREAS, In the past there have been misunderstandings regarding the import and significance of the recommendation of the District Superintendents and the confirmation of the Conference, of an appointment; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That no member of this Conference appointed to any position, requiring, as directed by the Discipline, the recommendation of the District Superintendents and a two-thirds confirmatory vote of the Conference, shall construe such action as a pledge on the part of the Conference of Annuity for Service rendered under such appointment. Be it also

RESOLVED, That the claims of all members of the Conference upon the Annuity Funds of the church for service rendered outside of the regularly constituted organization of the church, be presented to the Conference by the Board of Stewards, with the recommendation that the claims for these years of service be disallowed for the Conference year 1922-23, on the ground of expediency. Board presents the name of W. N. Rutledge, 9 years; W. A. Smith, 3 years.

RESOLVED, That all members of the Conference be required to file with the Secretary of the Conference, who shall transmit the same to the Secretary of the Board of Stewards, a complete pastoral record of all items which may affect the annuity rights of the present or future claimants. And that no claim shall be allowed until such record has been filed and approved by the Committee on Conference Relations.

All Ministers who are received into the Conference whether from probation or by transfer, or in any other way shall be required to file a similar record with the Secretary of the Conference for approval and printing. A similar record shall be filed covering the years of service of ministers' wives.

When a minister is transferred out of the Conference, the Secretary of the Conference shall forward to the Secretary of the Conference to which the Brother has been transferred his complete record, and also that of his wife.

A claimant on the funds of the Annual Conference may draw his first Quarterly Benefits October 1, following the session of the Conference at which he or she may become a claimant. But such prospective claimants must first file a claim with the Secretary of the Board of Stewards not later than August 1, preceding the Annual Conference Session by the action of which he expects to become a claimant.

That with every member of the Illinois Conference it is a matter of good faith that he become an active member of, and pay his Annual dues to the Preachers' Aid Society in the benefit of whose funds he is sure to share. That every candidate for admission into membership of the Illinois Conference before he is admitted into the Conference shall pledge himself to become a member of and pay his Annual dues to the Preachers' Aid Society.

That every member of the Conference appointed to service other than that of Pastor or District Superintendent, shall file with the Statistical Secretary of the Conference the name of the position held and the amount of salary or income received, and the Statistical Secretary is hereby instructed to include these reports in the Statistics of the Conference.

That all who handle Conference Claimants' Funds should furnish bonds in such amounts as the Conference may decide.

That the Conference year of the Board of Stewards begin September 1, and end August 31, and that the accounts of the Treasurer of the Board of Stewards be audited annually.

That the income on invested funds remain in the hands of the Treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Society, until the Treasurer of the Board of Stewards shall need the same in order to meet the claims due from quarter to quarter, and that upon the request of the Treasurer of the Board of Stewards, the Treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Society shall remit to the Treasurer of the Board of Stewards in the amount apportioned for the coming year.

That for the sake of expediency the Board of Stewards be authorized to pay annuity at the rate of $24.00 per year instead of the legal rate of $26.00.

That for the Conference year 1922-23 each pastoral charge be apportioned an amount equal to 10% of the pastor's cash claim for the Conference claimants of the Illinois Conference.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE CHADDOCK BOYS' SCHOOL.

Quincy, Illinois, May 1, 1922.

Report of the General Financial condition and condensed statement of the Treasurer of the Chaddock Boys' School from May 1, 1921, to May 1, 1922:

Building Account:

On deposit subject to check as per Treasurer's Book, Illinois State Bank of Quincy, Quincy, Ill., May 1, 1922	53.17

Campaign Account:

On deposit subject to check as per Treasurer's Book, Illinois State Bank of Quincy, Quincy, Illinois, May 1, 1922.....		75.00
--	--	-------

Building and Other Pledges:

In this account we have in signed pledges considered by your Executive Board as being good from Campaign, A. D. 1920.....	10,113.00
Pledges Building.....	2,077.00
Pledges for School and General Purposes.....	10,656.00
Estimated investment in live stock, machinery, etc.....	1,500.00	24,346.00
Total Resources.....		$183,224.41

LIABILITIES.Liability Account:

Indebtedness on real estate purchased from T. C. Poling, balance.....	$ 8,000.00
Indebtedness on notes to Illinois State Bank of Quincy, money borrowed.....	9,000.00
Indebtedness on note to E. V. Moorman, money borrowed.....	4,500.00

There are no outstanding unpaid bills on the building and no unpaid bills for the conduct of the School in the past year.
Total Liabilities.....	$ 39,500.00
Excess in Resources over Liabilities.....	$143,724.41

You will see from the foregoing statement that there is not one dollar deficit in the Current Expense Fund—the above indebtedness was incurred through the purchase of the Poling tract, and the remainder the Trustees thought it necessary to add to the fund of more than $35,000.00 already contributed toward the Building Program in order to accommodate under good conditions the faculty and about sixty boys, and the Trustees have reason to believe there is quite a large equity in the Asay Farm above what it is appraised and carried at in this statement.

SCHOOL FOR UNDERGRADUATES.Report of Committee.

The committee of three appointed to act in co-operation with a similar committee from the Central Illinois Conference to organize a school for undergraduates in the Conference Course of Study met at Bloomington with the committee from Central Illinois Conference January 10, 1921, and organized by electing C. D. Robertson chairman and Stanley Ward, secretary.

The Itinerants' School was organized by electing C. D. Robertson dean and Stanley Ward, registrar, and selecting four men from each of the two Boards of Examiners as a faculty.

The school was held in Bloomington at Illinois Wesleyan University, June 20-30, 1922. Instruction in the entire conference course of study was given, and also two courses of special lectures. Dr. Joshua Stansfield gave a course on "Religion as an Essential of Successful Preaching" and Prof. Solon C. Bronson gave a course on "The Homiletic Use of the Biblical Material." The mornings were devoted to class room work in the course of study, the afternoons to lectures and athletics, and the evenings to study with an occasional lecture. The athletics were under the direction of Mr. Miller of the Bloomington Y. M. C. A. Students and faculty were housed in Kemp Hall and this association was not the least valuable feature of the school. Round tables were conducted each evening on practical matters pertaining to the work of the ministry.

Twelve men from Illinois Conference and twelve from Central Illinois were in attendance for the full term. Two from this conference were excused for sickness. Examinations in the entire course were given the last day of the school and the results of these examinations will show the value of the school in a very practical manner.

The generous co-operation of the Commission on Courses of Study made possible a very valuable program and made possible the two courses of special lectures which added so greatly to the interest and value of the school. The class-room work of the instructors was equal to that in any regular school, and it is worth noting that all the instructors were college and seminary men.

We believe the school has not only justified itself, but that it is by far the most valuable means yet found to afford the needed help to the men deprived of the privilege of the seminary.

We recommend that the school be made permanent according to the plan of organization proposed by the Board of Examiners.

Plan of Organization of the Itinerants' School of the Illinois and Central Illinois Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Name.

The name of this organization shall be THE ITINERANTS' SCHOOL OF THE ILLINOIS AND CENTRAL ILLINOIS CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Government.

The organization and government of the School shall be vested in a joint committee consisting of three members from each conference. One of these three shall be the Chairman of the Board of Examiners; the other two shall be elected by the Board of Examiners.

The two elected by the Examiners shall hold office for one year and may be re-elected.

The Joint Committee shall have power to organize and conduct the School, provide the faculty and special lecturers, and take general oversight of the work of the School.

The Joint Committee shall work with the counsel and help of the Commission on Courses of Study as far as is practicable.

The Joint Committee shall be the final authority in questions of policy.

Faculty.

The faculty shall be chosen from the Examiners of the two Conferences.

Session.

The sessions of the School shall be held annually as soon after the commencement season as is practicable.

The sessions shall be held at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington.

Attendance Required.

All students in the Conference Course of Study shall be required to attend the School unless previously excused by the Chairman of their respective Boards of Examiners.

Finance.

The expense of the School shall be met by apportioning to the churches a minimum of Fifty Dollars ($50) for each district, or such larger sum as the conferences shall fix upon from year to year.

The District Superintendents are asked to provide for the collection of the amount designated before June 1.

Examinations.

All examinations except those required by the Discipline to be given at Conference, shall be held the last day of the School.

Written Work.

No student shall be admitted to the examination in any subject unless his required Written Work in that subject is done.

Review by Conferences.

The work of the School shall be subject to review and approval by the two Conferences.

Continuance.

This plan of organization shall continue from year to year unless modified or abrogated by the Conferences.

Memoirs.

C. W. CASELEY.

C. W. Caseley, son of William and Charlotte Caseley, was born in Peterboro, England, November 18, 1853. His early education was received in the cathedral school of that city, and in Twyford Hall School, of London, England. He came to America in 1872 and located in Bristol, New Hampshire. August 9, 1873, he married Martha M. Randolph. To this union four children were born: Herbert W., Lucy E., Cyrus W., and Charlotte W. He was converted and joined the Methodist Church at Bristol, N. H., in 1873. The same year he moved to Knightstown, Ind., with his uncle, John Caseley. He was licensed to preach in May, 1878, by the Knightstown Methodist Church, and the following year moved to Kansas, joining the Kansas Conference and was sent to the Osborne and Bristow Circuit. Shortly after this the Conference was divided and his lot fell in the Northwest Kansas Conference, where he filled the following charges: Kirwin, Solomon City, Lincoln, Minneapolis. In 1892 he transferred to the Missouri Conference and served: Brookfield, Tarkio, Stansberry, Cameron and Hamilton. In 1900 he came to the Illinois Conference and was assigned to the following charges: Charleston Circuit, Villa Grove, East Lynn, Hume, Newman, St. Joseph, Mahomet, Winchester and Petersburg. While at the latter place his health broke down, but he struggled on to the end of the year, when he took a retired relation, spending a few months in New Hampshire. When his case became hopeless he went to his home in Jackson, O., where he passed away April 1, 1922. The remains were taken to Bristol, N. H., his first home in America, where funeral services were conducted by the Rev. G. N. Dorr, pastor of the Methodist Church, April 6. There remain to mourn his going his wife, who spent forty-two years of unbroken service with him in the ministry, the four children already mentioned, two sisters and three brothers, one of whom, the Rev. A. L. Caseley, is a member of the Illinois Conference and pastor at Grace Church, Bloomington. His last year of life was one of intense suffering through all of which his faith was strong and bright and his hope in the Christ was never dimmed.

His pastorate of six years at Winchester was the crowning climax of his long and successful ministerial career. So large a place did he fill, and so great was his influence, in the life of the city and community, among all classes of people, that on a Sunday morning subsequent to his going out of this life, a union memorial service was held in Winchester, in which all the churches joined, all paying high tribute to the able and winning qualities of both head and heart of this man of God whom they had known so long, and had learned to so dearly love.

J. JAY DUGAN.

J. Jay Dugan was born in Scottsville Ark., October 6, 1848, and died in Petersburg, Ill., May 10, 1922. He joined the Illinois Conference in the fall of 1872. He married R. Florence Denton February 15, 1873. To this union were born four children: Dr. W. J. Dugan, of Paris, Ill.; Dr. J. C. Dugan, of Dexter, Mo.; Dr. R. D. Dugan, and Mrs. Pearle D. Crenshaw, both of Springfield, Ill. His first wife died September 22, 1916, and he married Mrs. Sierra Payne, March 18, 1919. He took a retired relation to the conference in the fall of 1911. He is survived by his wife, three sons, one daughter and five grandchildren. The following is the list of his conference appointments: Middletown, South Shelbyville Circuit, Mount Auburn, Edinburg Circuit, Beverly, New Salem, Kinderhook, Roodhouse, Tolono, Marshall, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Lovington, Humboldt, Pleasant Plains, Bluffs, Girard and Fithian. He possessed a strong, rugged nature, intensified by heroic struggles in his early life. When called to the Christian ministry he had an ambition to qualify for the sacred office and by availing himself of all facilities within his reach, he became not only an excellent Bible student, but a theologian and logician of no mean standing. He was educated at the Illinois Wesleyan University. As a preacher he was strong, Biblical and persuasive. His kindly sympathetic nature shed a fascinating glow over his more rugged features and constituted him an ideal husband, father and patriotic citizen. He was a fearless champion of every reform. His memory is blessed. The funeral services were held in Petersburg, Ill., and were conducted by the pastor, G. E. Scrimger, assisted by the Rev. Messrs. W. A. Smith, C. A. Ward and two local pastors. Interment was made in Pleasant Plains, Ill.

J. P. HILLERBY.

As the flowers fold up at the close of day, so gently closed the eyes of this aged saint, at the end of life's earthly day, February 13, 1922, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Hopper, in Jacksonsville, Illinois. He was in the ninetieth year of his age, and his race was run. He was born in Yorkshire, England, that cradle of Methodism and ministers of the gospel. His father was a miller by trade, but a student, and became a well informed and influential man, austere but manly. While still a child the son, J. P., committed the catechism to memory, and, as he smilingly declared, that was his "theological education. At the age of eleven, he was converted under the ministry of a local, but powerful preacher. He at once felt the call to preach, and that conviction never left him. He was apprenticed to learn the dry goods trade, and he served in that capacity in several cities until he was twenty-three years of age. He was licensed to preach in Halifax that same year, and he came to the United States. He served as a supply under a Presiding Elder in Connecticut for one year, and then went West, and was admitted into the Illinois Annual Conference in 1856. He served a number of charges until in 1866 he took a certificate of location, retiring from the active work of the itineracy because of the ill health of his wife. He preached frequently, however, and served a number of charges as a supply from time to time, until 1916. But he never ceased to have a passion for souls, was always anxious to be appointed to a pastoral charge, and very dearly loved the Illinois Conference. In 1920 he was readmitted to membership in that body, as he wished to end his days in such connection. One of the happiest days of his life came to him with the announcement that he was again a member of the dear old Conference. In the interim, in lieu of his pastoral work, he found great pleasure in the use of his pen. His tone was always evangelistic and spiritual, yet practical and useful. His themes were fundamental, but when he had finished his exposition, he very suddenly ceased to write. Thus his short articles were widely read, and touched many lives. The Central Christian Advocate was the chief medium of his communications, and they were highly prized by its editor. Brother Hillerby inherited many of his noble qualities from his father, and his character was above reproach. He was so even in temperament, so free from contention, so unselfish and unassuming, never pushing his way to the front, that he was highly esteemed. The light of heaven shone in his countenance, and his influence was large and blessed.

During all his seventy-six years as a Christian, and seventy years as a minister of Jesus Christ, he unfailingly observed the quiet, devotional hour, when he was alone with his God. For many years he kept a diary in which the sweet spirit of Christ was at the fore. He was most tender and helpful in dealing with his flock, and genuinely sympathetic in all their trials and bereavements. He rejoiced with the rejoicing, and wept with those who wept.

He was married, September 19, 1859, at Paris, Illinois, to Jane Collins, who preceded him hence September 6, 1901. They were the parents of five children, three of whom survive, Carl S., of Pasadena, California, Mrs. Charles Hopper, Jacksonville, and Mrs. E. T. Mendel, Emporia, Kansas.

When he fell asleep, President J. R. Harker, who was near and dear to him, conducted the funeral obsequies, assisted by District Superintendent E. L. Piechner, and his devoted pastor, T. H. Tull, who related how Brother Hillerby had been his father's faithful pastor before he himself was born. After a beautiful service at the Hopper home, where the eighty-ninth anniversary of his birth had been affectionately celebrated, several of his ministerial brethren participated in both the exercises at the church and in the burial service, in Diamond Grove cemetery, six of whom acted as honorary pall bearers.

E. H. LUGG.

Houses are built for dwelling places. The body is the temporal dwelling place of the soul. A slow smoldering fire of fever weakened the body of Edward H. Lugg. Fanned into flame by over exertion, the body was soon unsuitable as a home. The Lord, who provides our souls with homes, has called him to his heavenly home, "a building of God, a house not made with hands."

The outstanding facts in his life story are as follows:

Edward Henry Lugg was born in the Parish of St. Martin, County of Cornwall, England, March 16, 1860. His childhood and early young manhood were spent in England. Reared in a Christian home, he became an active member in the Wesleyan Methodist Church at about fourteen years of age. When little more than sixteen he became a Local Preacher.

At the age of twenty-two years he preceded his parents to this country. For a short time he worked in a railroad office in Norfolk, Virginia, as draftsman. Then came a call to a pastorate given by his uncle, Samuel Lugg, who was then a Presiding Elder in the Wisconsin Conference of the Methodist Church.

Entering the Wisconsin Conference in 1883, he served churches at Allen's Grove, Orfordsville, and Salem. In 1890 he transferred to the Illinois Conference, where he has served the following charges: Warsaw, Mt. Sterling, Astoria, Hillsboro, White Hall, Edinburg, Rossville, Lovington, Cerro Gordo, and LeRoy.

On December 10, 1884, Mr. Lugg was united in marriage with Susan G. Parrott of Rushville. Two children came into the home. While serving the Hillsboro pastorate, Mrs. Lugg passed away, Feb. 4th, 1901. On March 26, 1903, Mr. Lugg was married to Lena D. Seelye of White Hall, Ill. To this union one child was born.

Several years ago Edward H. Lugg became affiliated with the Masonic Order, and later became a Knight Templar and a Shriner. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias and of the Order of the Eastern Star.

During the past year he has been lacking his normal physical strength. But always he has held the hope that the weakness could be overcome. Two days before being confined to the bed, he wrote to his son, saying: "I must put up a big fight against physical weakness in order that I may stay in the game awhile longer." His will power alone enabled him to fill his pulpit the last time, January 8th, 1922. Too weak to stand, he remained seated as he delivered his sermons of the morning and evening. His life message may be well expressed in the text of his last sermon. It was "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness.

His illness was brief. There were fifteen days in the hospital. Then his spirit went home to God, January 27, 1922.

In the immediate family circle he leaves a wife, Mrs. Lena S. Lugg, and three children, Thomas B., Gwendolyn, and John Seelye. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Bessie Tonkin of Dundee, Ill., Mrs. Margaret Wells of Winthrop, Mass., and Mrs. Annie Sandell of Beloit, Wisconsin, and one brother, Mr. John Lugg of Monmouth, Ill.

He always stood firmly for the principles of the Christian religion. He had a passion for truth and righteousness. He gave freely of his time and energy to the prosecution of welfare enterprises. To him, class distinctions disappeared when the question of justice was under consideration. Never was there a more loyal citizen of his adopted country. His relation to his fellow men is aptly described by the poet Foss:

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man."

Edward H. Lugg was a man among men. His cultured and consecrated personality forced him into prominence in each community in which he made his home. He always won the hearts of the people. He often expressed his faith in this quotation from Victor Hugo: "I am rising, I know, towards the sky. * * * When I go down to the grave, I can say, like many others, I have finished my day's work, I cannot say that I have finished my life. My day will begin the next morning. The tomb is not a blind alley; it is a thoroughfare. It closes on the twilight to open on the dawn."

Funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Leroy, January 30. District Superintendent C. M. Duncan was in charge. Addresses were made by Drs. M. N. English and S. H. Whitlock. Others having parts in the services were Dr. F. A. McCarty, J. S. Bicknell, and J. F. Wohlfarth. More than a dozen others of his ministerial brethren of the Conference were in attendance at the obsequies. The remains were taken to White Hall, Illinois, for interment.

M. B. M'FADDEN.

Matthew Boyd M'Fadden was born in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, June 16, 1840, and died in Los Angeles, California, March 25, 1922. He was the son of John William and Elizabeth Bigley M'Fadden, and was one of a family of eight children, all of them boys. One only of them survives, H. W. M'Fadden, of Holbrook, Nebraska. He received his education in the public schools of Ohio, and in Antrim College, Antrim, Ohio. He taught school in both Ohio and Illinois, coming to the latter state with his brother John, in early manhood, and settled near Arcola.

He was married to Emily Smithson April 18, 1870. To this union four children were born, three sons, who died in infancy, and one daughter, Mrs. Edna B. Zanglein, who, with her daughter, Rhea, survive him. Brother M'Fadden joined the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1870. He faithfully served the following charges: Kaskaskia, Tuscola Circuit, Centerville, Newman, Sullivan, Tower Hill, Windsor, Moulton Church Shelbyville, Griggsville Circuit, Payson, Naples, Williams-ville, Pleasant Plains, Sadorus, Bloomington Circuit, Downs, New Holland, Mt. Auburn, Kenney and Chestnut. He retired in 1907, since which time he made his home in Tuscola, Illinois, until the fall of 1920, when with his daughter and grand-daughter he made his abode in Los Angeles, hoping that the California climate would prove advantageous to his health, which had been failing following a stroke of paralysis. Shortly after coming to Tuscola he was sorely bereaved in the death of his wife, February 19, 1908.

He was a preacher of no meager ability, and many were won to the kingdom by his earnest exhortations. Nothing was wanting in faithfulness and devotion to make him an ideal pastor. He was a true shepherd of his flock. He made the interests of his people his own, and their needs were always upon his heart. Since his retirement his career has been most honorable, being loyal to his pastor in all particulars. By teaching in the Sunday School, and by other means, he co-operated with the pastor and the church for the advancement of the kingdom. During his retirement, as opportunity offered, he served several charges adjacent to the city.

For several weeks after his decease the body of Rev. M'Fadden reposed in a receiving vault preparatory to its removal to Tuscola, Illinois, where funeral services were held in the M. E. Church, May 29, with a sermon by the pastor, B. F. Shipp, who was assisted by ministerial brethren as follows: W. D. Fairchild, W. E. Rose and J. M. Goodspeed. Pall-bearers were six pastors from near-by churches. Burial was in the city cemetery.

W. A. McKINNEY.

William A., son of James and Mary McKinney, was born near New Salem, Ill., Aug. 19, 1842, and departed this life at Sullivan, Ill., October 23, 1921. His early life was spent on the farm and during this period he acquired what education the schools of that day afforded. He possessed a mind and temper to succeed in life, and by diligent application of his spare time to reading and study, at the age of eighteen years was given a school teacher's certificate. He taught very successfully schools in Adams county. He associated with his school teaching the profession of a music teacher and conducted singing schools in Adams and Pike counties. He followed the teaching profession until he entered the Methodist ministry.

He made the acquaintance of Miss Alice Hammond while teaching at Rockport, Ill., and was united in marriage to this lady, who was his assistant teacher, June 21, 1868. She died the following November. He was married, a second, time, to Miss Lydia Jewett, April 9, 1871. To this union three sons were born.

Mrs. McKinney departed this life March 20, 1903. He was married, a third time, to Mrs. Sarah Swain of Loraine, Ill., June 30, 1904. She died Jan. 28, 1915. Soon after her death he, with his brother, I. K. McKinney, moved to Barry where they spent five years together or until May 1, 1921, when Mr. McKinney, because of his age and feeble health, went to Sullivan, Ill., and entered the Masonic Home for aged Masons.

He had been in failing health for several years, during which time he enjoyed the association and care of his brother, I. K. McKinney. He suffered a stroke of paralysis about three years ago, and lighter strokes at intervals since, which made him a confirmed invalid. Those who survive him are his brother, I. K. McKinney of Barry, and one son, E. O. McKinney of Los Angeles, California, two sons, James and William, having preceded him in death.

Brother McKinney was converted in early life and during his school teaching period felt the call to the ministry, uniting with the Illinois Annual Conference in September, 1877. He served charges at Lovington, Mansfield, Nilwood, Girard, Bismarck, Minier, Camden, Bowen, Chandler-ville, Summer Hill, Pigeon Creek, Berdan and Beverly.

He was granted a supernumerary relation in 1904, and the following year was retired, taking up his residence at Loraine, Ill., and later removed to Barry, where he continued to reside until he went to the Masonic Old Folks Home.

In the days of his vigorous manhood he was noted for his evangelistic spirit, holding successful revivals where many were converted. These meetings were always characterized by his leadership in song and his strong pointed sermons on sin and the necessity of seeking salvation. There are many living today on the charges served by him who date the time of their acceptance of Christ to some meeting held by him.

His faith in the living Christ was unshaken to the end, and those who visited his bedside during his last illness were always impressed by his cheerful spirit and pleasant smile. He always said that he wanted "to live just as long as it was the Lord's will, but was ready at any time to go."

Funeral services were conducted from the M. E. Church, Barry, Oct. 26, 1921. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. M. Hailey. Rev. Peter Kittel, Rev. J. M. Tull, Rev. Kosher and Rev. Moore were present and assisted in the service. The Masons had charge of the burial service in Park Lawn Cemetery, where his body was laid beside his wife and son.

C. F. McKOWN.

Charles Fletcher McKown was born in Berkeley County, West Virginia, October 24, 1854, and passed to his reward April 12, 1922, at his home in Athens, Illinois.

His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKown, residents of the noted Shenandoah Valley. Here he spent his boyhood, coming to Illinois in the seventies. He was married on October 6, 1881, to Miss Belle Zinn, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Zinn of Hancock County, Illinois. God gave them one son, Roy Z. McKown, now of Springfield, Illinois.

He received his early education in the Academy of West Virginia, later graduating with honors from Chaddock College at Quincy, Illinois, being duly accredited by the Illinois Wesleyan University of Bloomington.

At the age of eighteen years, he began to teach school, but early in life he had decided to enter the ministry. This purpose he held to, joining the Illinois Conference in 1879, and continuing his work for forty years, retiring in the fall of 1919. During this time he served acceptably sixteen charges in the Illinois Conference.

He came to Athens in the fall of 1903, living here ever since that time, except for a period of six years. During the last year of his ministry, and the first year of his retirement, he was Mayor of the City of Athens. He was also Vice President of the Farmers State Bank of Athens, holding this position at the time of his death.

His long pastorates and residence of twelve years in this place had endeared him to the hearts of the people, and they rejoiced that so much of his life was given to them.

Reverend McKown was an inspiring preacher, a faithful pastor, a devoted father and companion, a great lover of home, and a man who commanded the respect of any community in which he lived. As one of his parishioners said, "All who knew him, respected him, and all who knew him well, loved him." He was a man of chaste and beautiful thoughts and was a master of English. He was a great student and reader and his mind was a storehouse of knowledge. "Blessed, forever blessed, the man who makes his mind a treasury of golden language and of golden thoughts."

He was a member of the Board of Examiners almost all of his ministerial life, and was Statistical Secretary for ten years. He reported the Conference for many years, and was the pioneer in writing up the prosy details in a readable style.

He contributed sermons and articles to our different church papers and also to the Methodist Review. He wrote with a facile pen and his literary productions had a decided charm.

His illness of over one year was borne with such cheerfulness and poise as to be a surprise to all beholders. The treatment he received from the noted Mayo Brothers of Rochester, Minnesota, and from the renowned Dr. Sippy of Chicago, could give him only temporary relief. Knowing full well his condition, he faced the issue with the high courage that he had always shown through life. His mind was clear and serene until the last, keeping up with present movements, and always alert to the affairs of the day.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, his devoted son, Roy, two grand daughters, Elizabeth and Ruth, and one sister, Mrs. J. Downing of Decatur, Illinois.

Funeral services were held April 14, 1922, at the residence. Rev. C. A. Ward, the pastor, was in charge, the addresses being given by the Rev. G. E. Scrimger of Petersburg, and the Rev. C. S. Boyd of Springfield, other neighboring pastors assisting in the service. Amid a profusion of floral offerings he was laid to rest in the beautiful south cemetery at Athens, Illinois.

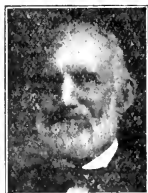

A. D. MOON.

Armanus Dolan Moon, son of Joab and Martha Moon, was born in Clinton County, Ohio, November 17, 1853, and departed this life in Terre Haute, Indiana, September 26, 1921. From early youth he grew to manhood in Champaign County, Illinois. At the age of thirteen he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. Resisting a call to the ministry, he lost his first love. But in his late teens he surrendered anew to the Lord, and dedicated himself to the preaching of the gospel. His preparation for his life work included studies in both the Northwestern and Illinois Wesleyan Universities. He was admitted into the Illinois Conference in 1884. On September 24, of the same year, he was married to Mary Alice Jeffers. His pastoral record is as follows: Greenvew, Morrisonville, Edinburg, Virden, Mechanicsburg, Grove City, Williamsville, Cisco, Fairmount, Ridge Farm, Potomac, Lincoln Circuit, Rochester, Easton, Sadorus and Weldon. In 1918 he took the retired relation, and soon thereafter moved to Terre Haute. He is survived by his wife and his two sons, Rex J., of Chicago, and Ray E., of Terre Haute. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Lulu Working of Los Angeles, California, and two brothers, D. M. Moon, of Garden City, Kansas, and H. F. Moon, of Tacoma, Washington.

Brother Moon was a faithful and fearless minister of the gospel, denouncing sin in high places as well as low, but with the spirit of the true physician of souls, leading them for healing to the Great Physician. He was no respecter of persons. Realizing the destructive work of the materialism and modernism of this age, he was to the last a staunch champion of the fundamentals and the divine authority of the Book. The outstanding success of his ministry grew out of his great gifts as a pastor. He would read the Book and pray with the people in their homes. He had an unceasing passion for souls. He was a good mixer, in the best sense of the word. He loved all, and in his last sickness prayed for the salvation of the lost. He was a loving and devoted husband and father. He was a stern disciplinarian, yet tender almost to a fault. Two of his exceptional characteristics, always in evidence, were his sincere interest in the welfare of others, and unusual charity in his judgment of others. He was known as a peacemaker, and was often called on to act in this capacity. He was an ardent advocate of the advantages of higher education, and many thank him for his efforts in their behalf, giving them an ambition to secure such an equipment for life as they now possess. Not a few of that number are now ministers of the gospel, or engaged in other active Christian effort. Since his retirement, his life has continued to be fruitful for the Master. He was a member of the Official Board of the Terre Haute Liberty-Avenue Methodist Church, and president of the Men's Bible class, which, under the inspiration of his leadership, grew to be the strongest and most spiritual asset of the Sunday School. He left full instructions as to his funeral arrangements, and a precious heritage of testimony. The most frequently recurring phrase was "Blessed be the name of the Lord forever." When he fell asleep all felt sure that he had gone to join those "long lines of triumph" which vision, he said, came to him as his eyes were closing on the scenes of this life and opening on eternal felicities. Funeral services were held in the home in charge of Rev. A. S. Chapman of Paris, Illinois Conference. The main service was conducted in Camargo, Illinois, Pastor F. E. Neumeyer in charge, with Rev. B. F. Shipp, the deceased's last District Superintendent, delivering an appropriate and expressive eulogy, with burial in Camargo cemetery. Many former parishioners and brother ministers of his Conference were in attendance at this last service, a number of the latter assisting in the obsequies, both at the church service and the interment.

W. H. WEBSTER.

William Henry Webster was a native of Schoharie County, New York, born September 26, 1835. His parents were Shadrach and Betsy Beach Webster, of distinguished Colonial stock, whose ancestry, on his father's side, reaches back to John Webster, a native of England, who came to America and settled in Connecticut in 1630, ten years after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock. When the subject of this sketch was twelve years of age, his father died, and within a year thereafter his mother also passed away. With a sister and her husband, a minister of the gospel, he came to Danville, Illinois. Less than a year after their arrival there, in 1848, the sister died, and his brother-in-law went elsewhere, leaving young Webster among strangers. He supported himself by odd jobs of various sorts, with small remuneration, until in 1853, when less than eighteen years of age, he began his career as a school teacher. He was instructor in the Seminaries of Danville and Shelbyville, and at the latter place was given his first license to preach the gospel. With a view of preparing himself more fully for the ministry, he entered the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, graduating therefrom in 1859, and the same year he entered the Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was appointed to Virginia, where, as his first year's salary, he received the sum of $90.00. His subsequent charges were Chandlerville, Island Grove, Champaign, Urbana, Vermont Street Quincy, University Charge Bloomington, Delavan, Normal, First Church Springfield, Jacksonville District, Springfield District, Grace Church Jacksonville, Stapp's Chapel Decatur, Danville District, Superintendent of the Domestic Missionary and Church Aid Society, and Financial Secretary of the Superannuate Fund. He retired in 1905, and has made his home in Danville until his death, which occurred at Lake View Hospital May 19, 1922, less than six weeks after his wife's spirit had ascended from the same place. His decease was indirectly caused by being run down by an automobile about two weeks prior to his passing. The injury was not considered fatal, or even very serious at first, but the shock, coupled with his advanced age, doubtless hastened the end. While in the hospital he expressed a wish not to recover, but to go hence and join his wife in the spirit land. One week after Mrs. Webster's departure, he wrote to a ministerial friend: "I need not say that I believe my wife is alive in the better world." During his retirement he was regarded as a leading citizen of Danville, and was active in things worth while in both Church and State. For some years he was President of the city's Board of Education. He was at the fore in the more important phases of our political life in all progressive movements. He was active in the campaign for Abraham Lincoln when the latter was a candidate for the United States Senate, and later when standing for the nomination and running for election as President of the country, making many speeches in his behalf.

As a Christian minister he was aggressive in taking the initiative in matters of large concern, and in causing them to come to pass. He was a practical preacher, a cogent reasoner, convincingly delivering his message, not in "enticing words of men's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and with power." Hence great revivals attended his ministry, the people were greatly edified, and all the interests of the church advanced under his administration. He was long a leading and influential member of the Illinois Conference, both as pastor and Presiding Elder. He was chosen as a delegate to represent his Conference in four different General Conferences of his church, where he was a prominent figure in directing and shaping the policies of Episcopal Methodism in that supreme legislative body of his denomination. He served as a member of the Book Committee and on other boards and organizations of ecclesiastical management.

He was a most sagacious man in business affairs, as well as in general public interests. By wise investments in his early ministry, he acquired large means, and was most benevolent in contributing to important causes, especially to our Educational Institutions and to the Missionary Boards of the Church. During his life and in his will bequests he gave away several hundred thousand dollars to philanthropic causes. The hospital from which he made his exit out of this life was one of the objects of Dr. Webster's beneficence. "His works do follow him."

At the close of his Quincy pastorate he was married October 3, 1867, to Miss Augusta Robinson of Danville, who served with him in all his after work, as a companion of great helpfulness and blessed ministry. Six children came into their home, four of whom died in infancy. The surviving son, John W. Webster, whose wife and daughter also remain, is a very prominent business man of Danville, and is President of the Board of Hospital Trustees where his parents both fell asleep.

Funeral services were held in St. James church May 22. Dr. H. W. M'Pherson, his pastor, was in charge, assisted in the opening and closing exercises by Dr. S. H. Whitlock and Reverends M. G. Coleman and A. K. Byrns. The main address was delivered by Dr. W. A. Smith, who was followed by the Rev. Henry Crane of Malden Center, Massachusetts. An audience that filled the large church was present, including many prominent people and about twenty-five of his Conference ministerial brethren, several of whom shared in the burial service in Spring Hill cemetery, where his remains were placed beside those of his recently departed wife.

MRS. P. C. CARROLL.

Mary A. Monroe was born July 30, 1846, in the Province of Quebec, Canada, and her spirit took its flight heavenward from Long Beach, California, October 19, 1921. She came to the States in her youth, and was married to Rev. Philip Clifton Carroll, in 1867. Her husband entered the Illinois Conference in 1868, and thereafter she served with him in the following charges: Heyworth, Elkhart, Mason City, Monticello, Macon, Taylorville, Mahomet and Urbana, where he fell asleep April 24, 1879.

She taught in the Public Schools for a time in her young womanhood. She was a very intelligent woman, of recognized influence and leadership in the places where she lived and wrought. After her husband's death she filled several positions of prominence in supporting her loved ones and rearing her family, living in Bloomington and Chicago, and in several places in Southern California.

Three children came into her home as a result of her marriage union, Clarence Clifton, Edna Edith, and Philip Clifton Carroll, all of whom have preceded her into the other world. Sister Carroll, at her own request was buried at Long Beach, California, as that state had been her home for the last twenty years. A grand-son, P. C. Kurtz, survives her, living in Bloomington, Illinois.

MRS. PRESLEY P. CARSON.

Eva Thompson was born in Dublin, Ireland, in 1870, removing when very young with her parents to London, England, where she spent her girlhood days. In 1889 she came with her parents, William and Anne Thompson, to Springfield, Illinois, where she resided till her marriage. She was a young woman of a deeply religious nature, and her experience in London among mission workers had made her resolve to make her life count for the most in behalf of humanity. She readily found a place in the ranks of Christian workers and soon became one of the most devoted and capable in a large class of young people in the First Methodist Church of Springfield. It was here in the religious activities of this church that she met the Rev. Presley P. Carson, who was then just entering the ministry, and to whom she was married June 12, 1895.

Mrs. Carson was well fitted to share in the responsibilities of her husband's calling. She had been educated in the public schools of Springfield, and in the Woman's College at Jacksonville. Richly endowed by nature and supplemented by special training, she brought to the parsonage home and to the work of the ministry a life force of great value. She was thoroughly consecrated to her new task and gave herself unreservedly to the work till failing health compelled her to give up in large measure her activities. She loved her church, and to be engaged in its tasks was her chief delight. She was closely identified with all lines of church work, interested and active in social and community interests, making herself a real factor in the work about her. She took an especial interest in Sunday School, Epworth League, missionary and choir work. She was possessed of a fervent evangelistic nature and was very successful in leading many to Christ, some of whom she influenced to give their lives to special lines of Christian service. The qualities so much needed to make a successful pastor's wife were richly blended in her and she filled this exacting station with great credit.

In the fall following their marriage Rev. Carson was appointed to Bluff Springs and there together they began the active duties of the ministerial life, continuing their labors in pastorates served in Owaneco, Hillsboro, Bement, Gibson City, Pana, Paxton, Springfield and Charleston.

It was in the beginning of the Charleston pastorate that Mrs. Carson suffered a serious nervous breakdown that forced her to give up all her work. She spent the winter months of that year in Mexico, returning in the spring slightly improved. During the summer she was able to be in some of the church activities, and hoped for permanent recovery. On Sunday evening, Oct. 2, while out walking, seeking relief from nervous strain, she was accidentally struck by a passing train and instantly killed.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church, Charleston, of which Rev. Carson is pastor, and were conducted by District Superintendent W. D. Fairchild, assisted by Rev. T. N. Ewing of Decatur, Rev. J. C. Baker of Urbana, and Rev. A. S. Chapman of Paris. A large number of pastors of Mattoon District were in attendance. The body was laid to rest in Springfield, the services there being in charge of Rev. R. F. McDaniel, assisted by the resident pastors.

MRS. C. P. HARD.

Lydia, eldest of fifteen children of Surgeon General William and Harriet Van Someren, was born in Bangalore, India, August 19, 1847. She was educated in Scotland, and after completing her schooling, returned to India. Here she was converted and became active in missionary work. She was in charge when her family entertained "California Taylor," afterward Bishop William Taylor, with whom the Van Someren family co-operated in establishing the Methodist Episcopal Church in South India in 1874. Bishop Taylor in his book, "The Story of My Life," acknowledges his indebtedness for such assistance, in his work in India.

After three years of active assistance in the work of Rev. Clark P. Hard, the District Superintendent of what is now the South India Conference, Lydia became his wife. She has been his helper in India and America for forty-five years. For the last twelve years she has resided with her husband in Zion City, Illinois, where she could be near Evanston, the city where her sons, William and Vincent, and her daughter, Gertrude, were educated. Besides her husband, she leaves these three children to survive her, along with three grand-children, son and daughter of William and a daughter of Vincent.

When Mrs. Hard came to Zion City to live as a retired minister's wife, she by no means retired from active Christian service. It was her delight to lecture over the country on missionary operations, especially in India. She was also largely known for her temperance addresses under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the Anti-Saloon League. Thus she made the acquaintance and formed friendships with a large number of people throughout the middle West. The various churches in Zion City were greatly benefited by her presence and testimony. This was especially true of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which she was a member. Her earnestness and deep spiritual experience never failed to thrill the people, and she would win both old and young to a renewed consecration. Hers was a celestial womanhood.

Mrs. Hard was taken ill in June last, with paralysis, and though many prayers were offered in her behalf, she failed to respond to treatment, and on September 3rd she passed away. During her illness she made frequent references to the religious influence of the home of her parents, as well as of that of her own home. Eight brothers and sisters in England, Canada and Australia perpetuate the training and influence of the Van Somerin family, through the years, while Dr. C. P. Hard and his three children continue the testimony of this Christian wife and mother who is now "absent from the body, to be at home with the Lord."

The funeral services were conducted in the Methodist Church by Dr. Charles M. Stuart, President of Garrett Biblical Institute, and Rev. Robert E. O'Brien, her pastor, Sept. 6, 1922. Interment was in Lake Mound cemetery.

MRS. J. F. M'ANALLY.

Elizabeth Jane Schaffer, daughter of Alfred and Elizabeth Schaffer, was born in Jacksonville, Illinois, March 2, 1871, and was translated from York, Nebraska, to celestial realms July 26, 1922.

When nine years of age she moved with her parents to Virginia, Illinois, where she grew up through childhood and youth to young womanhood. She graduated from the Virginia High School, taught school for a few years, and then received her degree of Bachelor of Science from Valparaiso University. For several years she taught in the public schools of Idaho and South Dakota. She returned to Illinois and taught English in the Rossville High School. Here she formed the acquaintance of the principal of the school, Prof. J. F. M'Anally, and they were soon united in marriage. Very soon after their union in matrimony, Mr. M'Anally entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, serving for a time as pastor of the Raymond charge, and entered the Illinois Annual Conference in the fall of 1901. As an itinerant pastor's wife she found a field for larger service to which she dedicated her gifts of mind and heart with all her natural ability and acquired equipment of education and culture. In 1907 the church called her husband to the West Indies as a missionary to Porto Rico. Mrs. M'Anally was a valuable helper in his work there. She assisted in the building of the G. O. Robinson Orphanage in San Juan, Porto Rico. Here she taught music until her health failed, and her husband felt compelled to return to the work of the Illinois Conference. For a number of years she served as the Corresponding Secretary of the Conference Woman's Home Missionary Society, and rendered great service to the cause.

In 1919 her husband was chosen as the Superintendent of the Mother's Jewel's Home of York, Nebraska, under the auspices of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, and his wife was made Assistant Superintendent. This opened a still larger field for the exercise of her superior gifts, both in public addresses and in mothering the children needing such care. Competent judges pronounced her going hence as a great loss to the whole commonwealth of Nebraska. Like Him whom she served, she came not to be ministered unto, but to minister. Thus she gave her love and service to the full measure of her ability in this capacity as she had done in her husband's pastoral charges, Kenney, Grove City, Morrisonville, Laurel Church Springfield, Buffalo, Bowen and Delavan in Illinois.

On May 7, 1871, she was baptized in the Episcopal church, but was reared as a Presbyterian. After her marriage June 7, 1901, she united with the church of her husband's choice, and ever after was abundant in labors in that communion for the extension of God's kingdom.

Sister M'Anally was the mother of two sons, Frank Carlton, who died in infancy, and Merrill Keith, born in Springfield thirteen years ago. Besides these there was an adopted son, Allyn Boshford, who was accidentally killed the day after the eleventh anniversary of his birth.

Funeral services were conducted in the home of her parents in Virginia, Illinois, on the Sunday following her decease, by D. V. Gowdy, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. Wiles of the Presbyterian church, and two of his ministerial brethren, G. V. Metzger and D. F. Nelson. She was buried in Walnut Grove cemetery, beside the remains of Allyn, the son adopted at the age of five months.

MRS. A. L. PLOWMAN.

Vashti A. Perry, wife of Rev. A. L. Plowman, was born in Douglas County, Illinois, July 9th, 1854. She was the youngest child of Jesse and Louisa Perry, from whom she inherited the fine qualities of honesty and uprightness of character which were so manifest in her life. She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church when but twelve years of age, though she always dated her conversion ten years later, when at home in her own room she definitely sought and obtained the regeneration of her soul. Five years later she was led to consecrate her all to God, and ever afterward bore witness by her life and her testimony that "the blood of Jesus Christ, His son, cleanseth from all sin."

On the 10th of August, 1879, she was united in marriage to Rev. Alonzo L. Plowman. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. D. P. Lyon, at the altar of the old Embury Chapel, where they had both attended Sunday School and Church for years. To this happy union were born three daughters and one son. The daughters live in Kansas City, Mo., while the son lives in Little Rock, Ark., and is news editor of the Arkansas Democrat.

In 1885 Sister Plowman moved with her husband to their first charge, Toledo, Ill. Throughout his ministry, she proved herself a help meet in every place. In the early days of large circuits, when most of the winter was spent in revival services, she took her two small children and engaged with her husband in these meetings. She often furnished the faith and inspiration which led to victory in some of the most discouraging fields.

She was equally useful in the Indian Mission field, where she gave five years of her life with her husband, on the Pottawatomie Reservation in Kansas. Mrs. Plowman's chief delight was in the Sunday School and in the two Women's Missionary Societies of the Church. She had a perpetual membership in the Woman's Home Missionary Society. She was a regular attendant at mid-week prayer meeting, and was remarkably gifted in prayer. Last September when her husband was appointed to Beaumont Mission Church in Kansas City, she suggested the securing of an auto that she might assist him in that field. The car was purchased and for several months she worked in this new field, winning all hearts at the Mission. She was teacher of the Woman's Bible Class, and also Superintendent of the Home Department, of over sixty members. On March 6th, 1922, while in this car, a truck ran into it, and she was killed almost instantly. The funeral services were held March 9th at Oakley Church, where for three years Mrs. Plowman had held her church membership. The pastor, Dr. Eli P. Anderson, was in charge. Methodist pastors of the city were the pall bearers. Addresses were made by Rev. J. E. Sheer and Dr. W. W. King, District Superintendent. Interment was at Mt. Washington Cemetery, there to await the Resurrection Morn.

MRS. W. E. ROSE.

Angeline Anderson was born in Piqua County, Ohio, November 16, 1849. When two years of age she moved with her parents to Macon County, Illinois, near Decatur. In the early summer of 1866 she, with her parents, moved to Linn county, Missouri, near Brookfield, where, in the following winter, she was converted in a meeting held by the Congregationalists, but she joined the Methodist Episcopal Church one year after her conversion.

She was married to Walter E. Rose January 28, 1869. Brother Rose moved back to Illinois the following year and engaged in his trade of carpenter and carriage work until 1883, when the Lord said: "Preach My Gospel." The good wife urged him to obey the call and from 1884 to the close of their pastorate at Haviland one year ago, Mrs. Rose has been a real help to her husband as a pastor, and a faithful one to his people. She showed all of the characteristics of a true Christian lady and would have graced any parsonage in the land.

After being confined to her bed for three months, she received a paralytic stroke October 29, 1921. A second stroke came on January 29, a third one later, and, becoming unconscious and remaining so for forty-one hours, she fell asleep, Feb. 3, 1922.

"Mother Rose," as her friends were pleased to call her, was of a retiring disposition, always quiet, never excitable, full of faith, and loved God because He first loved her. She goes to meet her son, J. W. Rose, a member of the Colorado Conference, who departed this life December 21, 1918, and her three babes who went to be with Jesus in early life.

She leaves to mourn, a faithful husband, two sons, Fred and George B. Rose, and an only daughter, Mrs. C. C. Buehrig of Tuscola, Ill., all of whom were present at the funeral and feel their loss deeply. She also leaves five grand-children.

Mother Rose's last known words were spoken to her husband when she said: "It's alright, good night. These whispered words will live. She rests in peace. "She hath done what she could."

She was the last one of a family of ten children. Her husband is a member of the Illinois Conference, and lives in Dodge City, Kansas. Funeral services were held in her home town, conducted by her pastor, Dr. P. H. Chappellear, of First Church, of which she was a member, with interment in Maple Grove cemetery.

MRS. ADAM WAGGONER.

Miss Henrietta Farelly was a native of Macoupin County, near Carlinville, Illinois, and made her exit out of this life at Greenfield, Illinois, October 2, 1920. She was married to Rev. Adam Waggoner March 29, 1863, who in 1866 joined the Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. As an itinerant Methodist preacher's wife, she served with him successively, the following circuits: Zanesville, Windsor, Sullivan, Marshall, Kansas, Girard, Palmyra, Greenfield and Chatham, in which latter charge he died September 5, 1883.

After his decease, Mrs. Waggoner moved to Greenfield, where for many years she lived alone. The sorrows of life rested sorely and heavily upon her, and she became practically a recluse, shunning the society of others and withholding herself from their fellowship. Only one near relative survives her, a daughter, of Jacksonville, Illinois. She was given interment beside the remains of her husband at Carlinville, Illinois.

MRS. W. H. WEBSTER.

Miss Augusta Robinson was born in Attica, Indiana, January 9, 1847, and went the way of all mortals out of this life, April 10, 1922, from Lake View Hospital, Danville, Illinois. She had been in failing health for some time, and for two or three months prior to her decease she suffered from a form of creeping paralysis. She was the daughter of William and Margaret Davis Robinson, pioneer residents of her native community. She was one of five children, having one brother and three sisters. The brother, Edward, a soldier in the Civil war, died about twenty-five years ago. One sister, wife of Mason M. Wright, passed away about ten years ago. She came to Danville when a small child, and grew to womanhood there. Her family were members of the Presbyterian church, but she herself came into touch with the Methodists, attending Sunday School and Church services in the old North Street Methodist Episcopal Church, and finally united with that church. She met the Rev. W. H. Webster, a member of the Illinois Annual Conference, and in due time they were married in Danville, October 3, 1867. After their union in marriage, beginning with the University Charge, Bloomington, she served with him as an itinerant Methodist preacher's wife in all his subsequent ministerial career, as given in his memoir, also published in this issue of the Conference Minutes. Since retirement from active work in 1905, they have lived in Danville. Mrs. Webster was active in Sunday School and church work before her marriage, and was a great "help meet" for him in all his ministry afterward. She was a very high grade woman of truly noble character and lady-like bearing, with such sweetness of disposition and winning ways that her friends extended throughout the entire circle of her acquaintance. She was quiet and unassuming in her manner, never pushing herself to the front, yet wisely aggressive in the things that were worth while, and firm as Gibraltar's rock on all questions of moral principle and along all lines of duty. She lived and acted on all the higher levels of life, and her memory will be increasingly fragrant and her uplifting influence deathless forevermore.

A roster of her children and some other surviving loved ones can be found in the memoir of Dr. Webster in this same memorial list of immortals. In forty days after her translation he made his exit out of life from the place of her outgoing, in accordance with his expressed desire in his last illness to join her in the celestial realms, where no parting words are spoken and no farewell tears are shed.

Two of her sisters remain on the shores of time, Mrs. Elizabeth, widow of John C. Short, and Mrs. Emma, widow of Victor L. Hawes. The former lives in San Diego, California, and the latter in Naperville, Illinois.

The funeral services were held in her late home on Oak street. Dr. H. W. McPherson, her pastor, was in charge. Dr. W. A. Smith, a former pastor, delivered the chief address. Rev. M. G. Coleman followed with another address, and Dr. E. M. Antrim, another former pastor, closed with some remarks and a prayer. Several other ministers participated in the interment services where the remains were placed to rest in Spring Hill cemetery.

XVI.

Conference Rules.

"1. The Conference shall meet at 8:15 o'clock a. m. and adjourn at 12 o'clock, noon, but may alter the time either of meeting or of adjournment at its pleasure. A recess of ten minutes shall be taken at 10:30 o'clock unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

"2. When a member is about to speak in debate or to deliver any matter to the Conference, he shall rise and respectfully address the president, but shall not proceed until recognized by him.

"3. No member shall be interrupted when speaking, except by the president, to call him to order when he departs from the question, or uses personalities or disrespectful language; but any member may call the attention of the president to the subject when he deems a speaker out of order, and any member may explain when he thinks himself misrepresented.

"4. When a member desires to speak to a question of privilege he shall briefly state the question; but it shall not be in order for him to proceed until the president shall have decided it a question of privilege. Questions of privilege are matters relating to the rights and welfare of the individual as a member of the whole body, and of such an imperative character as to justify the interruption of the regular order.

"It shall be the imperative duty of the president to require the member to state his question of privilege. This having been done the president shall decide whether it shall be allowed; and, if so, shall hold him closely to the subject.

"5. No person shall speak more than twice on the same question or more than ten minutes at one time without leave of the Conference; nor shall any person speak more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

"Provided, however, that a committee making a report shall, through its chairman, or in case the chairman shall not be in harmony with the report, through one of its members selected by the committee or by the chairman, be entitled to ten minutes to close the debate, either to oppose the motion to lay the report on the table, or, this permission not having been used, to close the debate on the motion to adopt. The committee shall not be deprived of its right to close the debate even after the previous question has been ordered, and, when a report consisting of two or more propositions has a serious consideration, the chairman or representative of the committee shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges on each proposition thus decided separately as he would have if the report was considered as a unit.

"6. No effective member of the Conference shall absent himself from the sessions of a Conference without leave, unless he is sick or unable to attend.

"7. Resolutions shall be written and presented in duplicate by the mover. All motions shall be reduced to writing if the president, secretary or any member request it.

"8. All written motions, reports and communications to the Conference shall be passed to the secretary to be read by him to the Conference.

"9. When a motion is made and seconded, or a resolution introduced and seconded, or a report presented and read by the secretary or stated by the president it shall be deemed in possession of the Conference; but any motion or resolution may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before amendment or decision.

"10. The following motions shall be taken without debate: (1) To adjourn. (2) To suspend the rules. (3) To lay on the table. (4) To take from the table. (5) The call for the previous question.

"11. No new motion or resolution shall be entertained until the one under consideration has been disposed of, but one or more of the following motions may be made, and they shall have precedence in the order in which they are placed, namely: (1) To fix the time to which the conference shall adjourn. (2) To adjourn. (3) To take a recess. (4) To lay on the table. (5) For the previous question. (6) To postpone to a given time. (7) To refer. (8) To substitute. (9) To amend. (10) To postpone indefinitely. The motion for the previous question can not be laid on the table.

"12. Only one amendment to an amendment shall be in order but it shall then be in order to move a substitute for the main question, and one amendment to the substitute, and if a substitute is accepted, it shall replace the original proposition.

"13. It shall be in order to move the previous question on any measure pending, except in cases in which character is involved; and, if sustained by a vote of two-thirds of those present and voting the question shall be taken; nevertheless, it shall be in order under this rule to move to refer, to recommit, to divide or to lay on the table after the previous question has been ordered, the vote being taken in every case without debate. It shall not be in order to move the previous question or to move to lay on the table at the close of a speech in which the pending question has been discussed.

"14. On the call of a member a question shall be divided if it is divisible into distinct propositions.

"15. The motion to adjourn shall be always in order except (1) when a member has the floor, (2) when a question is actually put or a vote is being taken, until finally decided, (3) when a question is pending on sustaining the demand for the previous question, (4) when the previous question has been called and sustained and action under it is still pending, (5) when a motion to adjourn has been negatived and no business or debate has intervened.

"16. When any motion or resolution shall have been acted upon by the Conference, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing side to move a reconsideration; but a motion to reconsider a non-debatable motion shall be decided without debate.

"17. The mover of any question or resolution, that shall in any way place a financial obligation on the Conference or any member of the Conference or any church in the territory of the Conference, shall introduce the same before the Conference at least twenty-four hours before a call for vote on the same, and he shall post a duplicate typewritten copy of the same in a conspicuous place at least twenty-four hours before a call for vote.

"18. Every member who is within the bar at the time a question is put shall vote, unless the Conference for special reasons excuses him. No member shall be allowed to vote on any question who is not within the bar at the time when the question shall be put by the president, except by leave of the Conference when such member has been necessarily absent.

"19. Voting shall be by the uplifted hand, but, on a division of the house, a count vote shall be taken, the members rising in their places and standing until counted. Votes may also be taken by ballot and by ayes and noes.

"20. It shall be in order for any member to call for the ayes and noes on any question before the Conference, and if the call be sustained by _____ members the vote shall be taken by ayes and noes. If not sustained, members, voting in the minority, if said minority is less than _____, may have their votes recorded by name.

"21. The District Superintendents shall be a committee to prepare nominations for the standing committees of the Conference in advance of the Conference Session and present their nominations immediately following the organization of the Conference.

"22. Vacancies in the Conference Board of Trustees, the Conference Board of Stewards and the Conference Deaconess Board shall be filled by election of the Conference on nomination by the District Superintendents.

"23. All requests for special appointment shall be referred to the Committee on Conference Relations.

"24. The report of the committee on education shall be the order of the day at 10 o'clock a. m. on Saturday of each session of the Conference and all representations of educational institutions shall be made at that time.

"25. The Statistical Secretary at each session shall appoint a person for each district whose duty it shall be to collect the statistical reports in the districts severally before the opening of the ensuing session and to report under the call for statistics the names of those charges in the several districts which have not presented their statistical reports. The call for statistics shall be made at the opening meeting of the Conference Session immediately following the organization of the Conference.

"26. Each member in effective relation, and each supply, shall contribute a sum equal to the amount of 1-10 of 1 per cent of his cash salary to be applied as necessity may require to the purpose of securing expert accountants, or stenographers, or assistants, and for Secretarial Expenses.

"27. In all matters not herein specified the proceedings of the Conference shall be governed by common parliamentary law.

"28. These rules shall not be suspended except by a majority of all the members of the Conference."

Mr. C. W. Caughlin, Pittsfield, Ill., presented the following resolution, which was carried unanimously:

Resolved, That the Laymen's Association of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, notes the insidious and persistent attacks from almost every conceivable angle that are being made upon the Eighteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, the Volstead Act, and the appropriation bills intended to strengthen the enforcement of prohibition, and

We are in favor of the strict enforcement of the Volstead Act, and against any movement that will legalize the sale of light wines and beer, and

We call upon all law-abiding people to vote at the coming election for local officials who will enforce the laws, members of the State Legislature and members of Congress who will stand for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the prohibition laws as they are now written. We call upon the President of the United States and others in authority to appoint men of approved integrity and unflinching courage who will administer the prohibition laws without fear or favor to any man.

(This resolution was later adopted by the Ministers of the Annual Conference).

Dr. Joseph R. Harker gave the Annual Association address on the topic, "The Mark of a Methodist Layman," after which there was general discussion in accentuation of this address.

A message of sympathy was sent to the bereaved family of Mr. W. T. Gillis of Bowen. And a message of appreciation, good cheer and best wishes was sent to Mr. S. A. Murdock, Champaign.

Mr. S. A. Bullard, Springfield, and Rev. W. G. Pulliam, Bowen, discussed local church problems, including Revivals.

Resolutions offered by the Committee were approved as follows:

(1) Since our last meeting we have lost a number of our very valuable members and we extend our sympathy to the families of those members who have gone to their reward in the great beyond. Especially do we feel the loss of Prof F. M. Austin of the faculty of the Illinois Wesleyan University, a member of our Executive Committee and a member of the Illinois Conference to the past two General Conferences. We shall greatly miss him in our Conferences, as he was always willing to work for the best interests of Methodism; was constructive in his ideas and his advice was always sound.

(2) That we reaffirm our belief in the validity and the soundness of the Volstead Act, deplore the propaganda that is being spread over the country by the liquor interests in favor of light wines and beer. That we demand a more rigid enforcement of the law and that a notice to this effect be sent to our Congressmen and to the President of the United States.

(3) That we call on all men whether employers or employees in all their actions to obey the law and stand firmly against destruction of life and property during industrial strife.

(4) That considering the needs of the Conference's Claimants' Fund which takes care of the minister that has grown old in service and the great need of our educational institutions, which mean so much to the life of our church, for equipment, buildings, sustentation and endowment that we call upon all the laymen to support the Bi-Conference Movement to the extent of their ability.

(5) That, appreciating the great influence for good that our Methodist papers exert in the home, we approve of the campaign to place a Methodist paper in every Methodist home.

(6) That we congratulate those in charge of the Chaddock Boys' School and the Cunningham Home and Baby Fold for the excellent work they are doing for the kingdom of Jesus Christ in taking care of the orphan boys and children. That we approve of the work they are doing and recommend that they be given a hearing wherever they may go to present their work.

(7) That we extend our thanks to the Ministerial Association for the many courtesies shown us during this session. We also extend our thanks to Bishop Nicholson, Dr. Harker, Mr. A. C. Augustine, Rev. W. G. Pulliam and the others who have appeared on our program and have brought us such fine messages. That our thanks be extended to the good people of Decatur for the warm welcome given to the laymen of the Illinois Conference, as well as to the Trustees of the First Methodist Episcopal Church for the use of their building for our meetings. That we appreciate the tireless work of our officers in making this one of the best and most successful sessions in the history of our Association, and thank them for the services that they have so freely given.

Mr. T. J. Turney, Decatur, spoke of the "True Ideal of Stewardship," and Mr. Dillavou on the "Activities of the Church," after which there was general discussion and approval.

It was ordered that twenty dollars each be paid to the Baby Fold, Children's Home and Chaddock Boys' School.

A vote of thanks to the First M. E. Church of Decatur and five dollars for extra expenses carried with appreciation.

The 1922 sessions were voted as being worth while, from every viewpoint.

Adjourned.

IRA B. BLACKSTOCK, Secretary.

Reports.

(A) DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS.

BLOOMINGTON DISTRICT.

C. M. Duncan, District Superintendent.

Bishop Thomas Nicholson and Brethren:

We beg to submit to the Conference the report of the Bloomington District. Possibly no year has been filled with so many varied activities and interests as the one just closing. We certainly wish it were possible to speak of the work of each individual charge, but time and space would not permit.

No year has been marked by a more systematic effort to carry out a constructive program for the advancement of the Kingdom of God. At the close of the Conference session last year we had each charge in the Bloomington District supplied with a pastor, except Shirley, which was a student charge.

Some Changes During the Year.

Rev. G. H. Billings, a student pastor, took up his work at Beason with a great deal of promise for a successful year. He had made his way into the hearts of his people, but the illness of his wife made it necessary for him to change climates and he moved to Colorado. We secured Rev. R. L. Gibbs to take up this work and he finished out the year.

Rev. A. G. Carnine was asked by the Illinois Wesleyan University to give full time to the work of the College. This caused another vacancy, and Brother J. W. Miller, our retired pastor at Bloomington, finished the year's work with marked success. All other reports are made by the pastors and the results are most gratifying.

Visits to the District.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson made our District rejoice by his visits to our fall meeting, at which time he gave us a new vision of the world and its needs in this trying day of our new civilization. The "I Will Maintain" program of the church was presented and the brethren were heartened and took up the task with a determination to succeed, with the result that a considerable sum of Centenary money was collected and new money subscribed, all of which amounted to more than $12,000.

Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, our Bishop's companion, was with us for a Sunday, speaking to the congregation at Grace Church, Bloomington, in the morning and to our congregation at Lincoln in the evening. On Monday and Tuesday she gave her wonderful life in consultation to the student body of the Illinois Wesleyan University. We all wish to record our appreciation of her visit and of the splendid service she rendered to the District.

The Organization of the District.

No one can value organization until he has a real task before him. During the year we have had some real problems. The first in the form of the "I Will Maintain" campaign. To this task the men of the District, through their group organizations, did their work well. Then came that tremendous task, the "Bi-Conference Movement." No one can ever fully realize just the task that was before us until they consider that the McLean County drive was made just two years previous. To this task men of the District responded with a determination that is worthy of commendation. Each group, with its leader, went forth to do the thing that could not be done and did it. We do not have the exact figures, but within the bounds of the Bloomington District there was subscribed nearly $125,000. The Hancher organization deserves much credit for the success of the movement, but in my judgment, with all credit given where it is due, the major part should be given to the faithful pastors who wrought so well.

Someone has said: "That which a man does not know he opposes. In other words, what he is not up on he is down on." It has been our constant effort to keep the entire program of the church before the people. Where the pastor has been faithful to the church and her program the people have responded most generously.

The Centenary.

Many a man has walked up to the opportunity for which he has long been preparing himself, looked it full in the face, and then began his retreat. This spirit is not found in Nehemiah when he cries: "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down."

So with this greatest of all movements within our church we hear the cry far and near, "She is doing a great work." Today her mission is truly to carry out the idea of John Wesley when he said: "The world is my parish." Dr. Diffendorfer in a recent statement has outlined the future work of the church, saying, "We want everyone in China, Japan, India, South America, Europe and the isles of the sea to feel that as a church and as a people we are one." "Our church," he said, "is just as truly a Japanese church as it is an American church." The New World Service Program is to carry on and we can surely cry with Nehemiah: "We are doing a great work and we cannot come down." The response during the year has been good. "When we consider the home demands plus the educational drives and then come to the close of the year with the Centenary collections just a little more than last year we feel that we have done well. We are truly made to thank our people and praise God for His goodness to us.

Improvements.

During the year the Long View Church was sold for $300 and the proceeds applied to the Wapella church for redecoration and painting the same. This makes this church an ideal little plant for modern church activities.

The people at Fisher are now in process of building a modern brick veneer parsonage at a cost of $6,500. Pledges to the amount of $6,000 have been secured by the pastor. This will make one of the very best and most modern little churches within the District, and the pastor is to be commended for his splendid work.

Repair work on the parsonage at Bellflower, replacing the old roof with a new one and giving the entire building a coat of paint, makes the pastor glad and the charge to rejoice in the splendid appearance of their parsonage home.

Several churches have paid off old debts during this year, Atlanta, Bloomington Park, Downs, San Jose, Waynesville and Lincoln all having come up splendidly to the fine leadership of their pastors in reporting no indebtedness this year.

Possibly there is no one work that has been pushed within sight of victory more worthy of mention than the new parsonage project at the Grace Church, Bloomington. The parsonage trustees are sure that they will have a new modern home for their pastor this coming year. This is no small achievement and is to the credit of pastor and his faithful workers.

Illness.

We are grateful to our Lord for His kindness and protection during this year. There has been no serious illness within the homes of our pastors this year; however, one of our most beloved retired members answered the call from above. Rev. J. B. Horney of Normal, Illinois, died January 10, 1923. The funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church, of which he was a member, Dr. W. J. Davidson preaching the funeral sermon. He was laid to rest in the Park Hill Cemetery with many friends mourning his loss.

Evangelism.

In no former year have the men of the entire District been more desirous of a real awakening along spiritual lines, no doubt due to the fact of so many real vital interests we have not given as much time to this part of the church program as we would like to have done. There have been some great victories and many have been brought into real vital relationship with the church and in many respects it has been a real year of victory. There has been that consciousness on the part of the pastors and people that this coming year must be made more effective in evangelism as a recruiting agency for the church.

Some outstanding work was done on the District by Evangelist P. R. Powers, the Misses Mary Olive and May Paul of Alton, and the Mitchell Party at Mansfield. However, the most of the work was done either by pastors exchanging with each other, or in many instances the pastor doing the preaching alone.

The District Work.

We have had several District meetings during the year. Our Fall meeting at Clinton was a success, and the program for the year's work was outlined. Dr. Madden did splendid service in providing entertainment for the brethren; Bishop Wilson was the speaker and presented to us the needs of the church and urged the importance of "carrying on."

The District Convention for the Epworth League was a marked success in every detail. There cannot be too much praise given to the District President, Rev. T. B. Lugg, who made the success of the convention possible. The spirit was ideal; the young people of the District made every possible sacrifice necessary to obtain the greatest possible help and receive Divine Leadership. No one was more helpful in this convention than Dr. Chesteen Smith of Decatur, who gave the inspiring message on "The Value of Margins." The Atlanta pastor and League did more than their full share for the comforts and entertainment of the convention. They were not only great entertainers but they received the reward of doing the finest type of work during the year within the District.

The Group Third Quarterly Conferences were considered by all to be of real value. The afternoon was given over to detailed reports from the various charges, making comparisons with the strong and weak points in our church organizations. The Centenary and the Bi-Conference Movement had careful consideration and in the evening Evangelism was stressed by A. R. Grummon of Lincoln and G. L. Losh and Mrs. Cline of Beardstown. We cannot praise the pastors sufficiently for their co-operation in making the meetings of the District of real worth to the Cause.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society and the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society have done splendid work. There are some Auxiliaries that have not come up to their last year's record, while others have passed their own expectations. From my point of view there is need in the church for an organization that will get the men interested in the Missionary work of the church, such as is now being done by the women of the church.

Ministerial Support.

"Difficulties are the despair of the weak, but the opportunity of the strong."

This challenge came to pastor and district superintendent at the close of last year. We were compelled to report thirty-one charges holding the fort; six charges retrenching; two adding a step to their swords, with a net loss of $1,000 in cash salary. This year we report eight charges holding their own, one charge retreating, and nine hearing the command, Forward, March! We have $200 decrease with $1,800 increase for this next year. We come to this Conference with a report of 100 per cent ministerial support.

The Illinois Wesleyan.

There never was a time in the history of this institution when there was so much real enthusiasm for the possibilities of being able to serve the church in a large way. The past year has been marked by a degree of real advancement. The Bi-Conference Movement has very materially helped the financial situation at the College. The new students are coming and even bid fair to surpass all records for the freshman class. Dr. Davidson has the able support of the members of his faculty and the sincere sympathy and co-operation of the city in which he resides. We commend this institution to the Conference and feel sure we are voicing the spirit of President Davidson when we extend our thanks to the pastors for their support during the past year. Dr. Davidson will no doubt bring to the Conference a detailed report of the year's work.

Bishop Nicholson and brethren, I like to come to the close of the year with commendation for the ministry and laity of the Bloomington District. They have learned to do service for the church they love. No day makes the demand for co-operation more necessary than this day in which we live. It is when the team leans forward together and the shoulders strike the collar at the same time and the muscles grow tense while they tug and strain that we hear the creaking of the wheels and the load is moved on steadily. In this day of our Great World Service Program we must learn anew to put our efforts together all at one and the same time in bringing in this New Day of real Christian achievement.

CHAMPAIGN-DANVILLE DISTRICT.

A. K. Byrns, District Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

Two changes occurred in the pastoral ranks of this District during the year. May first, Jesse L. Murrell asked to be released to take work at Miami, Florida. Arthur Jordan was appointed to fill the vacancy at St. Joseph. He has given a good account of himself and is in fine favor with the people of that charge. July 1, L. E. Wimbrow, who was supplying Vermilion Heights, also asked to be released to take regular work in his own Conference. William Manny was placed in charge and has completed the year's work in a creditable way.

The pastors of the Champaign-Danville District have worked faithfully to register an advance in every line.

The net gain in the average attendance of Sunday School was marked at Lincoln, Danville, Tilton, Vermilion Heights, Georgetown, Ogden, Penfield, Swartz, Savoy, Thomasboro, Urbana First, Urbana Grace, and Urbana Trinity.

The Epworth Leagues have had an exceptionally fine year. At least six new Leagues have been organized and a new spirit of enthusiasm has been manifested on the part of the young people. Champaign-Danville District had the honor of having the largest delegation at the Epworth League Institute at Shelbyville. We had 117 registered delegates. 125 Life-Service young people are reported from the District to be looking forward to, and preparing for the army of those who have set themselves to give all their energies to promoting the Kingdom. Such fine groups of enthusiastic and capable young people throughout our methodism furnish our greatest reason for optimism and assurance for the future.

A net gain of about 5 per cent in church membership has been made, totaling between 600 and 800 persons. Our death rate has been lower than last year by about 10 per cent for which we express our gratitude.

The W. F. M. S. and the W. H. M. S. have worked against many discouragements but for the most part are making good reports.

The Ladies Aid Societies, as usual have acted as the real salt of the earth to the local churches. I am sure every District superintendent will join with me in saying "The Lord bless the Ladies' Aid Societies everywhere."

Material Improvements.

At Central on the Ogden charge, where last year the church was utterly destroyed by a cyclone, a new and handsome building adapted to the needs of that community was dedicated last Sunday, September 9. The total cost of this plant, which consists of a comfortable and attractive auditorium, two departmental rooms and two class rooms upstairs and a full basement for added Sunday School and social purposes below, is $8,000, of which about $4,000 has already been paid and the remainder is cared for in reliable subscriptions. The pastor, Rev. Boyd L. Rudd and his good people are gratified and happy over this achievement.

St. James Church, Danville, under the indomitable leadership of Dr. H. W. McPherson has subscribed $125,000 on the fund for building the new church.

The Parish House of the First Church of Champaign was dedicated by Bishop Nicholson, May thirteenth, at which time the good people of Champaign added to their already sacrificial giving almost $60,000 in an effort to cover the total cost of this splendid improvement which makes her one of the finest equipments to be found in Methodism. The pastor, Dr. Herbert A. Keck, who has been the inspiration and leader, has shown himself to be a master in this big undertaking for the Kingdom. Besides the unflinching support of Rev. Paul Carson, the Director of Religious Education, Miss Jennie Painter, the pastor's assistant and the loyal officials of his church, Dr. Keck was ably assisted on dedication day by Dr. W. J. Davidson, President of Illinois Wesleyan. The total cost of this investment, including repairs on the church property was in round numbers, $155,000.

Repairs, decorations and improvements were made on Lincoln-Danville, costing $2,410.00. On Vermilion Heights, costing $1,000.00.

At Georgetown, the pastor, Dr. A. S. Flanigan, rallied the people to undertake the task of cleaning off a long standing indebtedness on the church and parsonage. $2,700.00 were secured and the mortgage was burned with rejoicing. An endowment bequest of $3,000.00 was also received for the church.

$3,800 was paid on the indebtedness of the Ogden Church. The church at Penfield has been repapered and looks fresh and attractive. Armstrong Church has been painted, costing $310.00.

At Potomac, a furnace, bath room, and other items were added to the parsonage, costing about $1,000. A new roof was put on the parsonage at Grace, Danville. Cost, $180.00. Indebtedness and improvements on the Church and parsonage at Paxton, amounting to $1,727, were cared for. Rankin paid on church and parsonage debt, $460.00. Shiloh lowered their parsonage indebtedness by $1,100.00.

On almost every church and parsonage in the District, some money was spent. The totals are as follows:

Subscribed and cash for new churches or improving same.....	$292,608.00
Subscribed for church endowment	3,000.00
Paid on improving parsonages.....	3,477.00
Paid on indebtedness	6,195.00
Total.....	$305,280.00

This when added to the Bi-Conference subscription from the District brings the total, exclusive of local support, Centenary and all other benevolences to more than one-half million dollars.

Centenary.

It is impossible to make an accurate report on the Centenary but the Superintendent has every reason to believe the reports brought to conference by the pastors will be very gratifying. Hundreds of our people have made their final payment and have had their notes returned, while others are planning to pay at the earliest possible moment. Very, very few ever speak of not paying this obligation in full.

Cunningham's Children's Home.

Cunningham's Children's Home has during the year received two substantial gifts. One, a farm situated in Douglas County, the gift of R. C. Macey of Whittier, California. The second, a valuable house in Champaign given by Mrs. L. T. Hazon. The farm contains one hundred twenty acres and is given on the annuity plan. A part of the debt against the home has also been paid. During the past year, Cunningham Hall was thoroughly renovated and repaired at a cost of $1,500.00.

The assets of the home are:

Value of grounds and equipment.....	$100,800.00
Sheldon Farm	32,000.00
Macey Farm	24,000.00
Hazon Estate	14,000.00
Endowment	11,222.00
Current Fund	3,541.00
Total.....	$185,563.00
Debt	2,786.00
Leaving a net balance in assets.....	$182,777.00

The greatest investment of Cunningham, however, is the investment in young life. There has been an average of about 72 children in the Home during the past year, with many asking for admittance that must be turned away. We had one graduate from the High School who goes to one of our training schools for more advance preparation in special service for the Master. After having been carefully prepared in mind and heart, a class of sixteen of these boys and girls were admitted into membership at the First Church, Urbana, on Easter Day. Cunningham is trying in every way to fulfill the purpose of a church Home, that of training the children in its care to become loyal Christian citizens.

The Wesley Foundation at The University of Illinois.

The Wesley Foundation is meeting, even beyond our expectation, the ends for which it was so wisely promoted. Of the student body at this educational center, 1287 were members of Trinity Church this year. The Social Center Building is rendering an ever-increasing service to the students of which no adequate representation can here be made.

400 average attendance at Epworth League.

500 in Sunday School discussion classes.

6 Credit Courses in Religious Education.

14 Elective Religious Education Courses.

A Country Life Club.

A Student Volunteer Band of 68 members.

2 Gospel Teams, etc. etc.

Training for lay leadership receives much attention and most gratifying results are to be found where the graduates are taking up their business or professional careers.

Over 1,000 meetings were held last year in the Social Center Building besides the contest ebb and flow of students and visitors who come to rest, become acquainted, meet their friends, join together in religious and social activities, study, and get inspiration for life.

Trinity Church, long since out grown, continues to turn away from its doors on Sunday morning multitudes of students who seek to be led in spiritual things by that Prince of Student Pastors, Dr. James C. Baker, who has had a growing ministry of 16 consecutive years in this charge. The crying need is for the new church at the earliest possible moment.

The Bi-Conference Movement.

Never did a District Superintendent have greater reason for gratitude on account of loyalty and co-operation than did the Superintendent of the Champaign-Danville District in the Bi-Conference Movement. Every pastor of the District supported it from the beginning to end, giving four or five days of each week for almost a month to the actual work of canvassing.

The total for this District when all is accounted for reaches very nearly $200,000. Special mention should be made of Rev. E. K. Towle, whose work before as well as during the canvass was most gratifying and productive.

Final Word.

We need not multiply words. A review of the past does not bring satisfaction, but we are disposed to cry out with determination, as did Paul—"Forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before. We press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Respectfully submitted,

A. K. BYRNS,
Superintendent, Champaign-Danville District.

DECATUR DISTRICT.

T. N. Ewing, District Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

Soon after the adjournment of the Illinois Conference, a year ago, I was able to secure the services of W. A. Boyd as Pastor of Strasburg circuit which had been left to be supplied. Clarksburg circuit passed out of existence when its remaining church, Wesley Chapel was joined with Strasburg. During the year Webster Markland who had been appointed Pastor of Forsyth gave up the work and H. B. Montgomery supplied the charge to the end of the year. Lakewood, left vacant by the sickness and death of Brother W. D. Russell was supplied for a time by A. M. Sinclair and finally by R. A. Hartrick who finished the year's work. Excepting these changes all the charges were served according to the original Conference appointments.

Early in the Conference year the pastors and laymen of the District were called together for counsel and manifested a fine spirit of co operation. Again in April and in August District meetings were held which proved very pleasant and profitable. In keeping with the spirit of these meetings a fine morale prevailed throughout the year and was manifested especially in the three financial drives into which the District was led—the "I Will Maintain" campaign in October for the Centenary, the Bi-Conference campaign in early summer and the Centenary settlement campaign in August and September.

In evangelism and church membership increase the District has not equalled the record of last year—a report from thirty-two of the forty-one charges compiled September 10th, showed only 597 conversions during the year, with only 626 added to the church and a net gain in membership of only 278. Even after making allowance for the nine charges not reported in that summary it is perfectly clear that the year just closed has been a lean one in spiritual revival and ingathering. Sunday Schools in the same thirty-two charges showed an average attendance during the year of 4,630 and the Epworth Leagues an average of 650.

Notwithstanding the fine co-operation of our pastors in their purpose to take the sag out of the Centenary and the endeavor of our people to rally to the much needed assistance of that great work I regret to report that results are lamentably short. Reports of pastors in thirty-two charges show a total of only $18,833, which is little more than $300 above the amount reported by the Decatur District in my report last year. I am hoping however that belated returns will show the case more favorably.

In the Bi-Conference movement the Decatur District was glad to have a reasonable share of the toil and victory, securing something over $170,000 for that great cause. Very little help came from our laymen in making this canvass, although there were some notable exceptions. As is so generally the case the pastor bore the heat and burden of the day and to the pastor belongs the chief credit for the hard earned victory. It is a pleasure however to bear witness to the gentlemanly demeanor and good sense of the men of the Hancher organization working with us on the Decatur District.

$31,551.00 were expended in building and improvements and in the payment of debts on the District this year. Some of the noteworthy achievements of a temporal sort are as follows: Payment of parsonage debt of $1,370 at Monticello, expenditure of $1,200 in improvement of church at Bethany, $1,500, in completing basement of church in Sadorus, $600, in improvement of church property in Assumption, redecorating of the interior of Sanner Chapel, the building of a beautiful $6000 bungalow parsonage at Cowden, the securing of additional pledges of $6000 to cover balance of church debt at Lovington and the reduction of the debt by payment of a like amount, the interior decoration of the church at Shelbyville at a cost of $5100 and finally the securing of $21,000 in pledges toward the liquidation of the debt of St. Paul's. All of this work has been achieved in the midst of difficulties and merits praise.

Salaries of pastors in the District show an upward trend, there being only two charges of the forty-one showing a decrease for the ensuing year and the net gain for the district will be nearly $1000.

Two notable inspirations have come to us this year in the district, the one coming in the form of the Epworth League institute which great Conference enterprise in the Illinois Conference has wisely made its home among us in Shelbyville and which, this year, was the best with which we have ever been favored. The other inspiration was the visit of Bishop Charles Wesley Burns who spent Passion Week in Decatur ministering to the membership and constituency of Grace Church and to hundreds of Methodist people, pastors and laymen who were greatly edified by his pulpit ministrations and charming personal touch.

The health of our Parsonage people has been rather better, in the main, than it was last year. Yet we have not been without our sickness and sorrow. Early in the year Brother W. D. Russell, pastor of our church in Lakewood, broke down and was compelled to give up his work. He was taken to the Shelbyville hospital where he lingered for many weeks without improvement and then to the Masonic Home near Sullivan, and finally to the sanitarium in Jacksonville where the end came July Twenty-fifth. Mrs. T. A. Hendrix, daughter of Brother G. N. Wilkerson, our pastor at Arthur, after a lingering illness of many months, August 12th, sank down into the sleep of death.

The home of the District Superintendent was also visited by the dreaded visitor no home can forever bar. Late in February Mrs. Ewing and the entire family were taken with the "flu." Others were only slightly ill but the wife and mother after a brave battle in the Decatur and Macon County hospital came to the end of life's journey in full possession of all her faculties to the last moment and in the smiling triumph of the Christian faith which rested upon the disconsolate little group of her beloved household like a benediction. And thus the shadows have come and sometimes they seem to deepen as the days pass, but the long, strong arms of our Christian Brotherhood are very comforting and our faith in the goodness and mercy of God is unshaken and the way of comfort is the way of the Christian ministry going where others' shadows are and finding our own lifting and sometimes falling round us like a mantle all illumined in the glory of an imperishable hope.

JACKSONVILLE DISTRICT.

E. L. Pletcher, District Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

The two Western Districts of the Illinois Conference embrace two-fifths of the whole territory of the entire Conference. In reporting to you the activities upon the Jacksonville District the report must of necessity be scattering and somewhat disconnected because of the great variety of work and the conditions under which it is administered.

Two Great Movements.

During my term upon the District we have passed through two great movements in this Conference. The first was the Centenary campaign and its subsequent operation. This alone has been a task worthy of one's utmost endeavor. Each year we have striven to reach the last person and collect the maximum in every charge. After Conference last Fall we rallied to the "I Will Maintain" campaign and a most careful canvass was made at this time of crisis. This year we have sought in every way to bring up every charge and secure as complete a settlement as possible.

In the early summer we spent several very strenuous months in the Bi-Conference Campaign for our Educational Institutions and Conference Claimants. We are pleased to note that the Jacksonville District stands second in the list of the Districts of the two Conferences. I have been constantly in the field and have not in any way tried to shield myself from the labor or any unpleasant task which must be undertaken in carrying forward these two great and vital movements.

Appreciation.

Such mighty campaigns as we have passed through try the mettle of both laymen and preachers, and perhaps there is no better place to really become acquainted with men than under such great distress. Therefore it is a great gratification to me to say that not one of the preachers upon the District have failed us and the great majority of the laymen have been true and loyal to the far-seeing programs of the church. And may I add, that if both the laymen and preacher had not known and felt the hearty support which has always been given us by our bishop in all the work of the District we could not have accomplished in any degree what has been done.

Spiritual Activities.

We have always insisted that, first, things must be given the place of importance in any program and no work of the kingdom can succeed unless we are much in prayer and stress the spiritual side of every church activity. In all our work we have insisted that the church must not neglect the things of the spirit. Special evangelistic services have been held in nearly every church and the results in conversions and the quickening of the church life have been very gratifying. During the summer we have used the District tent at several points and much good has come from these open air meetings.

Parts of the District lie within the mining regions of Illinois where thousands of unchurched and un-American humanity are assembled. Here we have maintained special work among these people. Conducting citizenship classes among the men, many of whom were soldiers from the ranks of the World War soldiers of Europe. We have gathered the children in our Sunday Schools and have gone into the homes teaching a religion of sanitation and home-making. Especially has this work gone on at Thayer, Virden and the mining settlements south of Springfield.

An Unfortunate Attitude.

For the past few years, especially in rural localities such as this district, we find that a most unfortunate attitude has been assumed by many of the rural folk. Probably no one but the farmer can realize how severe has been the blow which has fallen upon the rural communities in recent months. Many farmers face bankruptcy unless the tide speedily turns. Our laymen have in many cases borrowed money to meet the salaries of ministers and Centenary payments. But, sad to tell, in other cases a spirit of bitterness and in others of indifferences has overtaken them. Some repudiate subscriptions taken in good faith and upon which great benevolent enterprises were launched. Others seem to have become utterly indifferent to the needs of the kingdom and though they still have money for all their desires they have made the first and deep cut in their support of the church. I realize that in our enthusiasm for the advance of our church there is the danger of placing the dollar sign above the sign of the cross and it may be we have erred, but at the present time in many places the cross wavers and totters because the support of our dollar is withheld.

Outstanding Advances of the Year.

This has been a year of great activity among the churches, when we take a view of the whole District. A few of the most outstanding results may be mentioned, yet we bear in mind that in many cases the "Lord seeth not as man" and it may be that at the last great day the work we have forgotten to note will hear the "Well done" of the Father. Ashland stands out as almost perfect in its complete and neat equipment of both church and parsonage. Pastor Betcher has surely looked after every thing on this desirable charge.

Athens is just beginning a program of improvement and repairs and it is hoped by another year that the physical equipment of this church will be equal in a measure to its requirements. Auburn has enjoyed a prosperous year and at the present time the church is literally "in the air." A fine basement is being constructed and other improvements are under way. This charge also reports an advance in the benevolences over the past year. The Berdan Charge is unique in that not only they have had a prosperous year but at Wesley on this work the pastor, Rev. Amos Crawford, has literally built a beautiful new church with his own hands. After a fine revival at this almost abandoned church the people rallied and the last Sabbath before Conference the district superintendent dedicated a modern country church with basement and equipment to minister to the community needs. Carrollton is planning extensive improvements which will begin very soon.

Chandlerville has the distinction of being ruled by a Methodist mayor who is the pastor of our church at that place,—Rev. D. C. Byus. Curran has passed through four years of steady advance under Rev. Geo. M. Hayes and is now a modern up-to-date rural work. Girard is also, "up in the air" as a new basement is now under construction in connection with a general improvement of the plant. Fire destroyed our beautiful parsonage at Greenfield the night before last Easter, but a new parsonage has been purchased and is now ready for the pastor to occupy. Island Grove celebrated its Centenary of continuous Methodist service in August of this year, and is now well launched on its second century. Nilwood has advanced steadily each year but the past year has been the best of Pastor Wunderlick's seven years of labor. He reports that he has driven in his Ford 25,000 miles, around the world in miles, and that in mud and hills of Macoupin county. On the Oakford Charge at Atterbury on August 5th, our beautiful new church was dedicated by Dr. G. E. Scrimger. This church is the result of the earnest labor of Rev. Harry R. Evans and rises from the ashes of the former church which was burned from lightening a year ago. Petersburg celebrated its Silver Jubilee on Sunday, August 26th. We were gladdened and delighted with the presence of Bishop Hartzel for the morning address and Dr. Theo Kemp gave the evening sermon. This church was erected under the pastorate of Dr. Kemp twenty-five years ago and came to its second reconstruction and decorating under the pastorate of the present pastor, Dr. G. E. Scrimger. Waverly will open the year with a new home for the minister, having purchased a house located in the best part of the city. Another Centennial was observed at White Hall this year and many attractive and interesting things in connection with this event have been carried on during the year by Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick the pastor. Winchester at the present time is engaged in a general program of redecorating and repairs to cost at least five thousand dollars.

New Churches and Parsonages.

While I have been upon this District we have built six new churches as follows, Rich Woods, Durbin, Modesto, Atterberry, Wesley on the Berdan Circuit and Waverly. These are all modern and house flourishing congregations. There are also six new parsonages to record, Bluff Springs, Franklin, Greenfield, Grace Jacksonville, Waverly and Winchester. Three of these have been built and three were purchased all ready built.

Illinois Woman's College.

Each year it has been a pleasure to report the constant growth and development of the Illinois Woman's College which is the constant pride and glory of the Jacksonville District and yet the possession of the whole Illinois Conference. Again we can report that this year presents a record enrollment and not only this but the standard of work and equipment is better than ever before. In the Bible Department the College has been extremely fortunate in securing Prof. Wallace Nelson Starns who comes with the finest record as an instructor in this department which he now assumes. From my own personal experience I can say there is no finer institution where Methodist may place their daughter if they desire the highest Christian culture with the best and highest of modern collegiate work. Last Commencement marked the fiftieth year for Dr. Harker, the President of the College, as a teacher, and his thirtieth year as President of the College. The Trustees voted him a year's leave of absence which he is now enjoying and it is hoped that he will return to the College so refreshed and invigorated that he will carry on this institution from victory to victory and from height to height. In the meanwhile Mr. A. C. Metcalf, the registrar, and Miss Olive L. Austin, the Dean, are in charge of the College and conducting the school with great success and ability. As a result of the Bi-Conference the Woman's College will be able to maintain its collegiate standing and make needed improvements. The citizens of Jacksonville should be highly commended that in the closing days of the Bi-Conference they came forward and subscribed some seventy-four thousand dollars to this cause. They also promised the College that when the time came for a building program that they would be responsible for further support.

The Outlook.

In these modern days things happen so rapidly it is hardly possible to realize how the old is passing; the new seems to rush upon us. So I have found it in our church work. New improvements and ways of transportation change the whole church problem for a community. The fast developing system of hard roads coupled with automobile transportation has greatly effected the rural church problem. I believe we are fast drawing towards community centers, some in small towns and others in the open country.

It will be a great mistake if we abandon our rural churches but we must see to it that strategic points are selected, such as the places where community high schools are located, and here our churches must be maintained and supported for the day that is to be.

I know the message of the Christ is the message of hope for a struggling smitten world. The one ray of hope through the clouds that shadow us today and I likewise feel confident that we have a church organization which will and does adopt itself to the new and changing age. With this hope and assurance I submit this report and face tomorrow and its task with confidence and trust.

MATTOON DISTRICT REPORT.

W. D. Fairchild, Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

Looking back over the year gone we view with a certain sense of satisfaction the work accomplished by the pastors and churches of the Mattoon District. While nothing startling has taken place, careful, patient, intelligent every-day toil has greatly strengthened the work of the Kingdom.

Ministerial Changes.

We entered the Conference Year with a pastor assigned to every charge except Paris Tabernacle and Toledo. Within a few days after the adjournment of Conference M. C. Hull was appointed to Paris Tabernacle, and S. M. Spurgeon was transferred from the Southern Illinois Conference and appointed to Toledo. Immediately following the adjournment of Conference an exchange was arranged between A. R. Wassell of Allerton and S. A. D. McIntosh of Findlay. W. A. Boyd appointed to Indianola was changed to Strasburg and G. A. Frazier of Villa Grove was appointed to Indianola. None of these changes in any way interfered with the work of the charges, they being made early in the year. All pastors have carried on their work throughout the year without interruption, except the break in the pastorate at Sidell caused by the death of the pastor, F. B. Ward.

Spiritual Life.

First and foremost in all our activities as pastors and churches is the matter of acquainting the people with God and inducing them to contribute their share of labor in working out His will. We have sought to lay stress on this very important work. Special revival meetings have been held in almost every church in every charge in the District. In a few instances evangelistic parties aided the pastors and rendered conspicuous service. But for the most part the pastors as usual were their own evangelists, in some instances employing evangelistic song leaders. District Evangelist P. Raymond Powers did excellent work in some of the weaker charges where it would have been impossible otherwise to have secured special help, and gave some time to some of the stronger charges. In every instance pastor and people spoke in the highest terms of his splendid services. From reports received from pastors the district should show a good gain over last year in accessions to the church.

But with all that has been accomplished in evangelistic lines there is a feeling of dissatisfaction among pastors and churches. The old-time plan of a periodic meeting on which the church hangs all its hopes is proving more and more disappointing every succeeding year, and there is a growing conviction that different and better methods must be adopted. All recognize the great value of the special effort confined to a brief period, and there is no desire to abolish that, but the pastors in particular are convinced that nothing but an all-the-year evangelistic program will achieve the purpose. They have a feeling that there ought to be conversions and accessions every week in the year.

Growing out of the method of work in the Bi-Conference campaign is a belief that the methods there used might be modified and employed in evangelistic campaigns. No doubt the same zeal and energy, the same intensity of action together with an equal amount of labor, applied to winning souls to Christ would result in a great victory. Some kind of house-to-house canvass in personal solicitation is the only means of reaching a large number of unchurched people who do not usually attend any special evangelistic services. We are anxious to see more practical methods tried and to see simplified the whole matter of bringing the people to enter into covenant relation with God through the church.

One of the most fruitful fields is the realm of childhood. The church teachers the duty and necessity of gathering the children into the church through early baptism, instruction, and reception. Certainly more attention should be given to this very important matter.

Young People's Work.

The special work begun last year among the young people of the Epworth Leagues and Sunday Schools has been pursued this year with a good degree of success. The Leagues, both senior and junior, report a good year with increased membership. On account of the Bi-Conference Movement which absorbed all our attention during the month of June the conventions for the young people were deferred till July. This carried us over into the vacation period which cut down greatly the attendance. However, there was an attendance in the two conventions held at Villa Grove and Paris of something over 250. We believe there are great possibilities in this movement and look forward to a more complete development of the plan. Twenty study classes have been carried on in the Leagues this year and in most instances have been very successful.

In connection with the young people's work we desire to call attention to some special phases closely if not directly related to the general movement. Special mention is to be made of Vacation Bible Schools. Pastors have approached this phase of work with caution, each rather waiting for results where tried. Several schools have been conducted in the past two years and with success. Two worthy of special mention the past year were those held at Villa Grove and Chrisman. These were union efforts in which the entire community was interested and serve to indicate what can be done through this special kind of effort. Much has been made of Church-Training Night, also, in which one phase of the work was the care of the young. The indications are that this feature of work will soon assume a large place in many churches.

Sunday Schools.

There has been nothing particularly new in Sunday School work during the year. The work moves steadily on and is not characterized by any extremes. We are pleased to report a gradual improvement in interest, organization and methods. This year's report shows a high average attendance for the District. It also shows an increased expenditure for supplies, more graded work added, and improvement in the teaching force. Several churches have added better facilities for handling the work of the schools.

Bi-Conference Movement.

The one event of the year distinguishing itself from the regular routine of church activities was the Bi-Conference Movement. For nearly two years we had been anticipating this campaign—not with special delight, but from a sense of duty and need. Knowing the financial conditions in the District we faced the intensive with considerable trepidation. However, there was no tendency to shirk the responsibility, and when the time came the whole District went into the campaign to win—that is the preachers did—for it was they who did the work.

No quota was given us but it was indicated that $100,000 from the District would be a fine showing considering the location and the fact that none of the institutions was within our borders. The amount subscribed was $131,000, most of which was gathered in a house-to-house canvass and not in large gifts. While we were not out for place we are pleased to know that we stood third among the eleven Districts of the two Conferences. With an institution within our borders no one can estimate what we might have done.

The success of the movement in the District must be credited to the careful and systematic canvass of the whole field, and to the fine team-work and the determined spirit of the pastor-canvassers. Let it be said to the credit of the preachers of the Mattoon District that no group of men could have been more loyal to the program or have worked harder.

Church Property.

Considerable improvement has been made in church and parsonage property during the year.

The Shiloh church on the Martinsville circuit, destroyed by cyclone a year ago, was rebuilt at a cost of about three thousand dollars. It is a splendid one-room building with new furniture and equipment. It was dedicated by the District Superintendent May 13 free of debt.

Work on remodeling the Toledo church was begun in the early summer and is moving rapidly to completion. Furnaces have been installed, a kitchen, Sunday School and social rooms added, the entire building new and old stuccoed, and the interior is to be decorated. The total cost will be about $15,000 most of which is already provided. The building will be ready for use within a few weeks. Much credit is due the pastor, S. M. Spurgeon, for the work he has done in making possible this enterprise.

The church at Fairlands on the Murdock charge has been remodeled and was re-opened for services by the District Superintendent on July 8. The building has been raised, basement constructed, Sunday School rooms added, and a furnace installed. The total cost was about $2500, all provided before the day of the re-opening.

The newly remodeled church at Martinsville mentioned in our report last year was completely destroyed by fire in February. Steps were taken at once to rebuild. Subscriptions were secured, plans adopted, and the corner stone laid with appropriate ceremonies under the direction of the District Superintendent on Sunday, August 26. The plan is modern and will fit the needs of our growing church in Martinsville. The new plant complete will cost about $35,000. The pastor, R. N. Montague, has been the prime moving force in securing subscriptions and launching the enterprise which is now sure to come to successful completion.

Many other churches and parsonages have received more or less attention. At Casey about $2800 old indebtedness was paid off and some $1400 spent on redecorating the interior of the church and painting the exterior of church and parsonage. At Greenup $500 was spent on redecorating and painting the church. The parsonage at Westfield has been made modern at a cost of some $700. About $200 was spent on the Isabel church on the Kansas Circuit. Repairs on the Humbolt church and parsonage cost about $1000. Marshall spent $500 improving the church building. At Newman a parsonage well was put down at a cost of $500. The Hindsboro church added some $900 worth of improvements. Paris has spent $1000 on church and parsonage. Many other churches have added improvements costing lesser amounts. The total expenditure for work completed and in process of construction is about $65,000. The total indebtedness on church and parsonage property in the District is now less than $5000.

The church at Hume has been remembered in the gift of a splendid pipe organ now being installed. It is the gift of Mrs. Sarah Hughes Aikman of Chicago in memory of her husband, both of whom were formerly identified with the Hume church. The cost of the complete installation will be about $3,500.

Parish Plan.

Unfortunately there are in Methodism many small struggling churches, loosely connected, offering a meager support, and difficult to sustain. Some of these are in the Mattoon District. For several years the group of churches about Marshall and West Union have presented a serious problem—the problem of securing a competent pastor with no particular support.

Last Fall we undertook to provide for the Marshall Circuit on the Parish Plan. Four churches were grouped and related to the central church, the Marshall church. C. E. Pettit, pastor at Marshall, was given charge of the field and J. M. Harvey, a teacher in the Marshall high school, a splendid young man with experience as pastor, was made associate pastor at Marshall and pastor of the circuit. The result has been a year of marked success. The membership has been increased, deeper sense of responsibility aroused in the churches, and an increased spirit of co-operation between town and country churches brought about. Special mention should be made of the work done among the young people of town and country. A get-together social program in the Marshall church on a rainy night brought together over 200 young people, fully one-half being from the country. We believe this plan a step in the right direction and capable of great things under right conditions and with proper leadership. It is commended to any small group of struggling churches located in close proximity to some strong central church.

District Meetings and Special Events.

The Fall meeting for the District was held soon after Conference and had for its special purpose the presentation of the Centenary needs. Bishop Luther Wilson of New York was with us for an evening at Mattoon and brought an inspiring message to ministers and laymen. While it was a hurry-up call and held in the midst of moving time we nevertheless had a large attendance of the ministers and a fair representation of laymen.

The Spring meeting was held early in the year at Tuscola and was a joint meeting of the Decatur and Mattoon Districts. We were fortunate in having with us Bishop Nicholson who gave us a full day, and by his presence, his direction, and his inspiring and helpful addresses added greatly to the success of the gathering. We are lead to think that a repetition of this Bi-District arrangement would be worthwhile.

At different times smaller groups of men have been together to discuss the problems before us as a District or part of a District. Sub-District group meetings were held in every Sub-Division in connection with the launching of the Bi-Conference Movement.

A significant event in the year was the observance of the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Paris, Illinois. Dr. Chapman, the pastor, had arranged a special program running through a full week. Bishop Nicholson brought us an inspiring message on Sunday morning, and former pastors contributed their share to the success of the program by their presence and their addresses from night to night.

Centenary.

We stand at the end of the Centenary period for those who pledged annually and paid the first entire payment in 1919. This included most of the subscribers in the District. We have done our utmost, considering all else on hand, to impress on every subscriber the necessity of meeting the emergency that confronts the church. It is needless to say that we are not expecting to collect 100 per cent this Conference. Many are unable to meet their payments in full and must have more time. However, generally speaking, there is no disposition to repudiate pledges, and we believe that eventually almost all pledges will be paid in full. In the "I Will Maintain" campaign our people rose to the emergency and contributed their share.

It is impossible at this time to say just how much Centenary money has been collected this year but we feel certain that the total will not fall below that of last year, and we have a hope that it will considerably exceed that amount. We think the comparative showing will be good. October 31 should see a very large amount added to the present collections whatever they may be. The new World Service Program is upon us and it will be of great advantage to us all if the present pledges can be paid before we begin the campaign under the new program.

Local Finances.

Last year was a difficult year financially and this year has been little if any better. It has required the same persistent effort to bring up the finances. At some periods in the year the showing was not equal to that of last year, but the final results are very satisfactory. For the seventh consecutive time we are able to report every dollar of ministerial support paid in full as promised.

I desire to repeat in substance here what I said in my report last year concerning the general situation in church finance. The embarrassment in local church finance is not a lack of money but a lack of business methods. Many churches fail to determine a budget and make an every-member canvass. They still follow the old plan used in primitive days, and at the end of the year face a deficit. Under such circumstances the first suggestion is to cut the expenses, particularly the minister's salary. They fail to see that a reduction of a few dollars instead of making matters easier usually adds to the final burdens.

In a few instances churches having subscriptions do not follow up the collections, hence have a deficit at the end of each quarter, and expect the pastor to carry the deficit by borrowing at the bank and paying interest. They do not seem to realize that such conduct makes it more and more difficult to secure pastors.

Churches in the main are not backward about expressing their desires relative to the high type of man needed. Many of them want miracle-workers but they offer neither a decent support nor any certainty that the promised amount will be paid. It requires the grace and grit of a pastor plus the insistence of a district superintendent to balance the account.

There is just one way to obviate all this difficulty, and that lies in a budget for every church, an every-member canvass covering the amount, and weekly payments, or advance quarterly payments, with quarterly settlements in full. It can be done and it must be done for the good of pastors and churches, and the next great emphasis in church activity ought to be placed right here.

There will be a few reductions in salary this year—all unnecessary without exception. But there are advances that practically offset the decreases so that the total for the District will remain about the same as the past year,

Memorial Hospital.

The Mattoon Methodist Memorial Hospital has had another successful year. Since general donations are not taken for the hospital in the churches, but must be secured for the most part locally there are times when the burden falls heavy. This has been true during the past year. It is hoped a better day is ahead when a more general support throughout a larger patronizing territory may be secured. The same high grade of work maintains in the hospital that has always characterized it.

Women's Societies.

We wish to enter a word of commendation here of the splendid work done by the various Ladies' Aid Societies throughout the District. But for their interest in the welfare of the churches some doors would close. We rejoice in the fine spirit that stirs these organizations to action, but greatly regret the unbusinesslike methods in church finance that make it necessary for the good women to carry these responsibilities.

The W. F. M. S. and the W. H. M. S. has each had a prosperous year. Finances have been hard to raise, but the heroic efforts of the women have brought up fine reports in both societies. The membership continues to increase, especially in the enrollment of the young people.

Deaths.

Two of our ministers have fallen this year in death. Bro. M. F. Ault, retired and living in Kansas, died in June following a brief illness. He had been in his usual health, was enjoying life, and was deeply interested in the work of the church. His going removed from among us one of God's faithful workmen, a devoted brother, whom we all loved.

In July Bro. F. B. Ward, pastor at Sidell, went to Lake View hospital for a minor operation, not considered in any way dangerous, but for some cause beyond control of the surgeon, he died a few minutes after the operation was begun. His death was a great shock to the community and to his fellow-ministers. Bro. Ward was richly endowed by nature for his great work to which he had added careful preparation. He was a faithful pastor, a splendid preacher, and a princely brother.

On December 7 a great sorrow came to Brother and Sister Hoar and family of Kansas circuit, in the sudden death of their youngest child, Elizabeth, six years of age. She was taken ill with diphtheria and lived but a brief time. She was a delight in the household and gave great promise, but just as her little life was beginning to rapidly unfold God came and she went away.

Brother and Sister Petty of Westfield had the great misfortune to lose their babe of a few months in early May. In the early days of its life it gave promise, but disease fastened upon it and one day with scarcely a warning it slipped away into the great beyond.

Aside from these exceptions the parsonage homes have been spared any losses by death, and have for the most part been blessed with health and happiness.

Appreciation.

I desire once more to record my deep appreciation of the opportunity to serve among my fellow-workmen, for their fine spirit of co-operation, for their sympathetic and brotherly lives, and for their deep sense of devotion to the cause they serve. I have endeavored to be among them as one that serves. The fellowship has been fine in parsonage home and in the field together, and their loyalty and spirit of co-operation have made possible whatever has been achieved for the Kingdom in the year now closing.

QUINCY DISTRICT.

E. S. Combs, District Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Co-Workers of the Conference:

Once again we stand before the Bishop and the members of the Illinois Conference to report for the Quincy District. History is made in epochs, and so we add to the history of Illinois Methodism. Year after year we go on working and building the Kingdom.

"Little drops of water, little grains of sand, make the mighty ocean and the beautiful land." Hence the continued application of the truth, here and there a little, line upon line, always at the task, builds a kingdom of righteousness.

Paul said in his day: "This one thing I do." That is a great motto. No District Superintendent of the Illinois Conference needs to be urged to do one thing. It is absolutely impossible for him to do anything else. The task of a superintendent today calls for men of large heart, abundance of charity, and mountains of patience, long vision, super physical strength, nocturnal eyes, and habits, faith unquenchable, and a brand of religion such as our fore fathers possessed, for the test comes to one and all today, as by fire. These essentials are needed because the fields are white unto harvest. Oh! Methodism send us consecrated reapers for this great harvest.

The ministers of today, must have a message such as Moses, Elijah, Isaiah, and Paul, but more than that they must be teachers, pastors and leaders, "wise as serpents and harmless as doves."

They must be men who will give more and more. One layman of prominence said to me, "We have only had preaching this year, nothing more. We must have a man who will give us more, and I will give and give of my money and time for the Kingdom." We have a great ministry, but we have an oceanic task, and if the ministry of the day continues, it must be super wonderful to overcome the commercial influence of worldliness.

It is true the gospel of Christ is the greatest thing in the world, but the ministry must reveal the gospel to the world, that is what Jesus had in mind when he said, "And I if I be lifted will draw all men unto me."

We pastors must be the lifters. Lift brother lift, and when the world knows him as he is, they will follow him as was said of old "Behold the world has gone after him."

As we pass from one year to another we pause with bowed heads to thank the Master for his goodness to our parsonage homes. Only once during the year did death enter, and then it took out the little son of Rev. and Mrs. Koser of Hull.

During the year as superintendent I have labored unceasingly—night and day, and day in and day out. I never traveled so many miles; lost so much sleep; gave my strength and all, as during the past year, that I might carry out the great program of the church. No regrets other than I wished I might have accomplished more for the Kingdom.

The Ministry.

I would love to take the time to tell of the work of each pastor and charge on the District, but suffice to say, I bear witness, that they have been faithful. No District could have had a more faithful hard working class of pastors than the Quincy District. In all departments they have labored faithfully, but no where more so than in the Bi-Conference Movement. They did not make roses grow, where none had bloomed, but they did secure money from sources where it seemed almost impossible, at least where it had never been touched for the Lord's treasury.

God bless the Methodist preacher, he is the Key Man, to the success of the great church and her institutions. He keeps the home fires of religion burning in millions of homes.

Finance.

Our goal has been from the beginning 100 per cent for ministerial support. Last year we reached that record for the first time in the history of the District. All have labored faithfully at the task this year. Some charges will pull up next year, and some will hold steady, and others will pull down, and others will not promise any definite support. Christian Stewardship must be pushed to the front in our churches as a solution to our financial problems. The public is not without money, but they are not burdening the church with it.

The pastor is still the Key Man to the financial success of a charge. When the pastor serves and leads his people on under the banner of love. Victory comes along all lines. Nothing equals a ministry fragrant with love, good will, and good wishes. Then the pastor must know his people. Our church folks desire and pray for pastoral service. Question 17 should have a sermon preached on it at every annual conference. "Will you visit from house to house?" The pastor who neglects to meet this requirement will soon find complaint and financial difficulty camping on his trail, and because he does not move among the folks, he is asked to move on. God grant that we may have the mind of Christ. "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus. "He went about doing good."

Building and Improvement.

On Sunday, March the 17, Bishop Nicholson dedicated the remodeled church and new parish house at Beardstown, which cost $90,000.00. This is one of the most complete plants in Illinois Methodism. This has long been the coveted desire of the Beardstown people. Now the desire is met, and Rev. Losh the pastor rejoices with the people. The pastor has been invited to return, and I am sure they will reap a great harvest for the Kingdom this coming year.

Paloma rebuilt and placed a basement under her church at the cost of $6,000. Much credit belongs to the pastor, Bro. Payne. Barry, under the leadership of Rev. Waltmire, laid the corner stone for a new auditorium Sunday, September 2, and when finished with the old church remodeled, will cost about $40,000, and will be a complete plant in every way.

Doddsville and Basco are planning new churches. Grace Church Quincy hopes to move into the basement of their new church by December. A number of other churches have made improvements on their property during the year. Mt. Sterling and New Canton purchased new parsonages; suffice to say they were much needed. When all plans are consummated that are now under way we will have spent on buildings and improvements on the District in three and one-half years approximately $300,000.

Sunday School's.

The Sunday School continues to be the most effective organization for training and teaching that the church has ever established, and as yet the institution is in its infancy. It has unlimited resources and ability to do as none have ever dreamed. We have 87 Sunday Schools on the District with an enrollment of 16,000. There have been some marked gains this year in Sunday School work. There is an ever, and not at any period a greater, demand for a teaching church and trained Christians, such as Paul and John Wesley.

The Sunday School is the open door of opportunity for this work. John Wesley recognized this when he propagated the work in his day. He not only believed in Evangelism, but in a trained ministry and teaching force.

No church can make permanent progress without trained minds and trained hearts. Brethren of the ministry do not neglect this great department of our church. We had a large number of training classes, church training nights, Mission study classes and daily vocation bible schools, all which proved very helpful.

Epworth Leagues.

We have 35 Leagues with a membership of about 1500 and 15 Junior Leagues with a membership of about 300. In the League we train for Christian work and leadership. Here Christian Stewardship has its most fruitful field.

Out of this select number comes our preachers, missionaries and Sunday School workers. If we would have leaders for the church of the future we must train them. There is no place so fitted for this work as the Epworth League.

Rev. J. C. Brown, President of the Quincy District Epworth League has done most effective work among the young people of the District through his leadership. The District reached second place at the Shelbyville institute, which speaks big things for the District, when one stops to count distance. We have hosts of young people who are ready to be used. What we need today is a leadership among this host of young people.

Missionary Societies.

We have ten Home and thirty-two Foreign Societies on the District. These faithful bands of praying—working and giving folks can make a dollar do more do more on the missionary field than any other organization.

They are doing all in their power to send the gospel of Christ to the frontier of civilization, and sometimes that frontier is in the city next door. They are determined to lift the womanhood of the world to the Christ standard for national safety and peace. We bid them God's blessings and speed.

The Societies of the Quincy District will give a good account of their talent for they have labored faithfully. The W. F. M. S. raised $6,712.62 over against $6,782.96 last year.

Some women have turned to golf, cards, and parties, but these faithful souls have heard the call, "Am I my sisters keeper?" So rather than seek pleasure, they seek those who need the gospel.

Good Literature.

God said in the beginning, "Let there be light." Man could not live in a world of darkness. Neither can man live in a world of ignorance. Hence our church has made provisions for all the information needed in the way of periodicals, and books. There is the Northwestern Christian Advocate and The Epworth Herald, both great papers, but not read or used as widely as they should be. The District had an increase of 45 subscriptions to the Northwestern this year. Each pastor should keep the idea of good books and papers before the Methodist homes.

Chaddock Boys' School.

This school under management of Mrs. Eva Fields and the efficient faculty continues to become more effective every year, and meets a long felt need in our church. The Bi-Conference will show when completely audited, the popularity of the school from the designated gifts. It is need less to say that the school has far more applicants than it can admit in any year of its history.

Jesus said in speaking of the childhood of the world, "Of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Such boys as are trained in this school by the efficient faculty make the leaders in church, home and state. We need more such institutions, for the world has not, and never will come to the place where it can dispense with trained Christian leadership.

We are looking forward to the time when the buildings of Chaddock may be enlarged, so that the enrollment of the school may be increased, and then we will not be compelled to turn so many lads back into the broken homes, or out into the world without homes. I plead that the Illinois Conference may give Chaddock Boys' School a large place in their prayers—giving and planning, for it is worthy of consideration.

Bi-Conference Movement.

This campaign has come and gone, save the collecting and dividing of the gifts. The gifts are still with us.

From an educational point of view it was very beneficial to our Methodist and constituency of the Illinois Conference. It opened a door to many of our folks so that they could get a much better understanding of what the church and schools are trying to do for the young life of the Methodism.

It made friends for all of our institutions and benevolent causes. Then all who participated in working, giving or listening have been benefited in many ways. It opened a door for other educational campaigns which must follow in the course of time. It will make the way easier for our World Service Program, that is knocking at the doors of our churches. All in all it was a great campaign. The Quincy District tried to do her part. All the workers, especially the pastors were faithful, they toiled early and late. They gave a good account of themselves. I have only the highest words of commendation for each one who participated. Once a gain the pastor was the Key Man. We never could have reached the home base if it had not been for the pastors. May God bless them.

The Quincy District gave between $65,000 and $70,000. In the future we hope to have an all Quincy campaign for Chaddock for about $100,000, for in Quincy the school has many loyal friends.

Evangelism.

While we have been busy about many things, we have not forgotten that our great church came into the light of history through a great revival of religion, and a revival has kept it fit for service all of these years.

A number of churches have had good revivals, Ray, Astoria, Barry, Brooklyn, Camden, Doddville, Paloma, Payson, Perry, Rushville, Vermont St., Quincy. There has been something near 600 conversions, and about 700 accessions during the year.

The poet said concerning the brook, "Men may come and go, but I will go on forever."

As long as humanity sits by the fireside and walks the streets of the city, or lives in the cottage by the way side, we will need to be called back to the altars of God for confession, conversion and consecration. When the revivalist leaves, the teaming crowded ways, and the spirit of conviction flies away, humanity will drift from the moorings of right, and chaos will be our lot, and disaster our portion.

Brethren, as I stand here today, I plead with you to keep the revival fires aglow upon the altars of the churches. Nothing can be substituted for it. It is the blood of our soul's life, and when it ceases to function, we die spiritually.

Centenary and Benevolences.

To date we have paid over $175,000 on centenary pledges from the District during the four years. This does not include the "I will maintain fund," which was $3,000. The pastors have labored faithfully in prosecuting the claims of the Kingdom and the centenary. They have met with encouragements from some sources, and opposition from others. It is a continued story, but will soon be concluded, but in spite of the opposition we would not turn back.

The centenary program has made possible one of the finest Epochs of Methodist Church history ever written. It has revealed to us as never before the wealth of Methodism, but at the same time we have found some who are not willing to part with their wealth. Again we must preach and teach Christian Stewardship. There is a better day ahead, for what we have done once, we can do again, and even more so, for we are a growing church.

Never was there a time when the power, blessings, giving, living, teachings, conviction and conversions of Methodism were felt more in the avenues of the world than today.

No disaster can happen but Methodism is found doing her part in reconstruction. No evil opposed but what we are found in the front ranks of the militant.

No nation to be evangelized, but what our missionaries are pitching tents in the fore front of the workers.

We believe in the message of a gospel of the burning heart. Here, Methodism was born, and by this we will win, and not fail.

May God smile upon us, and Jesus sit with us in our counsels as we meet here in this Annual Conference Session. So that when the appointments are made, we may go forth to our tasks with hearts burning with the love of God for the conquest of the world, and that here we will highly resolve that we will not turn back at the close of the Centenary program, but that we will push the battle on with the leadership and launching of our new World Service Program; and we will do this for the sake and need of Christian homes, and the saving of the youth of the world.

May we hear the voice of Jesus saying to the little band of workers 2000 years ago when he said, "Go ye into all the world." We must go, and we must go everywhere, and we must remember that Jesus said, "And, lo I am with you always."

Lord help us to so live and work, that we may have the coveted presence of Jesus with us, for without him we cannot do anything.

"Lead on, O King Eternal,
We follow, not with fears;
For gladness breaks like morning
Where'er Thy face appears.
Thy cross is lifted o'er us;
We journey in its light.
Lead on, O God of might."

SPRINGFIELD DISTRICT.

E. M. Antrim, District Superintendent.

Bishop Nicholson and Brethren:

"Dig in or dig out" has been the motto of the Springfield District from the beginning of the present Superintendent's incumbency six years ago. Through war-time and peace time, during economic inflation and deflation, in prosperity and adversity, sunshine and shadow, it has constantly been the study of the very choice group of ministers and laymen of this District to show themselves approved unto God, workmen that needed not to be ashamed. That we have not succeeded better in realizing all our goals is our sorrow, that we have done as well as we have is our crown of rejoicing. We have "dug in" and upturned the sod and sowed the good seed as faithfully as we knew how. God has given the increase.

This particular year, the digging has not been easy and there have been some fervent praying and some strenuous hours and some bloody sweat. Recently the farmer folk, of whom we have not a few in this region, have not been favored with overwhelming abundance. There has been much toil and some blue days and many tests of faith. In spite of all that, the results, are in many particulars, most gratifying.

Spiritual Activities.

Religious work has experienced most difficult trials this year, but, notwithstanding all that, over 1250 conversions have been reported by the various charges. Splendid revival meetings were held in many churches with gratifying results. Among others, Blue Mound reports 40; Butler 60. Divernon 90, Dawson 60, Elkhart 42, Hillsboro 70, Mechanicsburg 12, Buckeye 46, Mt. Pulaski 14, Niantic 50, Oconee 70, Pana 80, Pawnee 57, Rosemond 48, Kumler Springfield 64, Laurel Springfield 43, Wesley Springfield 115 and Stonington 36. Unless the churches do ruthless pruning of their membership records the net gains reported to me will amount to more than a thousand. The enrollment in our Sunday Schools is also the highest in our history, while the status of the young people's work is the best in six years. Steady progress is being made almost everywhere along the line.

Illustrations.

We would make no invidious comparisons or omissions, but several fine pieces of work have been done this year that deserve praise. Brother Fred Reed, at Elkhart, led his own evangelistic campaign, resulting in 42 conversions, reorganized the local finances, re-awakened interest among the young people and in the Sunday School and is now conducting a campaign to secure backing to build a new church. He is invited to return at increased salary. Brother A. B. Peck at Hillsboro conducted a revival campaign resulting in 70 conversions, reorganized local finances, remodeled the parsonage at a cost of $3300, reports large increase in Centenary offerings and is unanimously invited back at a $300 increase in salary. Brother C. R. Booth, at Pana, reports 80 conversions, a net gain of 96 in membership, 111 signed tithers, an Epworth League with over 200 enrolled and is unanimously invited back at a $600 increase in salary. Brother J. E. Reynolds, at Mt. Pulaski, has reported increased the membership and Sunday School attendance, has an Epworth League with an enrollment of 65, has remodelled both the Mt. Pulaski Church and French's Chapel at a cost of $7200, donning overalls to work along side his men and is unanimously invited back at an increase of $200 in salary. But time and space fail me, to even mention many others reserving praise for equally faithful work.

New Churches and Parsonages.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the year's work has been the building and remodeling of churches and parsonages. Sharpsburg built and dedicated a modern brick church, costing over $16,000, all subscribed. The Coalton mission, that began its work among 1,500 foreigners, first in a dance hall, then in an abandoned saloon, then in the empty jail, has built and dedicated a beautiful little concrete stone church valued at $4,000, all subscribed. St. Paul Munch planted and Appollos Maxey watered this enterprise. Wesley Church in Springfield, an adventure of faith, established in an unchurched section of the Capitol City, has this year built and dedicated a model brick plant, consisting of church, community hall, and parsonage. Its conservative valuation is $30,000. Some 115 charter members were received on dedication day. Over 300,000 of the pavement bricks from the streets of Springfield went into this building, many of them put in place by the hand of the pastor, J. P. Armand. Likewise, the new Asbury Church in Springfield, formerly the 18th St. Church, another adventure of faith, has a beautiful new brick building in the choicest part of southeastern Springfield, valued at $35,000, which will be ready for dedication in a few weeks. Many more thousands of pavement bricks went into this building too, put there by the patience of the wonder worker, Armand. In addition, the Blue Mound Bethel Church was remodeled at a cost of $4800; Mt. Pulaski Church and French's Chapel at $7200 cost; Ohlman Church at an expense of $1500; Niantic Church at a cost of $750; Hillsboro has remodeled its parsonage, now one of the finest of the District, at a cost of $3300; Pawnee is replacing the one which was recently burned, with a new modern structure, on a better location, while Williamsville has remodeled and thoroughly modernized its parsonage. Altogether $94,599 in cash have gone into these new and remodeled church properties this year while $17,855 have been paid on old indebtedness. Moreover, Laurel Springfield has already secured in pledges over $40,000 toward its new building to be erected next year. Blue Mound has over $35,000 pledged on a new church, while Elkhart and Rochester have about $26,000 more, subscribed on new church buildings. The far-sighted laymen of Douglas Ave. Springfield have purchased additional property next to the church at a cost of about $4000, on which to build a new parish house. I regret to announce that after long negotiations and many conferences, due to local conditions, the Millersville Society, whose church burned to the ground over a year ago, has definitely decided not to re-build, but to break up, as a church organization. For a time, this program looked very dark to Buckeye church, the second point on the circuit, but with the assistance of Brother Munch, they have made an effective canvass and will pay more salary as a station than both churches together before the decease of Millersville. $1499.19 derived from the insurance on the Millersville church is, this year, turned over to the Trustees of the Conference in accordance with the terms of the discipline

The Centenary and Benevolences.

Advance reports concerning Centenary collections are more encouraging than we dared to hope. Excluding a special gift of $7500 made at Pana last year, the prospects at this writing are that the District will report as much Centenary money this year as last. Not a few churches will bring in more than they collected last year. First Church Springfield leads with $10,500 to its credit and a total missionary and benevolent offering of over $16,000, including the W. F. M. S. missionary offerings. This splendid church also gave $1200 in the "I will Maintain Campaign" and subscribed $11,215 to the Bi-Conference Movement. Douglas Avenue and Kumler Springfield are both reporting an increase of over $800, each, in their Centenary offerings and each subscribed liberally to the Bi-Conference Movement. The District as a whole subscribed 36 units in the "I will Maintain Campaign". Though there were times when it looked dubious and though the money subscribed was obtained by the hardest kind of work, due in part to general conditions and in part to well known historical reasons on the Springfield District, over $80,000 was subscribed for the Bi-Conference Movement.

Pastoral Salaries.

Though this has been one of the most difficult financial years we have experienced since the war, due to disturbed economic conditions and the abnormal and inequitable prices paid for farm products, we have now the highest salary total in our history, and registered a net increase of $2,230 over last year. And I am glad to announce that, though here and there some embarrassing salary reductions for the new year are in prospect, there will also be a net increase of pastoral support for the next year. All honor to our loyal and generous laymen in these difficult times! Assisting to this end was the making of several stations out of two- and three-point circuits. Thus the Rosemond Circuit became this year, Rosemond, a station, and Ohlman-Fairview, a two-point work, both charges raising practically double the former pastoral support. The same was true of Blue Mound and Blue Mound Bethel and of Farmersville and Waggoner. Cornland Church has also been revived and is making a flourishing new start.

Women's Societies.

The W. F. M. Society reports a generous increase in its offerings for the year, this being an advance over last year, the highest on record up to that time. The Springfield District W. F. M. Societies have also captured the record for the Conference in many points. As she is not here to feel embarrassed I will say that Mrs. Antrim, the District President, and her loyal co-workers toiled hard to reach that goal. The District W. H. M. S. has also made a good advance, while the Ladies Aid Societies, those modern miracle workers, report over $25,000 raised this year as compared with $20,000 last year. The wonderful Taylorville Ladies Aid Society breaks all records in raising $5,337, while the First Church Springfield Society comes next with a showing of $2,116.

Work Among New Americans.

The dedication of the beautiful little concrete stone church among the new Americans at Coalton was the consummation of a Centenary dream. Beginning this work as a pioneer in this new field under great handicaps, two weeks ago a beautiful new place of worship, located on hill-top in Coalton, was consecrated by the District Superintendent, using the stately ritual of the Methodist Episcopal Church in a most impressive service, a number of neighboring pastors and visitors assisting. A pageant representing the Americanization of these new-comers to America, in charge of Miss Corinne M. Calvert, the Centenary worker in charge, preceded the dedication. In it children of thirteen different nationalities—American, Belgian, Slavonian, Austrian, French, German, Lithuanian, Bohemian, Polish, Russian, Bulgarian, English and Italian—took part. It was a most impressive and gratifying sight. The Centenary worker in and around Kincaid will have to be withdrawn next year, owing to a lack of funds. More's the pity! A mission worker ought, at a later time, to be sent to Jelseyville and Langleyville to work among the miners living there. Another work, similar to Coalton, is developing at Schram City, where the daughter of one of our preachers, Mrs. Faye Park Rainey, has been in charge. Recently married, she will now be succeeded by another preacher's daughter, Miss Tressa Carnine. Well attended Sunday School, girls' clubs, night school, sewing and English classes, boy scout and camp fire circles, as well as various religious services, are maintained. A church building at Schram City is much needed to concentrate and consolidate the work there, as they have only the school-house and private homes for their meetings now.

Civic Betterment.

The young men of Athens took an oath on reaching their majority that they would fight for the holy temples and for the common welfare, alone and with others; that they would leave the city when they passed on, not in a worse but a better state than they found it, that they would obey the magistrates and the laws and defend them against attack. This is the ideal we have ever held before our minds in our civic relationships.

It has been our joy and pride, as President of the Springfield and Sangamon County Civic League, that the Methodist pastors and laymen of Springfield and all good citizens have so generally assisted in the great moral awakening that has come to the civic life of the Capital City. Without their active co-operation it would not have been accomplished. At present Springfield has a mayor, Hon. S. A. Bullard, who goes to church and prayer meeting, as well as teaches a Men's Bible Class. He is making good on his new civic job. Another good man, Commissioner Lloyd Davis, is at the head of one of our Sunday School departments. Chief of Police John E. George, a Presbyterian elder, is making life miserable for the boot-leggers. Springfield has thus, by the co-operation of good citizens of all classes, been undergoing the greatest moral cleansing in its history. A new civic spirit pervades every department of the Community life. No wonder its citizens are now actively planning to found there the Abraham Lincoln University for the higher educational training of its youth.

Some Six-Year Gains.

We grow down-hearted and discouraged at times when we look at a small piece of work we are doing at close range and perceive but little accomplished. It is as if a man should look at a masterpiece through a small hole in a canvas covering. It has no form nor meaning until the canvas is torn away and the painting viewed in its entirety. So it is with church work. Silent Christian forces are slowly leavening the world. The ultimate triumph is certain under the leadership of our mighty Christ. A comparison of Springfield District statistics, six years ago, when this District Superintendent took charge of the work, and now, shows most encouraging gains.

Then a total of $44,401 was paid in pastor's salaries, now $72,396, or a gain of 63 per cent; then there were 12,969 church members, now 15,916, a gain of 22½ per cent. Six years ago there were 12,931 enrolled in our Sunday Schools, now 14,250, a gain of 19 per cent. In 1918 we had church property valued at $644,880, now it amounts to $981,594, a gain of 50 per cent; then our parsonage property amounted to $116,850 in value, now it reaches $168,700, a gain of 45 per cent. During this six-year period, the District has built and remodeled sixteen churches and fourteen parsonages and has paid out in cash $237,132 for these new buildings and improvements, as well as $59,234 on old indebtedness. Six years ago, before the Centenary period, the total benevolent offering of the District was $27,751; last year it amounted to $74,409, a gain of 37½ per cent. In the six-year period a total of $443,118 have been raised for all benevolences and a total of $512,958 for all ministerial claims or over; $1,252,442 for all purposes. Why art thou cast down, oh my soul, and why art thou disquieted within me, even if all of our dreams have not come true?

Finally, Brethren!

Thus we have "dug in" for six of the best years of our life. And now in response to a Providential call we go to assume the presidency of the Oklahoma City College. We know we are going to a great opportunity even if it will involve laborious toil, but to stamp the image of Christ upon the souls of youth is a privilege angels might covet. And we would not draw back nor do as Shakespeare's ungracious pastors do, "Show the steep and thorny way to heaven, whilst, like a puffed and reckless libertine, himself the primrose path of dalliance treads, and recks not his own rede." We go to the new Southwest to toil in that new field. We expect to give the best there is in us, without reservation, to the training of youth in a Christian college. We are undertaking an attractive responsibility, but with a solemn sense of our dependence upon the guidance, wisdom and sustaining favor of the Almighty. There was a strong tug at the heart when the call came and I have felt that it was the leading of Divine Providence, in which I believe more and more as time goes on. I go gladly, therefore, though sorrowing that I must be separated, even by so small a distance as is Oklahoma, from the Illinois ministers and laymen I have learned to love so well. With you I have rejoiced, with you I have wept. When Vorbeck, the spiritual, passed into the beyond, after leading eleven young men unto the ministry, my heart wept for him. When Kumler, the white-plumed knight of the Illinois Conference, went to his last encampment, I sorrowed for a great-hearted brother. When little ones have come to grace the parsonage homes (and the District has had a full quota this year) my heart has likewise rejoiced.

And now pray for me, as I shall pray for you. You for me, that my powers may be equal to my tasks, and I for you, that ye may continue to go forth bearing the precious seed even with tears, for if ye do, ye shall, doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing your sheaves with you.

Peace be with you, and grace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ, our Savior!

BENEVOLENCES.

The close of the Centenary period, proper, brings us face to face with a serious situation. There is yet unpaid a large balance on Centenary pledges. Many projects have been undertaken, the completion of which is vital to the best interests of the Master's Kingdom.

Taking up again of the regular annual Benevolences will require careful planning and faithful effort.

The needs of the field and the opportunities before us, at so graphically set forth in the World's Service Program, were never so great.

An earnest, devoted spiritual experience and a knowledge of the conditions we are facing are vital to the carrying out of this program. Therefore, be it Resolved: First, that we use all diligence by precept and example to deepen the spiritual life of our people.

Second, that we constantly set before them by the distribution of literature, the putting of our church papers in their homes, the organization of study classes and from the pulpit the needs and opportunities of the field, admonishing them to "Lift up their eyes and look on the fields, for they are white, already to harvest."

Third, that we keep constantly before our people the great importance of securing the last dollar pledged on the Centenary, as soon as possible.

Fourth, that we give ourselves faithfully and diligently to the raising of the annual budget for Benevolences, keeping before ourselves and our people the fact that it must be done.

CONFERENCE DEACONESS BOARD.

Annual Meeting.

The Illinois Conference Deaconess Board met in regular session at First Methodist Episcopal Church, Champaign, Friday afternoon, September 14, at four o'clock with the following members present: Dr. C. F. W. Smith, Mrs. Eva C. Frields, Rev. C. R. Morrison, Dr. Alva Piersel, Dr. Wm. Beadles, Miss Corrine M. Calvert, and Rev. G. L. Losh.

The officers were re-elected for the ensuing year.

The character of each deaconess was passed upon and reports of Mrs. Eva C. Frields, Miss Corrine M. Calvert were given and filed. The Treasurer's report was read and filed (see report).

The character of each deaconess was passed upon and we recommend the renewal of their licenses.

We also recommend that Chaddock Boys School be granted the same means of support accorded her in the past.

CHADDOCK BOYS' SCHOOL.

Theodore Roosevelt said, "The question of the quality of the individual citizen is supreme; it means the success or failure of the country, and the success of Republics like ours means the glory and our failure the despair of mankind.

The Chaddock Faculty have had the privilege of teaching for a longer or shorter period this year seventy-four individual boy lives. We feel that just here lies the highest privilege and herein whatever measure of success we have had in that each boy is dealt with as an individual. Of the seventy-four students twenty-seven have been free, twenty-six have paid a small amount, and twenty-one were full pay.

Because of the Bi-Conference Movement we did not press our claims upon the privilege granted by Conference for presentation in the pulpits for the support of the free boys. This made the financial side of our work more difficult than before. We rejoice that the Bi-Conference movement passed the goal, and through this we have become acquainted with many more who are interested in the care and training of these lads from broken homes.

Our immediate need besides current expenses and endowment is the completion of the dining hall. This ought by all means to be completed at once. We are so crowded and cramped in our present quarters that it is a real handicap.

Our usual experience of refusing consideration to the large number of boys requesting it has been repeated the past year.

The Chaddock Aid Society last year supported five boys paying five hundred dollars each, besides many other helpful things throughout the year.

Chaddock Boys School is making its own place in the church program. We are told that other Conferences in Methodism, inspired by the record of Chaddock and hearing through Chaddock the call of the Master to care for the lads who need us, are opening doors similar to Chaddock.

Our Agriculture Department extends its usefulness in training the boys, as well as contributing to the health of the family and to the expense budget. Last year four thousand quarts of vegetables were stored for winter use, and this past summer we have sold more than twelve hundred dollars worth to our local trade.

Winfield Scott Hall says, "Experience shows that the youth undergoes a more wholesome all-around development if he takes some active part in a productive employment than if he is allowed to devote all of his energies to play." This statement has proven out in our experience with the boys.

On our faculty this year, Illinois State University, Illinois Wesleyan, Northwestern University, Mount Holyoke College, Massachusetts, The Chicago Training School and other first class teacher training institutions are represented. With a faculty so well trained and a group of boys never surpassed in the history of the school, coming chiefly from Illinois, but also from many other states of the Union, as well as China, Mexico and South America, we enter upon a new year with a full sense of high responsibility and grateful hearts for high and holy privilege.

Respectfully submitted,

EVA C. FIELDS.

CHURCH LITERATURE.

The intellectual and moral atmosphere of a home is clearer and purer where a clean and wholesome literature is found.

A good church paper in a home is a pastor's valuable assistant.

The Methodist Review, The Northwestern Christian Advocate and the Epworth Herald are the peers of any church periodicals.

In these days when literature, calculated to unsettle the faith of the very elect, which like the flakes of a November snow storm are so cheaply diffused and distributed, of the Latter Day Saints, Russellism, Dowieism, Christian Science and Millennium Dawn Type, it behooves every pastor to put forth strenuous efforts to get our own church literature in every Methodist home to combat these evils. And in view of the fact that we are on the threshold of a "World Service Program." When we shall need information and inspiration, therefore, we urge that every Methodist home be solicited to become a subscriber for our church literature.

COMMISSION ON CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS CAMPAIGN FOR ENDOWMENT FUND.

Second—That the Commission shall provide for all necessary expenses incident to the most efficient prosecution of the work.

Third—That it is the judgment of the Commission that the work will require the full time of an executive officer, and we therefore recommend that Henry C. Gibbs be appointed field secretary to work under the direction of the Commission and be ex-officio member of the Commission.

7. J. D. Shouse be changed from Effective to Supernumerary.
We recommend that:

B. F. Shipp, J. T. Stretton and J. L. Settles be granted one year's leave of absence under paragraph 186.

Your committee on Conference Relations recommends that no member of the Conference, serving outside the pastorate or the regular constituted organizations of the Methodist Episcopal Church, except as provided by the Discipline, shall be continued in the Effective relation, unless the organizations served by them, or the member personally, shall pay annually into the superannuate funds of the Conference an amount equal to that required by the Conference of the pastors and the churches which they serve; or these brethren shall give to the Conference a written statement that they will surrender their annuity for the years they have served outside the regular constituted organizations of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In view of the above we request that:

W. T. Beadles be appointed Chaplain of the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Quincy, Ill.; A. G. Carnine be appointed Agent for the Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill.; H. C. With reference to certificates of disability we reaffirm our previous recommendation.

B. F. SHIPP, Chairman;
ROYAL W. ENNIS, Secretary.

DOMESTIC MISSIONS.

A bereavement of note has come to the Domestic Missionary Society in the death of the treasurer, that beautiful spirited brother, Lee Matheny, who has served in that office from the founding of the Society twenty-five years ago. In January of this year he passed away, leaving the continuing of his labor of love to other hands. Dr. A. R. Crook of Springfield was elected to succeed to this office and has faithfully carried out the work.

RESOLVED, That we commend the work of the Domestic Missionary Society and call attention of the pastors to the fact that during the last few years this fund has been included in the Centenary and that after the expiration of such period new apportionments must necessarily be made and their collection provided for to care for the further work of the Society.

RESOLVED, That we express our appreciation for the work of the District Superintendents for their careful distribution of the funds and for the splendid service of the new treasurer of the Society.

EVANGELISM.

The Christian Church is by birth Evangelical, Pentecost, Samaria, Antioch, suggest the first great revivals.

Jesus and the Apostles were evangelists. The seed of Christianity was sown throughout the world by evangelists.

Methodism, born in evangelism, must continue to keep the evangelist fires burning on her altars, and her ministers, if true sons of Wesley and Whitefield, must be evangelists.

We must put the vital gospel message in successful competition with the worldly forces in every community.

We urge an annual Revival Meeting in every charge.

We commend the observance of decision days on the great occasions of the Church Year, namely: Rally Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

We favor the employment of only tried and faithful evangelists and express our choice of Conference and District evangelists.

We recommend District and group organization for evangelistic work, and the formation of evangelistic teams, composed of ministers and laymen.

We believe so strongly that winning souls for Christ is the primary business of the church that we suggest the District Superintendents at the First Quarterly Conferences consider well the all-around evangelistic program for the year, urging upon laymen and pastors throughout the Conference the importance of the task before them.

THE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION PRESENTS THE FOLLOWING REPORT.

Bi-Conference Movement.

We rejoice that in the Bi-Conference Movement through the loyal campaigning of the five hundred pastors and the sacrificial giving of the more than fourteen thousand Illinois Methodists, we have secured the sum of $1,250,000 for our Conference institutions. Thousands of these pledges are to be paid in cash during the next two years, and will bring notable relief to our institutions in the very near future.

We must not overlook the fact, however, that present financial conditions made it necessary to write a great deal of long time paper, such as annuities and estate notes, which furnish no immediate relief for our institutions in the form of available funds for maintenance.

While realizing that no further conference-wide campaign can be considered at this time, we would urge that those officially responsible for the success and growing usefulness of these great institutions shall continue quietly to cultivate and build up a supporting constituency and that pastors and laymen be urged to co-operate to this end.

The results of the past year and a survey of the expanding and imperative needs of our educational program are but proof of the wisdom of the larger goal set by the Conference in 1921.

The Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois.

The standard of measure of the Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois is the extent to which it reaches student life, ministers to it in varied ways, and enlists it in the enterprises of the kingdom. Judged by this standard, the past year has shown marked advance. One thousand two hundred eighty-seven students have been members of Trinity Church—the Church of the Foundation—and 1,579 have been identified with one phase or another of the Foundation's activities.

A great place is given to student initiative. Responsibility is thrown upon students and is readily assumed by them. Forty students make up the Council and Cabinet, and they associate hundreds with themselves in carrying on the work. Thus the Foundation becomes a training school, developing intelligent and dependable leaders. This training looks toward future as well as present years. Investigations recently made show that hundreds of students formerly identified with the Foundation are now active lay workers in the communities where they reside. In addition, the list of those already in the ministry, mission field or other specialized work grows greater each year.

The objective of the Foundation is to provide:

1. A Shrine for Worship.
2. A School for Religious Education.
3. A Home Away from Home.
4. A Laboratory for training lay leaders in church activities.
5. A Recruiting Station for the ministry, for missionary work at home and abroad, and for other specialized Kingdom tasks.

The Social Center Building—a Home Away from Home—is open seven days in the week from 8:00 a. m. until 10:00 p. m. Its ministry is an all-around ministry.

Trinity Church is crowded to the doors with student worshippers, so that the necessity of a new Trinity Church is beyond question.

The Foundation courses for University credit in Old and New Testament, the Teaching of Religion and other similar subjects, given by Dr. W. A. Goodell, are meeting with fine response from the student body. We are entering upon a new era in Religious Education at tax-supported institutions. Dr. Goodell is giving fine leadership to this work.

The rapid development of this program constitutes a great problem in the matter of support. A new church is an imperative need which cannot be delayed much longer, and additional funds for maintenance must be provided. The Bi-Conference Movement has brought some relief but not sufficient for the Foundation necessities.

Illinois Woman's College.

Attendance.—The enrollment of students increases each year. In the last four years it has gone up as follows: 359, 432, 473, 541. We note that the increase for the last year (1922-23) was the largest. Advance registration for 1923-24 shows a further advance. The dormitories were full this year in August and many applicants had to be refused.

Religious Activities.—Special attention has been given to all the religious activities of both students and faculty. Opportunity was given to students to connect themselves with the work of the local churches in definite Christian work. Besides this, Volunteer Bible Study and Missionary Study Classes were conducted through the entire year.

The Department of Bible and Religious Education plans extensive work this year in addition to the regular class work. The director, Dr. Wallace N. Stearns, will work with the pastors of the Conference in building up the efficiency of the Sunday Schools wherever he may be needed.

Student Aid.—In spite of the lack of funds the college assisted needy students to the extent of over $13,000 during the past school year. Here is an opportunity for additional scholarship endowment. To properly care for the calls that come, $300,000 additional is needed. What finer benevolence than this opportunity of helping these needy, worthy, young women!

Endowment.—The greatest problem before the Illinois Woman's College today is that of adequate endowment and current support. The Bi-Conference campaign will help, but even when this is all collected, the college has barely enough to meet present standards for the present enrollment. No additional growth of any consequence is possible without additional endowment and equipment. A new science hall is imperative.

The College appeals to the Conference for the fullest sympathy and co-operation in its efforts to secure adequate endowment and current support.

Illinois Wesleyan University.

We congratulate the Illinois Wesleyan University for the marked progress of the past year. Two new buildings have been completed—First, a thoroughly modern gymnasium, costing $200,000, was dedicated December 14, 1922. The other, the Buck Memorial Library, was dedicated June 12, 1923. This is a beautiful Gothic structure, costing $100,000, the same generous gift providing also $100,000 as its endowment fund.

New equipment has been added to the music school, and the laboratories have been brought up to the requirements of a Class A College.

Endowment.—The Illinois Wesleyan University's share of the proceeds of the Bi-Conference Movement will materially increase our endowment. Just what the net increases may amount to cannot possibly be determined at this time, but it will add increasingly to the income of the University. The University is in need of an additional million dollars of endowment at this time. Increasing registration means increasing financial burdens. Nothing can possibly care for these increasing burdens but increasing endowment. The general and special endowments of the University total $952,017.13. Of this amount about $700,000 is now productive.

Attendance.—Attendance in the College of Liberal Arts moved forward from 372 in 1921-22 to 476 last year. There was almost a corresponding increase in attendance in other departments of the University. The total attendance moved forward from 591 in 1921-22 to 961 last year. The Freshman Class in Liberal Arts last year numbered 211. The present indications are that the Freshman Class, which will register next week, will number 250.

Quality of Work.—During the present year considerable attention has been given to a revision of the curriculum standards of scholarship and standards of preparation of professors.

Over ten years ago all non-resident work, or work by correspondence, was discontinued. Private studies for credit in the College of Liberal Arts are discontinued from this date. It is quite possible that the University will have to conduct its first regular summer school in the summer of 1924 to meet a growing demand for summer work.

Four hundred thirty-six students were enrolled in the College of Music last year. The school has been thoroughly reorganized, a new curriculum adopted, the private teacher theory displaced by the school theory, and the entire work integrated into the life of the University as never before.

The College of Liberal Arts of the Illinois Wesleyan is a Class-A College. Our graduates enter the post-graduated schools of the great universities without difficulty and without discounting of their undergraduate majors. We are in very happy relations with the Universities of Illinois, Wisconsin, Chicago, Northwestern, Columbia and Harvard.

Distribution of Moneys.

We recommend that in the coming year, as in the several years past, the educational moneys be distributed as follows: 20 per cent to the Board of Education, 35 per cent to the Illinois Wesleyan, 35 per cent to the Illinois Woman's College and 10 per cent to the Wesley Foundation.

The Board of Education.

We congratulate the Board of Education of our church upon its continued success in the several departments of service. It has helped to secure for our colleges large sums of money from the General Education Board, the Carnegie Corporation, and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Its Department of Finance has co-operated in campaigns that have added during the year $9,845,000.00 to the endowments and plants of our institution. The Children's Day Loan Fund has now aided a total of 31,382 students to receive a higher education, 2,902 being benefited this year. However, with thousands of new students crowding our schools, the Board's activity must be ever enlarged to meet the ever-increasing need.

Theological Schools.

The presence of Dean James A. Beebe of Boston University and Professor W. O. Schermerhorn of Garrett Biblical Institute with their helpful messages, enables us to emphasize the importance of our theological schools. Never have our schools of theology been better equipped to train ministers for the problems of the day. We commend these schools both to the young men entering the ministry and to the men and women of the church who are seeking to make a financial investment for Kingdom purposes.

A. S. CHAPMAN, Chairman;

A. R. GRUMMON, Secretary.

HOSPITALS AND PHILANTHROPIES.

We view with growing pleasure, the wide-spread interest the church is taking in the care of suffering people everywhere. In this, His Church, is following in His steps. For when He saw the multitude, He was moved with compassion upon them, and He healed their sick. The Illinois Conference, in the past, has fostered and helped its institutions, and we doubt not they will continue to do so.

Therefore, we bring to the attention of our people the following homes and hospitals and ask them to give a hearty response to any appeals which may be made to them for funds or supplies, namely:

The Cunningham Children's Home and Orphanage, Urbana; Illinois.

The Baby Fold, Normal, Illinois.

The Mattoon Memorial Hospital, Mattoon, Illinois.

Wesley Memorial Hospital, Chicago, Illinois.

Respectfully on behalf of the Committee,

CHARLES T. PILCH, Chairman.

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT UPON HOSPITALS AND PHILANTHROPIES.

We recommend that the following be confirmed as Trustees of the Mattoon Memorial Hospital: S. W. Phillips, R. A. Gabbert, C. W. Kincaid, G. S. Tarbox, Donald B. Craig, R. M. Utterback, W. H. Simmons; also the District Superintendent of the District and the pastor.

Paragraph 501. Discipline:

"All institutions desiring to become affiliated with the General Board of Hospital and Homes must have the endorsement of the Annual Conference."

We, therefore, recommend the endorsement of the Memorial Methodist Hospital at Mattoon, Illinois, by this Annual Conference.

Signed on behalf of the Committee,

CHARLES T. PILCH, Chairman.

Amusements.

We note with a large measure of regret the growing tendency of our people to carelessness and thoughtlessness in their habits of amusement, and believe that a strong appeal to a deeper spiritual life is a better cure for this evil than peremptory legislation.

We believe the cinema, more commonly known as the motion picture, to be one of the greatest of modern inventions and that its proper use will advance, not retard, the work of the church and cause of Christ, but we deplore the demoralizing effect of certain exhibitions and the growing tendencies to depreciate the Protestant ministry in these exhibitions and congratulate the church and the country upon that which we believe to be a much higher and cleaner tone to the public motion picture exhibitions.

Industrial Conditions.

We recognize that this question is always a vital one as relates to the work of the church and the condition of society and that the church should exert a wholesome influence upon men who control large monetary and manufacturing interests as well as upon those who toil at their tasks of menial labor for a livelihood, and we believe that industrial quarrels and controversies will never reach any adjustment of these matters, but that only the love of Christ in the hearts of men of all classes will bring about a situation of harmony.

Temperance and Prohibition.

We reassert our endorsement of the prohibition of the liquor traffic and our loyalty to and confidence in the 18th amendment to the Constitution and Volstead Enforcement Act, and our hearty and determined warfare against all and any influences which we are convinced have as their object and desire the breaking down, annulment or weakening of this amendment and law, and we pledge ourselves to support only such officials as candidates or in office as we are convinced are and shall continue to be loyal in their enforcement of national, state and municipal enforcement of this as well as other just laws.

We desire to express our deep sorrow and regret because of the recent passing of one whom we recognize as a splendid man and a devoted servant of his country, the late President Warren Gamaliel Harding, and together with this feeling we desire to declare our undivided loyalty of citizens of the country to his successor, Calvin Coolidge, and pray that his administration shall not diminish but increase the normal and religious strength of our country within its own borders and in its relationship to other countries.

A. A. LUCE, Chairman;

A. R. WASSELL, Secretary.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AND EPWORTH LEAGUE.

We rejoice in the advance that has been made the past year by the Sunday School and Epworth League.

The program of religious education in the Sunday School, Daily Vacation Bible School, and Religious Day School is continuing to function in a marvelous way, reaching every age and condition of inquiring life.

The work of the Epworth League is one of the outstanding marvels of Methodism. Through its foursquare program the youth of our church is being trained for definite Christian leadership as never before. The Epworth League Institute of our own Conference moves on with increasing power. The fifth annual session was held at Shelbyville, July 9-17, 1923. The increase in attendance was 50 per cent over last year, there being 472 registered delegates. Forty first time decisions for full time life service and 38 decisions for the Christian life. The success of this Institute, the best we have ever held from the standpoint of attendance, spirit, finance and results is largely due to the splendid corps of officers and their assistants.

We urge all of our pastors and people to give unlimited support to these great feeders of our church, believing them to be of great power and blessing in our generation.

COMMITTEE OF THE W. F. & W. H. M. S.

WHEREAS, The Methodist Episcopal Church has seen fit to place upon the women of its constituency, organized as the W. F. M. S., the task of sending the Gospel to the women and children of non-Christian lands; and

WHEREAS, As there are seventy-five million women and children in the territory assigned to the Methodist Episcopal Church for evangelization; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That we, the pastors of Illinois Conference, will do everything in our power to further this very great undertaking, that we will heartily co-operate with the auxiliaries of our charges. When the great needs of our own homeland are so urgent, we will in every reasonable way aid in the helpful work of the Women's Home Missionary Society to carry the Gospel to those whom the women can reach.

RESOLUTION.

Anti Saloon League.

WHEREAS, The Anti-Saloon League, "The Church in Action Against the Saloon," in its omni-denominational and omni-partisan character, is the official agency of the churches in securing confederated action; and

WHEREAS, The next move in the program of the wets to overthrow the Volstead Act, and get rid of the Eighteenth Amendment to our National Constitution, is to elect legislatures in all the States that will follow the leadership of New York in repealing their State-wide Prohibition Enforcement Laws; and

WHEREAS, The coming campaign in this State for the nomination and election of a dry legislature is to be the hardest battle we have ever fought, as the wets, through Anton Cermack, declare their purpose to have candidates in every legislative district in the State; therefore,

RESOLVED, That while giving loyal support to our own Church Temperance Society, we will welcome representatives of the League into our pulpits at favorable times, and will not make a mere convenience of such speakers to supply our pulpits in our absence, and that we will use all our influence to induce our people to stand back of the League and give it large support, under the leadership of our State Superintendent, at least until Prohibition becomes the settled policy of the land.

We recommend as our members on the Board of Trustees of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois, Doctors T. N. Ewing and Chris. Galeener, and Messrs. T. E. Lyon, John W. Webster and George F. Rearick.

RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS, Doctor William H. Anderson, a native son of Illinois, a Methodist and a Lay Delegate in several General Conferences, first from our own Conference, is under indictment for the alleged crimes of forgery, larceny and extortion committed against the Anti-Saloon League of New York since he became its State Superintendent; and

WHEREAS, He achieved signal successes while Superintendent of the League for the States of Illinois and Maryland, covering a period of ten years with no charge or even suspicion against him for wrong doing; and

WHEREAS, For ten years he has been Superintendent of the New York State League, and by his great ability, genius for organization, sterling integrity, far-seeing sagacity, indomitable will and unflinching courage, has won many great victories for righteousness and Christian citizenship, especially in the crowning triumph of leading the Empire State to do what everybody said was an absolute impossibility, ratify the Eighteenth Amendment to our National Constitution; and

WHEREAS, By outwitting his enemies at nearly every turn he has made many implacable enemies who hate him with an intense and bitter hatred, and who do not hesitate to resort to any trick, no matter how vicious, to down him and his cause; and

WHEREAS, He was indicted after the regular grand jury which failed to find anything against him was discharged, though for weeks they had access to the books of the League; and another grand jury, impaneled probably at the instigation of the wets, again took up the matter and further tore the masks from the faces of his foes by a resolution asking the legislature to investigate the affairs of the Anti-Saloon League for the past ten years, disclosing their purpose, not only to eliminate Anderson, but to kill the League in New York and elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, After his indictment the Judge of the Criminal Court denied his attorney access to the grand jury minutes in his case, though such permission was given attorneys in six other cases at the same time, some of whose clients were reported to be charged with murder; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors of the New York State League have unanimously stood by him, declaring all he had done was authorized and sanctioned by them, and that he was guilty of no wrong whatever. Also, they heartily and unanimously re-elected him as their State Superintendent for another year; and the churches of the State which the League represents and other organizations are enthusiastically endorsing him, and the Anti-Saloon League outside of New York State is said to have looked into the matter and finds no ground for the charges; therefore,

RESOLVED, That we love him for the enemies he has made, and refuse to believe, without the most indisputable proof, that he is capable of stooping to any criminal, or even unmanly act, and we firmly hold that a fair trial will entirely exonerate him.

Adopted unanimously by a rising vote by the Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, composed of 350 ministers representing over 100,000 lay members, at the one hundredth annual session of that body in Champaign, Illinois, September 12, 1923.

BI-CONFERENCE MOVEMENT.

The Business Committee of the Bi-Conference Movement herewith presents a brief report of the movement.

Two years ago the Educational Institutions of the Central Illinois and Illinois Conferences were planning necessary financial campaigns. It was generally agreed that such a multiplicity of campaigns would be extremely undesirable. Accordingly, steps were taken to unify these efforts. Other Conference interests sought consideration. The outcome was a movement which included seven of the causes of the two Conferences, and whose combined askings totaled five and one-half million dollars.

A campaign of this magnitude was authorized by the Conference Sessions of 1921. Shortly after the Conference adjourned, the uncertainty of conditions at Hedding College made it impossible to proceed with the campaign, consequently nothing was done that year except to cultivate the constituency.

By the time the Conference met in 1922, Hedding College had closed for a year, and general conditions had so changed that the Conferences decided to modify the plan of campaign, so that without invalidating the askings approved by the Conference of 1921, the objective for the ensuing year would be a unit of $1,250,000, to be divided among the four educational institutions and the Conference Claimants Societies of the two Conferences. These Conferences also ordered that the Department of Finance of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church be requested to co-operate in putting on the campaign. This was done, and the Department of Finance took charge of the office and field March 15, 1923, and continued in supervision until the taking of subscriptions was completed. For three and one-half months the work was vigorously pressed, and the campaign was validated at midnight, July 3, at $1,250,315.

Because of the varied interests involved, the extensive territory covered, and the variety of workers, the campaign has been especially difficult. Its success under these circumstances has been most gratifying, and was made possible by the splendid co-operation of the pastors, and the loyalty of our people.

Upon the conclusion of the campaign a commission of six, one from each institution at interest, was created for the purpose of appraising, equalizing, and distributing the proceeds of the campaign. This task is so large and complicated that it has been found impossible to present a detailed report to the Conferences of 1923. For the same reason it was impossible to give the pastors vouchers for money already paid. These sums will be included in vouchers given next year.

We are aware that this has been an expensive campaign, and this fact gives us pause, and causes us to ask if there may not be a better way and more economical method for raising funds to sustain our institutions. Our experience leads us to feel that the time has come when the matter of sustentation of our schools should be presented to our people annually as are other benevolences, and that our people should be led to see their claims, and they should give as regularly and generously to this cause as they do to the Home and Foreign Missions.

We would call the attention of the Conferences to the fact that practically 50 per cent of these subscriptions are in the form of deferred paper, such as estate notes and annuities. Though valuable, the institutions will not realize upon these for some years to come. Even the cash payments will not begin till November of this year. In consequence the institutions will receive no immediate relief, but on account of the expenses of the campaign they are in greater immediate distress than before the campaign was put on. It would be a great misfortune should our people get the notion that the needs of these institutions have been provided for adequately. We have raised but the first unit of an amount representing an immediate need. We cannot cease until these institutions so dear to our hearts are properly financed.

Respectfully submitted,

W. E. SHAW, Chairman;

F. A. McCARTY, Secretary.

BOARD OF STEWARDS.

WHEREAS, We believe it to be fundamental to the success of any pension system that its funds shall be administered in justice and equity; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That from the cash allowance of any claimant whose years of service upon which his claim is based are not previously paid to the Preachers Aid Society, there shall be deducted the sum of nine dollars per year and for each widow the sum of six dollars per year for each year for which dues had not been paid, until the sum of forty-five dollars for each delinquent year has been fully paid. These deductions are to be indicated in a separate column in the report of the Board of Stewards.

RESOLVED, ALSO, That the District Superintendent be requested to report to the Committee on Conference Relations, at the opening of the Conference Session, all cases where members are coupling business pursuits for compensation with pastoral work to such an extent that only a part of their time is devoted to the work of the church to which they have been assigned. This committee is hereby directed, after proper consideration, to recommend to the Conference what relation, if any, such members shall sustain to this Conference; be it further

RESOLVED, That the case of all members of this Conference, who are rendering service, or are seeking appointments to render service to organizations or institutions, not under the direction and control of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and whose appointment, as per direction of the Discipline, requires the recommendation of the District Superintendents and two-thirds confirmatory vote of the Conference, and in harmony with the Conference Rule No. 23 shall be referred to the Committee on Conference Relations, and no such an appointment shall be made until after the recommendation of this committee in the case shall be heard;

WHEREAS, In the past there have been misunderstandings regarding the import and significance of the recommendation of the District Superintendents and the confirmation by the Conference of an appointment; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That no member of this Conference appointed to any position, requiring, as directed by the Discipline, the recommendation of the District Superintendents and a two-thirds confirmatory vote of the Conference, shall construe such action as a pledge on the part of the Conference of annuity for service rendered under such appointment; be it also

RESOLVED, That the claims of all members of the Conference upon the Annuity Funds of the church for service rendered outside of the regularly constituted organization of the church, be presented to the Conference by the Board of Stewards, with the recommendation that the claims for these years of service be disallowed for the Conference year 1923-24, on the ground of expediency.

RESOLVED, That all members of the Conference who have not yet done so be required to file with the Secretary of the Conference and Secretary of the Board of Stewards to complete pastoral record of all items which may affect the annuity rights of the present or future claimants. And that no claim shall be allowed until such record has been filed and approved by the Committee on Conference Relations.

All ministers who are received into the Conference, whether from probation or by transfer, or in any other way, shall be required to file a similar record with the secretary of the Conference for approval and printing. A similar record shall be filed covering the years of service of ministers' wives.

When a minister is transferred out of the Conference, the secretary of the Conference shall forward to the secretary of the Conference to which the brother has been transferred his complete record, and also that of his wife.

A claimant on the funds of the Annual Conference may draw his first quarterly benefits October 1, following the session of the Conference at which he may become a claimant. But such prospective claimants must first file a claim with the secretary of the Board of Stewards not later than August 1, preceding the Annual Conference Session, by the action of which he expects to become a claimant.

That with every member of the Illinois Conference it is a matter of good faith that he become an active member of, and pay his annual dues to the Preachers' Aid Society in the benefit of whose funds he is sure to share. That every candidate for admission into membership of the Illinois Conference before he is admitted into the Conference shall pledge himself to become a member of and pay his annual dues to the Preachers' Aid Society.

That every member of the Conference appointed to service other than that of pastor or District Superintendent, shall file with the statistical secretary of the Conference the name of the position held and the amount of salary or income received, and the statistical secretary is hereby instructed to include these reports in the statistics of the Conference.

That all who handle Conference Claimants' Funds should furnish bonds in such amounts as the Conference may decide.

That the Conference year of the Board of Stewards begin and end with the beginning of Conference Session, and that the accounts of the treasurer of the Board of Stewards be audited annually.

That the income on invested funds remain in the hands of the treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Society, until the treasurer of the Board of Stewards shall need the same in order to meet the claims due from quarter to quarter, and that upon the request of the treasurer of the Board of Stewards, the treasurer of the Preachers' Aid Society shall remit to the treasurer of the Board of Stewards in the amount apportioned for the coming year.

That for the sake of expedience the Board of Stewards be authorized to pay annuity at the rate of $24.00.

That for the Conference year 1923-24 each pastoral charge be apportioned an amount equal to 10 per cent of the pastor's cash claim for the Conference claimants of the Illinois Conference.

R. Y. WILLIAMS,
WALTER MITCHELL,
W. G. LLOYD.

CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE.

The Committee on Centennial of the Illinois Conference submits the following recommendations:

1. That the next session of the Illinois Conference be made a "Centennial Session" and that the program be in charge of the Centennial Committee together with the pastor entertaining the Conference.

2. That the 1924 Conference minutes be made a Centennial number and that great pains be taken to make it of great historical value.

3. That a pageant be produced that will depict the story of the Illinois Conference and that the committee consist of: C. F. Juvinal, the pastors of the three Methodist churches in Bloomington; W. J. Davidson, Dean Westbrook, and Prof. E. E. Leisy of the Illinois Wesleyan; and that F. A. Havighurst, R. W. Ennis and James Reynolds constitute a committee to select material for the Centennial pageant.

4. That the Centennial Committee receive such old books, saddle bags, etc., as they think should be preserved, and that C. S. Boyd, librarian of the Conference Historical Society, be named as custodian of such property. We recommend further that the librarian of the State Historical Society be instructed to allow those interested to have access to the material belonging to the Illinois Conference in her possession on the same conditions as other material of the State Library.

5. That a committee on History, consisting of Arthur S. Chapman, I. B. Blackstock and C. M. Duncan be instructed to gather material and investigate the advisability of publishing a history of the Illinois Conference.

6. That a special offering amounting to as nearly as possible two cents a member be taken on each charge to defray the general expenses of the Centennial Committee and that the money be sent to Treasurer R. W. Ennis by January 1, 1924.

7. That the officers of the Historical Society be re-elected and the Centennial Committee be continued for another year.

8. That as soon as possible arrangements be made with one of our Educational Institutions for the carrying for all of our records, documents and books.

We would call your attention to that portion of the Ten Year Program Committee (of Minutes of 1921, p. 85), which reads: "The first century of our Conference was begun by revival fires being built in every charge. We recommend that the closing year of the century be made the greatest in soul-saving achievement the Illinois Conference has ever known." Your committee heartily concurs in that recommendation, and, to further this end, makes the following recommendation:

A. Organization.

We have just closed a successful campaign for money. We recommend that the same general plan of organization be put on for an Evangelistic Campaign, that is, that a general committee be formed consisting of the seven District Superintendents, one minister and one layman from each District, appointed by the District Superintendent, and that the resident bishop shall be chairman of said general committee. The purpose of this committee shall be to give unity and inspiration to the campaign. In each District a similar committee shall be formed of which the District Superintendent shall be chairman. The purpose of this committee shall be to see to it that help is given to the last church and school house appointment where there is hope of finding a soul in need of Christ.

B. The General Plan.

It is the hope of the committee, that without detriment to any interest of the local or general church we may keep the matter of evangelism uppermost in the thought and prayer of all our ministers and laymen. It is our recommendation that we begin early in October and continue till Easter Sunday, urging men and women in the church to try to win others to Christ as a personal Saviour.

We recommend that we co-operate with the Board of Home Missions in our Evangelistic Department Program during the coming year.

A. S. CHAPMAN;
C. F. JUVINALL.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

No law shall be passed respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, nor shall the national government of any state, county, city, town, village or other civil division use its property or credit or any money raised by taxation or otherwise, or authorize either to be used, for the purpose of founding, maintaining, or aiding by appropriation, payment for services, expenses, or in any other manner, other than by remission of taxation, any church, religious denomination or religious society, or any institution, school, society, or undertaking which is wholly or in part under sectarian or ecclesiastical control.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled:

BE IT RESOLVED, That we, the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, do hereby endorse the proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit secretarian appropriations (House J. Res. 159), and urge its immediate passage.

THOMAS NICHOLSON, Presiding Bishop;
E. G. SANDMEYER, Secretary.

COURTESIES.

Your committee appointed for the purpose recommend the following resolutions for your adoption:

1. We express our most grateful appreciation to Dr. H. A. Keck and the people of First Church and to the co-operating churches and their pastors for their most cordial hospitality and for the painstaking care with which they have provided for our needs and our comfort.

2. We appreciate the space given and the interest shown in our Conference and its meeting by the newspapers of Champaign and Urbana.

3. We desire to express our thanks to the First National Bank of Champaign for the use of its adding machines furnished to our Conference treasurer and statistician, and for its generous assistance in the care of our funds.

4. We are grateful for the presence and inspiring messages of Bishop W. F. Oldham and Bishop Charles W. Burns and all others whose addresses have contributed to make this Conference program so abundantly helpful.

5. We recognize with gratitude the faithful and efficient service of Rev. W. S. Phillips and Rev. J. A. Betcher as leaders of song during the Conference and that we extend our thanks to others who have assisted them.

6. We express our constantly growing appreciation of the administration of Bishop Nicholson—Democratic in its spirit, far-seeing and statesman-like in its vision and outstanding in the results achieved—and we express our most earnest desire that he be assigned for the third quadrennium to the Chicago area.

FREEMAN A. HAVIGHURST, Chairman;
JOSEPH L. SETTLES, Secretary.

EPISCOPAL RESIDENCE.

After careful consideration given to the proposal sent to our Conference relative to the purchase of an Episcopal residence in the city of Chicago, we, your committee, recommend that the Illinois Conference co-operate with the Conferences of the area in securing such a residence.

We express it as our judgment that the amount which should be asked of the churches be fixed at not more than $30,000.

We recommend that the Conference select one or two members who shall represent us on a committee to be raised from the Conference of the area for the purpose of devising an equitable apportionment on the basis of an expenditure of $30,000.

NEAR EAST RELIEF.

The orphaned children of the martyred Christian parents of Bible lands must look to America for their support and training until they have reached the years of adult life.

We, therefore, commend the work of Near East Relief, which is chartered by the United States Congress for this express purpose, to the pastors and churches of this Conference, and would urge all congregations to aid in every possible way the maintenance of this great Christian philanthropy.

That the secretary of the Conference be elected editor of the Minutes and that the treasurer furnish the publishers a mailing list and a quota of the Minutes to be sent to each preacher.

STATE FEDERATION OF CHURCHES.

From information at our disposal we are inclined to favor the proposal of Federation of Churches for the State of Illinois, understanding that this proposal is to give a voice to United Protestantism for the state of Illinois relating to any important matters concerning its moral and spiritual welfare.

This will probably necessitate a secretary in the field which we favor, without at this time committing ourselves to any financial obligations.

WORLD SERVICE.

The Centenary.

The Centenary movement is soon to become history. It was not only opportune in meeting an emergency in Christian history but it has resulted in broadening the outlook and enlarging the sympathies of our people. The achievements have justified in a large way the vision and daring of the leaders. The enthusiasm and effort which marked the launching of the movement ought to be equaled in our effort to complete the task. We pledge ourselves to our earnest endeavor in securing for our several churches an one hundred per cent realization on the apportionment accepted.

Preparing for World Service.

In the very nature of the Christian program, the Centenary Movement cannot be the finished missionary enterprise of the church. A new plan must be promoted which will stabilize our methods of giving and will cultivate the habit of contributing regularly and continuously to the great world enterprises of the church. We must recognize that the conditions have so changed that the promotional methods employed so effectively by the Centenary at the close of the war will not secure the hearty co operation of our churches today.

While we acknowledge our indebtedness to those who have climbed to mounts of vision, and have pointed out to us urgent needs and fields of opportunity, and have outlined for us our obligation, we feel that apportionments handed down must be so elastic as to safeguard the courage and the self respect of pastors and congregations facing conditions which make it well nigh impossible to reach the goal.

We express it as our conviction that our District meetings, always the important means for promotion good causes, should not be monopolized by these whose one concern must be the financing of Kingdom projects. A larger place should be given to the study of effective preaching, methods of pastoral service, the culture of the inner life, and the strengthening of the local church.

Administration.

We reaffirm our confidence in the effectiveness of our connectional system. As pastors we rightfully depend upon District Superintendents to provide for us area aims, promotional plans and in spiritual information.

We pledge our loyalty to the Bishop of the Area, charged as he is with the responsibilities of initiative and administration. We make bold to suggest that it would make for efficiency if the area office could be merged with the Bishop's office and the Area secretary serve for the promotional agent for the Bishop. This is but one feature of the strong prevailing sentiment in the hearts of our people calling for the simplification of the machinery employed in the administration of our benevolent interests.

While making use of our democratic right to express our convictions on these matters so vitally related to us nevertheless we pledge our co operation in carrying out the plans which come to us through the regularly constituted channels of ecclesiastical authority.

Scope.

We express it as our conviction that the program for these coming years must include our own home projects; such as building churches and parsonages, providing for our colleges and other like enterprises. In many cases these projects have been held in abeyance because of imminent centenary obligations. These are Kingdom movements and are fundamental in the development of the church.

Education.

We are confident that the primal need of the church at this time is the promotion of an educational program. Notable achievements in the extension of the Kingdom must be set before their minds. We cannot overlook the creation of a favorable psychological preparation in securing the co-operation of our people. They must know of the opportunities for world service and these make their own challenge for support.

We consider it a mark of extraordinary wisdom on the part of our leaders to present to the Methodist world the new book on World Service. Its graphic surveys, its attractive style, its fund of interesting facts, coupled with its economic production will make it a very serviceable book in stimulating the interest of our people; to make this a text-book for study classes and to promote its message through the regular services of the church.

We would summarize this report in the following recommendations:

1. We will strive for the One Hundred per cent realization of our Centenary apportionments.
2. We call for the safeguarding of the power of initiative and a reasonable degree of self determination on the part of the local congregation.
3. We will give loyal support to those who are regularly authorized to direct us in plans and methods.
4. The world task should include all Kingdom enterprises and church institutions.
5. We must begin at once with the campaign of education for the launching of the World Service program at the close of the Centenary.

W. G. LLOYD, Chairman.

(E)—GENERAL CONFERENCE MEMORIALS.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON GENERAL CONFERENCE LEGISLATION.

Concerning Memorials Nos. 1 and 2 from the Northwest Kansas Conference, which seek to raise the age of retirement to 45 years service or age 70; and which would pool all endowment funds for retired preachers and pro-rate to all claimants from such pooled funds, we recommend non-concurrence.

In response to three Memorials, one from the Gulf Conference, one from the Italy Conference and one from the Nebraska Conference, seeking Lay Representation in the Annual Conferences, we record our agreement with their object, and memorialize the General Conference to devise a method whereby this object may be achieved.

As to the Memorials from the Ministers Council of the Dakota Conference seeking to have, first, the bishops of our church elected for a term of eight years and retired to their own conferences upon retirement, and second, to have the district superintendents nominated by a vote of the Annual Conference, and appointed by the bishop from such nominees, your committee recommends no action be taken.

PROVISION FOR THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.

WHEREAS, The Methodist Episcopal Church has repeatedly indicated its interest in and concern for, the theological schools of the Church, see Book of Discipline, paragraph 456, Section 1, "It is the object of the Board of Education to serve as the officially authorized agency of the Methodist Episcopal Church in behalf of ministerial and general education," etc. Paragraph 463, Section 5: "The theological schools of the Church shall exist for the benefit of the whole Church," etc., and

WHEREAS, The Methodist Episcopal Church makes nowhere any provision in its financial plan for the support of said theological schools, and

WHEREAS, The theological schools provide educational opportunity at inconsiderable cost to candidates for the Methodist Episcopal ministry, furnishing tuition and room rent free; and

WHEREAS, Other philanthropic and educational interests have been allowed to take precedence in public thought over the interests of the theological schools, so that they have been excluded from any adequate share even in the Church's public collection for education; and

WHEREAS, No one of the large Educational Foundations under existing regulations has apparently any provision for aiding denominational theological education; and

WHEREAS, Not only the future of the Church but the hope of a Christian civilization for America and the world is dependent upon a trained spiritual leadership; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That we hereby petition the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to provide some plan for an adequate financial support of its Theological Schools, made imperative by the ever increasing demands of the Church for such leadership.

METHODIST UNION.

With the conviction that the time has come when the honor of the church universal and the progress of Methodism call for the Union of the Methodist bodies, we therefore urge upon the General Conference the importance of overcoming obstacles and making such reasonable concessions as will secure for us a United Methodism.

CHURCH AND THE SOCIAL PROBLEM.

The Illinois Conference hereby memorializes the General Conference of 1924 of the Methodist Episcopal Church, meeting at Springfield, Mass., to appoint on the first day of the Conference a General Conference Committee on the Church and the Social Problem to which shall be assigned all statements or proposed legislation on the social question.

RETIRED MINISTERS.

For Paragraph 188, Section 2, substitute the following:

Any member of an Annual Conference in good standing, at that session of his Annual Conference nearest the fortieth year of his effective relation, or at the session of his Annual Conference nearest to his sixty-fifth birthday, or at any subsequent session of his Annual Conference, may ask for a retired relation, and upon his request shall be put in the retired relation. Any member of an Annual Conference, who is in good standing may be placed in the retired relation by the Annual Conference if such relation is recommended by the Committee on Conference Relations.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE ANNUITY DISTRIBUTION.

Substitute for Paragraph 341, Section 1 the following:

Retired ministers are entitled to annuities for their years of service in the effective relation in the Methodist Episcopal Church, provided in age they are not less than sixty-five years, and in service have not rendered fewer than forty years in the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, or have been retired because of disability. Those ministers who may or have been retired for any other reason than these may be granted relief from the funds for Necessitous Distribution but shall have no claims on the funds for Annuity Distribution.

Committee on Itinerants' School:

C. D. ROBERTSON,

Chairman Board of Examiners Ex-Officio.

R. L. STEED.

A. C. PIERSEL.

ITINERANT SCHOOL.

The work of the Board of Examiners is becoming more and more a work of supervision and instruction rather than of mere examination. The splendid Course of Study prescribed by the General Conference, and the careful, pedagogical methods worked out and adapted to our work by the Commission on Conference Courses of Study constitute the foundation upon which the Boards of Examiners of the various conferences are building a system of instruction which is of inestimable value to those of our men who have not the privilege of seminary training.

Our own Board is directing every effort toward realizing this ambition. The establishment of summer schools is perhaps the most valuable action yet taken toward this end. The Itinerants' School of the Illinois and Central Illinois Conferences held its second session at Illinois Wesleyan University July 10-20. The same joint committee as conducted the School last year conducted it this year. The organization of the School was also the same, C. D. Robertson again acting as Dean and Stanley Ward as Registrar. Dr. A. C. Piersel, who was a valuable member of the faculty last year, was unable to be present. His place was taken by J. E. Evans. No other changes were made in the faculty.

The curriculum includes the entire Course of Study with the exception of The Art of Writing English, for which practically every student presents high school credit. During the first week of the School, Dr. J. W. Langdale, Pastor of Brooklyn Avenue Church, New York, author of "Citizenship and Moral Reform," one of the texts in the Course of Study, delivered a course of lectures on "The Christian Idea of God." The second week, Prof. Edwin Lewis of Drew gave a course on "The Christian Ethic and Its Pre-suppositions." Both courses were of the highest order, constructive in method and stimulating in effect. Round tables were again a very valuable and profitable feature of the School.

Fourteen men from the Illinois Conference and nine from the Central Illinois were in attendance. All the examinations were given at the close of the School except that for admission on trial and a few specials. This makes for greater ease and efficiency in the work of the Examiners.

STUDENT COUNCIL.

To the Commission on Conference Course of Study:

Dear Sirs and Brothers—As members of the Board of Examiners and Undergraduates in the Illinois Conference we desire to express ourselves in regard to the Conference Course of Study. To us the Course seems well-balanced and cumulative, furnishing the material that makes for efficiency in the Ministry of Jesus Christ. The mastery of the Course demands thorough mental application. We have not discovered any teachings that are in anywise subversive of the teachings of the Bible, nor of our accepted standard of belief. Furthermore, the designated Courses breathe a spirit that is most wholesome and thoroughly evangelical.

Our appreciation of the Course has been greatly enhanced by the operation of our Itinerants' School, and the plan related thereto.

This is the hearty and sincere expression of this our group, collectively and individually.

Very respectfully,

C. D. ROBERTSON,

Chairman, Board of Examiners.

B. H. PINKSTON,

Student Representative.

X. Memoirs.

M. F. AULT.

Marion Frank Ault, son of John and Durannah Ault, was born near Adamsville, Ohio, February 3, 1853, and passed to his reward May 30, 1923. When three years of age he came with his parents, in the old-time covered wagon, to Edgar County, Illinois. They settled three miles from Kansas, and here, on what is known as the Ault farm, he grew to manhood. His people were zealous church folk, and the son, when about the age of twelve, united with the Methodist Episcopal church. He attended the District school, and then completed the course at the United Brethren Academy at Westfield, Illinois. Afterward he taught school for several years. Later he entered the Illinois Wesleyan University, and after his college years he again taught school and conducted business enterprises.

In April, 1879, he was united in marriage with Maggie Zink, of Kansas, Illinois, his bride being also a school teacher, and they taught together for several years.

In the fall of 1889, he was admitted on Trial into our Illinois Annual Conference. From that time until his retirement in 1920, he and his wife faithfully served the following charges: Edgar, Murdock, Lerna, Toledo, Georgetown, and Grace church Danville. From 1906 to 1912 he was appointed as a missionary in Arizona and Oklahoma. Returning to Illinois, he became pastor at Hume, Oliver and Indianola. He continued active after his retirement, rendering service whenever and wherever needed.

Brother Ault was a success in his pastorates, a wise administrator, and a leader in every good cause in his community. He had a kindly and tolerant spirit, was thoughtful, brotherly and genuine. He possessed the deepest convictions, though he did not unduly seek to impose them on others. He was inclined to overlook the faults and frailties of his brethren, but praised their virtues. Thus he was more than a faithful gospel preacher. He was no respecter of persons, was loyal to his Master, and had a deep love for both Him and His cause. During his residence in Kansas he ably taught the men's Bible class. The pastor at Kansas was delighted with Brother Ault's attitude, for he was always helpful and never a hindrance. He called Ault's home a "Monday morning Mecca for the preacher in charge." He was a member of the Committee of Seventy in the Bi-Conference movement, was faithful in his relations to the same, was much interested and even enthusiastic in its work. He was a large subscriber to its fund, and kept in close touch with it to the last hour of his life.

He passed away quietly at the noon-tide hour. His going was sudden. He had been bedfast less than two weeks, and the third Sunday prior to his passing he had preached at one of the points on Kansas charge. His death was a shock to the entire community. All mourned his departure.

Remaining are his wife, who had been his helper for 44 years, 31 of which were in the active work of the Methodist ministry; one sister, Mrs. Ellen Spragg, of Kansas, Illinois; and one brother, O. H. Ault, of Gideon, Missouri. The funeral was held in the Kansas Methodist church. District Superintendent, W. D. Fairchild, conducted the service, assisted by pastor in charge, T. S. Mitchell, and A. S. Chapman, C. E. Pettit, P. P. Carson, and A. A. Heinlein. Twelve of the District pastors were present. The interment was in Kansas cemetery.

T. A. CANADY.

Thomas A. Canady, son of Thomas and Eva Canady, was born near Springfield, Ohio, July 30, 1846, and died at the home of his daughter in Colorado Springs, January 3, 1923. When he was a child, his parents moved to Illinois, where he lived on a farm until he entered the Civil War as a lad of sixteen. His farm life gave him an unusually strong body and he was able to endure the hardships of his three years in the army as few youths of his age could have done. Nine months he spent in Andersonville and other prisons. In his later life he lectured extensively on his experiences in southern prisons. The entire proceeds from these lectures he gave to Foreign Missions. At the close of the war, after some preparatory work, he entered Missouri State University. He was truly a self-made man, for he worked at vacation time and during the school periods to finance his college course. He helped lay the track for the Rock Island railroad. Later he taught school, for he had no help aside from his own resources. At the end of his college course he was principal of schools for one year in Princeton, Missouri, where he met Miss Margaret Lindsey. They were united in marriage on March 26, 1875, and lived the most devoted wedded life to the end of his days. She shared with him the hardships of the early itinerant pastor and led the singing in weeks of revival services in those early years. He was a studious pastor and rose early in the morning to devote the best hours of the day to systematic work in his library. The afternoons he gave to his people and was loved because of his sympathy when there was sorrow, and for his sunny outlook upon life.

His pastorates were characterized by great revivals. Many times the altars were crowded. During the time of his presiding eldership his whole district was greatly stirred by continuous evangelism. His brethren accorded him ready and full confidence. He was a delegate in the General Conference of 1888.

He was a member of the Missouri Conference from 1874 till 1893, and served the following charges: Grant City, Albany, Savannah, Maryville, Brookfield, Kirksville District, and Hannibal. He then transferred to the Illinois Conference and served these churches: Augusta, Paris, Paxton, Clinton, and Carlinville. He was commissioned Chaplain in the Spanish-American War and was a member of the staff of Governor Yates of Illinois.

He retired in 1909 and made his home in Delaware, Ohio. Here he held himself ready to assist churches and was almost constantly so engaged. Two years ago he moved to Meadville, Pa., to be near his eldest daughter. In his brief residence there he greatly endeared himself to the community.

While on a visit to his other daughter in Colorado Springs, in December last, he was taken ill and died. The funeral was held from First Methodist Church, Meadville, Pa., and was in charge of the pastor, Dr. H. H. Hough. Colonel Robert H. Kellog, of Delaware, Ohio, a comrade of Dr. Canady, and who shared with him the hardships of Andersonville prison, made the principal address. He paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of his long time friend. Those present were greatly moved. His favorite hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," was sung. A guard of honor of Allegheny College students, members of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity of which he was a member, accompanied the cortege. The body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Meadville. His wife, and three children survive him: Mrs. Fred W. Hixson, Meadville, Pa.; Mrs. Rea Ward, Colorado Springs, and Colonel Earl L. Canady, U. S. A.

J. W. CRANE.

Near the close of the first half of the nineteenth century, John W. Crane made his advent into this life January 8, 1845, and his exit therefrom over 77 years later, or September 20, 1922. He had been in failing health for a few years, during the last of which he was rarely able to leave his home. He was educated in the public schools and in Oberlin College. In 1871 he was married in Valparaiso, Indiana, to Amanda M. Hollett. Shortly thereafter they came to Decatur, Illinois, and in 1872 he united with the Illinois Conference of our church, and was assigned to Maroa. Subsequent charges were Oakland, Redmond, Windsor, Kansas, Nokomis, and Moweaqua. In the last named appointment his voice failed him, and he was compelled to retire from the active work of the ministry. He settled in Decatur, in 1886, where he lived in retirement till the date of his passing, or for 36 years. He was a member of the Quarterly Conference of Grace Church for many years before its name was changed from Stapps Chapel, and where his family held membership. He was ever loyal to the church and his pastors, and helpful in all their work. He was quiet, unostentatious, but his beautiful life exerted a large and blessed influence for good. He did not lead an aimless life concerning other interests. For years he was active as an insurance solicitor, where he held old friendships and formed many new ones. In his earlier life he had been a newspaper reporter and printer, and was connected for a time with the Decatur Evening Republican. He was always helpful to newsgatherers, and especially to novices in the work. He was faithful and true both as pastor and preacher, and rarely failed to attend the annual sessions of his Conference. During all that time and ever after his many unselfish acts of service to all classes of people, greatly endeared him to all who came in any way in touch with him.

His wife died November 17, 1916. His daughter, Miss Minnie Crane, is the only survivor of his immediate family. He leaves two brothers, W. H. Crane of Sedan, Indiana, E. V. Crane of Toledo, Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. Ella Buchanan of Waterloo, Illinois.

Funeral services were held in Grace church, September 22, with the pastor, A. M. Wells, in charge, who, with Drs. T. N. Ewing and Chesteen Smith delivered addresses. H. C. Gibbs, H. F. Powell, and W. W. Theobald assisted in the services. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery.

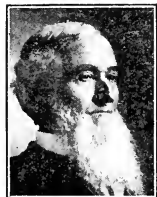

J. L. B. ELLIS.

Another Illinois Conference veteran has responded to the invitation to "come up higher." Rev. J. L. B. Ellis a veteran of the Cross of Jesus Christ "fell on sleep" at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. J. Richardson, Shelbyville, Illinois, March 27, 1923. He was in the eighty-ninth year of his age and his race was run. He was born in Moultrie County, Illinois, April 19, 1834.

On September 6, 1855, he was united in marriage to Miss Nancy Jane Bland. To this union ten children were born, three of whom survive. Mrs. Ellis passed away eight years ago. He leaves two daughters and a son, Miss Elizabeth Ellis, Denver, Colorado; Mrs. W. J. Richardson, Shelbyville, Illinois, and Jesse K.

Ellis, a sergeant in the United States Army at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas.

The call to the ministry came to Brother Ellis at the age of nineteen, while he and his father were prospecting for gold in the state of Colorado. The call was so positive that he began his preparation for his life's work immediately upon his return to Illinois. He was licensed to preach in September, 1872, and was appointed to the Darien and Rock Hill circuit of seven churches. He joined the Illinois Conference in 1873. Afterward his appointments in succession were Majority Point, Grandview, Charleston Circuit, Humbolt, Windsor, Bath, Old Town, Waynesville, Heyworth, Paloma, Griggsville Circuit, Newman, Kansas, Charleston Circuit, Tower Hill, Owaneco, Georgetown, and Shelbyville (Moulton). At the close of his pastorate in Shelbyville in 1901, he took the Retired relation. However after his retirement he continued quite active. A carefully kept record of his preaching engagements indicates that he preached two hundred and fifty-five times after his retirement. Bro. Ellis excelled in the organization of church forces. The church prospered under his leadership, and Methodism's advance in Illinois, in spite of almost insuperable difficulties, is due in part to his zeal and earnestness. He was held in highest esteem by the members of the Conference.

The funeral services were held from the First Methodist Church, Shelbyville. It was in this church that Brother Ellis placed a beautiful baptismal font as a memorial to his departed wife. His sympathy and cooperation with the pastors of the church will be held as a blessed memory. The sermon was preached by the pastor, E. V. Young. A. S. Chapman, C. S. McCullum, H. C. Gibbs and C. R. Booth assisted in the service. Amid a profusion of floral offerings he was laid to rest in beautiful Glenwood Cemetery.

W. F. GILMORE.

William F. Gilmore was born in Allegheny City, Pennsylvania, June 20, 1843, and was more than eighty years of age at his decease. He graduated from the High School in Evansville, Indiana, and afterward served as a soldier in the Civil War. He then completed the classical course in Asbury, now De Pauw University, at Greencastle, Indiana, and graduated therefrom with the degree of A. B. During a period of five years he taught in the Methodist Academy. Feeling he had a distinct call to preach, he was not "disobedient unto the heavenly vision," and entered the Illinois Conference in 1870, along with Dr. W. H. H. Adams as a classmate among the candidates for Admission on Trial. For fifty years, without cessation, he continued in the active relation in our Conference, and ministered to twenty-two charges, by appointment of the Presiding Bishops, as follows: Tolono, Perry, Pittsfield, Kimber church Danville, Rantoul, Gibson, Beardstown, Harriestown and Niantic, Hillsboro, Farmer City, First Church Shelbyville, where he was instrumental in erecting a new church building, Stapp's Chapel, now Grace church, Decatur; Winchester, Fithian, Tolono, Petersburg, two terms; Auburn, Irving, Mount Zion, Long Creek, Lowder, and Bath. He took the retired relation in 1920, but for two years acted as a supply at Bath, and Milton, one year at each place.

He was an able preacher, and could fill any pulpit in this Conference. Few men in the Conference in his day, if any, could surpass him as a pulpit orator. During his ministry he solemnized 350 marriages, officiated at 500 funerals, while the last sermon he preached was number 7,000. His grandfather was a minister, and he served in the Revolutionary War. His father and ten uncles were all ministers, and their combined terms of service covered an aggregate of 300 years. His wife, whom he married March 3, 1867, a great help and inspiration to him in his ministerial work, went to her reward July 2, 1913, during his pastorate at Auburn, and was buried there in accordance with her expressed wish to be entombed where she fell from the ranks. Brother Gilmore's health failed in 1922, brought on largely by injuries he received in an automobile accident a few years ago. He went to Des Moines, Iowa, to spend his last days with his daughter, Mrs. Grace Gillmore Ullman, where he fell asleep June 25, 1923. Surviving him are this daughter, a son, Lewis R. Gillmore, of Springfield, Illinois; one sister, Mrs. E. S. Hubbard, of Spokane, Washington, and four grandchildren.

All that was mortal of him was brought to Auburn, Illinois, where the funeral services were held, June 27, 1923. Dr. T. N. Ewing of Decatur District, officiated, assisted by Rev. A. L. Wood, the local pastor. Interment was made in the Auburn Cemetery, by the resting place of his life companion.

J. A. KUMLER.

John A. Kumler for four score and five years sojourned in this land of the dying on his way to the land of the living. He began his mortal march in Butler County, Ohio, April 20, 1838, and ascended therefrom on the sixth day of his birth month, April, 1923. His parents, Michael and Nancy Beam Kumler, were humble folk, living on a farm, and John, like many a distinguished man, first saw the light of life in a log cabin. He early became a toiler on the farm, working sixteen hours a day. His educational facilities were primitive and meager. His first school book consisted of a shingle with the large letters pasted on one side of it, and the small ones on the other, which was also sometimes used for disciplinary purposes. His first schools, private and public, were attended from two to three months in the year till he reached the age of 16. He next entered the Otterbein University from which he graduated after a course of four and a half years with the degree of A.B., and from the same institution in 1865 he was given the degree of A.M. In 1862 he entered the Law Department of the University of Michigan, and in 1864 this school conferred on him the degree of LL.B. On his birthday, that same year, he was united in marriage to Miss Susan Meharry, of Montgomery County, Indiana, who went to her reward from Springfield, Illinois, December 19, 1900. She was the daughter of Hugh Meharry, a philanthropist of large means and prodigal liberality. The same year of his marriage Brother Kumler settled in Danville, Illinois, and began the practice of law. For some years he was Prosecuting Attorney for Danville and filled other important legal positions, for which he was eminently fitted. But his paramount life-work was that of a minister of the gospel. In his 17th year he was converted and joined the United Brethren church, of which his ancestors for several generations had been members. For years he was active along religious lines before he entered the ministry, as a Bible class teacher in the Methodist Episcopal church, and as President of the Vermilion County Sunday School Association, and during all this time he was called on for many Sunday School addresses all over the County as a "Lawyer Preacher." Convinced of his call to preach, he closed up his law business, and in 1868 entered the Illinois Conference of our church. His assignments have been, Rossville, Fairmount, Saybrook, University Charge Bloomington, Bement, Griggsville, Jacksonville District, Second Church Springfield, Virden, Clinton, Chancellor of Illinois Wesleyan University, Prentice Church Springfield, Superintendent of the Domestic Missionary and Church Aid Society of which he was the father and incorporator, and President of Walden University. Since 1913 he has been on the retired list, living on a farm with his two surviving sisters near Hamilton, Ohio. The Illinois Wesleyan University gave him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1897.

Doctor Kumler was elected a delegate to the General Conferences of 1896 and 1900. He was a faithful pastor, a strong preacher, a high class administrator, and a successful Presiding Elder. During his pastorate in Second Church, Springfield, he paid off a crushing debt of $25,000, of long standing, contributing liberally to the cause himself, and in the Conference year of 1899-1900, that church recognized his services, honoring both him and herself by officially changing her name from "Second Church," to "Kumler Church," as a memorial to her former beloved pastor. His active ministerial life covered a period of 45 years, the last eight of which were given to the Presidency of Walden University, at Nashville, Tennessee. He continued in this relation till he reached the age of 75, when he retired on his own initiative, though urged to continue as head of the school by the Board of Trustees. He was also one of the charter members of the Board of Trustees of Meharry Medical College. He was called the St. John of our Conference, because his personal gifts, characteristics and effectiveness were so similar to those qualities of that beloved disciple. More than 2,000 saved souls are stars for his crown.

Though in retirement Dr. Kumler was so constituted that he could not long remain idle. He temporarily served as pastor of the First Congregational church in Hamilton, and he was in frequent demand for special services near his home and elsewhere. His three sons have passed on, but his daughter, the wife of George E. Anderson, survives him.

His funeral services following a brief service in Ohio, were held in his memorial church, in Springfield, April 10, 1923, conducted by Dr. E. M. Antrim, District Superintendent, assisted by Drs. G. E. Scrimger, W. A. Smith, and others. His ministerial brethren acted as pall bearers, and the body was consigned to repose by the remains of his wife in beautiful Oak Ridge Cemetery, not far from the sepulchre and monument of the immortal Abraham Lincoln.

J. B. HORNEY.

"God's finger touched him and he slept," is Tennyson's description of death. In such a spirit of faith, courage and resignation, our Brother met the last great enemy of mankind, after many weeks of intense suffering. As the rising sun cast its beams over the earth, he closed his eyes, folded his arms, and lay down to pleasant dreams. Jonathan B. Horney was born in Brooklyn, Illinois, April 16, 1862, and died January 10, 1923. In his native home he grew to manhood. He attended the public schools, and later took a course in the State Normal at Macomb. For five years he afterward taught school, and during that time he was married to Miss Ella Glandon of Brooklyn, December 25, 1883. About one month before his marriage he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church. He was licensed to preach on his wedding day. The following year he joined the Illinois Conference and began his life-work as a Methodist preacher. He was evangelistic in his preaching, putting his whole being into his work, preaching with pathos and power. His appeals brought great revivals and many additions to the churches which he was permitted to serve, Astoria Circuit, West Point, Plymouth, Warsaw, Augusta, Rushville, Clinton, and Mattoon, where, during his pastorate the large stone church was erected. He was next Presiding Elder of Bloomington District, closing his work in 1909, when, because of Mrs. Horney's ill health, he removed to Enid, Oklahoma. Later he returned to Illinois, and has since resided in Normal. Three children were born to Rev. Horney and wife, Ada, the daughter, having preceded the father in death. The two sons, Floy and Merle both reside in Normal. Miss Bernice Horney, their niece, was reared in their home, and she has been as a daughter to them. Besides his wife, these children and two grand-children, sons of Merle, remain. He is also survived by one brother, Sloan Horney, of Rushville, and two sisters, Mrs. T. A. Lantz, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. R. A. Hartrick of Decatur, Illinois.

Rev. A. A. White, a personal friend of Brother Horney, who claims a friendship almost as intimate as that of David and Jonathan, says of him:

"He was a true friend, a manly man. A rugged honesty dominated his character, and rang clear in his relationships. His pleasing personality, his kind and courteous manner, and his strong and well poised mind made him a brother beloved."

Funeral services were held January 12th, in the First Methodist Church in Bloomington, District Superintendent C. M. Duncan in charge, assisted by W. J. Davidson, S. H. Whitlock, A. A. White and local pastors.

P. N. MINEAR.

Philip Neville Minear was a unique and resourceful man. He came of a long line of Methodist ancestry. His father, Solomon Minear, was a practicing physician of the old school, and a local preacher in the Methodist church for years in Edgar County, Illinois. The family came to Illinois by way of Kentucky and Chillicothe, Ohio. His mother was Jane Neville whose parents came to America from Ireland. Her father was Henry Neville, the line reaching back to the last of the Barons. He grand-mother was Araminta Hunter Neville, the home of one of her ancestors being one of the preaching places of John Wesley.

P. N. Minear was born March 23, 1836, in Paris, Illinois, and fell asleep November 23, 1922, in Neville, Texas, the town founded by him, and named in his honor. He was converted in his native place in 1850, and united with the Methodist Episcopal church. He received a liberal education as an equipment for his life work, and was admitted into our Conference on Trial in 1854. He served in regular succession as a successful Methodist preacher, the following charges: Shelbyville, Petersburg, Virginia, West Urbana, Charleston and Dallas. He next served as Chaplain in the army in the Civil War. Returning to the pastorate, he was assigned to Exeter, Vermont, and Naples. For the next two years he was on the Supernumerary list. Then came pastorates in Lynnville and Chapin. At Lynnville he was badly hurt by being caught in a mill. After a short period of retirement, he was pastor on Lincoln Circuit, and San Jose. Since 1890 he has been in the retired rank, making his home in Texas where he rendered a large service in a general way, and wielded a strong influence for the cause of Christ and for the things that make for true manhood and Christian citizenship.

Brother Minear was married three times. His first wife was Louisa M. Williams, to whom he was joined September 19, 1858, and who died December 15, 1863. She was the mother of Lela Minear Baughman, wife of Chas. Baughman, a former member of the Illinois Conference. His second wife was Sarah E. Williams, sister of the first bride, the union effected May 17, 1865. The five children born to this union, all survive in Texas: J. E. Minear, Fort Stockton; A. E. Minear, Clark School; George Minear, Mrs. Frank Stone, and Miss Pearl Minear, all of Neville. Their mother passed away August 20, 1894. Carrie Malloch became his third wife August 3, 1898, and she and Miss Pearl live together in Neville. Several grandchildren and great grandchildren also survive him. He had two brothers, James and Edward, and one sister, Winnie F. English, the mother of Rev. Dr. Merl Neville English, formerly of the Illinois, but now of the Rock River Conference, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Oak Park, Illinois.

Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Episcopal church in his home town, in charge of Doctor W. N. Carl, pastor, assisted by local pastors. Dr. Carl delivered the address. The Masonic fraternity of which the deceased had long been a member, conducted the burial service at the grave according to their ritual.

E. S. VORBECK.

Edwin Stephen Vorbeck was born near Worden, Illinois, January 11, 1879, and passed to his reward December 7, 1922. He was converted at an early age. In the summer of 1896 he went to western Kansas, and from there to Stillwater, Oklahoma, where he graduated with honor from the Law Department of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. At the age of twenty-one he was admitted to the bar in the State of Oklahoma, but feeling the call of God to the ministry he abandoned the practice of law, applied for admission, and was received on trial in the Oklahoma Conference in 1903, where he served the charges, Ingersoll, and Cleo. In 1905 he was transferred to the Missouri Conference and for three years was stationed at Hope Street Church, Hannibal. In 1908 he was received by transfer into the Illinois Conference, and was successively appointed to the following charges, serving them with marked success: Georgetown, Potomac, Franklin, Mechanicsburg, Williamsville, and Buckhart, his last charge, sent there in 1922. He was a lovable character, a man of deep spirituality, and led twelve young men into the ministry. He was an inspiring preacher and faithful pastor and people were converted wherever he lived and labored. He was constantly seeking and bringing people into the kingdom. He was loved not only by his own church people, but found a warm place in the esteem of the whole community. While serving the Williamsville charge his health began to fail, and he asked for easier work, and was sent to Buckhart. His condition grew steadily worse for a period of nine months, when he went to his coronation.

He was united in marriage in 1896 to Miss Louise Thomas, of Cleveland, Oklahoma, who faithfully and courageously shared his self-sacrificing labors until 1916, when she passed to her reward. To them were born two sons, Edward Thomas, and Marion Wilson. In 1917 he was married to Miss Mary Wright, of Franklin, Illinois, who was uniquely fitted to be a minister's companion. He is survived by his wife, his two sons, and two brothers, John, of St. Louis, Missouri, and Joseph, of Detroit, Michigan.

Funeral services were held in the Franklin Methodist Episcopal Church, December 9th. District Superintendent, Dr. Eugene M. Antrim, was in charge, assisted by H. A. Sherman, R. A. Ennis, and J. N. Thomas. Amid a profusion of floral offerings, his body was consigned to rest in Franklin Cemetery.

F. B. WARD.

Frank B. Ward was born in Jeffersonville, Indiana, March 14, 1872, and died in Lakeview Hospital, Danville, Illinois, July 9, 1923.

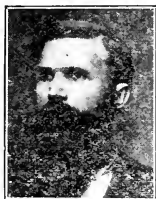

At the age of 14 he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church, and at 17 was Sunday School Superintendent in his home school. He was licensed to preach at the age of 21. Soon after his conversion he felt the call to the ministry, and began to prepare himself for that great work. He attended the common school, Valparaiso University for preparatory work, and graduated from Moores Hill College in 1900. That year he entered the Indiana Conference, serving Sardinia two years, and Dupont three. After the latter pastorate he entered Boston School of Theology, from which he graduated in 1908. In the fall of that year, after serving for a time the church in Oakland, Illinois, he transferred to the Illinois Conference, where his pastoral charges were as follows: Oakland, Maroa, Macon, Virden, Nokomis, Atlanta, Kansas, and Sidell, where he was pastor at the time of his death.

While teaching in the schools of Dearborn County, Indiana, he met Miss Cora I. Hays of Ludlow, Kentucky, whom he married in 1893. She was in full sympathy with his proposed ministerial life, and devoted herself unreservedly to the work in the parsonages and churches they served. The thirty years of their married life were years of happiness and devotion to each other, and to the great cause which they had espoused.

Brother Ward gave his entire time to the work of the ministry after entering it, except the periods spent in school and the year given to the Chaddock's Boys Home and School as Field-Secretary. He was richly endowed by nature for his work, and also made the most careful preparation for it that he might be one of God's most capable workmen. He was a diligent student, a true preacher, and a devoted pastor. His ideals of Christian life and character were of the highest, and his life and ministry served as an example. He was kind and patient, but never compromising. He sought always in his life and work to exalt the Christ whom he served. He was apparently in good health and anticipated no danger in the minor operation advised by his physician. Paralysis of the respiratory organs during the operation is said to have been the cause of his sudden death. His widow and their adopted son, Kenneth, are the surviving members of the immediate family.

Funeral services were held in the parsonage home in Sidell on July 11, District Superintendent Dr. W. D. Fairchild being in charge. The principal addresses were made by Dr. H. W. McPherson of Danville, and Rev. W. L. Ewing, of Indianapolis, Indiana, classmates and associates in the ministry. Rev. T. S. Mitchell and Dr. A. S. Chapman assisted in the services. The body was laid to rest in the cemetery near Mrs. Ward's girlhood home in Cincinnati, Ohio.

ABRAHAM WELLS.

The subject of this memoir, begotten by Lemuel and Polly Wells, was born October 9, 1841, in Paris, Indiana, and departed this life in Cincinnati, Ohio, April 27, 1923. He was educated at home and in the Public Schools, preliminary to his course in Asbury University, Greencastle, Indiana, from which he graduated under the presidency of Doctor, afterward Bishop, Thomas Bowman. For some years he was a school teacher and a lecturer. He was a member of Company E, 137th Regiment, Indiana Volunteers in the Civil War. He was converted in early life and united with the Methodist Episcopal church. He was licensed to preach the gospel, and was received on Trial in the Tennessee Conference in 1875, where he served as pastor and Presiding Elder until he transferred to the Illinois Conference in 1888. Here his Conference appointments were Elkhart, Perry, Belleflower, Rankin, Bethany, Oakland, and Rushville Circuit. In 1898 he began and continued first as a supernumerary, and then in the retired relation to the close of his life. His regular residence thereafter was Cincinnati, but he had a varied career and an unusual experience. He spent some time in the mountains of Virginia and Tennessee, and in the latter state was a librarian for six years in the Carnegie Library in Johnson City. He also traveled quite extensively, usually spending his winters on our western coast, or in southern Florida, in Manatee and Fort Myers. One winter he made his temporary abode in South America. He was married in October, 1874, in Lovett, Indiana, to Mary L. Wiseman, but no children were born of this union. About 1900 his wife accompanied a party to Italy. He leaves besides, a brother, John S. Wells, of Harper, Kansas.

Abraham Wells was a good man, devoutly religious, possessing some of the qualities of the original "father of the faithful," of the same name. He was also a faithful Methodist preacher, and substantial results came of his ministry.

Funeral services were held in Wesley Chapel, Cincinnati, Doctor Wm. H. Wehrley, District Superintendent, and Dr. Gervaise Roughton, pastor, officiating. The latter was a warm friend of the deceased for many years. The Woman's Relief Corps placed the Stars and Stripes on the breast of the old soldier, and the Methodist Ministers Association contributed a wreath of white lilies. Interment was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

C. G. WOOD.

Charles Giles Wood was born in Cortland County, New York, November 18, 1833, and met a tragic death in Wichita, Kansas, June 18, 1923, in the 90th year of his age. He was returning from a visit to a sick friend, on whom he made a daily call, when he was run down by an auto, hurled to the pavement, suffering a fractured skull, and died on the way to the hospital. He was licensed to preach at the age of twenty years, and entered the Oneida Conference on trial in 1855, his first charge being Hartford. He continued to serve charges in that, and in the Wyoming Conference until he was transferred to the Illinois Conference in 1882. Here he was assigned successively to Kansas, Macon, Blue Mound, Hillsboro, Decatur Circuit, and Nokomis. He took the retired relation in 1893, though in various capacities he has been active in church work since that time. He was a capable and faithful minister of the gospel, and a progressive and patriotic citizen. He was an early Abolitionist, and in the Civil War period was connected with the "Underground Railroad." Ten years ago he and his wife went to Wichita to make their home with their daughter whose husband at that time was pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church. Brother Wood was long the head of the men's Bible class in College Hill Church. Shortly prior to his decease he appealed to the members of the class to aid the Arkansas City flood sufferers. They responded favorably, and he said, "Now, I feel better. Thank you." Thus he was at the fore in good causes to the last.

Reverend Wood was united in marriage July 18, 1855, to Lucretia E. Parsons, who preceded him to the better land on October 10, 1918. She was a source of inspiration and strength to him and the people through the years of his active ministry. Four children came of this union, all of whom are still living: Mrs. A. D. Smith, Detroit, Michigan; Fred W. Wood and Mrs. C. G. Banister, Decatur, Illinois, and Mrs. L. M. Riley, of Wichita, Kansas, with whom he resided.

Funeral services were held in the College Hill Church, conducted by the pastor and the District Superintendent, with interment in the Wichita cemetery beside the remains of his matrimonial companion.

MRS. A. M. CAMPBELL.

Lida Maria Ludington was born in De Witt, Illinois, May 26, 1858. She was one of a family of eight children. In De Witt and Weldon her childhood and youth were spent. She was married to A. M. Campbell, a school-teacher in southeastern Indiana. When in 1884 her husband gave himself to the Methodist ministry she was in full sympathy, and proved a faithful and worthy helper in the parsonage home. For twenty years, on some of the hardest Circuits in the Illinois Conference, without a word of complaint, and with the finest fidelity to the cause of Christ and her church, she wrought with a zeal and devotion worthy of emulation. Many times in seasons of special revivals, while meeting all her domestic responsibilities with loving care and attention to her family, she was more than an assistant evangelist—she was full of zeal and abundant in good works. In Junior and Epworth Leagues, in Ladies Aid and Missionary Societies, and in all the activities of the church she rendered a whole-hearted and acceptable service. On every charge they served Sister Campbell's sacrificial devotion and tender Christian ministries will be remembered by those who were inspired to a clear understanding of the Christian life, and a keener appreciation of a genuine Christian experience growing out of her own personal experience and her joy in the love of her Savior.

After Brother Campbell retired from the activities of the Conference, she gave without stint of her time and strength to needy mission work in the city of Saint Louis. In that city, by the majestic Mississippi, as the rising of the sun on Sunday morning, November 26, 1922, chased the darkness from the Eastern horizon, with a calm but triumphant faith, her spirit rose to meet and live with her Lord. She knew and loved him here, and she will know and love him better there.

MRS. T. N. EWING.

Jessie B. Wilkin was born in Marshall, Illinois, April 11, 1880. She was the only daughter of Judge Jacob W. and Alice Constable Wilkin. Her mother died when she was only a few years of age and her father afterwards was married to Mrs. Sarah Archer, a widow having a son, Whitfield Archer. These, together with Mrs. Ewing's two brothers, Harry and John Schofield, constituted the family when they removed, a few years later, to Danville, Illinois, which continued to be their home until the death of Judge Wilkin in the spring of 1907.

Mrs. Ewing was educated in the public schools and high schools of Danville. From her early childhood she was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Danville, and took an increasing interest in the work of the church as the years passed. She was married to Rev. T. N. Ewing, September 25, 1907, her husband being at the time pastor of Kimber Methodist Church, Danville. A year later Rev. Ewing was appointed pastor of Grace Church, Decatur, and during all his ministry in Danville, Decatur and Springfield, and during the brief period of his ministry on the Decatur District, Mrs. Ewing was a devoted and inspiring helper in the great work of the Christian ministry as well as a faithful wife and mother. Three children were born in the home, Wilkin McDonald, Thomas Newel, Jr., and Alice Ann, who, with their father and Mrs. Ewing's brothers, Harry and John, and her other relatives and many friends, sincerely mourn their loss.

About the middle of February Mrs. Ewing had a slight attack of grippe from which she seemed to recover; but on February 24th, she suffered a relapse and was removed to the Decatur and Macon County hospital for the purpose of additional care. For a week the battle for life continued, but in the early morning of March third the end came. She was in full possession of all her faculties of mind and heart up to the last, and talked freely with her husband and friends concerning the future life and about what could be done for the care of the children.

Funeral services, under the direction of Rev. A. M. Wells, pastor of Grace Church, Decatur, assisted by the other pastors in Decatur, Rev. H. F. Powell and Rev. Chesteen Smith, and by Rev. H. C. Gibbs, were held on the afternoon of March fifth in Grace Church. Prayer was offered at the home by Rev. F. A. McCarty. Burial was in Fairlawn Cemetery, Decatur.

Mrs. Ewing was endowed by nature with a beauty of person, life and character which fitted her most admirably for the work of a pastor's wife. Rare and rich were her gifts and graces. Two of her uncles Rev. E. D. Wilkin and Rev. M. P. Wilkin rendered many years of service in the ministry, the latter continuing to be in retirement, a great blessing to his friends.

MRS. JOSEPH MONTGOMERY.

Rachel Salisbury, daughter of Abraham and Cyrena Salisbury, was born in Clinton, Ohio, July 9, 1840. Her father was a Methodist minister, and she early gave her heart to God and her name to the church. She came to Illinois in early life, and made her home in Camargo, where she was married in the fall of 1880 to Rev. Joseph Montgomery of the Illinois Annual Conference. Only two years after their marriage he retired from the active work of the ministry and thereafter they made their home in Normal, Illinois, where he died August 22, 1896, after sixteen years of wedded life with her as his second wife. She continued to reside in Normal till December 8, 1919, when she was admitted into the Methodist Episcopal Old People's Home in Chicago. She never lost her interest in the Methodist church and the Illinois Conference, whose sessions she attended to the last, as long as she was able to be present. She went hence from the Home February 19, 1923. Funeral services were conducted in the Home February 20, in charge of Rev. M. V. Holt, of Epworth Church. The remains were taken to Decatur, Illinois, for burial in Greenwood Cemetery, where her husband also was given interment.

MRS. R. H. OSBORNE.

Sarah Jane, widow of Rev. R. H. Osborne, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rev. R. Y. Williams, in Moweaqua, Illinois, October 2, 1922, in the 79th year of her age. Her former name was Catlin, and she was born in M'Arthur, Ohio, January 29, 1844. Her early childhood was spent in Cincinnati. In girlhood, she came with her family to Coles County, Illinois. At the age of ten years she was bereft of her mother, and the responsibility of caring for a family of small children fell on her shoulders. With motherly fidelity she performed this difficult duty. At the age of 16, she was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church. When she grew to womanhood she taught school for a time. At the outbreak of the Civil War, the family resided in the village of Farmington, in the neighborhood where the step mother of Abraham Lincoln dwelt. Here, shortly before Lincoln's first inauguration, she helped in serving the President-elect his last meal in the old, parental home. On November 9, 1865, she was married to Ralph H. Osborne, a business man of Farmington. They later lived in Mattoon. In 1887 while residing in Lerna, Illinois, her husband decided to give himself to the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church, and after he entered the Illinois Conference in 1889, she gave her time and best efforts to the duties of her station in the parsonages and churches of Charleston Circuit, Martinsville Circuit, Deland, Moulton Church Shelbyville, and Neoga. After Rev. Osborn's retirement in the fall of 1898, they lived for a time in Mulberry Grove and Altamont, returning to Neoga where he passed away December 24, 1913. Mrs. Osborne who unceasingly cared for him during his long illness, had a clear Christian experience. She was never demonstrative, but rather of a quiet and constant trend of mind, heart and life. She loved her Lord, and took great delight in his service, and when no longer able to go to church, the Bible was her daily companion. In great feebleness for six years prior to her going hence, she patiently endured, never voicing a word of complaint. During her last months when failing sight made it impossible for her to read, she would repeat the familiar hymns, especially her favorite, "There is a fountain filled with blood."

She was the mother of seven children. One son, Winfield, died in early life, and the step-son, Lyman, passed away in 1915. Three daughters and three sons survive her: Mrs. R. Y. Williams, Moweaqua; Mrs. D. B.

Troxell, Deland; Mrs. W. H. Shubert, Charleston; D L., Centralia; C. C. and L. A. Osborne, Neoga, Illinois. A brother, George Catlin, of Monon, Indiana; a sister, Mrs. K. L. Snyder, Denver, Colorado, and a half-sister, Mrs. Laura Smith of Alton, Illinois, still live, besides fourteen grand-children and three great-grand-children. Funeral services were held in Neoga Methodist church, Oct. 27, 1922, the pastor Peter Kittel in charge, with sermon by Rev. C. B. Taylor, who was serving his first charge at Lerna when Rev. Osborne gave himself to the ministry. Interment was in the Neoga Cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM MURPHY.

Harriet Barber was born near Montreal, Canada, November 1, 1832, and died in Champaign, Illinois, December 17, 1922, over 90 years of age. In her girlhood, she attended the public schools, and at the age of sixteen she was converted and united with the Methodist Church of Canada. Her father's home was noted as a home for Methodist preachers. Two of her brothers were ministers, one of them in the Canada Conference, and the other, Isaac Barber, at one time a member of the Illinois Conference. September 15, 1858, she was united in marriage to Rev. Wm. Murphy, and to this union were born two daughters, Anna L., who died in 1915, and Minnie L. Murphy, who survives her mother, living in Champaign. Seven years after their marriage Rev. and Mrs. Murphy came to the States, and in 1865, he was admitted into the Illinois Annual Conference, and served Rochester, Springfield Circuit, Cerro Gordo, Rosemond, Moweaqua, Harris-town, Payson, Barry, Winchester, Mahomet, Bement, and Deland. In 1896 he took the superannuate relation, and in 1900 was translated from Champaign to which place they had removed in 1889, and where the widow resided to the day of her passing.

Mrs. Murphy had four sisters and four brothers, all of whom preceded her in death. She was a deeply religious woman. Her faith in God was remarkable. Heaven to her was just as real as the things of earth. Often she expressed a desire to go to heaven, and join her loved ones there. During her late illness, while her mind at times would wander, yet never once did she forget the old hymns and her daily prayers. Her last conscious word was an expressed wish to be lifted from her bed that she might kneel beside it and offer up her prayer to God. In her passing one of God's saints has gone to heaven. Funeral services were conducted in the home, December 19, 1922, by her pastor, Dr. H A. Keck, with interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

MRS. W. W. ROBERTS.

Fannie Holmes, daughter of Lemuel and Sarah Holmes, was born in Preble County, Ohio, March 8, 1842, and died February 14, 1923, being nearly 81 years old. When a child her parents moved to Wells County, Indiana, where the family of nine children were reared to manhood and womanhood, Fannie being one of six daughters. Here she met Rev. W. W. Roberts, a young preacher in the Indiana Methodist Conference. They were married October 8, 1863, and began their career in Wabash, where her husband was pastor. Here their only child, A. S. Roberts, was born. For some time thereafter Rev. Roberts was a member of the faculty of Fort Wayne Methodist College, now Taylor University. He and his wife served for a time in the Missouri and Arkansas Conferences, and he was transferred to the Illinois Conference in 1869, and their appointments were Camden, Beardstown, Petersbrug, Brooklyn Jacksonville, and Green Valley. Here his health utterly failed, and he was compelled in 1874 to ask for the superannuated relation. He continued in that relation, though part of the time supplying churches. He came to Danville, Illinois, in 1899, and engaged in business, where he ended his days in 1912. The years of strain during her husband's illness proved too much for Mrs. Roberts, and soon after his decease her health began to break, and after ten years of lingering illness, she suffered a stroke of apoplexy a week before the end came, and she lapsed into unconsciousness, which continued to the last. She passed away in Logansport, Indiana, and her remains were brought to Fairmount, Indiana, where her son lives, and where funeral services were held in the Methodist church, with the pastor, J. M. Jordan, in charge, with interment in the Park Cemetery. Besides her son, Mrs. Roberts leaves two grandchildren, two great-grand-children, and two brothers, Charles W., of Portland, and William H. Holmes, Bedford, Indiana. The remains of Rev. Roberts will be removed to Fairmount.

MRS. B. D. WILEY.

Josephine Carson was born in Cleveland, Ohio, December 15, 1853, and died in Spokane, Washington, November 8, 1922, in her 69th year. In her girlhood she came with her parents to Litchfield, Illinois, and later they moved to Beardstown. She was educated in the public schools.

In August, 1876, she was united in marriage to Benjamin D. Wiley. To this union were born four children, one dying in infancy. The other three still living are R. S. Wiley, Bakersfield, California; C. C. Wiley, Champaign, and Miss Neva B. Wiley, Spokane, Washington. She leaves one brother, Rev. P. P. Carson, of the Illinois Conference, and one sister, Lucy H. Carson, Dillon, Montana. She was converted in her young girlhood and united with the Methodist Episcopal church, of which she continued a faithful member to the day of her decease. She was a devoted wife and mother, carefully rearing her children in the way of truth and righteousness. Her husband joined the Illinois Conference in 1882, and together they faithfully served various charges in the Conference. She was a true "help meet" for her husband through the years of his ministry. With him she endured the hardships of the itinerate ministry, and made the sacrifices necessary that her children might receive an education. She was always very active in the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and was prominent in the work of several women's clubs. Her memory will ever be precious to all those who were the recipients of her loving helpfulness. The world is better because she lived and wrought. She fought the good fight, finished the course, kept the faith, and has passed to her reward in the heavens.

Services were held at the home of the son, C. C. Wiley, conducted by Dr. H. A. Keck, assisted by Dr. A. K. Byrns and Rev. George Wetzel, followed by interment in Roselawn Cemetery, Champaign, November 14, 1922.

Conference Rules.

"1. The Conference shall meet at 8:15 o'clock a. m. and adjourn at 12 o'clock, noon, but may alter the time either of meeting or of adjournment at its pleasure. A recess of ten minutes shall be taken at 10:30 o'clock unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

"2. When a member is about to speak in debate or to deliver any matter to the Conference, he shall rise and respectfully address the president, but shall not proceed until recognized by him.

"3. No member shall be interrupted when speaking, except by the president, to call him to order when he departs from the question, or uses personalities or disrespectful language; but any member may call the attention of the president to the subject when he deems a speaker out of order, and any member may explain when he thinks himself misrepresented.

"4. When a member desires to speak to a question of privilege he shall briefly state the question; but it shall not be in order for him to proceed until the president shall have decided it a question of privilege. Questions of privilege are matters relating to the rights and welfare of the individual as a member of the whole body, and of such an imperative character as to justify the interruption of the regular order.

"It shall be the imperative duty of the president to require the member to state his question of privilege. This having been done the president shall decide whether it shall be allowed; and, if so, shall hold him closely to the subject.

"5. No person shall speak more than twice on the same question or more than ten minutes at one time without leave of the Conference; nor shall any person speak more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

"Provided, however, that a committee making a report shall, through its chairman, or in case the chairman shall not be in harmony with the report, through one of its members selected by the committee or by the chairman, be entitled to ten minutes to close the debate, either to oppose the motion to lay the report on the table, or, this permission not having been used, to close the debate on the motion to adopt. The committee shall not be deprived of its right to close the debate even after the previous question has been ordered, and, when a report consisting of two or more propositions has a serious consideration, the chairman or representative of the committee shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges on each proposition thus decided separately as he would have if the report was considered as a unit.

"6. No effective member of the Conference shall absent himself from the sessions of a Conference without leave, unless he is sick or unable to attend.

"7. Resolutions shall be written and presented in duplicate by the mover. All motions shall be reduced to writing if the president, secretary or any member request it.

"8. All written motions, reports and communications to the Conference shall be passed to the secretary to be read by him to the Conference.

"9. When a motion is made and seconded, or a resolution introduced and seconded, or a report presented and read by the secretary or stated by the president it shall be deemed in possession of the Conference; but any motion or resolution may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before amendment or decision.

"10. The following motions shall be taken without debate: (1) To adjourn. (2) To suspend the rules. (3) To lay on the table. (4) To take from the table. (5) The call for the previous question.

"11. No new motion or resolution shall be entertained until the one under consideration has been disposed of, but one or more of the following motions may be made, and they shall have precedence in the order in which they are placed, namely: (1) To fix the time to which the conference shall adjourn. (2) To adjourn. (3) To take a recess. (4) To lay on the table. (5) For the previous question. (6) To postpone to a given time. (7) To refer. (8) To substitute. (9) To amend. (10) To postpone indefinitely. The motion for the previous question can not be laid on the table.

"12. Only one amendment to an amendment shall be in order but it shall then be in order to move a substitute for the main question, and one amendment to the substitute, and if a substitute is accepted, it shall replace the original proposition.

"13. It shall be in order to move the previous question on any measure pending, except in cases in which character is involved; and, if sustained by a vote of two-thirds of those present and voting the question shall be taken; nevertheless, it shall be in order under this rule to move to refer, to recommit, to divide or to lay on the table after the previous question has been ordered, the vote being taken in every case without debate. It shall not be in order to move the previous question or to move to lay on the table at the close of a speech in which the pending question has been discussed.

"14. On the call of a member a question shall be divided if it is divisible into distinct propositions.

"15. The motion to adjourn shall be always in order except (1) when a member has the floor, (2) when a question is actually put or a vote is being taken, until finally decided, (3) when a question is pending on sustaining the demand for the previous question, (4) when the previous question has been called and sustained and action under it is still pending, (5) when a motion to adjourn has been negatived and no business or debate has intervened.

"16. When any motion or resolution shall have been acted upon by the Conference, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing side to move a reconsideration; but a motion to reconsider a non-debatable motion shall be decided without debate.

"17. The mover of any question or resolution, that shall in any way place a financial obligation on the Conference or any member of the Conference or any church in the territory of the Conference, shall introduce the same before the Conference at least twenty-four hours before a call for vote on the same, and he shall post a duplicate typewritten copy of the same in a conspicuous place at least twenty-four hours before a call for vote.

"18. Every member who is within the bar at the time a question is put shall vote, unless the Conference for special reasons excuses him. No member shall be allowed to vote on any question who is not within the bar at the time when the question shall be put by the president, except by leave of the Conference when such member has been necessarily absent.

"19. Voting shall be by the uplifted hand, but, on a division of the house, a count vote shall be taken, the members rising in their places and standing until counted. Votes may also be taken by ballot and by ayes and noes.

"20. It shall be in order for any member to call for the ayes and noes on any question before the Conference, and if the call be sustained by _____ members the vote shall be taken by ayes and noes. If not sustained, members, voting in the minority, if said minority is less than _____, may have their votes recorded by name.

"21. The District Superintendents shall be a committee to prepare nominations for the standing committees of the Conference in advance of the Conference Session and present their nominations immediately following the organization of the Conference.

"22. Vacancies in the Conference Board of Trustees, the Conference Board of Stewards and the Conference Deaconess Board shall be filled by election of the Conference on nomination by the District Superintendents.

"23. All requests for special appointment shall be referred to the Committee on Conference Relations.

"24. The report of the committee on education shall be the order of the day at 10 o'clock a. m. on Saturday of each session of the Conference and all representations of educational institutions shall be made at that time.

"25. The Statistical Secretary at each session shall appoint a person for each district whose duty it shall be to collect the statistical reports in the districts severally before the opening of the ensuing session and to report under the call for statistics the names of those charges in the several districts which have not presented their statistical reports. The call for statistics shall be made at the opening meeting of the Conference Session immediately following the organization of the Conference.

"26. Each member in effective relation, and each supply, shall contribute a sum equal to the amount of 1-10 of 1 per cent of his cash salary to be applied as necessity may require to the purpose of securing expert accountants, or stenographers, or assistants, and for Secretarial Expenses.

"27. In all matters not herein specified the proceedings of the Conference shall be governed by common parliamentary law.

"28. These rules shall not be suspended except by a majority of all the members of the Conference."

Respectfully submitted,

IRA B. BLACKSTOCK, Treasurer.

Resolutions Committee reported favorably on the resolution concerning William H. Anderson of the New York Anti-Saloon League (being the same as adopted by the ministers of this Conference and printed in full elsewhere in the Conference Minutes). Adopted unanimously.

Resolutions Committee reported further and moved the adoption of the following, which was duly carried:

"Be it Resolved, by the Lay Electoral Conference and the Laymen's Association in session assembled at the city of Champaign in the Illinois Annual Conference, That we extend to the citizens of Champaign our high appreciation of the splendid entertainment and accommodations which they have furnished to us while in their midst.

Resolved, further, That we as an organization stand firmly for the enforcement of all laws and look to the national, state and municipal officials for the enforcement of the laws of our country, and we pledge to them our loyal support in every effort for the enforcement of the laws. We are unalterably opposed to mob violence. We believe that the Judicial branch of our government is the only forum through which all wrongs should be redressed and just punishment meted out to the offenders of the law.

Resolved, further, That we believe that it will be for the benefit of Christian organization that the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South should be united as a great organization for the purpose of furthering the cause of Christ.

Resolved, further, that each of us pledge our loyal support to our respective local church, our Sunday School and at all times endeavor to find the good in our minister and church officials. We will ever be ready to throw the mantle of charity about what may in our dim eyes seem to be stain while in God's pure light may prove a sear won on some hard-fought field."

Nominating Committee reported that the present officers of the Association be re-elected for the ensuing year. On motion the report was adopted.

On motion and in accordance with the recommendation of a special committee, the first paragraph of Article IV of the Constitution of this Association was duly amended to read as follows:

“4. MEMBERSHIP. The membership of this Association shall consist of its officers, standing committees, committees appointed by the Executive Committee between sessions, and the delegates and reserves elected to this Lay Electoral Conference and who will retain their membership for four years or until their successors are elected. And in addition to the above, one annual delegate from each charge to be chosen each year hereafter by the Third Quarterly Conference. This additional annual delegate to have a voice and vote at all sessions of the Laymen's Association but without the privilege of voting at a Lay Electoral Conference.” (The remainder of Article IV being unchanged.)

The names of the officers are as follows: C. C. Grimmer, President; Ira B. Blackstock, Secretary-Treasurer. District Vice-Presidents: Bloomington, W. F. Engle; Champaign, C. W. Groves; Decatur, Isaac L. Long; Jacksonville, Thomas V. Hopper; Mattoon, Judge H. R. Snively; Quincy, C. W. Caughlan; Springfield, Prof. A. R. Crook. Executive Committee: C. C. Grimmer, Ira B. Blackstock, Benjamin F. Kagey, Dr. I. H. Neece and Thomas V. Hopper.

It was moved and seconded that the 1923 Minutes of the Lay Electoral Conference and also of the Laymen's Association be published in the Conference Minutes as usual. Carried.

This Association then adjourned to meet with the ministers of the Annual Conference for the introduction of delegates.

C. C. GRIMMETT, President;
IRA B. BLACKSTOCK, Secretary.

“FAITH OF OUR FOUNDERS”

(Adapted by the late Hiram Buck Prentice)

Faith of our founders! memories dear!
Their labors given for you and me;
How can we show our gratitude
For sacrifice so real and free!
Faith of our founders; holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

In fresh, new soil our founders sowed
Seeds of the Spirit and good will,
That you and I might nobler be,
More worthily life's aims fulfill.
Faith of our founders! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

Serving their God and mankind too,
Steadfast and true, mid dangers brave,
Though toil and hardship lined the way,
For others' sake themselves they gave,
Faith of our founders! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

Faith of our founders! help us too,
Like them to strive for others' needs;
Pass on the blessings we've received
And thus inspire like glorious deeds.
Faith of our founders! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

Reports

(A) DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENTS.

BLOOMINGTON DISTRICT.

C. M. Duncan, District Superintendent.

Bishop McDowell and Brethren:

We are learning "more and more every day and in every way" that one year is a very short period of time. Some one has said that "NOW is the great word in India." If that is true in India it surely is doubly true with us here in the Illinois Conference in this year 1924.

At the close of the last annual conference the Bloomington District had its full quota of pastors so that each charge had the privilege of a spiritual leader within its bounds.

Organization.

The District was soon organized into seven groups with an enthusiastic leader for each group. These seven men with the District Superintendent outlined a program for the year and at an early district meeting presented their plans and thus the district as a whole adopted a working schedule for the year.

Our first duty in the month of October was the task of making the OLD WALL CLOCK strike twelve. "As much as last year" was the slogan for Centenary collections. This to many of the charges was a very small chore but when we began as groups and a district to meet this challenge it called for real service on the part of both pastors and laymen.

World Service.

It was surely Providential that, at the close of the Centenary period, we should have that wonderful volume—"The World Service of the Methodist Episcopal Church" which is a real book of the acts of the Methodist Episcopal Church during the past five years. Upon receiving this volume, the group leaders immediately began to study how they might present it to the laymen of the district. They planned for each group to present certain sections of the book at our district meeting which was held in Bloomington First Church. The group idea made it possible for each pastor to be a part of the teaching force in presenting the book in a real living way. This occasion was regarded by all as the beginning of our World Service educational program within the district. Each group had its local program. With pageants, World Service slides, lectures, debates, essays, minute men talks, Sunday School study classes, Epworth League study classes, and messages from laymen and pastors, they were determined to present this work of the church until our people would gladly respond. The pastors were able to distribute 1,274 volumes throughout the district.

When the canvass was complete and reports filed on April 28th we note: Collections since Conference, $13,403; pledged to pay on Centenary notes, $18,173; pledged new on World Service, $16,447; possibilities from those not seen, $3,784; making a grand total of $51,807. Of this amount we will report to this Conference what collected and turned into our treasury. Last year we report $52,151 showing.

The Sunday School.

The Sunday School is the BIG STRONG ARM of the church. Herein we have the opportunity of developing every department of church activity and life. E. H. Sauer, our District Director of Sunday Schools, says:

"The great challenge of the church in this day is church attendance. With approximately 30 per cent of our membership attending worship it is not difficult to account for the impotence of so many who take the name of the Master and follow not after Him. The same reason may be given for our inability to support an adequate benevolent program. The co-operation we must have in meeting the demands of this day can be easily traced to this source. The Sunday School is the great mobilizing station for the church and gives us a most fruitful field for training. Our motto is—Every member of the church in Sunday School. Every member of the Sunday School attending Morning Worship."

We find that the average attendance of the Sunday School does not equal more than 3 out of each 7 members of the church. And when we consider that many of the Sunday School scholars are not members of the church we would have a large estimate in saying that 30 percent of the church membership attend Sunday school. This is the big, big challenge of the church in this day. If we are to have an Evangelistic Movement, an educational awakening, a church building project or a World Service program, we must be able to enlist more than 3 out of 10 members of our church.

The Sunday Schools of the Bloomington District, I dare say, are on a fair average with the schools of other districts. There has been most faithful service rendered by superintendents and teachers in our schools. Our pastors praise them for their untiring efforts to achieve. We believe that in spite of the weather conditions, we have been able to register almost equal to last year.

The Daily Vacation Bible School.

C. H. Young, our District Director of Religious Education, says:

"The Daily Vacation Bible School is a growing concern. The pastors who use it see immeasurable possibilities in this kind of work. It is putting a new emphasis on the teaching function of the church. That its continuation and extension will solve many of our religious problems is beyond question."

Out of 39 charges we have reports from 21 pastors who declare the Daily Vacation Bible School to be a real success. There were 1,521 children enrolled in these 21 schools. In making the average for attendance we find it 97 per cent plus. We are finding here a real field for religious instruction. A period of three weeks is suggested by most of the pastors as the ideal time for promoting the school.

The Epworth League.

Thomas B. Lugg, our District Epworth League President, says: "It has been said that the Epworth League is the hope of tomorrow. The Epworth League of the Bloomington District is the hope of today. The members are not only learning the spirit of service, of missions and of evangelism, but through their earnest labor they are leading the church into greater activity. The work of the Epworthians in our district is an index to the life of the church and the vision of the pastor."

We only mention a very few things that show the life of the Epworth League within the district. Our convention was held at Deland with an attendance of 210 of as fine a group of young folk as can be found anywhere. Dr. H. A. Ke-k, our pastor of Champaign First, gave a most interesting and enlivening message which gripped the hearts and inspired the lives of our young people. The District Banner, which is awarded to the chapter rendering the greatest service during the year, was received by the Deland Epworth League. Last year the banner was awarded on less than 600 points and this year on over 1000 points, showing the increased interest and the devotional growth in the midst of our young people.

At our Conference Institute, we were third place in attendance, furnished three teachers on the faculty and gave one of the institute pageants.

Our Booth Festival at Park M. E., Bloomington, was another high water mark of real service and religious activity. H. L. Thrall, the District Third Vice President, stimulated the leaguers throughout the district to undertake a program of service for our three worthy institutions—the Baby Fold at Normal, Cunningham Home at Urbana and Chaddock Boys' School at Quincy. Fourteen Leagues and 168 young people responded and the booths displayed the handiwork of the Epworthians amounting to more than $600.00. The social activities and the basket dinner were under the supervision of Miss Laura Bell, our Fourth Vice President. The banner awarded for the booth containing the largest value and most artistic arrangement was given to New Holland, and the banner for the greatest number of points won in athletics to Park M. E. The League activities in the district are most commendable.

Within Our Midst.

Three Distinguished Leaders of Our Church Visit Us.

The Lincoln people were edified and greatly rejoiced with Bishop Michel's visit and splendid lecture.

Bishop Wm. F. Anderson made his life felt in Bloomington First Church and the city of Bloomington during Passion Week. Many people speak in the very highest regards of his splendid service.

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes was a delight to the many Methodists who assembled at the chautauqua tent to greet and welcome him as resident Bishop.

Illinois Wesleyan University.

A business man said some time ago—"What this country needs more than anything else is more education based on the plain teachings of Jesus." Ex-President James of Illinois University said—"Our civilization would be unfortunate indeed were it not for our institutions of Christian learning. Education without religion is unnatural, abnormal and dangerous." We are fortunate indeed in having Illinois Wesleyan in our midst for it is a Christian college. We have closed and our now opening one of the most successful and hopeful years in the history of the institution. I am informed that there is a reasonable right to expect 600 students in the college of Liberal Arts this year. No young man or woman will make a mistake in choosing this institution as a place for training. Illinois Wesleyan is definitely and wholesomely Christian.

Improvements.

Many of our churches report small repair and general upkeep for the year. But some of the larger improvements should be mentioned in this report. Grace M. E. repaired their roof and some other necessary work was done to the extent of an expenditure of $600. Leroy had all of their church windows repaired at a cost of over $600. Lincoln built a new garage at a cost of $650. Mason City redecorated their church and made some necessary repairs at a cost of $1000. This church is most inviting in appearance and gives to that splendid people a most desirable place to worship. Our First church in Bloomington has been redecorated and painted at a cost of $6,000 and is now a restful home for the worshippers of our city.

New Parsonages.

The parsonage begun last year at Fisher was finished early in this calendar year and the pastor, W. B. Theobald, is now enjoying a modern parsonage home. He states that the collections on pledges are most gratifying.

Our energetic people at New Holland are now building a new parsonage at the cost of $6,000. Their subscriptions are adequate to care for this building. It is hoped that before the new year the pastor will be able to occupy this modern home. Very recently this people remodeled their church at an expenditure of $12,000. Great praise is to be given to pastor and people for the splendid building program.

New Churches.

Park M. E. of Bloomington is looking forward to a new social center building in connection with their church. They have long since outgrown their church for Sunday School purposes. Their strategic location within the city gives them an opportunity to draw from a population of 10,000 people. There is practically no limit to the possibilities of their church. The pastor will launch a movement soon after conference to secure pledges for the financing of this new enterprise. The World Service is interested in this project and will ably come to the assistance of this worthy people.

Lincoln First Church has decided to build a new church on a new site at a cost of $120,000 more or less. They have secured over $75,000 in good pledges toward this new movement. The lot just west of the present church has been purchased at a cost of $1,500. It gives to that people one of the choice building sites of the city. I am sure no one could receive proper praise for this achievement. However, I wish to mention that the pastor, A. R. Grummon, began this eighteen months ago by discovering an initial gift of $15,000. Watching only as an ardent and devout pastor can watch, he was able after some months to secure another gift of equal amount. Thus on and on until the $75,000 was announced. Brethren, this is a new day for Lincoln and all praise be given to the leadership of our pastor.

Ministerial Support.

Our success depends upon our willingness to work—plus doing the task. Last year we reported 29 charges holding their own, one charge retreating and nine hearing the command—go forward. This year we report 31 charges holding steady—one charge slowing down—7 charges forging ahead. We report $180 decrease and $2,670 increase in pastors' salaries for next year.

Bishop McDowell and Brethren, I want to congratulate the men of my district on their faithfulness to the task. They have not only been faithful to the task but they have done the task. During the year they have seen that a short history of their individual charge was prepared and have sent copies of the same to my office. Through the courtesy of our District Publicity Director, W. H. Gronemeier, we have a compilation of same. At this time I wish to present the history of Bloomington District to our conference historian, R. W. Ennis.

I want to thank each and every pastor and layman who has contributed in any way toward the success of the year's work. It is not my work; it is not your work; but it is our work.

For Him we have toiled and may all praise be given to Him.

I thank you.

CHAMPAIGN-DANVILLE DISTRICT.

A. K. Byrns, District Superintendent.

Bishop McDowell and Brethren:

At the beginning of the Conference year certain goals were set for the church of the Champaign-Danville District, among them, a net gain in church membership of at least 7 percent. The reports of the pastors reveal the fact that for the district as a whole this goal has been reached. At First Church, Champaign, the net gain in numbers has been 288, Hoopes-ton, 172, Lincoln-Danville, 164, Urbana First, 73, Urbana Trinity, 65, Ross-ville, 57, Batestown, 50, Paxton, 41, and we might continue the list for some of the smaller numbers of the smaller churches represent an equally large net gain. This other fact should be remembered, that the gain in some of our city churches may in part account for the lower increase in the rural ones through transfer of membership.

Sunday Schools.

In spite of the most unusual weather and roads during the winter and spring months the Sunday Schools have made a net gain in average attendance over last year of a little more than 2 percent.

Epworth Leagues.

About 2,000 young people belong to our Epworth Leagues and have had a successful year. Although the average distance from this district to Jacksonville, the seat of the Epworth League Institute is 150 miles, 125 of our Leaguers were registered delegates.

Religious Education.

More than 800 boys and girls were enrolled in religious vacation schools this summer with most gratifying results. This form of religious activity must find an ever enlarging field. It is fundamental.

Through a co-operative plan devised by the public school authorities and the pastors of Paxton week day religious instruction is furnished regularly by the various churches during school hours, credit being given by the school for the same. We consider this a fine step toward the placing of religious education where it belongs in the life of our developing youth.

Rural Association.

We have just completed the first year of our District Rural Association work. Some plans have not worked out as well as we had hoped, but others have surpassed our expectation. Miss Marie Marvel, our director of religious education for this undertaking has given all her time, and Rev. J. H. Singleton part time to it. We have had two parishes directly in the development consisting of sixteen rural and small town churches.

It is impossible here to state the results but those of us who have observed them are enthusiastic and the prospects for the coming year are very encouraging. Dr. W. A. Goodell, Director of religious education at the Wesley Foundation has co-operated with us and has rendered most effective service in these rural fields.

Also, the student council of the Wesley Foundation under the general direction of Rev. G. V. Metzel has organized a special rural department through which is made available a vast amount of talent expressed in music, drama, gospel team work and many other types of service which this great body of students may render both to the enriching and developing of themselves and the churches they serve.

I cannot pass from this item of my report without mentioning the fact that we have had very great encouragement and assistance also from the Department of Agriculture of the University of Illinois through its remarkable dean, Dr. W. H. Mumford, who is not only dean of this unsurpassed agricultural college but it an earnest Christian and office bearer in Trinity church and believes in the importance and place of the rural church in our future civilization.

Church Training Night.

In 12 churches training nights have been successfully operated. Hoopes-ton leads in average attendance, having made a record of 211—Rantoul was next with 175. The instructive courses, the delightful fellowship, the wholesome entertainment and the genuine religious devotion which these church training nights produce are proving a boon to the communities where they are held. The Church is indeed becoming a center where all the better elements of life are cultivated.

Material Investments.

Many congregations have paid off old indebtedness on their church and parsonage properties during the year. Other have repaired and improved them. At Rossville, Hoopeston, Oakwood, Georgetown, Urbana—Grace, and Urbana—First, the churches have been refrescoed. An electric lighting system has been placed in the church at Savoy. New roofs have been placed on the churches at Rantoul, Sidney and New Town.

At Catlin the basement has been excavated and is in the process of being finished to provide rooms for community service and add to the Sunday School equipment. The people of Dewey are building a parish house attached to the church, which will when done, make an equipment there as complete as our best city plants for carrying on the work in that community.

Batestown, a small community adjacent to Danville, has this year built and entirely paid for a comfortable brick church. Until last year the little old wooden church which occupied the site had not been regularly used for fifteen years. The membership has this year grown from nothing to 50 and these good people are justly proud and happy over their achievements.

First Church, Urbana, has negotiated for additional ground adjoining the present plant looking toward a contemplated building program in the near future.

The members and friends of St. James, Danville, have added to their subscriptions for their new church until they now have $175,000 in substantial pledges.

W. F. M. S. & W. H. M. S.

Our Woman's Foreign and Home Missionary Societies will, if the estimated reports are reliable, surpass the record of last year. All honor to these faithful believers in the larger work of the Kingdom.

World Service.

For the most part our pastors worked hard and some even heroically to secure the allotment for World Service. A few reached it—many others did not. About 2000 World Service Volumes were sold to our people, and a thorough campaign of education was conducted for several months consisting of missionary reading courses, study classes, discussion groups, pageants, sermons, etc. Our first aim and greatest effort has been to win our people to a loving loyalty to the benevolent enterprises of our Church. The returns in money will in some cases be quite disappointing. If the pledges taken about the middle of the year have been collected our report will be between 50 and 65 per cent of our allotment.

Cunningham Home.

Cunningham Children's Home at Urbana has completed another year of good work. One hundred and three different children have been served with an average in the house of seventy for the year. Four were graduated from the Urbana High School this year, three of whom have gone to training school to prepare for life service in the Methodist Episcopal Church. This would indicate that this home fostered by the W. H. M. S. of our Conference is casting bread upon the water which is quite sure to return in service to the Church from these lives which have here been given a chance.

The assets of the Home are:

Value of grounds and equipment.....	$100,800.00
Sheldon Farm	32,000.00
Macey Farm	24,000.00
Mortgage on Hazon Estate.....	12,000.00
Endowment	11,557.00
Building Fund	2,000.00
Cash in Treasury.....	2,300.00

The Wesley Foundation.

We have reason to be proud of our Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois both because of the sound and far-reaching work it is doing and also because of its constructive influence on the development of student work at state universities. From first hand knowledge coming out of my being in the building practically every day, I am able to say that The Wesley Foundation is reaching our students at the University of Illinois in a wonderful way. Its ministry is a well-rounded ministry which meets an amazing response from the students. They feel that the Foundation is their home and throw themselves into its activities and in this process are finding the training which make them effective and useful laymen both during college days and after graduation.

We are also recruiting even larger numbers for the special tasks of the Church at home and abroad. The influence of The Wesley Foundation on the foreign students at the university has been pronounced one of the most effective missionary agencies of the Church. It stirs my heart to see the way in which our college youth are finding the beautiful and effective meanings of religion through our Foundation. I wish you could all see the work day by day as I do. You would have the same thrill of enthusiasm and hopefulness that is mine. We must have the new Trinity Church as soon as we can possibly achieve it. The continual overflow of students at the service of public worship who for lack of room are denied the privileges and stimulus of this service, is a source of profound distress.

In Conclusion.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the faithful pastors and their devotion to the tasks which have been theirs. The year has, in some respects at least, been a very difficult one, calling for an unusual amount of wisdom and hard work. I have had genuine joy in associating with these loyal men and their families and cannot fully express in words my thanks to them.

With gratitude to God for his unfailing Grace and the opportunities which we have had to serve in His Kingdom I conclude this report not satisfied with the achievements of the past and glad only because of the promise of the future in which we hope to serve another day more effectively than the one just concluded.

The tomorrow days are the days for me,
 They summon both time and energy.
 They stretch afar like a widening sea
 And appeal to the best that one can be.

DECATUR DISTRICT.

A. M. Wells, District Superintendent.

Bishop McDowell and Members of the Conference:

In making this my first report as a District Superintendent I desire first of all to declare my obligations to my predecessor, Dr. T. N. Ewing, who had gone up and down the District carrying goodwill and brotherly kindness everywhere and who has been remembered with all kindly thought by the men who served with him during his incumbancy. And I also desire to express my keen appreciation for the faithful men who have pressed forward "toward the mark of the high calling" with all devotion and earnestness and who have really made the achievements in the Decatur District during the year.

Ministerial Changes.

Strasburg and Elwin were to be supplied following the last session of the Conference and Homer E. Hoewig was appointed to Strasburg, and Rev. G. Reid Smith, a probationer in the South Dakota Conference, was secured for Elwin. Pastor Smith has wrought well and has been in high favor with his people, who desire the continuance of his ministry with them. During the month of March for health and other reasons I released Rev. A. L. Shafer from charge at Bethany, and he has since identified himself with the pastorate in Oklahoma, and I secured Rev. Howard B. Oborn, who had recently completed his work at Boston University, and his Conference membership has been transferred to this conference. He was received with a fine welcome at Bethany and that church now enthusiastically insists upon his return. During April and May Rev. Howard T. Willson, pastor at Bement, suffered a complete breakdown of his health and upon the advice of competent physicians I released him from the Bement pastorate and he immediately went to Florida where he now makes his home. Rev. R. F. McDaniel was appointed to complete the year at Bement and he has given to that church his energies and his talents, and the remainder of the year has been cared for in a splendid fashion as he has given full proof of his ministry. I am happy to state that there has been no changes brought by death, that no parsonage home has been invaded by that grim visitor, and but a few have passed through serious or critical illness other than Brother H. T. Willson, as mentioned, except that Mrs. O. F. Jones, wife of the pastor at Assumption has been a patient in the Macon County Hospital for the past three weeks, but whose return to health is assured.

Group Meetings.

Early in the year group meetings were held in a double series. The first gave special attention to the "World Service" campaign and the second to Evangelism. These Group meetings were held in each series in five places and each meeting was helpful, informing and inspiring. In December a series of Epworth League banquets and "Booster" meetings were held in each of the five Sub-Districts and although seriously interfered with by exceptionally bad weather, yet the total attendance was four hundred fifty-two.

District Meetings.

On October 16th a District meeting was held for the District stewards and ministers in First Church, Decatur, and in April a very profitable and interesting meeting of the ministers and laymen was held in the church at Bement. On August 4th the District ministers picnic was held in Sullivan and this, too, proved to be a very happy occasion. Both the Woman's Foreign and Woman's Home Missionary Societies have held district and group meetings. The annual convention of the Epworth League was held in First Church, Decatur.

Property Improvements.

At Tower Hill the church was damaged by fire and the repairs required cost $1,000.00 and this amount was entirely paid. The church at Lake City received a complete renovation. It was painted outside and inside, carpets were furnished, a new porch added, foundations relaid, windows replaced, replastered and fully papered, the cost being $925.00. It now has a very pleasing appearance. Elwin spent $520 for redecorating and for rebuilding of furnace, etc. Grace Church, Decatur, spent $531 in repairs on the church. Sadorus and Moweaqua each spent $500. The Berea church, Windsor Ct. $300. Zion church, Boody Ct., made improvements valued at $1,500, and a number of other churches made repairs and improvements at smaller cost. At Assumption a new pipe organ has just been installed at a cost of $4,200. This organ was installed by the Kilgen Organ Company and has a rich and beautiful tone and meets one of the long-standing needs of that church.

At Shelbyville the church received a thorough renovation and large improvements. The walls were redecorated, the woodwork and furniture varnished, and the church basement enlarged and completed with addition of very fine arrangements to care for the kitchen service. The cost amounted to $9,500.

St. Paul's.

St. Paul's church, Decatur, faced the most critical situation in its history when the Mechanic's lien and Glass bills amounting to $25,000 was to be foreclosed on December 1, last. There was already a mortgage of $33,500, in addition to the lien and a basement room was the only part of the church that was in condition to be used for public service. In the face of opposition and a discouraging situation a campaign was launched in January, a stay of execution with reference to the foreclosure of the lien having been secured, until March, and the forces of the churches of the city, First church and Grace church, and other friends uniting in the rescue this campaign gathered momentum until before March 1, we had secured above $25,000 in cash and pledges and with the addition of $10,000 promised by the Board of Home Missions making a total of $35,000. We have paid off every cent of the floating indebtedness, only the mortgage now remaining, and have so far completed the auditorium and some other parts of the church that we can hold a formal opening service or dedication on October 26, when Bishop Hughes has arranged to be with that church. This is by far the greatest single victory of the year, and we feel that this church will now be able in time, to complete the building and carry its burden of debt.

Pastor H. F. Powell deserves a great deal of credit for his heroic struggle to save the situation at this place. Decatur needs a large church on the East side and Powell is the man who is big enough to save the church, and to steady and direct her forces for a great future.

Parsonages.

Many of the parsonage wives have been gladdened by the repairing and beautifying of their homes. Findlay sold their old parsonage and secured a better one in another part of the town. Arthur has a new roof and a new furnace, costing $500. First church, Decatur, spent $578 on the parsonage and Grace church parsonage was redecorated at a cost of $282. Shelbyville prepared the parsonage for the coming of the new mistress at a cost of $350.00.

At a cost of $5,850, Cowden has completed a very satisfactory bungalow residence and Pastor and Mrs. McCullom have found great joy in occupying this fine home since shortly after the last Conference session. Several other parsonages have received repairs, and several have been improved with new roofs thus the churches have contributed some help toward keeping the preachers dry.

The repairs and improvements on church property has aggregated $31,342 and the parsonages $8,475.

Debts.

Debts have been paid as follows: Hammond, $461.00; Findlay, $210.00; Cerro Gordo, $436.00; Cisco, $810.00; First church, Decatur, $1,500.00; Grace church, Decatur, $4,181.00; St. Paul's, $25,443.00; a total of $33,041.00.

The grand total raised for the three items: improvements on churches, parsonages and for debts amount to $73,058.00.

World Service.

It has been very difficult to discover exactly the aggregate of the World Service collections. I am sure that we have not by altogether too many thousands of dollars reached our apportionment and this fact has been a regret to all pastors and a keen sorrow and burden to the District Superintendent. Among the hindrances that were met the St. Paul's emergency affected First church and Grace church in their World Service collections. More than $8,000 was pledged in First church and more than $6,000 was pledged in Grace church for the meeting of St. Paul's crisis. These two churches surely revealed a splendid, affectionate attitude toward the sister church in her time of distress and peril that was most beautiful. The bad weather hindered in the setting up of the campaign and the general financial conditions have had effect. The Christmas offering for the Japanese earthquake disaster and the rebuilding program amounted to $2,381.63.

Other Items.

Three abandoned churches in Shelby County were taken in hand and work has been renewed and these have been organized into a new circuit to be known as Mode and Rev. C. N. Martin, a local preacher, resident at Stewardson has carried on a gracious ministry. Sargent church in Decatur, and Long Creek church will be separated this year and each have a pastor. Several Epworth Leagues have been reorganized, resurrected, or newly organized during the year.

Evangelism.

Evangelistic efforts have not been forgotten but have been among the out-standing efforts of the year. One hundred and sixteen weeks of revival services have been held in Decatur District this year and nine hundred and seven persons have professed conversion at our altars. The largest number reported was by Rev. O. B. Hess who carried on an old-time revival meeting lasting six weeks and resulting in the conversion of one hundred and twenty-seven persons. The Lovington church thereby has been greatly blessed. Seven hundred and one persons were baptized in this district during the year, and one thousand one hundred and forty-six persons were received into full membership in the church.

Church Papers.

In this district the pastors have reported four hundred and sixty-eight subscribers to the Church Advocates and four hundred and twenty-six subscribers to the Epworth Herald. One thousand one hundred and twenty-one World Service books were sold in the district.

Pastor's Salary.

In all the activities of the church the pastor has not been forgotten and but a few will report a deficit in payment of salary this year. For the coming year the Superintendent has recorded two charges recording a decrease aggregating $386.00 and thirteen churches have already voted increases amounting to $2,650.00, and several others are planning to make increases.

Personal.

I am not so far from my pastoral experiences but that I feel led to do what all pastors are expected to do in the Quarterly Conferences and that is to make some personal notations. During the year I have conducted one hundred seventy-one Quarterly Conferences and have made public address one hundred sixty times. I have driven my car more than 10,000 miles beside making large use of the railways and interurban lines. I have not missed a single appointment because of ill-health and will be ready when the Conference is adjourned to go back to do work for another year with a great desire that better work if not more work may be done.

JACKSONVILLE DISTRICT.

Arthur S. Chapman, District Superintendent.

Dear Bishop and Brethren:

In this Centennial year the Jacksonville District lays claim to more than passing notice, for without this District Illinois Methodist history would be impoverished.

One hundred years ago when Peter Cartwright, "After much prayer and anxious thought" decided to come to Illinois "to get entirely free from the evils of slavery; to raise his children to work where work was not thought to be degrading; where temporal circumstances might be improved; and where the gospel could be preached to destitute souls who by their removal into a new country had been deprived of the means of grace," he saw fit to come to the Jacksonville District where he remained for nearly half a century, and when at last he changed residence to heaven, his body was left in the Jacksonville District to constantly remind us that we of this day, have entered into a blessed heritage procured by the toils and sacrifices of courageous hearts who lived and served with God.

It was also in this District that Peter Akers spent the greater portion of his days; Peter Akers, the first president of McKendree College, the founder of the "Ebenezer Manual Labor School" that was the first school in the state to teach the hand as well as the mind, and antedated the University of Illinois by nearly forty years; the second president of the board of trustees of I. W. C., who preached a sermon against slavery, that Abraham Lincoln hearing declared to be the greatest sermon ever he had heard, and weeks afterward lead him to say, "Some how that sermon made me feel that my future will be linked up with the emancipation of the slave;" Peter Akers, teacher, preacher, saint, and his body too lies buried within the bounds of the Jacksonville District, and on the simple marble shaft that marks his grave are these words, "Peter Akers, more than 64 years a faithful minister of Christ in the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was in all things a marked example to believers."

And also in this District the immortal Lincoln spent seven years of his wonderful life, learning here the fundamentals of business, meeting here his first and greatest sorrow, here reading and mastering the few books that shaped his life, and here by his conduct receiving the sobriquet of "Honest Abe."

It was to this District that in this Centennial year is so filled with inspiring interest, that one year ago I was appointed by Bishop Nicholson. I found the District in a most satisfactory condition, and the constant thoughtfulness and kindness of my predecessor, E. L. Pletcher, has made my beginning work very pleasant.

The District requires the services of forty-three full time men. Several charges were left to be supplied. For Oakford I secured the services of Brother T. L. Stotler of one of the Iowa Conferences, for Nilwood I secured Brother Justin Wilton, a local elder, for Chesterfield I secured the latter part of the year a student, Brother Ross Bracewell, for Bluff Springs I secured Brother Paul J. DuBois. The reports of these men will compare favorably with other men of the District.

Deaths.

Five of our parsonage homes have been greatly bereft during the year. For the seventh time, W. S. Phillips had received at the hands of Bishop Nicholson appointment to the Carlinville charge. He entered upon his task with his usual vigor, but in middle November, one morning as he was writing the announcements for the paper about the Sunday services, the Lord and Bishop of our souls gave him appointment to the choir in Heaven, and without taking more time than a Methodist preacher generally takes to move to a new charge, he took up his new assignment, and those of us who have been charmed by his sweet singing through the years, can readily believe that even the chorus over there will be enriched by the sweet melody of his voice.

In June the spirit of the beautiful ten months old babe of Brother and Sister Olin Lee of Forest City, Alta Mae, slipped out to be with the angels, and left in the home empty arms and broken hearts.

Early in August Mrs. Symons, the one who had companioned for forty years with our faithful pastor at Rockbridge, Brother Thomas Symons, took a great longing for children and other loved ones that have found residence in the Celestial City, and her spirit took up residence there also, and he has been left to carry on with her association only a memory.

In the summer Paul, the only son of Brother and Sister Scrimger, after months of suffering, took his departure from us.

And only last week, Brother John Eldredge, our pastor at Loami, stopped off at Fithian to visit his only son, stepped into a telephone office to tell him he had arrived, but received a wireless to leave immediately for Glory, and in an instant he had gone. All these homes have the sympathy of the brethren, and the companionship of the sympathizing Christ.

To take the place of Brother Phillips at Carlinville, Bishop Nicholson appointed Brother V. H. Van Horn. He has labored hard and effectively and has one of the best reports of the District.

Material Improvements.

There is great interest in material improvements in the District. Winchester led off by reopening the church there in December after it had a new lighting system put in, all wood work painted, floors recarpeted, walls frescoed and other improvements totaling an expense of about $6,000. This is now one of the neatest properties in the District.

Early in January the Auburn church was reopened after a new basement had been put in, a new lighting system installed, furnace procured, and walls redecorated at an expense of about $3,000.

The following Sunday Girard reopened their church where practically the same type of work was done at an expense of about $4,500.

In June Rubicon on the Rockbridge charge reopened their church after a basement had been put in. Chesterfield has put their property in good condition. Athens is expending $4,500 on an addition to their church that will add greatly to their convenience, Carrollton has already expended $8,000 and will within the next few weeks expend $2,000 additional, which will make this one of the attractive churches of the Conference. Carlinville also beautified both church and parsonage to the extent of $2,000. Grace church, Jacksonville, raised an embarrassing debt of $9,000. A number of the parsonages have also received attention, the ones at Concord and Jacksonville Ct. have new electric lights, Grace church improved greatly. Chatham gave their parsonage a papering throughout, and the one at Curran was thoroughly prepared for the coming of the bride who took up residence there in June, the entire expenditures for the District totaling $40,000.

World Service.

The changing from the program of the Centenary to World Service has been as difficult on the Jacksonville District as on any other. We had hoped that the World Service challenge would awaken the Centenary vision, but in this we were disappointed. But we believe the women of the Missionary Societies have the right idea in insisting that education go hand in hand with their askings. So the entire month of May was given over by nearly every pastor in the District to education and solicitation for the World Service. While the results are not as gratifying as we wish they were, yet we feel the actual payments this year will be equal to those of last year.

Changes in Membership.

The Centennial Committee hoped that the decks would be cleared to make this the greatest ingathering year of the past decade at least. But like the man "busy here and there" we have let the time escape, and the Centennial year is done, and it has not come. We still hope that there will grow out of this Centennial Celebration such dissatisfaction with things as they are, that we shall determine by the help of God to make the coming year one of great soul-saving endeavor. We have tried during the year to make our preachers and officials dissatisfied with things as they are. In every first and last quarterly conference this year I have called attention to the story of last year's minutes. For it is a sad story they tell. For they tell of seven District Superintendents, three hundred and twenty five pastors, nearly ten thousand officers, and more than one hundred thousand members in this Illinois Conference working an entire year, and reporting a net increase of only one hundred and fifty members. I have tried to get the pastors and officials of the Jacksonville District to feel the shame of it, that they might settle to this task anew. That we have been successful will be seen by the reports from certain charges. But in spite of it all some charges report a loss in membership, others report the same as last year, while Ashland, Auburn, Carlinville, Curran, Chatham, Grace Church, Murrayville, Petersburg, Roodhouse, and White Hall lead in reporting enough increases to bring the District increase more than two times ahead of the entire Conference increase last year. And one of the first tasks we shall consider in the new year will be how we in this age shall be able to reach the people of this age, just as our fathers a century ago reached the men and women away from God in their day.

Illinois Woman's College.

It is the duty of the District Superintendent to report the condition of the colleges within the bounds of his District. In my case it is a very pleasant duty. The Illinois Woman's College has had a delightful year. They have cared for all the students their quarters will warrant, they have maintained the spirit of devotion to God along with open scholarship; they have inspired the spirit of service with a desire for culture; they have sent forth one of their teachers during the year as a missionary to China, while five of the twenty-seven graduates of the class of 1924 have dedicated their lives to some form of Life Service.

Perhaps the most noteworthy achievement of the years was the securing of Dr. W. N. Stearns as the teacher of Bible. His knowledge of the old and new interpretation of the Bible is not easily surpassed, while his pedagogy is such that he presents the new with such a spirit that all friction and irritation is avoided. Dr. Joseph Harker was granted a leave of absence for a year, which he took the best he could, spending part of the time in California, coming back for a few weeks, then going for a visit to his old home in England where he spent several months, being absent from Commencement for the first time in thirty years. He is back home now, with renewed vigor, looking like he will not need another vacation for the next twenty years at least. The Conference may well congratulate itself that we have as the head of this fine Christian College this high type Christian gentleman.

Retiring Men.

Four of the brethren are retiring from the active work this year: Brothers P. J. Rinehart and J. M. Meeker are retiring on account of health, while H. A. Sherman is retiring on account of age as well as health. The fourth, Brother Chris Galeener, after forty-six years of constant service, lays down the burden at this session of Conference that he and Mrs. Galeener may spend a few days of the quiet eventime together in rest and quiet. The last year of his service has been among his best.

Epworth League Institute.

In July the Illinois Conference Epworth League Institute was held in Jacksonville. This proved to be one of the best as well as one of the largest of Methodism there being an enrollment of 579 of which number 173 were from the Jacksonville District. It is to be hoped that this group of earnest, happy young people will meet in the same city next year.

The first year of the Jacksonville District has gone by on wings, and with a devoted and loyal group of preachers, and a group of like spirited officials that have gladly responded to all reasonable requests, it has proven a very delightful year as well.

MATTOON DISTRICT.

W. D. Fairchild, District Superintendent.

Bishop McDowell and Brethren:

At the beginning of the present conference year all the charges in the Mattoon District were filled and the work in the various charges has gone forward throughout the year without any interruptions, except at Brocton. Here the pastor, Rev. Joseph Hallam, suffered a break in health and was compelled to give up his work in June. The charge has remained for two months without a pastor.

Evangelism.

Almost every church in the District has at some time in the year been engaged in revival services. In some charges evangelists were used, but in most instances the pastors did their own work, here and there, securing help from a brother pastor. The results have been good. Reports show something over 700 conversions. Some of the most successful work was done on the Guy Black plan. This character of work bore excellent fruit at Marshall, Charleston and Villa Grove. Sufficiently successful was this type of work to commend itself to other charges, and to warrant more extensive use.

We are very certain that variation from some of the methods used in the years gone must be made, and a saner, safer and more constructive plan adopted. Certain professional evangelists may be used at times and in some places, but there is a growing discontent with the work of the average type of professional evangelism, and we are quite certain that their number ought to be limited and their employment restricted. There is room for safe and sane men with wholesome messages and worthwhile methods, but a large number of so called evangelists ought to be eliminated. The most permanent and abiding work is usually that shown by the pastors themselves.

May I here reaffirm a statement made in a previous report, that one of the most fruitful fields of religious effort lies in the realm of childhood.

The church teaches the duty and necessity of gathering the children into the church through early baptism, instruction and reception, but in many cases we are either negligent of our duty or fail to sense the great importance of this type of work. More emphasis on the prevention of loss would require less necessity for saving the lost.

Sunday Schools.

The Sunday School work has received strong emphasis. Improvements are to be noticed in methods, in teaching force, in supervision and in attendance. New and remodeled churches have made possible better equipment for handling this important work. The use of our own supplies is almost universal, and there is a marked loyalty to the general Sunday School plans of our church.

We regret to say, however, that there is a strong tendency to make the Sunday School service answer for all religious investment and expression. It is a perilous thing when hundreds of our best young life walk out and away from the hour of worship. The Sunday School is a great force but it cannot successfully be made a substitute for the hour of worship.

Epworth Leagues.

We followed again this year the plan so successfully carried out during the previous two years of endeavoring to harness up the young life of the churches through a movement working both in the Leagues and Sunday Schools. Several new Leagues have been organized and on the whole the League work has improved. Three very enthusiastic conventions of young people were held in the summer having a total attendance of about 400.

Church Property.

Substantial improvements have been made the past year in our church property.

At Martinsville a new church costing $35,000 was dedicated in February. It is a handsome brick structure built to meet the modern needs in church work. The pastor, Rev. R. N. Montague, led in this successful enterprise and to him is to be credited much of the victory.

The Toledo church has been completely remodeled and was opened for use in December. Social and class rooms were added, heating plant installed, new furniture placed and the completed building is already proving its worth to the community. Rev. S. M. Spurgeon led in this successful piece of work. The cost of the completed plant was about $15,000.

Rev. F. E. Neumeyer of Camargo led his people in the remodeling of the Mt. Glead church on the Camargo charge. The church was re-opened for services September 7th. The cost of this enterprise was $4,500.

On the Murdock charge Rev. B. H. Pinkston and his people agreed that a new parsonage was needed. They built it and the pastor and his family occupied it last January. The building is modern in every way and cost about $4,500.

At Oakland Rev. J. P. Cummins was at last successful in impressing on the minds of his people the necessity of a better house for the pastor and his family. The old parsonage was completely remodeled and is now one of the best parsonages in the district. The cost of this improvement was $6,000.

At Charleston a new parsonage was purchased in the fall, costing $9,000. It is probably now the best parsonage in the district. Such a building could not be built today for less than $12,000. This purchase compelled the pastor, Rev. C. E. Pettit, and family, to move a second time in less than six months, but as far as the church is concerned now he need not move again soon.

At Paris extensive repairs were made on the parsonage amounting to about $1,500. In addition to these specific pieces of work 12 churches and 15 parsonages were improved in minor ways amounting to from a few dollars to several hundred each. The total addition to property valuation for the year reaches slightly beyond $79,000.

Memorial Hospital.

The Methodist Memorial Hospital at Mattoon continues to be increasingly serviceable. The past year has been one of the best in its history. During the year more than 900 patients have received treatment and something over $2,600 worth of free service has been rendered. The building is well equipped but is too small to meet the growing needs. A nurse's home is to be erected soon to cost about $50,000. The trustees are also looking forward to building an addition to the hospital in the near future. The hospital has an excellent medical staff and a well trained corps of nurses.

Church Papers.

It has been our aim all the while to bring our people into contact with the larger phases of christian activity through our official papers. It is still true that our people perish for the lack of vision. We have had fair success in placing the Advocates, but we do not mean to say that we have anywhere the number in circulation that we ought to have. However, speaking in a comparative way we may say that the District stands in the front line as to number of subscribers in the conference.

World Service.

I am frank to say that we are disappointed in the results obtained in our efforts to make the World Service measure up to what it should be. Pastors are likewise disappointed. But we have faced conditions over which we had no control. Financial depression, and a spirit of apathy resulting in some way from a reaction from the Centenary efforts, together with most unfavorable weather conditions at the time the campaign was on have resulted badly for us. However, we have reason to believe from reports in hand that our total receipts will equal those of last year. But the tragedy of it all is that a large part of the receipts is made up by payment of Centenary pledges and does not represent new subscriptions.

Local Finances.

The past year has been no improvement over the past two or three years in raising the local finances. The work has been hard, but we see signs of better conditions ahead in local church finance. Our greatest difficulty here still lies in the lack of business-like methods of carrying on this work. We have seen marked improvement in the past few years but there is wide room still.

It has been our purpose through the years we have served in district work to secure for every man an adequate support, but with the amount of "saving grace" given to many of our people it has been difficult to do. However, an inspection of salaries and a comparison will not place us in unfavorable light. One thing thoroughly instilled into the mind of the local church is that it is a sacred duty that it owes to see that every dollar of support promised is paid. All the charges are now paid in full for the year. This makes the eighth consecutive year in my district in which there has been no deficit anywhere in the four items of ministerial support.

Women's Societies.

We are glad to recognize here the fine work done by the W. F. M. S. and the W. H. M. S. during the year. The year has been difficult for them but their fine spirit of optimism and a determination to win has carried them through in a way that makes us justly proud of their work.

We wish here, also, to commend the work of the Ladies' Aid Societies and kindred bodies that have solved many a local financial tangle. God bless the splendid women for their determination to help the churches where the struggle is hard, and forgive the indifference of men who by their neglect lay extra burdens on these societies.

Deaths.

Death has not entered any parsonage home in the district this year. Good health has enabled all our men to do their utmost in carrying on their work. The only exception was that of Bro. Hallam before mentioned. We have, however, lost a worthy brother in the retired relation, Rev. J. M. Goodspeed of Tuscola. He was one of our dependable men, long a faithful laborer in the Master's vineyard, and beloved by all his brethren. I am glad that in his early ministry he crossed my childhood path and that through these many years I have had in some way his association.

Personal.

In 1916 Bishop McDowell appointed me to the superintendency of the Danville District. He charged me at that time to remember that this is one of the most important offices in the church. I took this charge seriously and have tried to live up to it in the work reaching through the intervening years. This is my ninth consecutive annual report. During these years I have had exceeding great privileges. I have been permitted to serve my church through a period covering some of the most extraordinary developments in her history, when in a larger sense than ever she has come to understand that her obligations reach throughout the world, and when she has come in a larger measure than ever to accept these responsibilities.

During this period I have labored in conjunction with 17 different superintendents, and have had associated with me about 150 pastors. This does not mean that the Mattoon District has been a sort of moving picture. Not that. If you will look over the records you will find that our men have remained the usual or more than usual length of time in the charges. Indeed, I believe in long pastorates, as long as efficient service will warrant. Some of the men have been with me almost the entire time I have served.

I have endeavored to be true to the trust reposed in me. I have tried to properly estimate the work of the superintendency and to perform all the work in a way that would yield the greatest returns to the interest of Him whom I serve. In this I have always tried to have in mind the interests of the pastors and the churches, permitting neither to suffer at the hands of the other. I have sought always to deal fairly and frankly in all the matters of church believing that a full understanding was the best way to prevent misunderstandings.

I have been delighted with the fine spirit of response that has characterized the churches, with the constantly developing sense of moral obligation to discharge every duty. I have greatly enjoyed the association with my brethren in the superintendency. They have all without exception been brotherly and kind in all our common task. But above all I have enjoyed the fellowship of the many pastors and their families with whom I have served. Our personal relations have been delightful from my viewpoint, and the cooperation has been all that could be asked. I have tried to be a real brother to every one related to the work, and in it all to serve Him who is the real friend of us all.

QUINCY DISTRICT.

E. S. Combs, District Superintendent.

Dear Bishop and Brethren:

Another year of activities upon the Quincy District has come to a close.

The records of the conference years' work is ended. The pages of history completed and the leaf in the book has been turned.

As Pilate said, "What I have written I have written."

It is written, and can not be erased. What we have done stands as a monument of silence, telling of deeds accomplished and souls saved. It is written, what we have left undone stands as a dismal specter telling the world silently of our failures and to haunt us here and in eternity.

We can not retrace our steps; grant, O Lord God, that we may remember this, "What I have written I have written."

If we could only see these failures and shortcomings at the beginning of the year instead of at the close, how fortunate we would be, and what an inspiration it would be to one and all to push forward with greater zeal and determination.

Hence, like Moses of old, we stand upon the mountain top and view the landscape over, and thank God for life, health, and strength to do something in His Great Kingdom.

Never did the ministry realize the responsibility of its calling and task as it does today.

From city to hamlet, from country churches on the hillside, to the cathedral in the metropolis, the minister stands humbly with bowed head before the gigantic task that comes to his door step, and repeats the great hymn written by Charles Wesley:

"A charge to keep I have,
A God to glorify,
A never dying soul to save,
And fit it for the sky.

To serve the present age,
My calling to fulfill;
O, may it all my powers engage
To do my Master's will!

Help me to watch and pray,
And on Thyself rely,
Assured, if I my trust betray,
I shall forever die."

The ministry never had such opportunities as today to serve or show forth its heroism, or to use its talent, and yet some of the ministry can find time to get under the Juniper tree and die of Juniperitis, but they are in the minority.

This is the century when the minister must not only be a leader of men, but a molder of thought, social, and religious life. He has the opportunity to form the policies of church and community. Just as Moses lead his people out of bondage, physically, mentally, and spiritually, and gave them liberty after 400 years of bondage, so must the modern minister be a Moses in his day and lead the people out of this modern bondage that has overtaken them. The world and church, as of old, are looking for the liberator.

The four years of experience on the District has given me an opportunity to know the pastors as never before. I have the highest regard for them and their families. They are men, who with their families, make tremendous sacrifices for the sake of others: They should have a place in the halls of the immortals beside the discoverer, soldier, and statesman. May God bless them, for I not only love them as brothers, but I feel at home with them, and lonely without them.

But may we remember in all the struggle, sacrifice and battle, what Paul said to young Timothy, whom he was training for this holy office: "Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partakers of other men's sins; keep thyself pure."

The ministry demands of your super strength at all times; strength to resist, strength to serve. And Paul knew this, and knew no minister could be strong and fit for this task that was not pure.

That was why Tennyson said, "My strength is as the strength of ten, because my life is pure."

Be bold, but above all, be pure!

For four years I traveled, toiled, preached, prayed, and sacrificed day and night in cold and heat, in flood and drought, over the highways of the Quincy District.

We have had joy and sorrows, but in it all God has helped us to win some great battle.

Never did I realize the responsibilities of this office as today, or the demands that the laity and church expects from it. So if one succeeds to any degree of satisfaction, he must not spare body, mind or soul, in the least.

"Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all!"

There are great joys in this office, and great losses, but the fellowship with the brethren has been delightful.

The parsonage homes are veritable cottages by the wayside, where the weary can rest and refresh soul and body. God bless these parsonage homes with the preachers and the queens who preside over them. I am sure the Master will have a large place for them in the world beyond.

It is true we miss our books and the Bible; and often our prayers are said on wing, so it is a miracle if a District Superintendent serves six years, and keeps up mental, physical, and spiritual life to 100 per cent. Pray for us, brethren. We starve for soul food. "No man cared for my soul."

Ministry.

Since the beginning of time there have been acute angles in history, but when the noise and smoke of battle cleared away, the world has always found a prophet of God standing at the most acute angle—a Moses, Isaiah, Luther, or Wesley.

This day is no exception, for we find the priests of God out on the firing lines of civilization; out where the heaviest troops are found, doing their duty, with tents pitched Zionward.

We would love, if time permitted, to give a personal sketch of each pastor on the Quincy District, and tell of how they have wrought for righteousness and the Kingdom of God. But suffice to say, they have wrought well for the Kingdom.

No district could ask, or hope, for a more faithful class of preachers than the Quincy District. They have been faithful to the ever multiplying demands upon them. They have been faithful to the closing of the Centenary program and to the opening of the World Service program. If these causes do not come up to the standard, it will not be the fault of the pastors, for they have toiled faithfully, prayerfully, and patiently.

Permit me to pause while passing, to say this personal word. Rev. W. T. Beadles, who is Chaplain of the Soldiers Home of Quincy, with his quarterly conference relations at Vermont Street Church, Quincy, closes a wonderful career of years of active service in the Illinois Conference, and will ask for retired relation this year. For nineteen years he has been connected with the Vermont Street Church, Quincy. May God bless him, for he has toiled faithfully, and we thank him for it all, especially for making possible Chaddock Boys' School.

Good Literature.

There are less than 300 advocates taken on the Quincy District, and about the same number of Epworth Herald. There are a large number of Women's Missionary Friend and Home Missions papers taken.

Then the District has been literally covered with missionary leaflets on World Service, beside about 1,500 World Service volumes. But we still lack one great thing, the reading and absorbing of all this missionary literature. But I am sure it will bear fruit.

Finance.

This has been a difficult year in the field of finance. Our goal has always been 100 per cent ministerial support, for we believe that the pastor who toils for a small salary should be paid 100 per cent; but when you find scores of farmers not able to pay interest and taxes, without floating loans at the bank, you may readily understand why finances have been difficult, and why we may not reach 100 per cent goal. Then in addition to this, a number of good farmers who have toiled and saved for twenty years or more have lost all, farm, credit and savings, and must start over.

However, the pastor is still the Key Man to the financial problems of the church, if he is faithful and true and visits from house to house, his salary and the other finance will be forthcoming, but if he be a man disposed to sit under his own vine and fig tree, and tells the world to wag on without him, the church is most apt to have a financial problem. In almost every instance where there is a financial problem there is a pastor problem of some kind.

Jesus went up and down the land doing good, visiting the sick, rich and poor. The servant must not be above his master.

When I came to the district, four years ago, it was paying the smallest sum total to ministerial support of any of the seven districts in the conference. Last year it pushed up until it stood fifth in rank of ministerial support. This year will show $3,800.00, a net increase of over $2,500.00 in pastor's salaries of the district, which is a marked gain when we consider the times and conditions that confront us. We hope to reach the 100 per cent goal of ministerial support this year.

Building and Improvement.

On the tenth of February, 1924, Bishop Nicholson dedicated, free of debt, our new church and remodeled old church into a parish house at Barry, Illinois, which cost approximately $45,000. Dr. W. J. Davidson was master of the finances for the day, and suffice to say, it was handled in a very successful way. Rev. Waltmire, the pastor, and his people are deserving of very high commendation for this victory.

Grace Church, Quincy, has moved into the basement of their new church and have had a very successful year.

In four years there have been four modern churches installed on the Quincy District at a cost of over $250,000. During the coming year Doddville, on the Littleton charge, will build new churches. Bosco will remodel her church. Camp Point will remodel, and when complete, all of these churches will have modern up-to-date plants. Hence, the Quincy District forges to the front in these days of trying finance. With its new churches, increased pastor's salaries, and hard roads, we predict it will soon be one of the leading districts of the Illinois Conference. The first shall be last, and the last shall be first; so line upon line, and precept upon precept, we build for the Kingdom on the Quincy District.

Sunday Schools.

The Sunday School still holds its great place in the church. Here is the center for religious training, and the developing of the child, and youth along religious and moral lines. There is no other organization in the world that gives such specific religious training to so great an army, as the Sunday School.

The time is coming when it will be the paramount organization of all our church activities. Instead of Epworth League institutes and missionary gatherings, we will have great Sunday School Institutes, with its various departments, in which we will train thousands of young people for the various Christian activities of the church at home and abroad.

We want expansion, but with concentration. There has been too much expansion without any specific concentration.

The young people of the church can do all the work of the Epworth League and missionary societies through the avenues of the Sunday School, far more effectively than we are doing it today with these various organizations. Too many organizations means loss of efficiency and power. We must concentrate to save and to strengthen. We have 92 Sunday Schools on the district, with an enrollment of over 15,000 pupils. There have been over 400 accessions to the church from the schools during the past year. They have given over $4,000 to benevolences and spent over $9,000 for supplies, and have given over $400 to the Board of Education.

Epworth League.

There are about 30 Epworth Leagues in the district, with over 1,100 members. This host of young people are the advanced guard of Christian workers and Christian activity in every church and community. The League under the leadership of Rev. J. C. Brown, of Rushville, had a play day at Bailey's Park at Camp Point, in October, 1923. In June they held a very successful League Convention. From this host of young people, come our church leaders, missionary workers, and ministers, and life service consecrations.

Missionary Societies.

We have 34 Foreign Missionary Societies, and 10 Home Missionary Societies, beside the Auxiliary Societies that go with them.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society has given $6,813.57 for this church year, a gain of $100 over the previous year.

The Women's Home Missionary Society has given $1,476.00 this year, a gain of $306.00, also a gain of 64 members. They have toiled faithfully, as never before, often working to overcome great handicap, but God has blessed them with visions and faith, so they press on toward the goal.

World Service and Centenary.

These causes have been presented splendidly and faithfully since last October, 1923. Something near 2,000 World Service Volumes were sold on the district. District meetings and group meetings were held in the interest of this cause. Study classes, missionary societies, Epworth Leagues, pagents, etc., were carried out to get the information to the churches. The pastors were faithful in this task.

Then the pastors canvassed their membership for pledges in May. Many would not pledge. Some made no promises. The pastors were faithful. There was a great lull after the Centenary Campaign. I cannot say, at this time, what the result will be, but I know it will be unsatisfactory. Most of the pastors have covered their fields twice. We cannot do more. God alone must work here, where we have toiled against great odds. We must keep to the task until the church turns toward the missionary field again, and we have faith to believe it will in the near future.

We may reach $20,000.00 for the benevolent causes. We hope so. Many have said: "We are through with the Centennary now, and we are going to do something for ourselves—the home church—or we are going to take a vacation." Bi-conference. The reaction is here, but we hope for a better day for our benevolent causes in the near future, for the program of publicity and education cannot help but bear fruit, and we anticipate a bountiful harvest in the near future.

Chaddock Boys' School.

Chaddock Boys' School celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary this last June with a great historic pageant. More and more does this school show forth its place in our connection. More and more does this school reveal to us how through the many years we have neglected the boys of our broken homes. We are no stronger than our weakest line of defense. We must strengthen our line here at the broken homes by schools such as Chaddock Boys' School, or we will fail as a church. James says: "That pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father, is this: 'To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction'." I have always realized the importance of this school, but never more than I do today after working so closely with it during the past four years.

Our field associate, Rev. W. G. Pulliam, has proven the right man in the right place during the past months, and we will ask his continuance. Mrs. Frields and corps of splendid helpers, labor unceasingly for the success of the school, and we forecast a very successful future for this school. We covet your prayers and co-operation. You can do this by opening your churches to their representatives, and speaking a good word for them on all occasions. On September 3, they opened the twenty-sixth year, which looks to me as the most promising of all the years.

Floods.

Once again floods have coursed their way through the district, leaving loss and destruction in their path. In July the Little Des Moines river was flooded, and in forty-eight hours had carried a half-million dollars worth of crops down the stream. Many farmers are without grain or income for the year. Many of the homes affected were Methodist. In June the Illinois river flooded, and destroyed all the crops in the low lands, causing thousands of dollars of loss. But we move on; discouraged, but not defeated; halted, but we do not turn back; hence, our World Service and financial causes suffer.

Evangelism.

Our pastors have toiled faithfully in the field of Evangelism. Many methods of evangelism have been used, from the old to the modern, all bearing fruit. A large number of conversions and decisions have been reported, between 800 and 1,000, and over 800 accessions. Good revivals were held at Barry, Beardstown, Beverly Ct., Camden Ct., Golden, Griggsville, Milton, New Salem, Naples, Pittsfield, Rushville, Quincy, Pleasant Hill and Augusta.

Before there is any great revival in our churches, a revival will have to start in the church. I am planning, in my own mind, a revival in every church on the district this coming year, for the church and church members only. We are dealing with a pagan church, and until we can clear the road to the Altar of God, of cold and indifferent church members, there is no need to invite the world to come home to the Altar of God.

God grant that every minister of the Illinois Conference may get the spiritual condition of the church upon his mind, soul and prayer list. Give us strength, power, love, and vision to move the church heavenward, for it has gone the ways of the world a good many pears. Our church has unlimited resources of strength, power, zeal, and influence, if we can bring it back to the throne of God; and we can if we will set to the task with a determination. As Isaiah said 50:7:

"For the Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded; therefore have I set my face like flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed."

This question has come to me often of late. "Is the Bible God's program for the world?" If it is then the world must have the program, but the world will never get the program if it is not given out by the church. The church I fear is not living near enough by this program to be good exponents of it. O, church of the living God, come back to God's program for mankind, and thereby turn defeat into victory.

SPRINGFIELD DISTRICT.

H. W. McPherson, District Superintendent.

Bishop McDowell and Brethren:—

Perhaps 90 per cent of the doings on the Springfield District this year were common to all. Our report should deal largely with the 10 per cent peculiar to this district, and therefore, should be brief; but will probably be 90 per cent conventional.

Appointments and Supplies.

Owing to a nervous breakdown F. A. Buchholz did not go to Divernon, as appointed. George Fidler, of the Southern Illinois Conference, was transferred to this charge and has had a good year. We are glad to report Brother Buchholz able for work this fall. At the close of the first quarter D. A. Bloomster was transferred from Missouri to Grove City, which was left to be supplied. He has had nine months of marked success. There have been no other changes in pastoral appointments. Providence has kindly watched over the parsonage homes, and, although there have been a few cases of severe illness, death has not entered. But, even as this report is being prepared, comes the sad news of the death of one of our beloved retired brothers, T. B. Wright, of Rochester, Illinois. Brother Wright was stricken with serious heart trouble early last spring, as a result he was compelled to give up his supply work at Buckhart. He was much loved in the community where he lived many years, being affectionately spoken of by his many friends as "Preacher Wright." His last word to me only a few days before the end, was concerning a message to be read at roll call in Conference, knowing that he would not be able to answer in person. He has, in a triumphant faith, answered the final roll call in Heaven, and will be greatly missed among us. The faithful work and willing co-operation of pastors, in almost every detail, are greatly appreciated.

Dominant Note.

It has been the aim of the ministerial force to keep the spiritual note dominant. Every minister should be a prophet, not merely a priest; and it should be his ambition to be a good shepherd, following the example of "The Good Shepherd." Such seems to have been the desire of the pastors of the Springfield District.

On many charges, too numerous to even mention, successful revivals have been held, a total of 112 weeks, resulting in 804 conversions. The effort of widest note, and the greatest single achievement, was the Gipsy Smith union campaign in Springfield. The surrendered life and spiritual message of this world-famed man of God, gripped the whole section of the state surrounding the capitol. Almost every charge reports some special evangelistic effort, either by old or new methods, with good results under the blessing of God.

Membership.

As a result of regular and special work through the year 1,371 have been added to the membership. Showing, when all deductions have been made, a fair net increase. A few charges register a loss, some, because of the revision of records poorly or carelessly kept in previous years; and, some, we are sorry to have to record, apparently due to lack of sufficient effort on the part of pastor and people. Here, as elsewhere in God's universe, the law of harvest obtained, and results are in direct proportion to investments made.

Sunday Schools.

Sunday School organization and work throughout the district are generally quite satisfactory. Some, however, are still trying to get twentieth century results with nineteenth century machinery and equipment. God speed the day when concentrated good sense shall demand as great a degree of efficiency here as in business and modern educational methods, and when schools shall be schools. Some schools have lost, but on the whole the district shows a gain, according to incomplete reports, of 374 in enrollment and 207 in average attendance, over last year.

Epworth League.

Nowhere have results been more gratifying than in the Epworth League activities of the district. A fall rally and officers' council was held in Springfield in November, with an attendance of 150, which helped to properly launch the year's program. Leaguers worked hard, and came to Mt. Pulaski 200 strong in June to report the doings of the year to the district convention. More than 75 attended the institute at Jacksonville, and are now waiting for another rally to pass on their many helpful suggestions for next year. No district has more capable leaders, or more loyal young people. The enrollment shows a net gain of 230. The Junior League is active in several charges, doing good work and giving large hope for the Epworth League of tomorrow.

World Service and Missionary Work.

Willing co-operation and thorough work, on the part of pastors, characterize the World Service efforts of the district. There were a few exceptions to the rule, and results in almost every case point to this fact. Dr. Howard Musser spent an effective week in group meetings on the district. About 2000 World Service volumes were distributed, and we hope well studied. In some cases, however, it seems that the seed thus scattered requires more than one year to bring forth its harvest. The total contribution will apparently be between $35,000 and $40,000, or a few thousand dollars below the annual Centenary giving. We wish it were more, and hope that future years may find us at least up to the Centenary level.

The Springfield District has some outstanding examples of missionary achievement. Namely, Wesley and Asbury churches, Springfield, and Coalton and Schram City where Miss Calvert and Miss Carnine are doing most effective work.

The conventional word might well be said, in this paragraph, of the missionary activities of the good women of the district. They always carry on, and in good times or bad set new goals, higher than before, and to the amazement of the uninitiated reach them. Both the Woman's Home and the Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies have passed the high mark set last year. Only give them more years and still better work will be done.

Special Features.

Eighteen charges observed Church Training Night, with a total of 151 weeks, a total enrollment of more than 1,000, and an average attendance of over 800. Eight daily vacation schools were conducted, with a total of 25 weeks, and an enrollment of over 700. Wide awake pastors and churches are unanimous in their appreciation of these two growing features in the modern church program. Many a dead prayer meeting has been replaced by a lively Church Night, and many a vacation full of idle days has been redeemed by an efficient vacation school. No greater returns for honest efforts are yielded in any fields of modern church activities.

Building and Improvements.

December second Dr. W. J. Davidson dedicated Asbury Church, Springfield, valued at $40,000. These heroic people, with their devoted pastor, are doing splendid work under a heavy financial burden. The membership has been increased more than 200 per cent this year.

Blue Mound, with modern new plant to cost about $40,000; Rochester, with a beautiful and serviceable new church costing approximately $25,000; Elkhart, with a thoroughly remodeled and greatly enlarged building representing an expenditure of $9,000; and Douglas Avenue, Springfield, erecting a modern community hall at a cost of $10,000, will probably all be ready to dedicate before Christmas. In every case pastor and people deserve special commendation.

Riverton, where our church burned last December, is ready to let the contract for a new structure worth $25,000 or $30,000. Ground should be broken for this new plant soon after conference.

Large projects, as large bodies, sometimes move slowly, but Laurel Church Springfield, is surely moving toward the consummation of the dream cherished for many days. Plans and specifications for a building that will be worth $125,000 are now complete, the old church has been sold, and the actual work of construction is expected to start within a short time.

Improvements, ranging from several thousand dollars down, have been made on the following charges: Nokomis, Pawnee, Pana, Mt. Pulaski, Niantic, Dawson, Chesnut, Raymond, Kincaid, Morrisonville, Irving, New City, Rosemond, Edinburg, Taylorville, Stonington, Butler, Mechanicsburg, Kummer, Witt, and perhaps others. Many have made substantial reduction in old debts. The total, according to incomplete reports, expended for building and improvements this year being near $100,000.

Ministerial Support.

Indications at the time of writing this report were, that almost, if not quite 100 per cent would be the report in ministerial support. "NO DEFICITS," is our financial motto. Salaries, due largely to the work of my predecessor, showed a gross increase of $2,050 this year, and in spite of straightened financial conditions in many quarters, there will be a net gain of $2,120 for next year. Fourteen charges will make increases ranging from $50 to $400 each, and but one (a student appointment) will decrease by $200. The disposition of the laymen of Springfield district seems to be to properly support their pastors, even though it may be at a sacrifice on their part.

A Final Word.

There are many other items of interest that deserve a word in this report, and every pastor could be commended for some strong point or good work; but time and space still have limits in this life. The superintendent wishes to express his genuine appreciation of every good word and work, as well as for the generous hospitality of the parsonage homes. It has been a joy to serve with the good people of this district in this initial year. For whatever may have been accomplished let us give God the glory; and in His name gird ourselves for better things in days to come, counting all effort, hardship, and sacrifice as nothing in comparison with the glorious privilege of being laborers together with Him, in bringing about the reign of God in the world.

H. W. McPHERSON, Superintendent.

BENEVOLENCES.

Because of a rapidly declining income, reaching now the alarming rate of 37 per cent over last year, the Benevolence work of our church at home and abroad is brought face to face with a situation that amounts to a crisis. Thus we believe to be much more serious than most of our people realize. While this situation may be due to various causes, we hold as mainly responsible for it, (a) a lack of information on the part of the people, and (b) a low degree of spiritual vitality in our churches. If, therefore, the crisis is averted and the situation is improved the cause of the trouble must be removed. The information is available. There is plenty of this at hand. But how to get it where it is needed amounts to creating an appetite for it. This makes a large draft upon the wisdom and skill of the pastor. We must meet this situation with courage and devotion.

We believe that many, many of our church people need an extended horizon, a widened circle of concern. For a church to have no concern outside the bounds of its own local interests we believe to be unchristian and fatal to the interests of the Kingdom. We believe that every member should keep sacred his promise when admitted to membership to give to the support of the benevolence work of the church, and that we should persistently aim at this objective. Were this now sacredly kept by our church members we believe we would not lack for funds to carry on our great gospel enterprises throughout the world.

The giving of our people for this Christian service is measured chiefly by their interest in it, and whether they have any interest in it depends in turn upon their knowledge of it, or information, and also upon their spiritual life. Therefore to secure the needed and desired results we pledge ourselves to this three-fold service.

1. To seek to save our churches from the sin of becoming self-centered, self-contained and self-satisfied. Both we and our people need to hear and heed the Master's command "Tarry" until we hear the further order "Go ye." All need the Master's angle of vision, to see and feel about the world as He does.

2. To spare no pains in studying to "show ourselves approved of God, workman who need not be ashamed" in the matter of a teaching program of Christian Stewardship, and in creating an appetite for the much needed information concerning our great world service program and work, then using every laudable means possible of imparting this information till our people become sympathetic with the work being done by our church boards.

3. To thus work on this problem till we obtain for our world service work an offering from every member, till the impression may by some means become general that one is not in the best standing in the church till he has kept this part of his membership vow.

4. We wish to express our conviction that it is unwise to make any draft on funds raised for our benevolences to supplement pastor's salaries.

Respectfully submitted,

C. E. PARSONS, Chairman.

B. D. MALLINSON, Sec.

CHURCH LITERATURE.

The intellectual and moral atmosphere of a home is clearer and purer where a clean and wholesome literature is found.

A good church paper in a home is a pastor's valuable assistant.

The Methodist Review; the Northwestern Christian Advocate and the Epworth Herald are the peers of any church periodicals.

We note with great pleasure the introduction of certain new departments in the Northwestern Christian Advocate under its new leadership that make it not only more readable but also more inspirational.

We wish to call especial attention to the Sunday School literature of our own church and urge its use in our Methodist schools rather than a class of commercial literature that is often used.

Also an excellent class of literature that is distributed by our own Methodist Book Concern, 740 Rush St., Chicago, Ill., about which the pastors often know more than do the people. It might be well for our congregations to be informed that from this source may be had, not only the choicest works of the master minds of Methodism and Christendom, but literature of all kinds bearing upon the organization and maintenance of the departments of the church.

In these days of so much cheap and dangerous literature that is verily flooding the homes of the land and corrupting our youth it behooves every pastor to use strong effort to get our own church literature into every home.

Therefore we urge that every Methodist home be solicited to become a subscriber for our church literature.

DOMESTIC MISSIONS.

Your committee on Domestic Missions recommends:

First, that the minimum cash salary of the Domestic Conference shall not be less than $1,500.00 and that no Domestic Missionary grants be bestowed upon any charge paying a cash salary exceeding $1,500.00.

Second, that the treasurer of the Domestic Missionary Funds, report in the Conference Minutes, the amounts distributed to the several charges for pastoral support and church aid.

Third, That as the church in the past has received its leadership largely from the rural districts, and as the church is now laying stress on training men especially for this field, and as many churches in large areas of farming communities are being deserted, the committee would suggest if possible larger contributions be made to the Domestic Missionary Society that our District Superintendents may have the means with which to redeem this valuable territory to the Kingdom of God.

J. S. THARPE, Chairman.
W. E. KEENAN, Secretary.

Bi-Conference Movement.

The educational institutions of the Conference express their sincere appreciation of the good will, energetic co-operation and, in many cases, sacrificial giving, of pastors and laymen a year ago that resulted in the successful completion of the Bi-Conference Movement. It will be recalled that the movement was made necessary by the imperative need of immediate additional funds for the current maintenance and endowment of the schools. The cost of the campaign was heavy, and was met by the institutions themselves, in each case by borrowing the money. Much of the larger part of the subscriptions was in estate notes, and other deferred payment pledges, and only a comparatively small amount in regular pledges and cash. Some of the donors have generously paid their full pledges in advance of the regular times of payment, but even with that, the amounts actually received have been small. The schools are suffering from lack of current funds. The committee greatly urge all friends to pay their subscriptions as promptly as possible; and especially hope that many of the donors who gave estate notes may find it possible to pay now, at least in part.

General Conference Legislation.

The recent General Conference ordered that hereafter "Education shall be recognized as one of the major activities" and the World Service Commission was instructed "to make such apportionment to our educational tasks as to give substantial aid to our schools and colleges in their necessary maintenance costs." We suggest that the pastors call the attention of their people to these needs of the schools; and especially that they take frequent occasion to urge the claims of education, and the possibilities of rendering greater service by gifts and annuities, and by remembering the schools in will.

The Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois.

The Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois is the Methodist Church at work among students at our state university, ministering to them in all the ways in which a church can minister. The work is no longer an experiment. The results in terms of life are proving that it is a sound enterprise with everwidening influence and efficiency year by year.

The field of work for the Wesley Foundation is the students of the University of whom the number is increasing steadily. Last year 8,928 students, not counting summer session or Chicago departments, were enrolled in the departments of the University at Urbana-Champaign. Of this number 2,448 were Methodists or more than a fourth.
